Oil is The Fuel of The Future

In 1911 California produced more than 77,000,000 barrels of oil. The fuel product of this was equal to 20,000,000 tons of the best coal. Geological authorities say California can keep up this rate of production for a century without exhausting the fields so far discovered. The coal wealth of Alaska does not compare with the oil wealth of California. Nor does the wealth of the sea reach the value of this one product of the Sunset State. DID YOU KNOW that California's oil product at the wells last year was greater measured in dollars than ALL of the fisheries products of the three Pacific States, the Province of British Columbia and the territory of Alaska combined!

Many huge fortunes have been made in the industry, but even greater fortunes are yet to be taken from the virgin oil territory of the Pacific slope. The value of oil as a clean and economical fuel has been established. This has brought production in California fields to the high mark reached last year.

Production in the Pennsylvania petroleum fields is going down, and now regions must be developed to furnish the higher grade paraffin base product. Katalla, Alaska and East Kootenai, British Columbia, produce the oils which are the nearest like the Pennsylvania petroleum. These are the fields for profitable investment.

The Colonial Oil Company of Seattle has holdings in all the oil regions of the Pacific Coast, and are prepared to develop and exploit some great and profitable properties. Our representative in Peterborough wants to tell you all about it.

FROM CELL TO ALTAR

Italian Convict Gets His Liberty And a Bride in One Happy Day

About eight years ago a young Italian, Michael Pizzulli, by name, belonging to a well-to-do family at Ginoza, near Taranto, fell madly in love with Maria Monrone, a little girl only ten years of age, and unable to obtain her there and then in marriage, Pizzulli abducted the child, for which offense he was condemned to 18 years' incarceration. Prosecution for offense of this nature in Italy is reserved to private action, but through revenge and an old enmity between the families concerned, the girl's parents persistently turned a deaf ear to Pizzulli's abiding desire to wed Maria, and had not her own constant attachment for her imprisoned lover at length softened the hearts of her kinsfolk and acquaintances, Pizzulli would have had to remain in prison till October, 1920.
Recently, however, convict No. 1333 was taken in prison garb to an improvised chapel, where he found Maria, now 18 years old. Amidst a scene of intense emotion the marriage contract was signed and sealed in the presence of a large gathering of relatives on either side, all of whom seemed glad to forget old scores. In accordance with a provision of the Italian penal code, the convict bridegroom, having repaired his fault with the full consent of the offended families, was straightway provided for civilian dress, escorted to the prison gate, and set at liberty, his old ward congratulating him on the way, and cheering his departure.

ST. PATRICK IS CLAIMED

Anglican in Doctrine, Presbyterian in Position, and Baptist in Practice

Dr. Sullivan delivered a notable sermon on the "Life and Teachings of St. Patrick." Dr. Sullivan argued that he was Anglican in doctrine, Presbyterian in position, and Baptist in practice.
Speaking on the gospel by St. Patrick, the speaker said that in the light of his confessions and his "Armour" there was no sacrifice of the Mass, no confession to priests, no praying to anyone but God and Christ, and no doctrine of purgatory. "I do not blame the Catholics for claiming St. Patrick," said the preacher, "but let Protestants of Ireland have, in my opinion, more right to claim him and honor his memory than have our Roman Catholic friends."

SHAKO REPLACES HELMET

Radical Change Proposed in Head Dress for Britain's Regulars

It is understood that a final decision has been arrived at by the War Office on the subject of the head-dress of the British Army. The present pattern of infantry helmet will be abolished, and in its place the historic shako will be revived. The question of this change has been under discussion by the Army Council and the Dress Committee for about two years, and the final recommendation was wholly in favor of the shako. The pattern of the new head-dress will be a compromise between a new shape and the shako as now worn by the Highland Light Infantry and the Scottish Rifles. It is understood that it will be lower in the crown, rather after the French model, and still following that pattern. It will be lighter than the shako hitherto associated with British forces. It is intended to issue two thousand shakos for trial, and the troops to receive them for this purpose may be the 13th Infantry Brigade in Ireland, commanded by Brigadier-General T. Capper.

FATIGUE A DISEASE

London Physician Thinks New Energizing Panacea May be Found

That "good old age" is both more prevalent and more enjoyable than it was forty years ago, was the cheerful view expressed by Sir James Goodhart in a speech to the Royal College of Physicians at London.
Sir James, however, confessed that finally in pathology had not yet been reached, and among the tasks which yet confronted them was the discovery of a remedy for fatigue which was nowadays a disease.
What was more common, he asked, than to meet a man or woman who is "so tired, always tired?"
It was clear, he said, that what was required was a fresh stock of some form of energy for charging up the machine. That they were, as yet, unable to supply. So far away was it, and yet perhaps so nigh. It did not seem to be inexorably beyond the knowledge of the future.

A BOAT THAT FLIES

A hydroaeroplane of an entirely new type was handed over by M. Beaumont, a famous French pilot, to the representatives of the British Navy's Flying School at Eastchurch, after an hour's acceptance tests over Sheerness Naval Harbor.

The new biplane, the Bonnet Leveque, is unlike anything else amongst aeroplanes. It is, in fact, nothing short of a flying boat, which is driven at such great speed that it rises into the air and is borne aloft upon two diminutive planes. From the lower supporting surface are suspended two small floats, which serve to balance the machine when at rest upon the water.

Although an extremely small machine, the Bonnet Leveque carries a passenger in addition to the pilot and its engine, which is suspended well up under the top plane and can be started up by the pilot by a lever at his side.

During the test flights the little machine, weathering a strong wind with apparent ease, remained in the air for over an hour.

A SHINING EXAMPLE

"He must forever shed lustre on our young nation," says Hon. James Young, biographer, in giving his impression of the late Hon. Edward Blake. He adds:

"I have known a considerable number of distinguished statesmen and other eminent and other men, and so far as my judgment goes Mr. Blake possessed at once the most powerful, most acute, and most cultivated intellect of any person I ever had the pleasure to meet. He was the soul of honor. He would never even overstate the argument against an opponent, but this rather strengthened his supremacy as the most powerful and effective parliamentary debater heard within the ornate walls of our Canadian House of Commons. He was popular both in the House and in the country, won many supporters wherever he addressed the people, was a constructive statesman of a very high order. That he did not accomplish all that he had intended in his heart to do for Canada, gives a touch of pathos to Mr. Blake's life and career. But he did enough to prove himself the greatest of all native Canadians and his remarkable gifts as a jurist, a statesman, and a patriot, coupled with all the graces of a Christian gentleman, must forever shed lustre on our young and furnish a shining example for the youth of Canada to admire and to follow."

WAS DUKE'S ORDERLY

Fifty-Two Years Spent as Soldier and Gate Keeper of Park

Gatekeeper John Burrows, one of the best-known of the Royal park keepers, who is retiring after having served his country as a soldier and park-keeper for fifty-two years, was practically the whole of his 106 days' foreign service the selected orderly of the Duke of Connaught, who was commanding the Brigade of Guards in Egypt.

Mr. Burrows is the possessor of the Egyptian medal, with a bar for Tel-el-Kebir, the Khedive's star for the same campaign, the medal for long service and good conduct, and the Coronation medal of King George. He had been a soldier for twenty-two years before he saw active service, having volunteered for the Egyptian campaign at the opening of the war in 1882.

"On arrival at Alexandria," he said in an interview, "I was appointed the Duke of Connaught's orderly, an appointment I held all through the campaign. When Sir Garnet Wolseley came out to Alexandria he found that Arabi Pasha had some troops near Ismailia, and we were re-embarked at Alexandria for that town, which was on the Suez Canal, and went up the desert after him.

"I was on the field with his Royal Highness during the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, but was never able to get into the fighting line. Next day we went to Cairo, and there the cavalry captured Arabi.

"We returned home in December, 1882. Without any loss of time I obtained my discharge and received the appointment of park-keeper at Regent's Park in 1883. After a time I was sent to Kensington Gardens; from there I went to Queen Anne's Gate, and finally they transferred me to Buckingham Gate, giving me the Prince of Wales's Gate lodge, at Hyde Park, for a residence." Mr. Burrows intends to spend the remainder of his life with his sister near Nottingham.

BAGGED A HUGE LION

Member of British Parliament Had Close Call During African Hunt

Captain P. K. Glazebrook, M.P. for South Manchester, had a thrilling escape from a lion whilst shooting in the wilds of Somaliland.

The story centres round the lion's fight against the rifles of Captain Glazebrook and his companion, Lieut. George Wilbraham. The hunters ultimately rested with the sportsmen, and, as the first of the first shot, Lieut. Wilbraham was able to bring home the largest lion that has fallen to the gun of a modern sportsman.

The lion made a night attack upon a donkey that had been used for baggage purposes by the travellers. Lieut. Wilbraham was in waiting in the sun.

When five yards distant they halted, and the lion, seeing his heavy rifle, which was lying handy, he sent three shots into the beast. There was a terrible roar, followed by silence.

When five yards distant they halted, and the lion, seeing his heavy rifle, which was lying handy, he sent three shots into the beast. There was a terrible roar, followed by silence. Captain Glazebrook and his companion approached cautiously to where they believed the brute to be hiding. When five yards distant they halted, and the lion, seeing his heavy rifle, which was lying handy, he sent three shots into the beast. There was a terrible roar, followed by silence.

The lion saw his opportunity, and leaped. The sportsmen however, maintained an admirable nerve. Both emptied a rifle into the angry beast, with the result that it rolled dead six inches from the foot of the member for South Manchester. Lieut. Wilbraham's shot pierced the heart, whilst Captain Glazebrook's entered the mouth, and passed through the head, smashing the skull into five pieces.

The total length of the lion before skinning was 10 feet 6 inches, or an inch longer than the previous record lion.

In accordance with the recognised rule amongst sportsmen, Lieut. Wilbraham became the possessor of the skin.

COINS OF LONG AGO

Workmen Find 500 Silver Pennies Beneath Church Floor

On behalf of the Crown claim was laid to some 500 silver pennies of the reign of Henry III., found by workmen employed in removing St. Stephen's Church, on the Duke of Bedford's Western estate.

The coins, which are dated between 1245 and 1275, were concealed five feet below the present chancel floor and one foot below the ancient floor. It is thought that they were a votive offering in recognition of a safe return from abroad and placed before a shrine of the Virgin Mary by Peter de Vitalis, who was rector of the village from 1247 to 1275.

He who does not respect confidence will never find happiness in his path. The belief in virtue vanishes from his heart, the source of nobler actions becomes extinct in him.—Auffenberg.

BOON TO THE BALDHEADED

The bald-headed are likely to take an interest in what the Budapest papers describe as the sensational invention of Dr. Stekely.

The doctor recently explained to the Society of Hungarian Physicians his method of implanting hair in a bald scalp. He ties together an extremely thin gold wire and sterilized hair, implanting the latter by means of a thin injection syringe in the scalp where it is fixed with small hooks of gold wire. He states that in this painless way he can implant 300 to 500 hairs per hour. Of course the hair will not grow, and the transplantation only produces a new kind of wig.

Dr. Stekely presented to his colleagues three men wearing these wigs, which could not be distinguished from natural hair.

A CHELSEA MYSTERY

Aged Recluse Had His House Screened From Prying Eyes

One of the romances and mysteries of London life is recalled by the publication of the will of Dr. John Samuel Phene, the recluse and scholar. Dr. Phene died some months ago at the age of eighty-nine and he left an estate of over $150,000. For many years Dr. Phene lived alone with two housekeepers and four men, the latter coming daily to their work.

Among the numerous properties he owned was the house of mystery at the corner of Upper Cheyne row. Many were the stories about this house, which was boarded up so that none should even see into the garden. For years it has been silent and empty, and this gave rise to a story that a love affair that never ripened into matrimony was the cause of the doctor's curious ways. This story, however, was probably untrue, as Dr. Phene married. His marriage was not a happy one, however, and he lived apart from his wife, who died in Paris in the seventies.

The will contained directions for the writing of an illustrated biography of his life and travels and he made handsome provision for his faithful servants.

The Great Phosphate and Mica Mines of The Progressive Mining Company Ltd.

Non-Personal Liabilities

Capitalized at $500,000. Divided into 500,000 shares of $1 each. 400,000 shares in the Treasury

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

The Company possesses 607 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

POSSIBLE PRODUCTION AND PROFITS

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to its credit 25 p.c., without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. The output of this Mica Mine is almost all sold in advance to large English firms.

THIS PHOSPHATE AND MICA MINES

are paying enterprises right from the start of its operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

THE PLANT, MACHINERIES

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

FISCAL AGENTS—

J. T. ARMAND & CO.,
(RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.)

If you wish to make your money work

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

Men Who Don't Exercise

SUFFER FROM INDIGESTION, HEADACHES, POOR APPE-TITE, SLEEPLESSNESS.

Nothing so Sure to "Set Up" a Man Make Him Feel Brisk and Vigorous, as Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Lack of exercise and overwork were the causes that combined to almost kill Samuel S. Stephens, Jr., one of the best known citizens of Woodstock.

In his convincing letter, Mr. Stephens says:

"A year ago I returned home after a long trip, completely worn out. I was so badly affected by chronic biliousness, so much overworked by constant headaches, dizziness, that I despaired of ever getting well.

"It was a blessing that I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In one week I felt like a new man. The feeling of weight and nausea in my stomach disappeared. My eyes looked brighter, color grew better, and best of all, I began to enjoy my meals. The dizziness, languor and feeling of depression passed away, and I fast regained my old-time vigor and spirits. To-day I am well—thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

For health, strength, comfort and good spirits, there is no medicine like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, five boxes for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or by mail from The Cataract Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Health and Beauty Helps

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN.

Mrs. B. "Stringy," unmanageable hair is caused by grease and dirt, which, if neglected, will produce dandruff, the worst of all hair dangers. Keep the head perfectly clean with an occasional shampoo with castor oil. You will be delighted with the result. Get a package of castor oil from any druggist and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This massaged into the scalp creates a rich, bland latex which gently and thoroughly cleanses the hair. After rinsing and drying, the scalp is left sweet and pliant and the hair is fluffy, beautiful and easy to arrange.

B.A. It is an easy matter to reduce your weight if the parotitis treatment is used. This is harmless and quickly dissolves fat-tissues, without leaving the skin flabby or wrinkled. Prepare it at home by getting four ounces parotitis from the druggist and dissolve in 1 1/2 pints hot water, strain and take a tablespoonful before each meal. Use regularly until the proper weight is reached. When the parotitis treatment is employed the symmetrical lines of the body soon return and no ill effect follows its use.

Ada: You can strengthen your weak eyes and rid them of that over-worked look by putting in each eye daily two or three drops of a fine strengthening tonic made by dissolving an ounce of erysine in a pint of water. This eye-tonic is very soothing and by using it regularly you will make your eyes strong, clear and brilliant.

Marion: You can cure the impurities in the blood which manifest themselves in pimples and "mudde" complexion with this blood purifier which you should make at home. Get an ounce of karene and dissolve it in Fire Brigade Fill a Boiler.

Yesterday morning the fire brigade had a run to the C.P.R. station where a line of hose was laid and the water turned on. There was no fire, however. The key to this story is that an engine, located on a siding, had let the water run out, during the night from its boiler. As, without steam, an engine is about as mobile as a sawhorse, and many times heavier, it could not be taken to the tank for refreshment. The brigade did the trick and filled the boiler in a few minutes.

ENNISMORE MAN HIT LOCAL BRIGHT LIGHTS

At yesterday's police court, John Turner and Benjamin Clark, who had held down rats at the Hotel des Cops, for two previous nights, were charged with vagrancy. The claim was to come from Toronto to this city looking for work. They were given a polite hint to get work or get out. John McCabe of Ennismore seems to have played in luck. John came to this city with $70 in his jeans. John started out to forget the stumps and stones of his native township by worshipping Bacchus under the bright lights. John got a degree from that little little god; he got a jaglet. John, not realizing that icy pavements do not present as firm a footing as a ploughed field—he fell and split his chin. After paying a doctor $2 for soldering up the split, and deducting the price of his jaglet, John had quite a roll of bank notes left when he woke up behind the bars yesterday morning. He was allowed to go with a hint that he had better get busy with the fail and plough instead of getting too well acquainted with John Barrymore.

CURES RHEUMATISM

Quickly Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles—Drives Rheumatic Pains Away.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-rending pains, when you can easily avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the 'stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney trouble and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all the misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome ordinary urinary disorders.

Lindsay's police court record for last month was: Three breaches of the liquor license act; one drunk, one causing disturbance, one breach of the cab by-law.

The License Commissioners met last night and transferred the license of the retail liquor store on Simcoe street, to Mr. Patrick J. Kenny.

Mr. F. D. Diamond, Inspector of Weights and Measures, with headquarters at Belleville, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Diamond was appointed to succeed the late William Johnston.

Port Hope Guide of Tuesday referred to their team that was, and did play that night, says, "The locals are bound to win to-night. Watch them go." The little old settler on the front claud, however, saw differently.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

IT WAS COLD AND WET WEATHER

THAT BROUGHT ON LOUIS WALSH'S KIDNEY DISEASE.

It was Dodd's Kidney Pills That Cured It—Statement of a Quebec Man Who is Well Again After Two Years' Suffering.

St. Leonard, Portneuf Co., Quebec, February 5th (Special).—Mr. Louis Walsh, a well known young farmer of this neighborhood, who has been an invalid for about two years, is once more a well man, and he has issued a statement giving Dodd's Kidney Pills complete credit for his cure. In his statement Mr. Walsh says:

"For two years I was troubled with kidney disease brought on by cold and wet weather. A doctor treated me and tried many medicines without relief. I was utterly discouraged. It was hard work for me to do anything as I was in pain all the time.

"My back ached, and my sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I was always tired and nervous, and felt heavy and slow after meals. Reading what Dodd's Kidney Pills had done for others I decided to try them. Two boxes cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure sick kidneys.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER

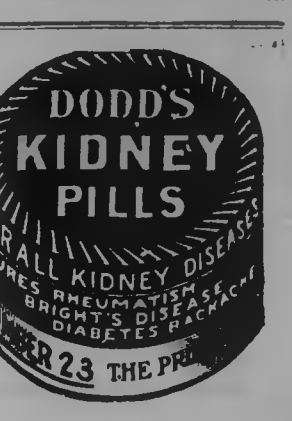

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The citizens having decided to enter into the business of supplying electricity for light and power, we wish to remind them that the success of their enterprise will depend upon themselves taking light and power from the city's system. The more light and power that is used from the city system the cheaper it will be. Consequently no citizens should enter into a contract for light or power until the city is ready to supply them.

The Hydro-Commission and the Power Committee are making all possible speed to have everything ready to begin work when spring opens, and there will be no delay. Every citizen should be ready to support them and thus enable all to get the light and power at the cheaper rate.

Yours truly,
W. J. Johnston,
Chairman Power Committee.

BIG FIRE LOSS AT ST. THOMAS, CALLS SENT TO LONDON FOR AID

Damage Will Total $175,000—Worse Sufferer Is Baldwin, Robinson, Co., Limited, Furniture Dealers, Place on Talbot Street Was Completely Destroyed

St. Thomas, Feb. 6.—Damage estimated at $175,000 was done by fire, which started early this morning in the furniture store of Baldwin, Robinson, Co., Limited, Talbot street. Fanned by a high wind, handicapped by poor equipment, and with only fair water pressure, the brigade had great difficulty in confining the blaze to the Baldwin Building. At two o'clock it was still burning freely, but all danger of the flames spreading was at an end.

The loss to the Baldwin Co. is in the vicinity of $150,000 almost wholly covered by insurance.

To the east about $10,000 was done by water and smoke to the Hepinstall Jewelry store, and about $2,000 to the Merchants' Bank. Both are fully insured.

The wind from the west saved the office of Dr. Kane and the homes of two families who lived above it. They were all chased out, however, and slight damage was done by water.

Call Sent to London for Aid

A call was sent to London for aid and at noon a special train left over the Pere Marquette, carrying Chief Aiken and his firemen and apparatus. The wind was so high that sparks were carried for hundreds of yards. The Baldwin store is about 100 yards from the post office and contained a large stock of furniture. The fire is supposed to have started

TO SAVE RARE BIRDS PROMINENT SOCIETY WOMEN MAKE PLEDGE NOT TO USE ORNAMENTS FROM EGRET OR BIRD OF PARADISE

Women well known in society who are actively engaged in furthering the work of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the New York Zoological Society have pledged themselves never again to wear the plumage of either the bird of paradise or the egret. In future their millinery confections will be trimmed with other ornaments than those which have been plucked from the two birds whose kind is rapidly nearing extinction.

Not only have the signers of the resolution agreed to give up wearing this much prized millinery trimming, but they have declared their willingness to work for the suppression of its importation into this country, which means that if they win their fight other women who do not belong to the auxiliary will be deprived of the opportunity to purchase these feathers.

This action on the part of women who are recognized leaders in the social and philanthropic worlds may become widespread. Almost every fashionable headpiece displays a few feathery sprays of this plumage, and, being costly, the feathers are prized almost above jewelled ornaments.

Among those prominent in society who are interested in the movement are Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, Mrs. Willard Straight, Miss Pauline Robinson, Miss Elisabeth Marbury, Mrs. Richard Stevens, Mrs. J. Borden Hariman and others.

London, Feb. 6.—The main object of the Bulgarian armies apart from the reduction of the fortress of Adrianople, was disclosed in despatches from Sofia to-day. They are endeavoring to reach the Dardanelles straits and to clear them for the passage of the Greek fleet into the Sea of Marmora, whence it will be able to attack Constantinople directly from the Sea.

From the reports of the fighting to the north of the peninsula of Gallipoli it can be seen that one of the columns of King Ferdinand's troops in marching straight for the city of Gallipoli, has not yet however come into contact with any large force of Turkish troops, of which there are said to be 70,000 on the Gallipoli peninsula. These, in the opinion of military experts, should be able to offer a strenuous resistance to the advance of the Bulgarians from the north.

Envoys to Leave London.

London, Feb. 6.—Osman Nizami Pasha, the Turkish peace envoy, to-day was ordered to return to Berlin, where in ordinary times he is Turkish ambassador. Rehad Pasha, the chief of the Ottoman delegates, said he would remain in London indefinitely, in pursuance of the declaration of the Sublime Porte that Turkey would at any time entirely withdraw from the peace conference.

The bombardment of Adrianople discontinued late last night, recommenced early to-day, and was expected to continue until tonight, but no serious damage was reported, according to dispatches from Sofia and Vienna.

Bulgarian Troops Drive Turks Occupying Peninsula of Gallipoli Towards Town of Bulair in Great Disorder—Entire Army of 45,000 Men Said to Be Retreating, Hotly Pursued by Bulgarians

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 6.—The Turkish army occupying the peninsula of Gallipoli, defending the Dardanelles, suffered a defeat at the hands of the Bulgarian troops to the south of the River Karak yesterday, according to a semi-official statement made at the Bulgarian War Office. The statement concludes that, as the result of this success of the Bulgarian troops, nearly the whole coast of the Sea of Marmora as far as Bulair is now in the hands of the Balkan allies.

They occupied the villages of Mereste, Bulair, Charkeni and Kavak, and the entire Turkish army in the peninsula, 15,000 men, was said to be retreating in great disorder toward the town of Bulair, a small place to the northeast of the city of Gallipoli. They were pushed hotly by the Bulgarians.

On to Constantinople.

BORN DUMB AND BLIND SHE WILL GIVE FIRST "LECTURE"

Helen Keller, by Patient Work, Has Overcome Powerlessness to Speak—Tells of Her Development Under Handicap

New York, Feb. 6.—Helen Keller, born deaf and dumb and blind, has almost fully surmounted one of her handicaps, and is to make her first public appearance on the lecture platform at a socialistic meeting in Montclair, N.J., to-morrow night. Although Miss Keller has been able to speak to a certain extent during the past year, the development of her voice, under the care of a singing teacher, has now reached the stage where her words will carry in an auditorium.

"The belief that the loss of one sense increases the powers of the others is a fallacy," she said, in a very understandable way last night. "The habit of patience is the only thing that helps one to bear the limitation." Miss Keller's teacher explained that the delicate vibrations of her larynx, nose and throat, which enabled a pupil to hear with her fingers were too illusive to be reproduced. It was only by saying the sound over and over again until she got it right, and then repeating until the right way became a vocal habit that she learned to talk. "I must not only get the sound right, but I must fix it in my memory by thousands of repetitions," Miss Keller said.

It is selling rapidly to good people of the class who will build homes and improve the property. There are a number of fine houses in course of erection, and many others to follow immediately. The Kingston and Rideau Lakes Electric Railway have surveyed right through the property and expect to commence work in the near immediate future.

WASTE OF TIME TO BATHE

Scientists Declare Bacterial Growth is Increased by Washing

To take a bath only leaves one's skin in a dirtier condition than before, from the medical point of view. This is the melancholy opinion expressed by the leading microbiologists of the world, whose views are collected by Le Matin.

According to these experts, who have been making a number of tests, the ordinary bath only multiplies the growth of microbes, which always flourish on even the healthiest skin. Dr. Teidaka, the famous Japanese bacteriologist, for example, recently had three men bathe in clean water one after the other, the bathers each time being thoroughly scrubbed with fresh water. All afterward were found to have three or four times as many microbe colonies on their backs as previously.

Other scientists agree with the Japanese professor. One says that the idea of cleansing the skin from microbes by the application of soap and water is a pathetic delusion, as the bacterial growth is only stimulated and increased by these means.

Tiny Pet Dogs
The British dog show in London was the Mecca of all dog lovers. There was a remarkable increase in the Borneo and pet dog classes. Some of the latter reclined on cushions of satin in luxuriously appointed miniature kennels. Two little dwarfs like tiny St. Bernards, which could be put in a waistcoat pocket, were on sale at $10 an ounce.

BISHOP'S WARNING

"Time of No Ordinary Trial Before the Church"

Speculation is rife as to what the Bishop of Manchester was alluding to when, preaching at Blackburn, he said: "I have to say with much concern, and wishing to leave a deep impression on your minds, that it comes to my knowledge from various quarters that a time of no ordinary trial is before the Church of Christ as a whole."

"I am not speaking of disestablishment or disendowment, but a far deeper question. Doctrines, and not doctrines only, but accepted rules of conduct, will before long be severely called in question, and your clergy will need all the grace and power with which God endows them if they are to lead you in the crisis which threatens us." His lordship's sermon was a plea for the help of business men in the business affairs of the church.

KING AT BREAKFAST

Interesting Facts About the Morning Meal at Buckingham Palace

Breakfast at Buckingham Palace is now a family meal. In the late reign both King Edward and Queen Alexandra took breakfast in their private apartments, but King George and Queen Mary come downstairs to their morning meal, and are joined by the Princess Mary and the Prince of Wales, and the Princess George and Henry, when the latter are at Buckingham Palace. The other two princesses take their breakfast in a room off the Royal school-room.

Breakfast is served usually either in the Box Room or Chinese Room on the first floor. There are also one or two other rooms where it is occasionally served. Their Majesties signify to the Master of the Household overnight the room in which they desire to breakfast, and the Master communicates the order to the House Steward.

Two sideboards and a round table have to be put into the room chosen by their Majesties, and these are removed at once after breakfast. Breakfast is served at 9 a.m. The service used is a white porcelain one, with a gold band, and each piece bears a Royal crown and a monogram underneath it. The "silver" breakfast used are part of a very massive silver breakfast service, which was a wedding-present from the Empress of Germany to Queen Mary.

In the centre of the table is placed a massive silver flower-bowl, filled with white and pink flowers. Porridge made from the finest meal always forms part of the breakfast menu. It is served in silver bowls. Fruit is another feature of the Royal breakfast. Bananas, grapes, melons, hot-house peaches, and apples are among the fruits regularly served. Frequently the King breakfasts off porridge and fruit.

When the breakfast dishes have been placed on the table the servants leave the room, and do not remain in attendance to wait at table, as they do at other meals.

The ladies and gentlemen of the Household join the King and Queen for breakfast together in the Household dining-room. The Household breakfast is served half an hour earlier than the Royal breakfast. This is done so that the servants may go through the morning meal whilst the King and Queen are at breakfast, and have the vast volume of correspondence sorted and arranged for their Majesties' attention and attention directly breakfast is over.

When a foreign monarch is staying at Buckingham Palace, breakfast is of course served in the State dining-room, and the meal is then of a more ceremonious character.

The whole Royal party assemble at 9 a.m. in the Bow Room, and the King with the visiting Sovereign's consort, and the Queen, with the visiting monarch lead the way to the State dining-room, and are followed by the members of their respective households.

The German Emperor customarily eats a heartier breakfast than any other foreign Royalty, and he is the only European monarch who drinks tea at breakfast.

The King of Spain drinks chocolate and a cup of chocolate and some wheatmeal biscuits form the Spanish monarch's usual morning meal. The King and Queen of Norway both drink coffee at breakfast, and the King of Norway never eats anything at breakfast but a little fruit. The Tsar's breakfast usually consists of thin, dry toast and thick cream, followed by a small cup of black coffee.

An interesting discovery was made in Edinburgh in the course of the demolition of the old church buildings of Lady Glenorchy's Parish Church in Roxburgh Place. A vault containing the remains of Lady Glenorchy, a member of the Breadalbanes family, and the founder of the original church, was discovered.

Acetic Acid for Rum
Two men named Cosgrove and Allen were given acetic acid by a ship's doctor, and they used it to make rum. In Barrington's Hospital Cosgrove died. The other man was cured.

NATIONAL ANTHEMS

San Marino Has the Record for Long National Airs

The late King Edward II. will be remembered, ordered our National Anthem to be played to faster time on ceremonial occasions. But had a like order been made by the Chinese or Japanese governments the music would be over in a few seconds, for the Anthems of these two countries are extremely short.

The Belgian National Anthem is much longer than the French "Marseillaise," or "God Save the King," but the Russian consists of only sixteen bars.

There are twenty-eight bars in the American "Hail Columbia," while the Siamese people require seventy-six to proclaim their loyalty.

The record length for National Anthems is held by the State of San Marino, in Italy, which has ninety-seven bars.

COMMUNAL LIFE
IN THE BALKANS

Family Rather Complicated Affair—Many Relatives Under One Roof

In the Balkans the family constitutes an association, a clan, a community known as the sadruga. There the people live to a great age and in the sadrugas are often found great-grandfathers and still more antique relations sharing the same roof with babes and sucklings and the intervening generations.

Family ties are very strong among Slav nations. Parents are treated with the utmost veneration, and a Serbian saying is that a man is only half a man till he marries.

The sadruga is the collection under one roof of an entire tribe. In the first place this was no doubt the father in command of his family, but the children have married and settled at home, until perhaps at last the chief may be only a distant relation of some of them. The head of the sadruga is chosen by election. He keeps all the money of the clan, makes all the purchases, and nothing can be done without his consent.

This scheme of life, of course, has its disadvantages, for imagine the army of mothers-in-law, and sisters-in-law, all with very voluble tongues, packed into one building! Needless to say, when the tribe numbers nearly 100 persons the building is of considerable size.

However living is very cheap in the community on account of the co-operation, people are safeguarded against poverty, and nursed in illness by others of their clan. Practically all necessities of life can be produced in a large country sadruga. Linen is woven on hand looms, woolen clothes are manufactured entirely at home, carpets are likewise made; indeed nothing is bought but a few groceries, such as sugar.

In well-to-do families the food is excellent, sucking pigs being a very favorite dish. Chicken is also to be found on most menus, but, strangely enough, the drumstick is the tit-bit.

A housewife in the Balkans is up betimes in the morning, and it is marvelous to think what she can get through during the day. She does the housework, the cooking, makes the clothes, first spinning and weaving them, knits socks and stockings, milks the cows, makes the cheese, does the washing, besides nursing the sick. Some of them even cultivate the land as well.

In spite, or perhaps because, of all this, a woman is of small account. At meal times she lays the table, waits on the men, and does not venture to sit down till later, when she finishes up the scraps. When men visit the house the women kiss their hands. Still more humiliating is the fact that when a boy is born the rejoicings are unbounded, whereas whenever a girl comes into the world the mother weeps. Indeed, in Montenegro until recent times they went so far as to allow a man to divorce his wife unless she bore him sons.

THE BLACK BEAN CLUB

One Member a Year Gets Married and is Given a Free House

A fantastic club was discovered in London by "La Revue." This is the Black Bean Club, limited to forty members, each of whom pays an entrance fee of $50, and a similar amount as annual subscription. They meet twice a week, and then a bag is passed round containing thirty-nine white beans and one black one. The member who picks the black bean is compelled to get married within the ensuing twelve months, and the remainder solemnly vow to remain single until the next meeting. A house is furnished for the prospective bridegroom out of the funds of the club, which also bears the cost of the wedding festivities and of a three weeks' honeymoon.

EFFECT OF COLORS

French Physician Declares They Have Bearing Upon Diseases

Perfumes, colors and sounds affect us differently, according to the state of our health. The Chinese envelope mailpost patients in clothing of a certain color, and in Tonkin and Australia bandages of the same color are used on children suffering from measles, while Spanish parents not only put their little patients in wrappings of this brilliant hue, but make them drink syrup of pomegranates because of its color.

Dr. Laumonier, writing in the Revue, assures the world that there is some sense in this. Red light has a good effect on several skin diseases; blue and violet spell death to bacilli; yellow protects the eye against the injurious elements of the spectrum; while green calms the nerves and encourages sleep.

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

The Company possesses 607 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to its credit 25 p.c., without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. The output of this Mica Mine is almost all sold in advance to large English firms.

THIS PHOSPHATE AND MICA MINES

are paying enterprises right from the start of its operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

THE PLANT, MACHINERIES

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

FISCAL AGENTS—

J. T. ARMAND & CO.,
(RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.)

If you wish to make year money work

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

GOOD PROFIT IN ELK FARM

These Animals Could be Raised for Meat Just as Cattle Are—Elk Won't Jump Fences.

Mr. George W. Russ, who has a herd of about a hundred elk in the Ozark Mountains, declares that in many parts of the United States elk meat can be produced at less cost per pound than beef, mutton or pork. These animals afford a much greater proportion of dressed meat than cattle do.

When it comes to clearing out underbrush they are more useful than goats. They browse as low as the goats and also twice as high. He advises using both varieties of animals, however, and says that one elk and two goats to five acres will eliminate the brush and weeds. What is more, brush thus cleared stays cleared.

 TIMES BUILDING, PETERBORO

It is asserted that for other reasons no better arrangement can be made than to graze a few elk with sheep and goats. The elk is the natural enemy of dogs and wolves. Mr. Russ says he suffered great depreciation on his stock until he put a few elk in with them. Since then there has been no loss from that cause. A few elk in a ten acre pasture will absolutely protect the flocks therein. Even the dogs belonging to the place could not be induced to enter a pasture containing elk.

The cost of stocking an elk preserve is not great, says "The News." Young elk in perfect condition may be bought for $100 per head or less. A few years ago Mr. Wilson, of Lewisburg, Ohio, paid $165 for three head. A Michigan breeder recently offered a dozen head, all fine specimens, but age and sex not given, for $600.

This is of course a low price, not more than cattle would bring and less than the venison would be worth if they could be sold in that form. The price of such stock is determined by the law of supply and demand, and as long as the present restrictions on the sale of deer and elk are maintained low prices are likely to prevail.

Live elk sold at forced sale have been known to net the owners less than $25 a head, but conditions would soon change. If the laws concerning the sale and shipment of venison were generally made favorable for producing it in preserves. The demand for breeding stock would grow and increase the cost of starting, as well as the returns from the business.

The natural food supply is an important consideration in choosing a range for the elk. While elk have done well in blue grass pasture and on the prairie grasses alone they do far better on preserves which have a variety of food—grasses, bushes and trees. Rough lands well watered by streams and having a considerable proportion of forested areas are best adapted to their wants.

New Thames Tunnel

At the opening of the new foot tunnel constructed by the London County Council between North and South Woolwich, Sir W. Whitaker Thompson, under whose direction the tunnel was built, explained that it was necessary mainly because of the inconvenience by fog, which in the winter time frequently brought about the stoppage of the free ferry service, thus preventing workmen and others from crossing the river.

The tunnel, access to which is gained either by stairs or lifts, is 550 yards long, and cost $250,000.

Oil is The Fuel of The Future

In 1911 California produced more than 77,000,000 barrels of oil. The fuel product of this was equal to 20,000,000 tons of the best coal. Geological authorities say California can keep up this rate of production for a century without exhausting the fields so far discovered. The coal wealth of Alaska does not compare with the oil wealth of California. Nor does the wealth of the sea reach the value of this one product of the Sunset State. DID YOU KNOW that California's oil product at the wells last year was greater measured in dollars than ALL of the fisheries products of the three Pacific States, the Province of British Columbia and the territory of Alaska combined!

Many huge fortunes have been made in the industry, but even greater fortunes are yet to be taken from the virgin oil territory of the Pacific slope. The value of oil as a clean and economical fuel has been established. This has brought production in California fields to the high mark reached last year.

Production in the Pennsylvania petroleum fields is going down, and now regions must be developed to furnish the higher grade paraffin base product. Katalla, Alaska and East Kootenai, British Columbia, produce the oils which are the nearest like the Pennsylvania petroleum. These are the fields for profitable investment.

The Colonial Oil Company of Seattle has holdings in all the oil regions of the Pacific Coast, and are prepared to develop and exploit some great and profitable properties. Our representative in Peterborough wants to tell you all about it.

Mr. U. H. Dandurand, always a specialist in automobiles, who had the first automobile in Montreal, and who has been running cars ever since, is planning to purchase a car which will have everything else on the American Continent lashed to the mast. Mr. Dandurand's new car is not so much a car as a country residence on wheels. It is a sort of tipless Pullman. It will contain four sleeping bunks, which may be pulled down and made up in regular fashion, a smoking room and a kitchen. It will be the best car of its kind on the American continent, and it will cost Mr. Dandurand all of $15,000. The new car will carry a man servant as well as a chauffeur. It is understood that the good old custom of leaving your boots out to be cleaned and finding somebody else's in their place in the morning, the step ladder for upper berths, and the electric milkage at the end of the trip will be strictly adhered to. For long runs over the country, Mr. Dandurand's new car will be the

MONEY FOR A BRIDE

Emperor of Austria's Recognition of Military Aviator's Feats.

Liet. von Blazhke, the military aviator, has been presented by the Austrian Emperor with $5,000 to enable him to marry the lady of his choice.
The Lieutenant, who made a world record by ascending over 13,000 feet with a passenger in his aeroplane, was engaged to a Fraulein von Ceszaky for some time, but she did not possess the $15,000 dowry necessary under the regulations for an Austrian Lieutenant's bride.

Recently, however, the Lieutenant had made $7,800 himself towards this sum from prizes in flying competitions, and, in recognition of his brilliant feats, the Emperor gave him the balance out of his privy purse.

Baby Sea Elephant

London has a sea elephant which is an object of interest to zoologists throughout the world, because this is one of the few members of this branch of the elephant family in captivity.
The sea elephant is not really a member of the elephant family, being a seal and called after the big land pachyderm because of its tremendous size. The London acquisition is only a baby, but it appears to be in the best of health and will doubtless grow to the average size of its kind, some of which have been known to reach a total length of 30 feet, with proportionate girth. King George was donor of the animal to the Zoological Gardens, his Majesty having received it from the director of the South African Museum at Capetown. The sea elephant is an inhabitant of the seas of the southern hemisphere, and this particular specimen came from the Crozet Islands in the Antarctic.

ANCIENT MSS. FOUND

Papyrus Relating to Historical Events in Ptolemies' Days

A number of large rolls of historical papyrus were discovered by Mr. Robert de Rustafjell, the manuscript being unearthed by a fellow whilst sinking the foundations of his mud but, near a temple of the Ptolemies in Upper Egypt.
They are about twelve inches wide,
all closely rolled, some of the rolls reaching to four inches in diameter.
A fair estimate of the size of the largest would be about fifty feet, which it is considered would constitute a record for a roll of papyrus.
They are well preserved so far as the writing is concerned, but dis-colored, and, owing to their dry and fragile condition, are handled with the utmost delicacy. It is anticipated that the contents will prove to be of real archaeological value in addition to our present knowledge of Egypt, and possibly of Syria, as recorded in the days of the Ptolemies. A study at ready made reveals the fact that they relate to interesting historical events.

The King and an Old Soldier

As the King was motoring through the village of Chilton on his way to Hungerford Station he noticed among the spectators a Crimean veteran of eighty named William Angell, and beckoned him to the car. The old man, who is blind, having lost his sight owing to the bursting of a shell fifty years ago, was led to the Royal car, and his Majesty, shaking hands with him, expressed the hope that he would be spared for many years.

Historic Castle for the Nation is in ruins, is situated about fifteen miles from Inverness, standing on a promontory on Loch Ness and at the entrance to the Glen of Urquhart.

The building possesses historic associations dating back to the time of Edward I and the War of Independence.

Making the Doctor Hurry

A lodger's concern for the welfare of his landlord gave rise to an unusual charge of assault at Hamilton, Scotland. Thomas Devine, a miner, pleaded guilty to striking Dr. James Faterston. Having gone to fetch the doctor for his landlord, Devine expressed dissatisfaction with the pace at which the doctor was walking, and, apparently by way of emphasizing the necessity for more alacrity, Devine struck the medical man a blow on the left eyebrow with his fist. He was fined $1.50.

ANIMALS LIKE TO PLAY

Some Appear to Have Real Games and Others Merely Frolic

"Many animals make it a part of their maternal duty to amuse their young," says the author of "Animals at Work and Play." He adds "Even a ferret will play with her ferocious little kittens just as a cat will with hers." The same author very interestingly describes the game of "Tim the King of the Castle," as he saw it played by some lambs.

One lamb mounted a pile of straw and rubbish, and immediately his comrades "stormed" his castle, and tried to push him from his stronghold.
The one that succeeded had a chance to defend the position as the former one had done, and the performance was kept up until all were tired out.
A steepchase was another exciting amusement. In this they jumped over a row of old feed boxes as they ran back and forth across the barnyard.

For genuine amusement in the home, says St. Nicholas, select two well matched kittens and set them to playing—or they will do it without urging. The saucy "fascies" they make with ears turned back, as they wait to close in with each other, are very amusing. It seems strange that they can keep such serious faces themselves while carrying on such funny performances. But we must remember that all their quick attacks and stealthy actions while at play are training them for more serious business in later life.

Dogs get a great deal of exercise in their play, but they are not so shy nor so graceful as members of the cat family. My dog has "killed" many a rag while playing at rat catching. Dogs seem to obtain great enjoyment from their play. Their capers with a stick thrown for them to bring back from the land of water have amused many a small master. Little pigs play with as much vigor and dexterity as any animals that I have ever seen; but later in life this capacity entirely disappears.

While some young animals enjoy playing with one another there are others which seem to prefer to play alone. Rabbits appear to belong to this latter class. Many times I have seen young rabbits amuse themselves by suddenly starting off from where they were nibbling grass, and going
"like lightning" for ten or more feet, then, with a sharp turn, come back with a leap in the air and snap about again for another run. Suddenly they will stop and listen, then shoot off again and turn themselves in the air with a kick of the hind feet as they skim over the ground.

Chickens perform most absurdly in the barnyard. Rooks are said to go through an elaborate performance of

THERE IS DANGER AHEAD FOR
THE MAN WHO NEGLECTS
NATURE'S WARNING.

Dyspepsia Tendencies are Serious and Should be Treated Accordingly.

There is a strong moral in the statement of James Schum, of Pleasant street, Dartmouth, N.S. Like thousands of people, he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away, he was losing ground every day.

"I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave tone and strength to my stomach. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I don't know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs through my veins—clear skin and unmistakable evidences of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of curing the sickly, unnerfed man and I strongly urge everyone in failing or lost health to use this grand remedy."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable. 25c. per box, five for $1.00, all drug-gists and storekeepers, or postpaid from the Catarhizone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Patsey May Come Here.

A meeting of the Lindsay Children's Aid Society has been held to consider the case of Patsey Peters, already referred to in these columns. Mr. O'Connor, inspector and visitor of Roman Catholic children, spoke a few minutes. He said that the House of Providence, Peterborough, was the natural place to send Patsey, provided the child would be safe from being taken by relatives. If the society wanted to send the boy to the Toronto home, Mr. O'Connor thought he could arrange for the boy's transport to Toronto if the Lindsay Society would guarantee the cost of keeping him. It was decided to pay the $2.10 a week and send Patsey away. The press for obvious reasons has been asked not to mention Patsey's destination.

Hunter Street Gates.

The question of railway gates on the Hunter street crossing was considered yesterday at Toronto by the Railway Commissioners. His Worship Mayor Bradburn, City Solicitor P. H. D. Hall, and City Clerk Armistead were present and urged upon the commissioners the necessity for the immediate construction of gates. They also endeavored to have the commissioners provide for the total maintenance and cost of the gates. The gates were ordered by the commissioners, and must be installed by the Grand Trunk Railway, and be maintained night and day. We were informed last night by Mayor Bradburn, that a report of the Toronto proceedings, as reported in an evening contemporary, was incorrect. The cost of the gates, in their inception is paid for 70 per cent by the railway company, 10 per cent by the city, and 20 per cent by the general fund. The city pays 10 per cent of the cost of maintenance.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one speck of microbes has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again, As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They are nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delmar Avenue, Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

PRICE, TWO CENTS

PROTESTANT MASS MEETING CONDEMNS PAPAL DECREE

Enthusiastic Audience at Opera House to Hear Rev. Dr. Hincks on Questions Affecting Protestantism.

Rousing Speeches by Mr. J. H. Burnham, M. P., and Others—Meeting Held Under the Auspices of the Protestant Federation.

Last night's mass meeting in the Grand Opera House demonstrated the strong feeling which exists regarding the Papal marriage decree, as well as the aggressive attitude of the Roman Catholic hierarchy. The building accommodated a big and extremely responsive audience. The meeting took place under the auspices of the Protestant Benevolent Association, of Peterborough, of which Mr. Dawson Kennedy, who occupied the chair, is the capable president. The proceedings opened by the singing of "Rule Britannia," led by Mr. G. W. Mulligan and the Grand Opera House orchestra.

The meeting was enthusiastic in the real abstract meaning of the word, and the several champions of Protestantism whose privilege it was to address the audience received a hearty and enduring reception. The following gentlemen were seated on the capacious platform: Mayor W. H. Bradburn, Joseph Jones, W. G. Morrow, A. F. Calder, Geo. Leader, Geo. Foster, Chas. Crowe, James R. Davis, Mr. Sucoe, J. G. Graham, J. B. Brown, H. Morgan, H. Metcalf, W. J. Johnston, R. J. Todd, J. B. McWilliams, Revs. Keith, Rollins, Pogue and Riddford.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy made a very capable chairman, and his opening address promised that many more meetings of this character will be held in the near future. The meeting nights of the Protestant Benevolent Association have been changed, he said, from the first Friday to the fourth Thursday in the month; hence the association's next meeting will be held on Thursday, February 27th, when the advisability of forming new branches and also of building an association hall will be discussed.

J. H. BURNHAM, M. P.
Took precedence of the speakers. He pointed out that it is no longer necessary to speak of Protestant principles with a degree of apology as in the days of yore, when it would have been deemed scarcely respectable to take exception to the decrees of Rome. To-day, however, freedom of speech and thought is prevalent, especially so in Europe, where it is in contradistinction to the policy of the middle ages, perfectly safe for Protestants to abuse up their heads and invite co-operation and unity of action in support of advanced democratic principles. In the world to-day there are two great rival schools of thought: the Roman Catholic doctrine and the Protestant view of matters religious, both of which is reduced down to the following situation:—One section of the world (Protestants) concludes that it is right to think for itself; the other holds that its opinions must be subject to the Roman Catholic hierarchy of which the Pope is the accredited infallible head. Those two schools of thought are bound to come into a big conflict; in fact, the struggle has already commenced. There are 265,000,000 of Roman Catholics who, said the speaker, must in justice credit with excellent Protestants in regards to religious fervor; there is a large number of so-called Protestants who don't profess any religion, together with a big army of consistent Protestants. And there is in evidence to-day a tremendous effort to conquer the world for Roman Catholicism, and it is for the Protestant Benevolent Association to say if the English speaking world shall be ruled by his so-called holiness, the Pope of Rome, or a principle that is the embodiment of freedom and hope. The Roman Catholic religion in part aims to prevent Protestants from continuing in what is characterized by them as heresy. Protestantism stands for absolute religious freedom and hope for improved conditions denuded of denominationalism. Just now, the speaker went on to say, there is a movement on foot in Canada which it behooves us to watch carefully; an effort to drive in the thin end of the wedge of Catholic domination. In Saskatchewan, for instance, the provincial Government has so legislated that the people are bound to support separate schools whether they like it or not; such advantage extended to the Roman Catholic Church is unwarrantable and can only terminate in trouble. Mr. Burnham was happy to say that the Federal Government had not attempted to enforce principles upon civil opinions; the contrary policy, however, had been adopted in Saskatchewan, and a great struggle is now in evidence between the inflexibility of the great Roman system and Protestant democracy, or what might be better characterized as the triumph of the people over papal supremacy in temporal affairs. In this connection Mr. Burnham offered that Protestants in general should appreciate the indomitable energy of the Orange Association against Roman aggression, and line up behind it in support. He allowed the Roman Catholics the privilege of instituting such societies as the Knights of Columbus, but denied the consistency of people in the protection of the public weal, and in the same breath lauding the formation of Romish societies for an entirely different object. Mr. Burnham did not wish to abuse one for their public or religious opinions, but held his right to criticize. He here handled the Catholic Register without gloves and contented himself with the delicate attentions of literary rivals of Protestants is altogether beyond anything Protestant journals could attempt in the same direction (prolonged cheers). "This is a free country," thundered the speaker; "we are perfectly willing that the Catholic Register shall call us what it likes, but let us do the same and the best man wins" (Enthusiastic applause). Mr. Burnham concluded an admirably delivered and enthusiastically received address with the contention that one hour of democratic liberty is worth more than ten centuries of Roman Catholic domination.

of Toronto, who discussed Marriage and other important questions at the Grand Opera House last night.

A WORLD-WIDE MOVEMENT.
Rev. W. C. Riddford here gave a brief and heartily endorsed address. He was pleased to have been made to realize that anti-Romanists can not be classed denominationally, but simply as British Protestants. He rejoiced that Protestant England is still Protestant and promises to continue so. He was not ashamed of being an Orangeman, and alluded with pardonable pride to the fact that at last summer's demonstration in Peterborough of 10,000 Orange visitors not one was arrested, and why? Because they were all devoted Protestants (prolonged applause). We members of the Protestant Benevolent Association, he said, belong to a great world-wide movement, exemplified by the fact that when the Archbishop of Roman Catholic Malta prohibited that good Presbyterian, John McNeill, from speaking in public at Malta, his majesty the King, on representation from England's Evangelical Federation, ruled that freedom of speech dominates in all British territories, in consequence of which McNeill was permitted to conduct his Protestant meeting (Prolonged cheers). He believed that the time is coming when every Protestant in Canada will be proud to stand on the platform of the Protestant Benevolent Association, which will be recognized not as a political football, but as a bulwark of the British Empire (Continued applause). Henry Lloyd George is a member of that Association to-day, as in fact is the best blood in England (cheers).

REV. DR. HINCKS.
Was received with intense enthusiasm and gave a stirring address in defence of religious liberty and in strong opposition to baneful effects of the Ne Temere Decree. He regretted that the darkest blot in the annals of Canadian statesmanship was evidenced in Saskatchewan's legislation (a state larger than the German Empire) in regard to separate schools. Fortunately, however, good old Scotch settlers had not raised the standard of education as to render separate schools in that province educationally ineffective, but despite this we now have an act cherishing upon Roman Catholics a school system that is detrimental to their own interests. Referring to the great Evangelical Federation in London, of which he was a distinguished and honored representative of the Canadian Protes-

TURKISH FLEET REPORTED TO HAVE WON BIG VICTORY

Compel Bulgarians to Withdraw From Strong Rodosto Position—No Reliable News

London, Feb. 7.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Times says it is believed that the Turkish fleet on Wednesday and Thursday bombarded the Bulgarian positions on the coast near Rodosto. It is reported that the Bulgarians withdrew last night after burning Rodosto, where the Ottoman troops effected a landing.

Rebut Rival Views.
Reports of even the few incidents in the Balkan War received here are viewed with considerable skepticism since it is well understood that they merely reflect the views the respective army headquarters desire to spread. Yesterday's report from Constantinople of losses inflicted by the Turkish fleet on the Bulgarian army advancing through the neck of the Peninsula of Gallipoli is to-day declared unfounded by the Bulgarian war office at Sofia.

Bulgars Claim a Win.
The Bulgarian staff asserts also that an Ottoman force, which attempted yesterday to advance from the Tebalata lines in the direction of Izlaz, was quickly repulsed by the Bulgarian troops and compelled to retreat behind the lines after suffering heavy losses.

The bombardment of Adrianople continues without any appreciable advantage being scored by either combatant.

No Extra Indemnity
Special to The Times.
Ottawa, Feb. 7.—Hon. R. L. Borden emphatically denies the statements appearing in Liberal newspapers to the effect that Conservative members are concerned in seeking to raise the seasonal indemnity to $1,000. He says that there is not a word of truth in the report. There will be no increase whatever.

PROMINENT LIBERALS TO BACK HON. MR. BORDEN
Ottawa, Feb. 7.—It is rumored about the House to-day that a sensation will be sprung in the navy debate this afternoon when Col. Hugh H. McLean, member for Sunbury and Queens, N.B., and one of the most prominent Liberal leaders from that province, will break from his party on the navy question and will support the Borden proposals. It has been well known for some time that he partly favored the Government's plan, but has hesitated to come out openly against his own party. It is said to-day that he has definitely decided to speak in the House, and to follow the line of his own convictions.

THE WEATHER.
To-day—Strong winds and rain from the westward; decidedly cold, and partly fair; light local snowfalls.

WITH THE QUEEN'S PARK CIRCUS.

THE TRENT CANAL

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars Required to Rectify Colossal Blunders Alleged to Have Been Made, Otherwise Canal When Completed Will Be Worthless—As Seen by An Experienced Navigator.

The following, the first of a series of articles dealing with the Trent Canal as it is, appeared in our issue of December 17. On account of the large additions since made to our circulation, as well as extra copies containing the article required by members of Parliament and others, we have decided to reproduce it. On Saturday next another installment of the series will appear, dealing with the lower stretches of the alleged canal.—Ed. Times.

(By Times Special Commissioner).

According to your instructions to go over the Trent Canal from Rice Lake to Trenton and report on the progress of the work and how they appear to me to suit the traffic which will pass over the canal, I proceeded to Hastings to start my trip.

I just imagined I had a tow of five or six barges behind a powerful tug and was taking my fleet through to Trenton. Just to start my remarks, I might say that I don't think I would get very far on my journey before I would be minus a good many of my barges which would have gone to the bottom. Speaking generally the works don't seem to have been built with the idea of practical use, for the only style of traffic that can do business economically on this canal, which is barge navigation. It might be possible to pass through this canal with a single steam boat, but my experience is that the cost per ton capacity of operating a single steam vessel of the size and capacity that would pass through the Trent Canal would be very much greater than the cost of operating the large steam vessels that pass through the Welland Canal, which would mean that the Trent Canal would get no through traffic which would all go by the Welland Canal. But when it comes to operating a tow of cheaply built barges, the channels and works are make suitable for such traffic, the Trent Canal can compete successfully with any other canal so far proposed.

THE SUBMARINE CHANNELS

I might say I have operated boats on the Trent Canal and elsewhere and I think I know whereof I speak. Starting from Rice Lake, we have to pass through a number of narrow channels (about a hundred feet wide) which have been dredged out to the required depth for navigation. At the ends of these channels, which they tell me are called "submerged channels," there stands two solid concrete piers about a hundred feet apart. I suppose they have been there to mark where the dredged channels are, but practically they are there to wreck the tail end of a tow of barges. If these piers are meant only to mark the channel why did they not put an ordinary spar buoy or some other floating mark over which a barge, if it drifted out of the line of the channel, would pass over and not be smashed to pieces? If these channels are not to be made wider why not place a number of piers up stream, so that the upper piers will be four or five hundred feet apart, and then connect these piers with booms, so as to form a bell-shaped entrance, and barges would be glanced into these channels? Proper entrances to these channels will surely have to be made before they can be said to be safe. If some of the material dredged out of the channel had been placed on the sides of the channel to form banks, these banks would have marked the channel and kept the boats on the line of the channel, and from tearing their sides out against the rough edges of the cut. This, I think, would have been the cheapest way to have protected these channels. Now, as the material has all been removed, piers, or booms, or concrete walls will have to be placed along the sides of these channels to protect them.

THE HASTINGS LOCK

After passing through these channels we come to the lock at Hastings. This lock is about on the same plan as the other locks on the canal. In entering the lock I find that on the side next to the dam that there is only a short entrance pier, and only enough room for my tug and about one barge. With the wind blowing from the west the rest of my tow of barges would follow the current and would drift down against the dam and probably be injured. Some piers and booms should have been placed on this side of the entrance to prevent the barges at the end of the tow from drifting against the dam. Some of these engineers that design navigation works should, it appears to me, have some idea of how to handle boats, and they would not be so particular as to how it would look on paper, but more as to how it will suit the practical navigation of the canal. There is nothing straight in the build of a boat and the course of a tow of barges when it slackens speed, as it has to do when it enters a lock or there is a side wind blowing, is not straight so that a wide and long entrance will have to be made at all locks in order to prevent the barges at the end of the tow from following the current over the dam.

CANAL USELESS FOR TOW OF BARGES.

These remarks apply to all the locks as there is no provision made to receive a tow of barges. There is a fall of about ten feet at this lock. After leaving Hastings we pass through a long reach of the river which is very wide in places forming almost a lake. There are a number, also, of submarine channels on this reach.

HEELY'S FALLS

At Heely's Falls there is a dam and three locks, all well underway, and should be completed next year. The Seymour Power Company is building a fine power house, which I am told will generate about fifteen thousand horsepower, which will be the greatest amount of power generated at any one point on the canal. Passing on down through Crow Bay we have to go through some more submarine channels and come to the first lock on Brown and Ayler's contract. This lock and dam is completed. A novel machine for breaking rock in the river channels is to steel weight of about ten tons, which looks something like a long cannon, and which is drawn up by a powerful engine and allowed to drop on the rock. The force of the blow breaks the rock which is afterwards taken out by a dredge. It was not working when I was there, but it must be a very cheap way of breaking up the rock.

At this lock is also located the power house belonging to the Municipality of the Town of Campbellford. I was told that the Seymour Power Company also leases all the power not required by the town, so that they use all the water in the river.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's
Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa
South

OWING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation. The population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600,000. Salaries would amount to $569,800. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $63,000 for meat, $96,000 for potatoes, $6,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $65,700 for butter, $27,600 for eggs. All told the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for clothing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,428,350.

The fine new $40,000 plant of the Bishopric Wallboard Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A second industry to employ 300 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land while a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK of the number of stores to be built there.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters,

bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether separate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousands and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homelands now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

Lots at Ruskin Place are Now Selling at

HIS IDEAL WIFE

Japanese Author's Six Conditions
Which Brides Had to Fulfil

Mr. Ichiba, a well-known Japanese author, celebrated, under remarkable conditions, his second marriage. His first wife died less than a year ago, and the mourning spouse immediately set about finding another partner.

He commissioned all his friends to keep their eyes open for him, and gave a standing order to the various matrimonial agencies in Tokyo to report immediately any likely candidate for the honors of being the second Mrs. Ichiba.
He laid down six primary conditions which the successful candidate would have to fulfil. They were—The lady must have passed through all the various conditions of life and the various phases of society from A to Z, as only by ripe experience can perfection be attained.

Except the clothes she could stand up in she should have no worldly possessions whatever.

She must be severed from her family entirely.

She must contract to keep the kitchen and bathroom absolutely spotless and span and ready for instant use.

Her style of hairdressing must be strictly Japanese—no foreign trills pads or switches to be permitted.

She must stand five feet high and her limbs and body be "of a proper plumpness"—as to face, features, and other points, these were not to matter.

As might be expected, Mr. Ichiba had considerable difficulty in finding his Juliet, and looked over forty-seven candidates before being satisfied with a young lady of twenty-eight. The wedding was private in every sense of the word—only the two contracting parties being present. Over two cups of sake they performed their own ceremony and then announced their marriage to their friends.

Dogs in Church
William Bradley, a grocer, was at Londonderry Street $1.00 and sent to goal for a month for disorderly conduct. During service at the Catholic Church Bradley strode in noisily with two dogs. A policeman, who took the defendant out of the church, said that he threatened him with a poker.

PROTESTANT MASS MEETING CONDEMNS DECREE

The Roman, the Celt, the French, Dane and Scandinavian, and this inherent characteristic keeps him in sympathy with a unification of all religious and civil liberties in Empire affairs. Our British fathers on the other side of the Atlantic send by me this message to you: "Go straight ahead on this marriage question and we will stand behind you in the crisis of unification."

W. C. RIDDIFORD.

Rev. W. C. Riddiford, in moving a hearty vote of thanks to Rev. Dr. Hines, said: "Let us stand together for absolute Catholicism to any creed, but opposed to any encroachment upon our civil and religious liberties (Applause). A perfect love for Protestant principles has driven away all Romish fears (Renewed applause). Protestantism lives to-day as she never lived before in the hearts of true Britons, and as long as the British Empire exists it shall be governed by a Protestant King. When we see the waves of Rome washing up on our Canadian shores we will say, with Job, 'hither shall they come and no farther' (Enthusiastic applause). Chairman Mr. Dawson Kennedy here drew attention to the fact that the Protestant Benevolent Association is entirely independent of both political parties; it stands for absolute independence in civil and religious liberties."

TWO YEARS OF NEEDLESS PAIN

THEN MRS. MOREA FOUND A CURE IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Other Medicines May Help But Dodd's Kidney Pills Always Cure That's Why They are Woman's Friend.

Provel, Gaspe Co., Que., Feb. 7.—(Special)—Mrs. John McIdea, wife of a well-known farmer, living near here tells of her remarkable recovery from an illness of two years' standing.

"I was a sufferer from kidney disease, brought on by a cold and a strain," Mrs. McIdea says, "My eyes were puffed and swollen, my muscles cramped, and I suffered from neuritis and rheumatism. My back ached, and I had pains in my joints. For two years I was under the doctor's care, but he never seemed to do me any lasting good. Then, on the advice of friends, I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Two boxes made a new woman of me. There's only one sure cure for kidney disease, and that is Dodd's Kidney Pills. Other medicines sometimes help, but Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure. If you are a suffering woman, it is almost a certainty you haven't tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. For ninety per cent. of the ills of women come from bad kidneys."

MR. JOSEPH JONES IS AGAIN HONORED

In our issue of yesterday we gave particulars of the honor that had been conferred on Mr. Joseph Jones by L.O.L. No. 89 of which he is a respected member, by creating him an honorary life member. This took place at a largely attended meeting held on Monday evening last.

At the regular meeting of the Royal Black Knights of Ireland, held in the Orange Hall, on Thursday evening, additional honor was conferred on Mr. Joseph Jones, when a life membership of that branch of the order was conferred on him.

The honors which are coming Mr. Jones' way are well deserved. He has been connected with the order for over 35 years, having joined when he was a mere lad. His many friends in the city and district will be pleased to learn that his life-long service to the cause of Protestantism is fully recognized.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

BRIGHTON FIGURES IN NEWS OF DAY

Series of Tragic Happenings in the Quiet Little Eastern Town.

Brighton, Feb. 6.—Residents of this town, which lies 90 miles east of Toronto on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway, are still wondering under the baneful influence of what stellar constellations they have been given unwelcome advertising of late. The town boasts a population considerably less than 2,000 souls and so quiet and peaceful are the surroundings that the single constable has little to do but sit on a soap box outside the post office and snooze during the summer months, while in the winter he warms his shins before the fire of the local grocery. The coroner had nothad a case for months, while the man who runs a joint undertaking and furniture establishment, was only recently talking of going out of business.

Long List of Fatalities.

The last few days, however, the town has seen a man horribly mutilated by a train, a fatal assault for which Bruce Flintall is now held on a charge of murder, the sudden death of three prominent townsmen and an accident to a hearse. Is it any wonder that the villagers are still rubbing their eyes and asking for what municipal shortcomings they were dealt such retribution? They are still basking in the limelight of publicity.

COAL IS BURNING UNDER THE GROUND

Gravel Forks, N.D., Feb. 6.—Hundreds of thousands of tons of coal are being consumed in Western North Dakota by fires which are burning in undeveloped mines and action will be taken by the State Legislature to halt this destruction of the State's natural resources. Evidence regarding the destruction of lignite coal by slow fires was received at a hearing yesterday to investigate the possibilities of the North Dakota coal.

The State geologist reported that there are approximately 32,000 square miles of coal beds in the State, with an estimate tonnage of 500,000,000,000 tons.

The burning bluffs along the Missouri river and over the Western part of the State are mentioned as far back as the reports of the Lewis and Clark expedition, while oldest inhabitants declare that many of these burning bluffs, or lignite beds, have been smouldering ever since they came to the territory. Miners claim that the fires can be extinguished and there is a movement on foot to turn the task over to an experienced engineer.

THE WOMAN THAT IS TOO FRIENDLY

She always is running in just for a few minutes' chat. Probably she comes in just when you are putting forth every effort to finish an important piece of work. She says: "Don't let me interrupt you. Just go right on with your work. I only ran in for a few minutes." She does not stop to consider that it is impossible for you to concentrate your mind on your work when conscious of the fact that she is making a mental inventory of every thing in the room.

If she happens to come in just as you are dressing for the street, she immediately offers to accompany you. Perhaps you are expecting to meet a friend and have a social time together. You have a number of things to say to this friend that you do not care to say in the presence of a third party. This same woman probably is one of the inveterate borrowers. She borrows your groceries, your thread, your clothing, your chair, your bed and table linen, everything, in fact. Then there is the woman who imitates. If you get an especially becoming dress, she immediately has one made so similar that when you meet some of your mutual acquaintances they say: "Why, you have a dress like Mrs. B's."

It is not only your clothes she borrows, or imitates, but your style of speech, your ideas, your expressions. In fact, this social pirate coolly will appropriate anything she happens to admire. As your ideas have not been copyrighted you have no recourse.

TREATED FOR NAUGHTINESS

A Correspondent Tells of Experiments Made in Japan

Writing to the "Times" recently on the subject of naughtiness, a correspondent refers to the possibility of treating children medicinally for naughtiness. "This," she says, "is actually done in Japan. I had charge of some Japanese children, and if they proved unmanageable to discipline, or gave way to prolonged fits of naughtiness, they were taken away for a day or two and invariably came back to me cheerful and good-tempered. On inquiry I found they had been massaged either once or twice, and that it was a very generally practised remedy, all naughtiness being held to proceed from disordered stomachs."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce corner of Chalmers and Louis streets, was a scene of gaily and pleasure on Wednesday night. About fifty of their friends gathered and enjoyed a most charming evening. Dancing to good music, with some vocal solo by two of the young ladies present, passed the too short hours away. A choice repast was served at midnight.

Mr. Geo. Thompson, travelling representative of the Montreal Biscuit works, presided at the piano.

Oil is The Fuel of The Future

In 1911 California produced more than 77,000,000 barrels of oil. The fuel product of this was equal to 20,000,000 tons of the best coal. Geological authorities say California can keep up this rate of production for a century without exhausting the fields so far discovered. The coal wealth of Alaska does not compare with the oil wealth of California. Nor does the wealth of the sea reach the value of this one product of the Sunset State. DID YOU KNOW that California's oil product at the wells last year was greater measured in dollars than ALL of the fisheries products of the three Pacific States, the Province of British Columbia and the territory of Alaska combined!

Many huge fortunes have been made in the industry, but even greater fortunes are yet to be taken from the virgin oil territories of the Pacific slope. The value of oil as a clean and economical fuel has been established. This has brought production in California fields to the high mark reached last year.

Production in the Pennsylvania petroleum fields is going down, and now regions must be developed to furnish the higher grade paraffin base product. Katalla, Alaska and East Kootenai, British Columbia, produce the oils which are the nearest like the Pennsylvania petroleum. These are the fields for profitable investment.

The Colonial Oil Company of Seattle has holdings in all the oil regions of the Pacific Coast, and are prepared to develop and exploit some great and profitable properties. Our representative in Peterborough wants to tell you all about it.

ERUPTION OF ETNA

It Commenced with a Series of Terrific Explosions

The toll of death and destruction caused by the eruption of Etna is daily reaching higher figures. It is thought the final counting will compare favorably with those of any past disaster due to the volcano's activity. The devastation extends over an area of 466 square miles which the mountain covers. The eruption began with a series of terrific explosions, during which giant tongues of white flame leaped to the sky. Since then as many as 16 new craters have burst forth within a radius of seven miles from the central crater at a height of 8,000 feet. All of them belching dense smoke, showers of stones and ashes, and rivers of white-hot lava, which advanced at the rate of one mile per hour towards Linguaglossa and Castiglione. They destroyed the superb pine forests and all the fields and vineyards in their track. The main lava stream consisting of a solid advancing wall of fire fully three quarters of a mile wide, has already buried the village of Sottichiano. A heavy rain of ashes continued incessantly over Catania and the whole region accompanied by frequent falling shocks of earth. It is said that any pit in Italy can be filled with the ash of Etna.

BALKAN STATES AND THEIR RULERS

Sidelights on Personalities of Present and Future Rulers of Europe's Trouble Zone

The kings of the four tiny Powers, which constitute the Balkan League, are a curiously assorted quartette. Nicholas of Montenegro, with his three score years and eleven, is a man from a book or a picture, a man who is a poet singing of love and sun-kissed mirth, but who fights with all the ardor of a medieval crusader. King George of Greece is a quiet and courteous gentleman, as kindly and gentle a soul as we should expect Queen Alexandra's brother to be. Though he has known the anguish of a stricken field, he is infinitely more of a scholar and diplomatist than a warrior.

Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria is not beloved. As a vassal of the Sultan he schemed against his master, they say, with Greece, Russia, Austria even Germany—and possibly was justified by results, for he has metamorphosed Bulgaria into a kingdom of Christianity—at any rate in the eyes of those who allege that he acceded to the Serbian throne before the murdered Alexander and Draga were shot in their graves to which the hands of brutal murderers had consigned them. Montenegro's ruler from his tiny mountain kingdom keeps a keen watch upon the doings of the rest of the world, and has been known to utter sentiments concerning the government of England which showed an intimate knowledge of British internal affairs. He is the author of the curriculum in use in the Montenegrin schools. One of the most pathetic and charming messages received at the bedside of the dying Gladstone came, by the way, from this warrior poet.

Apart from sentimental and international concern, Britons are interested in a peculiar manner in the King of Greece. They help pay his salary! Great Britain guarantees $20,000 a year towards his civil list; and as the British Parliament refused the throne on behalf of the Duke of Edinburgh and Connaught, it cannot be said that the British people have not acted disinterestedly towards the land over which he rules. Ready money is never overabundant at the Court of Athens, though the Queen is liberally dowered, and they find other ways of spending that which is available than upon heavy armaments.

The Crown Prince of Greece is an ardent soldier, but keeps much more in the background than his younger brother, Prince George, about whose steps considerable Greek heather has at different times been burning. When he was paying court to the German emperor's sister, the crown prince, very plainly dressed, was on one occasion, so the story goes, denied admission to the royal palace at Potsdam by a sentry, who, when he eventually saw the prince receiving a royal welcome at the palace, exclaimed: "Well, if a beggar next comes up to me and calls himself the Pope, I'll kneel at his feet and ask his blessing!" The helps to the respective thrones of Bulgaria and Serbia have occupied considerable prominence at one time and another. Prince Boris of Bulgaria set all Europe talking without his knowing a word about it. Two great churches were quarrelling for the right to call him son, and one day he was taken by his father into church a Roman Catholic and brought out a member of the Greek Orthodox faith. Prince Alexander of Serbia is the second son of the king. The wild, untamable elder son George was crown prince for six years, but his freaks made his renunciation inevitable, and Alexander, his junior, is now heir apparent.

YOUTH ON HIS TRAVELS

German Who Finally Stole a Worth-while Boat to Voyage to France

After absconding from his native town in Germany with $300 in money which he and another lad had stolen from his father, Hugo Eger, aged seventeen, finished up a series of adventures in England by tramping, in a penniless condition, from London to Worthing. Here he stole a small open sailing boat, with the intention of making his way across the Channel to France. Fortunately for the lad, he was rescued by some Selsey fishermen. He was in a state of collapse, and the boat, which was waterlogged, was drifting towards the shoals in side the Owers Lightship. Eger pleaded guilty to stealing the boat and its accessories and was sent to prison for one month.

ON A MOOSE'S HORNS

A New Brunswick Man Had an Unexpected Ride

A decidedly exciting and quite unexpected journey was that taken by Mr. William O'Keefe, of Chatham, N.B. Mr. O'Keefe was on his way along the road to his brother's home when he saw a moose in the woods close at hand. This seemed an opportunity too good to be missed and Mr. O'Keefe at once hastened to the house, procured his brother's gun, and returning, shot the moose, as he supposed, wounding it fatally. He then walked up to inspect his trophy, when, to his great surprise, the animal, which was very much alive, jumped up, and in a second had caught the unfortunate man between its horns. Of they started through the woods, and it was not until after travelling some distance that the moose fell and Mr. O'Keefe was able to free himself from his uncomfortable position. Once again, however, the moose made an attack, and it was only after much difficulty that Mr. O'Keefe was able to get into a tree, where he had to remain until the moose, who, although so heavily, was badly wounded, died. Apart from being somewhat bruised and badly shaken up, Mr. O'Keefe suffered no serious injury from his novel experience.—Rod and Gun.

A Pauper's Holiday Trip
 A Strabene workhouse inmate named O'Brien, recently transferred from Glasgow, appearing before the guardians to ask for a private subscription to enable him to return to his city, said he had a sore leg when he arrived, but it was better now. O'Brien added: "To tell you the truth, I just came over here for a holiday, and for the good of the old Irish air; that is all. I could go back to-night if only I could get my fare."
 The clerk said that it had been ascertained that O'Brien came home from the South African war worth $3,000, and that he soon spent the money. The application was refused.

Asquith and Asquith
 A witness giving his views on strikes before the Industrial Council of London, caused a good deal of laughter when, questioned as to "intimidation," he turned to the chairman (Sir George Asquith) and said: "If your esteemed brother, for instance, was coming out of the Carlton Club and got kicked to the ground—"
 "I think you are confusing me with someone else," said Sir George.
 "I understood the Premier was your brother," remarked the witness.
 "No," replied Sir George, laughing, "an esteemed friend, but no relation."

If you have any stomach distress at all you will certainly be interested in the following experience which is told by Mr. Edward Dawkins:

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond, "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour and all ways after eating there was pain and fullness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

As the car approached, he took his watch from his pocket to see whether he had time to go back home for it. He had and did.

TO HAVE SMOOTH, WHITE

SOFT SKIN ALL WINTER

(From The Women Beautiful.)

Does your skin chap or roughen easily in this weather, or become unduly red or blotchy? Let me tell you a quick, easy way to overcome the trouble and keep your complexion beautifully white, smooth and soft the winter long. Just get an ounce of ordinary mercurized wax at the nearest drug store and use a little before retiring, as you would cold cream. Upon arising, remove the coating with sudsy water. The wax, through some peculiar attribute, breaks off the rough, discolored or blemished skin. The worn-out cuticle comes off just like dandruff on a diseased scalp, only in almost invisible particles. Mercurized wax simply hastens Nature's work. Used as required, it keeps the face constantly free from devitalized scarf skin and only the healthy, young-looking skin is in evidence. It's the best treatment known for weatherbeaten, aged, muddy, freckled, pimply and all un-beautiful complexions.

Some skins wrinkle easily in winter. There's an excellent remedy in a harmless wash lotion made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salolite in 1 pint witch hazel. This will quickly eradicate every line.

LOCAL BABY SCRATCHED ITS FATHER'S EYEBALL

The many friends of Mr. Charles Wesley, "clothes doctor," corner of Brock and George streets, may have been under a misapprehension that this popular citizen might, were he a few years older, have been a passenger on Noah's Ark when it struck, full speed ahead, on Mount Ararat, provided the Mount had been made of super-sensitive dynamite. Mr. Wesley is out with bandaged head and one eye modestly concealed behind a cotton screen.

The explanation is that a few days ago, Mr. Wesley was playing with his 10 months' old baby, the little one, in play unfortunately scratched its parent's eyeball with a tin finger nail. At first it looked as though a serious accident had occurred. Dr. Buchanan's services were engaged and the scratched eye treated. We are pleased to note that no serious consequences will result.

FARROR COUNTED RIGHT BUT WAS COMMITTED

The man from the 15th line of Smith, by name Farrar, who has been confined for some days in the local jail, charged with lunacy, was tried yesterday by His Honor Judge Edmondson, County Magistrate. The trial was held in the County Council Chamber. Except the evidence given by Drs. Greer and Morgan, to the effect that Farrar, in their estimation is of unsound mind, only one witness, a brother of the accused was heard. He said that Farrar was constantly looking for a gun, which led his friends to believe that he was obsessed with either homicidal or suicidal tendencies. Farrar has shown signs of insanity some years ago, but, until of late, had seemingly recovered. The witness pulled right matches out of his pocket and asked the accused to count them. Farrar, though counting somewhat slowly, arrived at a correct addition. His honor asked the accused several questions to test his mental capacity. Among other questions put, was "What was your mother's maiden name?" This Farrar answered correctly, as substantiated by his brother. The magistrate committed the accused to jail to await the pleasure of the Lieutenant Governor. In the meantime the doctors' reports and evidence will be forwarded to the Department in Toronto. This practically means that Farrar will be detained here until room for him is found in the Provincial Asylum.

LOCAL CONTRACTOR FOR SMITH'S FALLS TO-DAY

He has a large staff of men at work, who have been constantly engaged since December 1st.

ENGLAND FOR LASTING UNION WITH THE PEOPLE OF IRELAND

Four Ulster Counties Cannot Bar Road to Progress, Avers
Canadian-Irish Journalist—Self-Governing Colonies Will Swing Into Line With Invincible
Imperial Navy

Toronto, Feb. 8. Mr. P. A. O'Farrell, the well-known journalist, has just returned from an extended trip to Europe. He says:
"Business in Great Britain and Ireland is at the high-water mark. Never before in England's history have her manufacturers been so busy or her working people been so universally employed. In Ireland the immense benefits derived from the ownership of the soil by the people who till it are beginning to be felt, and the Irish people are more sanguine, more hopeful, more self-reliant than for centuries. Next year will see an Irish Parliament sitting in College Green, legislating for Ireland according to the genius of her people and their needs."

"No, I do not expect any trouble in Ulster. Twenty-eight counties in Ireland have a majority in favor of home rule. Four counties are opposed to it. It is foolish and unreasonable to expect the twenty-eight counties to allow the four in Ulster to block the progress of the whole country, especially when the opposition is mainly manufactured to protect privilege and graft. The English people have made up their minds to a real and lasting union with the Irish people, and neither the English, nor Irish, nor Scotch, nor Welsh people are going to allow the reactionary forces in four Ulster counties to block the road of progress. In fact nothing was ever done in the Empire more conducive to its unity and prosperity than the measure of home rule now being granted to Ireland."

An Able Ministry.

"Time will demonstrate this, and in the meanwhile the men at the helm of the empire are directing its affairs with consummate ability. Sir Edward Grey is proving to be the greatest and most successful minister of foreign affairs since the great Chamberlain ruled the British Empire. And Mr. Asquith has built himself a niche in the temple of fame as a brilliant and enduring statesman. Winston Churchill, the first lord of the admiralty, in executive ability and in administrative capacity, is surpassing any other minister that has been at the head of the navy for a century, and, before many years, the empire will have a truly imperial navy, that will astound the world. England, of course, expects Canada to swing into line and to aid with Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, in up-building an invincible imperial navy. Canada must have ship-building yards, and training ships, and fortifications on the Pacific, as well as the Atlantic."

Queens Defeated

Toronto, Feb. 9. Varsity and Queens met here on Saturday afternoon in the final game of the intercollegiate Hockey Union and the local college boys were at fever heat over the struggle. A win for Varsity gives them the championship, while a win for Queens would have given the union a three-cornered tie and would give McGill another chance to win the silverware. The final score, Varsity 8, Queens 3.

DEMON CARGO HURLED IN SEA JUMPS ON DECK, BURNS SHIP

London, Feb. 9. The story of the "Demon Cargo," of the steamship Hardy was written into the records of the King's Bench yesterday thru the testimony of her captain. On a voyage from Treport with a large cargo of mineral waters, consigned to a London firm, water reached a quantity of metallic sodium, which also was a part of the cargo, set time it afire.

The captain not being aware of the nature of the sodium, played the hose on it, with the result that two tons of it were set afire and there was a series of explosions. Non-plussed, the captain ordered all the cases of the sodium heaved into the sea. When this was done the force of explosion of the sodium in contact with the water caused several of the cases to jump back again on board ship, and the vessel itself caught fire. There was another explosion in the cargo, which caused the vessel to break amidships and sink but the captain and crew were saved.

The story came out in an action for damages against the steamship company for the loss of the mineral water. The court awarded the plaintiff $5,000 damages and costs, and remarked to the captain that he seemed to have the "devil among the sailors when the water got in."

POLICE GET MORE PAY AND ANOTHER OFFICER FOR FORCE

The Chief's Requests For Patrol Waggon and for a Typewriter Were Both Turned Down -- Jackson Park Conditions Talked Over

On Saturday afternoon, at 4.15, the Police Commissioners met in the committee room of the city buildings. There were present his honor Judge Huxley, chairman, Mayor Bradburn, and Police Magistrate Dumble.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. A number of accounts were ordered to be paid.

A recommendation for an increased police force, based on increased population was read. Chief Thompson said if they had one more bicycle policeman, he could cover the whole city. One of the present force is practically no use for outside work from age and infirmity.

Mr. Dumble thought as an application was in for increased pay, one more policeman is all they should recommend. He thought a policeman should clean out Jackson Park at 10 o'clock nightly. He moved that the Jackson Park Commissioners should be requested to have all people leave the park at 9 o'clock.

The motion was not seconded. Mr. Dumble after looking over the schedule of police forces in other places (Bradford has 17 of a force) asked that Mr. Cochran be heard.

Mr. Cochran, regarding his request for more pay as a patrol officer, explained how his mornings were taken up in looking after truants, there are between 2100 and 2200 children in the city and the work of a patrol officer has doubled. His work varies.

The Mayor, whilst wanting to keep the city estimates down thought there was need for more police. Mr. Dumble complimented Detective Newhall on good work done. He moved that one more officer be added to the force at a salary of $600 to begin with. Carried unanimously.

Mr. Dumble thought that the Chief's request for a patrol waggon would lead to further cost. No action taken.

No action was taken with the Chief's application for a typewriter. It was moved by Mr. Dumble, seconded by the Mayor that the following schedule of salaries, as regards those members affected, be paid, dating from the first of the year, except Sills and Reid, who will gain the increased pay from June 1 next, when they shall have completed a year's service. Mr. Chief Thompson, $1400; Meagher $750; Brown $750; Reid $700; Sills $700.

It was moved that Truant Officer Cochran's salary be raised to $150 a year.

The estimates showed an increase of about $1000 for last year.

SUFFRAGETTES GETTING INTO TRIM FOR HIKE TO WASHINGTON.

LUNCHEON ON THE WAY

New York suffrage pilgrims had a rehearsal a few days ago and tried out their walking boots preliminary to starting on their hike early in February with faces toward Washington. There were a dozen new pairs of shoes displayed as the "Votes for Women" enthusiasts marched and commiserated along the paths in Central Park.

Police and pedestrians paused to watch the proceedings of the suffragettes, who, led by "General" Rosaline Jones, went through their manoeuvres with quickness and precision. The commander in chief of the female army gave a list of instructions on behavior and appearance, which the rank and file will study between now and the marching day, February 12.

U. S. PREPARES FOR WAR IN CENTRAL AMERICAN PORTS

Washington, Feb. 8.—Preparations for rushing five United States men-of-war to both coasts of Central America, to meet any emergency which may arise from the growing unrest there, went forward rapidly yesterday.

The gunboat Annapolis, with her crew of Jackies augmented from the South Dakota and Colorado, started last night from San Diego, Calif. for Amapala, Honduras, to stand guard on the Pacific side. The Nashville, New Orleans is making ready for sea and is expected to put out for Puerto Cortese, Honduras, on the Atlantic side, early Monday morning. The cruiser Des Moines, now at Guantanamo, the Cuban station, coaling has been ordered to be at the Bluefield, Nicaragua, not later than Feb. 15th. The Denver, which has been standing by attack from Mexican rebels at Acapulco, will put out from there in a day or two and drop down to Acapulco, Salvador.

It is practically decided that these four ships, whose movements were decided upon late yesterday, after Washington had received reports of possible trouble in the Latin republic, will be augmented by the gunboat Tacoma, now at Boston.

MONTENEGRO IS SHORT OF FUNDS

Applies to London, But Financiers Won't Give Assistance to Pro-Longing Fighting.

London, Feb. 8.—Montenegro, like all the rest of the belligerents in the Balkan war is badly in need of funds. The government at Cetinje is now trying to place a short term issue for a small amount in Lombard street, but the financiers there have barred their doors and resolutely refuse to give any assistance which might prolong the fighting.

CHICAGO CLUB WOMEN CUT PRICES IN TWO

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Chicago Club women yesterday continued their bargain sale of apples to the public at about half the regular market prices. The apples were furnished by twenty commission dealers, and were on sale at 3000 groceries in different parts of the city.

Officers of the Chicago Clean Food Club declared that more apples were sold yesterday, the opening day of the sale, than any other day in the city's history. Fifteen thousand apples were distributed among pupils of ten public schools.

JUDGMENT RESERVED HAMILTON VS. HAMILTON

Toronto, Feb. 8. The case of W. F. Hamilton versus R. M. Hamilton was on at Osgoode Hall today. The case brought by Mr. W. F. Hamilton was to compel Mr. R. M. Hamilton, executor for the will of the late Hon. Robt. Hamilton of Peterborough, to make distribution of the estate. His lordship after long consideration, withheld judgment, as he did also in the case of Mrs. Carl Hill, Calgary, daughter of the deceased.

HER SKULL FRACTURED

Found in Back Yard Unconscious and Died Next Morning

SON WAS ARRESTED

Toronto, Feb. 8. With an injury to the base of her skull which the police think could only have been caused by a blow from some blunt instrument, Elizabeth Easton, aged 75 years, was found in the yard to the rear of 184 Macdonald avenue on Friday night. At 10 o'clock Saturday morning the woman died. Now the city detectives are working on the theory that she was murdered.

James Gooden, a son of the dead woman, was taken to No. 6 police station by Detective James Jarvis. He was subsequently released. The police did not think that the evidence would justify them in detaining Gooden.

There is an element of mystery to the case although at first sight indications point strongly to a certain party, whom the detectives are watching. Mrs. Easton has been for some time employed as a domestic in the household of Harold Hestrop, 184 Macdonald avenue. Her duties were to partly look after an invalid as well as to do general housework.

On Friday night James Gooden stayed at home for supper. About 7 o'clock the people in the house say that he left to go down town.

Found Dead in the Yard. It was not long after that Harold Hestrop returned home for supper. He left a draft through the house, and went to investigate. On coming into the kitchen he saw that the rear door was open.

Walking to the doorway to call Mrs. Easton, who he thought was taking clothes in on the line, the man saw the form of the old woman lying on the ground several yards from the stoop.

With the assistance of another man he removed the unconscious woman into the house and summoned Dr. Russell. When the doctor examined Mrs. Easton he discovered that the base of the skull had been fractured. She died at 10 a.m. Saturday.

COLLAPSE SYNCHRONIZES WITH LAURIER'S ABSENCE FROM CAPITAL

Ottawa Draws Inferences From Two Facts Which Feature Parliament Hill News—Probably Neither Side is Anxious For a Campaign—Liberals Embarrassed by Attitude of Their Financial Critic on Bank Act

Ottawa, Feb. 9.—At the close of the week, the two facts are outstanding, and from these diverse inferences are being drawn. The facts are that the Liberals have agreed to vote on the naval revolution next Thursday, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been absent from Parliament Hill nearly the entire week.

Government supporters are claiming that the Liberals were forced to back down by a threat of immediate dissolution. Even this threat, it is said, did not impress some of the Liberal braves, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier finding them insurgent, went home and remained there to mark his displeasure.

At these stories the Liberals are, or about to be, highly amused. They say that the vote on next Thursday will be upon a preliminary resolution and will still leave the naval bill at the second reading stage. They admit that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not so indisposed as to be unable to attend to his parliamentary duties, but leave the inference to be drawn that the old chief is busily engaged in planning an electoral campaign.

The truth, as usual, lies somewhere between these claims and conjectures. Neither side is anxious for an election, but the Liberals may bring one on, if they can get to the country with two or three live issues. They will not risk everything in the naval question.

They desire a clean-cut issue with the Government on the Bank Act, and for this purpose will present to the house a number of amendments upon the third reading of the bill. One of these amendments, if we are to believe Le Canada newspaper, will demand the appointment of a monetary commission. This, no doubt, will be coupled with an amendment extending the bank charter for only two years, instead of ten. The Liberals up to date are embarrassed by the evident cordial existence between their financial expert, Mr. A. K. McLean and the Minister of Finance.

U. S. GOVERNMENT AFTER SHOE MACHINERY COMPANY

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 8. The Federal government made its third anti-trust move against the United Shoe Machinery Co. in a civil suit filed here to-day, charging the so-called trust with wielding an alleged monopolistic power and unfair trade practices to force the Keighley Co.—a competitor into an unlawful contract for the leasing, sale and fixing the price of an "inseam trimming machine."

The United States district court here was asked to terminate the contract under which the Keighley company gave the United company the exclusive right to lease to shoe manufacturers the "inseam trimming machine," the patent of which is held by the Keighley company. The effect of the agreement is declared to be "to perpetuate and extend monopolistic power and unfair trade practices of the shoe machinery industry in the United States Shoe Machinery Co. of New Jersey."

The government's petition is a severe arraignment of the "trust's" alleged unfair practices. The vigorous enforcement of its methods is declared to have driven practically all competitors from the shoe machinery industry, giving the $25,000,000 company control of more than 99 per cent. of the trade.

PROMINENT CATTLE MAN ON KAWARTHA LAKES

Mr. John Sheridan, of Toronto, a leading cattle man, in speaking of the possibilities of ranching in Ontario, says:

"The whole basin of the Kawartha Lakes region, from the summit of Balsam Lake down through North Victoria, North Northumberland, North Durham, North Peterborough and North Hastings—in fact the whole extent of the limestone formation in that district affords possibilities for a ranchman's paradise. The successful pursuit of ranching requires large holding, reasonably cheap land, plenty of water, and an abundance of shade during the hot weather.

All these necessary qualifications are found in the region mentioned above. The whole district abounds in lakes, rivers and springs; and, while the land is too stoney for intense farming, the soil is rich. On account of the small surface stone, the moisture is retained and the grasses add a verdure seldom surpassed even in rich alluvial lands. A start has already been made in the line of cattle raising in the district.

DETAILS OF BATTLE WITH MOROS RECEIVED

One U. S. Cavalry Man Killed and Five Others were Wounded
Washington Feb. 8.—Brigadier General J. Pershing, commanding the Department of Mindanao, Philippine Islands, today informed the War Department that Private J. Hara of the Eighth Cavalry was killed and five other members of the same regiment severely wounded, in a second engagement within a week between United States soldiers and the Moros on the island of Jolo. The wounded are Corporal Joseph Hagla and Privates Clarence C. Underwood, Roy Keller, Robert A. Tracey and Sylvester J. Young.

General Pershing reported that the Eighth Cavalry discovered the strong hold of the Moros on the morning of January 27 and immediately charged it in the face of a strong fire from behind a stockade of bamboo and underbrush. Between 50 and 60 natives were killed and the remainder of the force put to flight.

DANGER SIGN LEFT BY GAS SUICIDE.

New York, Feb. 8.—Before August Tellman, a bookkeeper out of work and with an ailing wife, killed himself by gas early to-day, he thought of the safety of the other tenants in his house and posted a sign outside of his closed bedroom door. The sign read:

"Open the window in the kitchen first, and also the windows in the bedroom. The gas has been on since midnight under high pressure." The policeman who found his body followed instructions.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's
Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa
South

OWING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation. The population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600,000. Salaries would amount to $559,800. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $63,000 for meat, $96,000 for potatoes, $5,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $65,700 for butter, $27,600 for eggs. All told the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for clothing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,428,350.

The fine new $40,000 plant of the Bishopric Wallboard Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A second industry to employ 300 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land while a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters,

bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether separate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousand and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homestead now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

Lots at Ruskin Place are Now Selling at

TURKISH RULE ALWAYS A CURSE

The provinces which now compose Anatolia Turkey have had a stirring history, but in the main it was a history of prosperity. They were prosperous under Babylonian, Median and Persian rulers. They were prosperous under the Greek, under the Roman, under the Byzantine Empire, under the Arabian caliphs. They were prosperous until the Turk came, and then their prosperity ended.

The Turk is the locust plague of history.
Anatolia Turkey includes one of the richest districts of the world, in Western Asia Minor. Thirty centuries ago the Greeks had made this region a garden. Earlier than that, perhaps, the kings of Troy held sway there.
The second greatest library of the ancient world was located in a Greek city on this coast. Half a dozen splendid cities arose on the rich plains.
Now only one city of importance is left, and that is maintained by Greeks whose industry even Turkish tyrants has not quite aspired to destroy.
Anatolia Turkey includes Palestine and Phoenicia. It includes the sites of Babylon and Nineveh. It includes Damascus and Bagdad. It embraces regions of considerable mineral wealth and vast provinces of wonderful fertility. But wealth and fertility count for little under the sway of the Turk.

Result of a Spree
At Kilkenny, Ireland, a man named Thomas Connors was prosecuted for cruelty to a cow and calf. Connors, who lived by himself, left his house and went to England on a drunken spree, leaving the animals locked in a dwelling-house at home. He did not return for ten days. He stated that in consequence of his mother's death a short time ago he was very much upset. He went to the fair of Ballaghadreen, where he got drunk. The magistrate took pity on him, advised him to get married, and let him off with a fine of 40 cents.

Ancestor of the Stewart Dynasty
A movement was started by the Edinburgh West Lothian Association, in conjunction with the Stewart Society, for the purpose of raising a national memorial to Walter, Lord High Steward of Scotland, whose wife, the Princess Marjory, daughter of Robert the Bruce, was the mother of the boy who ultimately ascended the Throne of Scotland as Robert II. and first of the Royal House of Stewart.
The promoters express the hope that something worthy of the heroic son-in-law of Bruce, and one of Scotland's noblest, yet least remembered heroes be erected.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The idea of an absolutely fearless man is the Connecticut farmer who proposed marriage to Dr. Anna Shaw in the midst of a suffrage meeting.

A somewhat belated "emergency ordinance" that which has closed the public gambling houses of Sacramento for the first time since the gold days of 1849.

They are selling the Turkish crown jewels in order to raise money for the carrying on of the war. That looks as though the "last ditch" is occupied.

Bonds guaranteed by Alberta left on the underwriters' hands! Why? Because Premier Sifton and the Liberal bunch at Edmonton have ruined the credit of Alberta.

They do it differently in France. The retiring President announces his pleasure that he is at last free to travel and to see something of his beloved country.

The New York Sun invites its readers to send it lists of the twenty greatest men in the world's history. Quite likely there will be some lists headed with the name of Roosevelt, followed by nineteen names of lesser note.

It is said that Miss Helen Taft knows how to tender first aid to the injured when a person is thrown from a horse. Doubtless her knowledge was acquired when her distinguished father was bucked off the Republican elephant.

Again the report goes out that O'Donovan Rossa, the veteran Fenian agitator, is dying in poverty. It is many years since that report was first circulated, greatly to the benefit of O'Donovan Rossa. But it may be that the old man is really not far from his earthly end, being in his 83rd year.

Welsh disestablishment will inevitably be followed by disestablishment in England. But there are many Anglicans in England who would not be sorry to see their church disestablished if it were allowed to keep as large a proportion of its property as the Welsh church retains under the new law.

The trouble which the militant suffragettes are now giving the British government is causing it to realize that it never had anything like this to solve since it blew the Sepoys of Nana Sahib from the muzzles of cannon. A return to the old-time ducking stool, however, might have a salutary effect on the Basibazouk empire.

It is quite needless for the Calgary Albertans to shed crocodile tears over what Sir Edmund Roblin had to say about Rev. C. W. Gordon. Dr. Gordon cannot keep out of politics, and in Manitoba it is a notorious fact that he is dived in the wool liberal. Preachers who will be partizan in the pulpit must expect to have their fingers burned once in a while.

President-elect Woodrow Wilson is said to be a strict and very old-fashioned Presbyterian. He is the son of a Presbyterian minister and is not in it for his health nor for the

was brought up in the faith and—nothing of that church. Whether this anything to do with the request that there be no inaugural ball at his installation we cannot say, but we are told that the announcement has created consternation at the Capital among those who were getting ready for the great function. No inaugural ball! What is the world coming to?

The writings of Father Lagrange, editor of the Revue Biblique and head of the Dominion Biblical Institute of Jerusalem, have been condemned by the Pope, and students for the priesthood must no longer read them. As a loyal son of the Church the worthy father has bowed to the condemnation though it is not stated that he has changed his mind as to the teachings given. These teachings related chiefly to the historical study of the Bible, and were in general such as are quite commonly accepted by Protestant students. The task of running thinking people all in one groove is a rather difficult and discouraging one.

A UTAH SUGGESTION

The Legislature of the state of Utah is gravely considering the advisability of adopting the cheerful Chinese custom of permitting a condemned criminal to commit suicide. It realizes that the great mental suffering, such as a condemned convict must undergo, will in many, if not in most, cases make him insensible to physical pain and anxious to put an end to existence. Thus the state will in many cases, involving capital punishment, be relieved of the bothersome question of how to dispose of the prisoner. Judge Thomas Marjorie of Salt Lake City has issued a statement setting forth the advantages of the Chinese plan.

At the present time Utah considerably provides two alternatives, shooting and hanging. The choice is made by the person to be executed. Gov. Spry, in his message to the Legislature, has recommended that the state adopt the electric chair.

The topic has been widely discussed since the Legislature convened. The principal objection to suicide is a moral one. Shakespeare spoke of the Almighty having set his canon against self-slaughter, but biblical students find no more definite prohibition than in the command "Thou shalt not kill."

Many think the best method of executing murderers—the gas companies to the contrary notwithstanding—would be by equipping a room which could be made airtight, except for a ventilating duct, and then some time during the week assigned for the execution let the attendants turn on gas while the victim was asleep. It is any worse to have gas as a household product turned to a base use than electricity, which is hardly less domestic in its attachments?

Here is a suggestion for Gov. Foss who dislikes the gruesomeness of an execution of any method.

AMATEURS AND OTHERS

The discovery that James Thorpe, the famous Carlisle Indian athlete, was not really an amateur when he represented the United States at the Olympic games, has caused considerable excitement in athletic circles. Thorpe had played baseball for a salary some time previously, and was consequently ineligible to compete at Stockholm. But no one in authority seems to have known that was the case. That someone else did know is quite evident from the manner in which the case has come to light. For the honor of his country that person ought to have informed the American Athletic Union at the time, as the incident cannot fail to cause considerable doubt of the value of the certificates which that body will issue to its next Olympic athletes. We may say at once that directly the Union became aware of the facts it acted with the utmost propriety. But the whole incident shows how very difficult it is to keep track of athletes in a huge area like the United States. Everybody knows that the increasing competition in athletics has made pure amateurism scarcer and scarcer in every country. Under the guise of expenses, so-called amateurs earn more from sport than from business. This tends to increase the number of records made, but it also tends to reduce the reality of the sport. There is a good deal to be said for out and out professionalism, though it is an axiom that if a man makes a business of sport he is not in it for his health nor for the fun of the thing. But the pseudo-amateur is the worst enemy of sport. He competes with genuine amateurs, and, of course, easily beats them, because they cannot afford the same time to train. The genuine amateur is driven from the field disappointed and disgusted. Thorpe does not seem to have taken money on any other occasion, or for any other sport than baseball, so that he may not really have understood that he ought to have put himself right with his authorities. It is claimed that he is still merely a primitive Indian. If that is so the authorities should be more cautious. Since international athletics have now some bearing on international politics. Our own authorities here in Canada may have similar problems, and we do not desire to see ourselves in the humiliating position in which the United States finds itself, even though the courage of the American Athletic Union is a splendid vindication of its honesty.

Are You Droopy, Tired, Worn Out?

HERE IS GOOD ADVICE TO ALL WHO FEEL AS IF THEIR VIGOR AND LIFE ALL OZZED AWAY.

This Condition Can be Quickly Cured by a Good Cleansing Medicine.

Your experience is probably somewhat similar to that described by Mr. J. T. Fleming in the following letter from his home in Lebanon: "I think I must have the most sluggish sort of a liver. In the morning my mouth was bitter, and that foul, soft feeling that tells you, 'No breakfast needed here this morning.' A cup of coffee would sort of brace me up, but in two hours I was disposed to quit work, all energy having oozed out of me. Supper was my only good meal, but I guess I didn't digest very well, for I dreamt to hear the band. A friend of mine put me wise to Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I think they must have taken hold of my liver, because at the very start they made things go right. Look at me now—not sleepy in the daytime, but hustling for the mighty dollar and getting fun out of life every minute. That's what Dr. Hamilton's Pills have done for me—they rebuilt and rejuvenated my entire system."

To keep free from headaches, to feel young and bright, to enjoy your meals, to sleep sound and look your best, nothing can help like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, five for $1.00 at all druggists and storekeepers or postpaid from The Cataract Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

ADMITS KILLING TWO WOMEN WITH BOMBS

Discharged Janitor's Weird Confession Clears Up Herrera Mystery

New York, Feb. 8.—John Paul Farrell, a discharged apartment house janitor, confessed today that he had killed Mrs. Bernard Herrera Sunday night by means of a bomb he had made and that by similar means he had caused the death of Mrs. Helen Taylor a year ago and attempted the life of Judge Otto A. Rosasky of the court of general sessions, last March. Farrell was held for murder to-night for the killing of Mrs. Herrera. Although the police are convinced the man is mentally unbalanced, Deputy Commissioner Connelley Sunday night declared the detectives he had sent out to investigate the case have learned enough to lead them to believe that Farrell's startling story is true in the essentials, though false in many details.

Every time Farrell had a grievance he seems to have settled the business with a bomb. The trouble with Mrs. Herrera, he said, was that she "fired" him from his job as janitor and hired a negro in his place. He wanted to get Judge Rosasky out of the way because the judge had sentenced Joseph Harvey, a "pal," to serve 30 years in Sing Sing for stealing $16 worth of jewelry.

STORY PIZZLES POLICE

Why Farrell wanted to kill the Taylor woman—sometimes known as Grace Walker—remains a mystery, police could fathom. In his early story Farrell said she was his daughter and he slew her because she had gone wrong. Later he recanted this and said she was an intimate friend, but gave no reason for killing her. He took Mr. Dougherty back to the days of his infancy of the police force and told him why and by whom "Kid" Walker was shot down and slain in 1887 on the Bowery. He said Walker betrayed the Taylor woman, and a man named Lestrangle killed him in revenge.

Having disposed of the bomb in a variety of ways, Farrell confessed, the police assert, to having perpetrated a series of robberies in Brooklyn, and to the robbery at the Johnson home. He had never been suspected of complicity in the crime.

Dougherty said Farrell has served 10 years in the New Jersey penitentiary at Trenton for burglary and other crimes. As John McDermott, alias "Liverpool Jack," Farrell's picture is in the women's gallery in Jersey City, according to information brought to Dougherty.

BLAMES MEN FOR WHITE SLAVERY

Rockefeller Says it is "a Man's Business Run For Large Profit" POVERTY AND LOW WAGES

"Greatest Single Menace To the Perpetuation of the Human Race," Says New York Young Millionaire.

New York, Feb. 8.—"Man, not woman, is responsible for the organized commercial social evil in this country," is the opinion of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. It is a man's business "run for profit, and the profit is large."

These views are expressed in a statement made public by Mr. Rockefeller Monday, giving further details of the aims of the Bureau of Social Hygiene, through which Mr. Rockefeller and other philanthropists hope to attack and alleviate conditions which he considers the "greatest single menace to the perpetuation of the human race."

"The idea of establishing a permanent organization to cope with the 'social evil in this city,'" says the statement, "was the outgrowth of my service of six months as foreman of the white-slave grand jury, appointed in New York city at the beginning of 1910. I came at that time to the extent and horror of the evil and to believe that it constitutes one of the great and vital world problems of the day. In the judgment of eminent medical men it forms from the point of view of diseases the greatest single menace to the perpetuation of the human race. Therefore, as a result of conferring with many people, the Bureau of Social Hygiene was established."

Under the direction of the Bureau, George J. Knaeland, who conducted the investigation carried on by the Chicago vice commission, has made a comprehensive study of vice conditions in this city; and Abraham Flexner has spent nearly a year abroad, investigating the methods of dealing with the problem in the leading cities of Europe. He will make further studies in a number of the larger cities of this country. As each of these studies is completed it will be published, and, until this is done, the Bureau deems it unwise and premature to express its conclusions as to method of dealing with the "social evil in this city."

Reports from Nicaragua have it that one of the largest American companies operating in Central America is opposed to President Diaz and that the moral of the story is that of the liberals in the event of trouble. The Conservative party is at present enjoying the confidence of the Taft administration, and the friendly terms with Secretary Knox. Among the Liberal leaders opposed for presidential honors General Irujo has been most frequently mentioned.

UNION PACIFIC AND SOUTHERN PARTED

New York, Feb. 8.—Chairman Robert S. Lovett of the Union Pacific executive committee issued a statement late today announcing discontinuance of all traffic department representation heretofore joint with the Southern Pacific company. The statement says:

"The operating organizations of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific in the West were separated a year ago last October from the president of the company. The joint offices and officials left after that reorganization and at the time of the decision of the supreme court in December were the directors, chairman of the executive committee, the directors of maintenance and traffic and other officers located in New York and the commercial and soliciting agents."

Today the remaining joint officers in New York resigned from one system or the other, and circulars change the joint agencies were issued, taking effect to-morrow, the first of the month."

William Rockefeller resigned today as a director and a member of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific. The vacancy thus created was not filled.

SAYS DOCTOR BROKE ONE OF HER TEETH SO AS TO FEED HER

London, Feb. 7.—Home Secretary McKenna today ordered a thorough inquiry into charges of brutality made by Miss May Billinghurst, a crippled suffragette recently released from Holloway Prison, where she said she was the victim of the most atrocious forcible feedings.

Declaring a hunger strike, Miss Billinghurst said that the doctor who attempted to make her eat, tried to force food through her nostrils. Unable to jam the tube into her nose because of a duct obstruction, he deliberately broke off a tooth, according to the charges.

Miss Billinghurst was one of the militants convicted in connection with the ballot box crusade and was sentenced to prison for eight months, but her health became so impaired after her alleged encounter with the doctor that she was released after one week.

To offset the suffragette news they are forced to carry because of its importance, the London newspapers are running symposiums on the "perfect wife." Here is a sample from Rev. C. H. Grundy, vicar of St. Paul's, Brooklyn.

"She should possess amiability, a firm will gracefully concealed, a tact to lead the husband without him knowing it; sense not to bother the man when he is worn out with his day's work; ability to save money out of the housekeeping allowance;

UNUSUAL SCENES IN THE BRITISH HOUSE

New York, Feb. 7.—The London correspondent of the New York Tribune catches yesterday morning as follows:

Exciting scenes arising out of the suffrage agitation occurred last night in the House of Commons, while the Lord's Amendment to the Scotch temperance bill was in progress. A gentleman in evening dress in the "Strangers' Gallery" suddenly arose and standing in the centre of the gangway, shouted: "I protest against your dishonourable treatment of women. You are simply driving them to violence. Women have been brutally assaulted in prison."

Most of the other occupants of the gallery shouted a derogatory "Oh, oh," but some others called out "Bravo." Several attendants immediately rushed to where the man was standing and he was hustled out of the gallery, wildly protesting, amid a scene of great excitement.

Several occupants of the public gallery went to assist the officials in the ejection. The man had a paper from which he had been reading his harangue, but had not got beyond the first three short sentences before being seized. He was led quickly down the back stairs of the House, avoiding the galleries and the public halls and shown into Palace Yard.

IS NICARAGUA ON EVE OF UPHEAVAL?

Liberal Leaders Would Push Diaz From the Chair of State.

New Orleans, Feb. 8.—Trouble has been brewing in Nicaragua for some time and it is reported that a revolution is imminent. According to private advice received in New Orleans by the last steamer from Bluefields, it would not be at all surprising if actual fighting started in February.

Reports from Nicaragua have it that one of the largest American companies operating in Central America is opposed to President Diaz and that the moral of the story is that of the liberals in the event of trouble. The Conservative party is at present enjoying the confidence of the Taft administration, and the friendly terms with Secretary Knox. Among the Liberal leaders opposed for presidential honors General Irujo has been most frequently mentioned.

As each of these studies is completed it will be published, and, until this is done, the Bureau deems it unwise and premature to express its conclusions as to method of dealing with the "social evil in this city."

TACT THAT PAYS

How a Prospective Father-in-Law Saved His Check.

Some people are so tactful that they are positively staggering. We have never heard of as delicate and unexpected a piece of tact as that exhibited by a certain father-in-law at a certain wedding in Peterborough last Friday. The story is reported to us by the best man of the occasion.

When the wedding presents had all been arranged in the big room prepared for the display, the bride and groom wandered in to look things over. Finally the groom said:

"Dearie, I thought your father was to give us a check for $300. I don't see it anywhere."

"Oh, I should have told you," answered the bride. "Papa was going to do that, but just at the last minute he thought that your father was going to give us a $500 check, too. And papa knows how tiresome it is to get duplicates, so he tore his up. Wasn't that tactful of dear old papa?"

That's the sort of tact that pays.

FELL IN STREET NEAR HOME FOUND IN MORNING FROZEN

North Bay, Ont., Feb. 7.—The frozen body of a woman lying at the side of the street was the gruesome sight which met the gaze of early pedestrians on High street, in the suburbs of North Bay, this morning. The woman was Mrs. Joseph C. Leblanc, of Morris street, who left her home yesterday evening to visit a neighbor. About 8 o'clock Mrs. Leblanc left the neighbor's home, when she had reached a point two hundred yards from her own home, she fell by the roadside and was overcome by weakness and cold. No anxiety was felt by her family at her absence all night, thinking she had stopped with friends, and no search or enquiries were made. She was forty years of age and leaves a husband and four children. The temperature was only about zero. It is presumed the woman collapsed with a weak heart, and was overcome with cold before she could recover.

FOUR GAVE SKIN TO SAVE GIRL'S LIFE

Remarkable Grafting Operation at Pawtucket Hospital Proves Complete Success

Pawtucket, R. I., Feb. 8.—Surgeons at the Memorial Hospital today announced the probable complete recovery of five-year-old Madelyn Clarke as the result of the most remarkable skin grafting operation that ever came under their notice and for which the child's father and mother, uncle and aunt gave large strips of skin from various portions of their bodies.

Through their sacrifice, varying from a few square inches of the aunt's skin to 51 strips from the limbs and body of the mother, the little girl has been saved, in all probability from having one of her arms grow fast to her side.

The latest of the series of grafting operations which have been performed at the Memorial Hospital today announced the probable complete recovery of five-year-old Madelyn Clarke as the result of the most remarkable skin grafting operation that ever came under their notice and for which the child's father and mother, uncle and aunt gave large strips of skin from various portions of their bodies.

The cause for the grafting dates back to the last Fourth of July and one of the thousands of unrecorded accidents which at the time did not seem to be a serious nature. Little Madelyn was playing with a "spark er"—one of those "toys" which are supposed not to burn, but only to burn, but only to glow—when her dress caught fire.

Three persons—Mrs. Raymond, M. Picot and Dr. Durville—have been trying to mummify the dead hand by the impaction of hands. The mummies, each lasting 45 minutes, has been held.

Prof. Dastre has examined certain matter said to have been mummified at Bordeaux and says it still reeks with microbes of all kinds. Dr. urville, however, is certain that Javelopment of bacteria in dead matter can be retarded by the impaction of hands, which will prevent typhoid fever germs from multiplying.

WHO WILL MARRY PRINCE OF WALES?

Only a Limited Number of Eligible Princesses From Which a Choice Can be Made

It is the habit of Royalty to mate early, and that is why the match-makers are already discussing the matrimonial possibilities for the Prince of Wales. That Edward is the most desirable "catch" in the world, even apart from his heirship to the British throne, is a point that has been brought out in the discussion, but his rank from all calculations respecting ladies not of Royal blood. There have been cases of Royal British princesses being married to other than princes, as, for example, the Marquis of Lorne and the Duke of Fife, but while such matches were extremely popular, it is not likely that the heir to the British throne would be permitted to wed one of his fair countrywomen, since he will be expected to marry for reasons of State rather than for reasons of sentiment. This is not to intimate that Royal marriages are not the result of affection, for very often they are true romances, but the love match is merely incidental, and while it is not likely that a Royal pair would be thrust into a union absolutely hateful to them, neither would they be permitted to let their fancy rove where it pleased from cottage to castle.

The Czar's Daughter

There are two princesses whose names naturally occur as filling all the conditions necessary for a marriage with the heir to the British throne. One is the Grand Duchess Olga of Russia, the eldest daughter of the Czar; the other is the Princess Victoria Louise of Germany, the only daughter of the Kaiser. The Princess Olga is about the same age as the Prince of Wales, and is said to be a very pretty girl, though not such a beauty as her mother. It is thought that a match between this pair would be very gratifying to both the Dowager Empress of Russia and the Queen-Mother Alexandra. From a political point of view it is believed that the match would be approved by the present Government, but opposed by the Unionists, who have no great fancy for further Russian alliances. The case of the Princess Louise, it is believed, would be approved by those who are supposed to know, but not so favorably inclined though it is not expected that they would actually oppose anything decided by the Government. It is believed that the match would be approved by those who are supposed to know, but not so favorably inclined though it is not expected that they would actually oppose anything decided by the Government. It is believed that the match would be approved by those who are supposed to know, but not so favorably inclined though it is not expected that they would actually oppose anything decided by the Government.

The Kaiser's Only Daughter

As regards the German princess, it is said that she has been brought up with a family of brothers, who are all supposed to be anti-English, the young people would not likely be congenial. Moreover, there are political objections to still further Germanizing the British Crown. That such a union would do much to wipe out the existing relations between the two countries which are far from being as cordial as might be desired, is claimed by those approving this match. It is doubtful, however, if these hopes would be realized by a marriage along for it is to be borne in mind that the situation with regard to Germany and Britain has developed with the grandson of Queen Victoria, the nephew of King Edward, and the cousin of the Queen, too. It is believed that the situation with regard to Germany and Britain has developed with the grandson of Queen Victoria, the nephew of King Edward, and the cousin of the Queen, too. It is believed that the situation with regard to Germany and Britain has developed with the grandson of Queen Victoria, the nephew of King Edward, and the cousin of the Queen, too.

A Roumanian Princess

Another charming princess against whom there could be no political objections is the Princess Elisabeth of Roumania. This princess is the daughter of the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Roumania and granddaughter of the Duke of Edinburgh, who later became Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. She has been brought up in English fashion, and her mother, "Carmen Sylva," is undoubtedly one of the most popular of the Royalties that visit England, which is the land of her birth. A union between the Roumanian and the British crowns could hardly be of great advantage from a political point of view, but, on the other hand, it would be free from the objections that might be urged against a match with either the Russian or the German Princess. Princess Mandia of Roumania, the youngest daughter of the Prince Royal, is a lovely girl, and is mentioned among the eligibles, though she is the first cousin to the Prince of Wales.

Must be a Protestant

The British Constitution declares the Prince of Wales from marrying a Roman Catholic, although it does not prevent English princesses from taking Roman Catholic husbands, as was the case with the Princess Elinor, who became the Queen of Spain, and abandoned her religion. In the case of the bride of the Prince of Wales it would not be enough for her to change her religion; she must have been born and brought up a Protestant, though it does not matter what Protestant sect or denomination she has been a member of.

RAILWAY ACROSS THE SAHARA

The dormant project of a railway across the Sahara has been actively revived. A French commission charged with the task of ascertaining the most favorable route landed at Algiers, and proceeded to the southern terminus of the present South Oran Railway, Colomb-Bechar, whence a march across the desert was undertaken. The party was led by Capt. Wagner, of the colonial infantry. The tentative plan for the railway contemplates a line south from Algiers, branching at some point not yet selected; one branch to proceed via Timbuktu to Senegal, the other to Lake Chad.—Scientific American.

POLICE FIND TRACE OF GIANT BURGLAR.

Hastings-on-the-Hudson, Feb. 8.—If footsteps are any criterion, the man that robbed the Mt. Hope railroad station must have been a giant in stature, as the police declare the footmarks he left in the soft earth near the window of the station measure 18 inches from heel to toe. It was about 1 o'clock a.m. that the burglar broke open a window in the station and then climbed in. He rummaged about the place, but the best he could find was a number of railroad tickets, a quantity of postage stamps and a small amount of cash. These he carried off.

The Great Phosphate and Mica Mines of The Progressive Mining Company Ltd.

Non-Personal Liabilities

Capitalized at $500,000. Divided into 500,000 shares of $1 each.
400,000 shares in the Treasury

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

The Company possesses 607 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to its credit 25 p.c. without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. The output of this Mica Mine is almost all sold in advance to large English firms.

THIS PHOSPHATE AND MICA MINES

are paying enterprises right from the start of its operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

THE PLANT, MACHINERIES

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

FISCAL AGENTS—

J. T. ARMAND & CO.,
(RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.)

If you wish to make your money work

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

SWITZERLAND'S ARMY

It is Maintained at an Extremely Low Cost—Every Man a Soldier

For years the German Emperor wanted to see the Swiss army, and when he did see it after receiving an invitation to visit the mountainous little republic he was convinced of the excellence of Switzerland's militia system—and said so. With his usual frankness he spoke words of praise which fell pleasantly upon Swiss ears, coming, as they did, from the head of one of the greatest armies in the world.

The Kaiser saw an army organized upon a basis which costs $9,000,000 a year, as against $350,000,000 which he pays for his own military and sea forces. In the event of war Switzerland would muster about 325,000 trained troops. It is estimated that 40,000 youths of about 16, all excellent marksmen, would also volunteer, and that

All told, Switzerland would have more than 300,000 men for defence.

Military training in Switzerland begins with the sixteenth year, but is voluntary until 20 is reached. Every town has its "cadet corps." When most boys are still riding hobby horses the Swiss boy is already being taught which is the business end of a gun and that you should never look into that end.

There is no standing army in Switzerland. There are, however, several thousand permanent officers, commissioned and non-commissioned, who are the "paid instructors." A number of men that these instructors constantly have under training suffice for all peace purposes.

At the age of 20 years every Swiss begins military duty. In the infantry he is trained 45 days the first time; if he enters the artillery, 75 days, and with the cavalry 90 days. He is then dismissed, and between that time and his thirty-second year he serves 77 days in 11 periods of 7 days each. The Swiss average about 180 days' actual service and training up to his forty-eighth year, when military service is no longer required.

Switzerland can mobilize its army in less time than any other nation. This is made possible by the fact that every man who has served and is subject to call takes his uniform, rifle and equipment home with him. Hence the Swiss army is constantly under arms. At specified times the equipment of the regular armies of Europe are not kept in better shape than that of the Swiss citizen-soldier.

TOO MUCH EXERCISE

Busy Business Men Overdo Their Work and Play, Doctors Say

That the London business man takes too much exercise was the startling assertion of a physician at the Conference of Hygiene for Business Men held in Britain's metropolis. The city man is said to be too fond of rushing from the intellectual toil of his office to the strenuous golf links. One doctor stated that this practice is a fruitful source of neurasthenia. "It is simply draining your nervous system and energy by two taps instead of one," he said. According to this expert there is no relation between the size of the muscles and health. Most of the delegates preached the simple life for city men, who were all too busy to attend the sessions of the conference.

All of the heavy artillery of the medical men was brought to bear against the business lunch and the business man was told to either go without it or to drop meat from the midday menu. One delegate drew a gloomy picture of the crowded drug stores in the business districts where the tired office men resort for "braces."

Cost of Living in Jerusalem

The inhabitants of Jerusalem are beginning to feel severely the general increase in the cost of living, says a consular report. The scale of wages and salaries is low, and, as elsewhere, it adjusts itself very slowly to the advance in the price of the necessities of life. For foreigners who desire to live comfortably in the way they would at home, Jerusalem is certainly not much cheaper than the average city of the same size in the Western world. It is estimated that the general increase in the cost of living in Jerusalem in the past ten years has been at least 50 per cent.

Deserted Township

An unusual memorial was unveiled in the desolate district on the borders of California and Sutherland to the former residents of Badbee, on the Duke of Portland's Langwell estate. Badbee was at one time a township of some dozen houses, with a population of 100 people, but lately the last of these left the district, which is now totally uninhabited. The memorial is a substantial cairn of masonry, built up from the stones of the former crofters' houses. It was presented by Mr. David Sutherland, War-rape, New Zealand, the son of a former resident.

In 1911 California produced more than 77,000,000 barrels of oil. The fuel product of this was equal to 20,000,000 tons of the best coal. Geological authorities say California can keep up this rate of production for a century without exhausting the fields so far discovered. The coal wealth of Alaska does not compare with the oil wealth of California. Nor does the wealth of the sea reach the value of this one product of the Sunset State. DID YOU KNOW that California's oil product at the wells last year was greater measured in dollars than ALL of the fisheries products of the three Pacific States, the Province of British Columbia and the territory of Alaska combined!

Many huge fortunes have been made in the industry, but even greater fortunes are yet to be taken from the virgin oil territory of the Pacific slope. The value of oil as a clean and economical fuel has been established. This has brought production in California fields to the high mark reached last year.

Production in the Pennsylvania petroleum fields is going down, and now regions must be developed to furnish the higher grade paraffin base product. Katalla, Alaska and East Kootenai, British Columbia, produce the oils which are the nearest like the Pennsylvania petroleum. These are the fields for profitable investment.

The Colonial Oil Company of Seattle has holdings in all the oil regions of the Pacific Coast, and are prepared to develop and exploit some great and profitable properties. Our representative in Peterborough wants to tell you all about it.

TREASURE TROVE FOUND

Workmen Gathered up Harvest of Small Coins Under Old Sidewalk

Under the board-walks at Dominion Park, Montreal, carpenters engaged in renewing and repairing the walks discovered a treasure trove—an accumulation of coins which found a haven under the crevices of the walks which have been trod by millions of people during the last seven years.

More than $25 in small coins was found by the laborers. Pennies and nickels predominated, with dimes quarters and halves naturally more rare. After the first few coins were found the men on the job became sharp-eyed as ferrets. R. Bedard set the record with a total find of $1.42. From this amount the pums run down the scale to only a few cents, but every man at work on the sidewalks found money of some kind.

A CHEF'S RECORD

He Cooked Chops for Fifty Years for Hungry Londoners

Of very few men can it truthfully be said, "He has cooked a million chops." Yet "William" of Edwards in Fishmonger Alley, Fenchurch Street, London, who will presently celebrate the jubilee of his professional career, is believed to have cooked a million and a half. About ten thousand of these he has eaten himself. The calculation was made on the table cloth by a distinguished statistician, who was so shocked by the figures that he dared not go on to estimate the tons of steaks, the mountains of kidneys and the miles of sausages. "I wonder, William," he said, "that you are not ashamed to look a flock of sheep in the face."

LOCAL MARKETS HELP FARMERS

Extension of Industries Provides a Market for Produce

A despatch to the Toronto Globe from St. John, N.B., says: "An encouraging feature of the outlook for farmers in the Maritime Provinces is the growth of the towns, which provide a growing market for produce. While there is no phenomenal growth, it is steady. Take for example, the town of Amherst. The Board of Trade met last week to discuss the housing problem. It was stated that from 100 to 150 men working in Amherst factories lived elsewhere, because of a lack of houses in the town, and President Curry of the car works stated that the population of Amherst would be increased by 1,000 this summer if houses could be provided. The increase would be almost wholly due to enlargement of the number of industries requiring skilled workmen. In Sydney a new mill is nearing completion, which will give employment to about 800 hands, and other industries in that town are also growing. Other towns in Nova Scotia are showing substantial growth, and this all means a better local market for the farmer."

EVERY LITTLE MOVEMENT

In Some Kinds of Business It Has a Cost That's all Its Own

In a large publishing house in Chicago which mails annually millions of circulars, form letters and sample copies the saving of even a single motion in the process of folding, enclosing or addressing means an economy, says a writer in Business, that is well worth thinking about.

When this idea first occurred to an officer of the company he devoted several weeks to a careful and analytical study of the work of the mailing department. The girls who folded and sealed the letters had formerly been allowed to arrange their work to suit themselves. A very little observation of their methods showed that there was much room for improvement.

Experiments were made to determine, in just what order each movement should be made in folding the letter and enclosure, picking them up and inserting them in the envelope. Crude as the first attempt necessarily was, it immediately increased the output of a girl. Further study revealed ways not only of eliminating many motions but of shortening the distance traveled by the hands in the motions that remained.

Finally a plan was devised for arranging and handling the envelopes and their enclosures so that each hand on the completion of one motion, was in the proper position to begin immediately the next motion. The final motion—that of throwing the filled envelope upon a pile—was entirely eliminated by placing a large basket upon the floor directly under the point where the enclosures were inserted in the envelope.

When the enclosures were once inside the girl simply let go of the envelope and it fell into the basket, gravity doing the work formerly done by the girl. After the girls had been taught the new methods of filling envelopes, their output was nearly four times as great as it had been when they were doing their work haphazard in any way that happened to occur to them.

CHEAP DIVORCES

They Can be Had for a Very Small Fee or for Nothing

Cut-rate separations, marked down severances of matrimony, bargain sales of single bliss—what a wonderful lot of inducements might be offered to mis-mated couples if they could be induced to take their marital woes to Africa! For instance, the women of the Ingalwa tribe who are tired of their husbands do not have to worry for six months, a year or two years, held in onerous leash until a judge condemns to sign a decree. Instead they simply nag their husbands until they induce the irate gentleman to give them a good beating.

Once a drop of blood flows, it is all off. Back to mother goes the wife taking with her a good share of marriage offerings and becomes a divorcee without any more ado. In Tunisia, any man with $120 can get his freedom any time he wants it.

The Arabs and the Moors probably hold the divorce record. In Sudan there are Arab men who have been married 40 or 50 times within ten years. The female of the species cannot boast of such record. The best they are usually able to do is 20 matches in a decade. This is because the customs and conventionalities decree that a divorce shall wait three whole months before becoming a blushing bride again, while her former husband can re-marry the day he is free if he so desires.

THE OLDEST MUSEUM

It is Located in Japan and Has Existed Hundreds of Years

Dr. Otto Kummel, head of the East Asiatic department of the Berlin Museum of Ethnology, tells of the oldest museum in the world, in the bulletin of the Societe Franco-Japonaise. This museum may be found in the city of Nara, the former capital of Japan. Since its foundation in 758 it went through all the changes of the Japanese empire without one single addition to its collection. Dr. Otto Kummel is one of the few Europeans who were permitted to visit this museum. It opens its door but once a year, on a day in spring, when a special committee inspects the collection, and a new list is made out. The museum contains about 3,000 articles.

A Vicar's Simple Life
The late Vicar of Little Maplestead, the Rev. J. F. Harwood, who died in his 94th year, was hardly less interesting than the curious old structure of which he was the proud custodian. He lived "the simple life" for nearly 60 years in a thatched cottage, which he rented for $25 a year, upon a stipend of $500 a week. And although he had been educated at Eton and Cambridge, and traced his descent from Hereward the Wake, he never complained about "clerical poverty."

MET FOUR COUGARS
Near Creston recently a pedestrian met four cougars on the trail. A local paper suggests that the Provincial Government increase the bounty on these animals so that it would be an incentive to hunters to get after these pests, who are fast depleting the deer and other game in the vicinity.

When Firemen Become Exempt

The Times was in receipt Saturday of a printed copy of government regulations relating to firemen, which may be of interest, especially to members of the local brigade. This bill says in part:

5.—(1) The council of a city may by-law enact that when a member of a company of firemen regularly enrolled in such city has regularly and faithfully served in such company for seven consecutive years, such member, upon producing due proof of such service, shall receive a certificate from the city clerk that he has served as a member of the company for the space of seven years. (2) Such certificate shall exempt the person named therein from the payment of any personal statute labor thereafter, and from serving as a juror on the trial of any cause in any court. R.S.O. 1897, c. 231, s. 6.

A DIFFERENCE

It Paid This Man to Change Food

"What is called 'good living' eventually brought me to a condition quite the reverse of good health," writes a New York merchant.

"Improper eating told on me till my stomach became so weak that food nauseated me, even the lightest and simplest lunch, and I was much depressed after a night of uneasy slumber, unfit for my business."

"This condition was discouraging, as I could find no way to improve it. Then I saw the advertisement of Grape-Nuts food, and decided to try it, and became delighted with the result."

"For the past three years I have used Grape-Nuts and nothing else for my breakfast and for lunch before retiring. It steadily set my stomach right and I congratulate myself that I have regained my health. There is no greater comfort for a tired man than a lunch of Grape-Nuts. It insures restful sleep, and an awakening in the morning with a feeling of buoyant courage and hopefulness."

"Grape-Nuts has been a boon to my whole family. It has made of our 2-year-old boy, who used to be unable to digest much of anything, a robust, healthy, little rascal weighing 32 pounds. Mankind certainly owes a debt of gratitude to the expert who invented this perfect food."

Same given by Doctor C. C. Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

It is stated that a movement is on foot to fill in the market arcade with stores.

Mr. W. Drisdale of Antrim street, was injured in the C.P.R. wreck at Newbury early Saturday morning.

Peterborough's ice harvest is now being gathered. The ice is about 14 inches thick, including about three inches of slush or snow ice.

Mrs. Herb. Wood, of Vancouver, was Miss Haydn's "With a Vengeance and Hawley's "Just As I Am," at the evening service in St. Paul's church yesterday.

Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of Murray street Baptist church, preached a special sermon yesterday evening on the subject, "The Church of To-day," as Compared With That of the Past.

Lindsay seems to have "historical" as well as financial ambition. That town has put on the Merchant of Venice with pure local talent and made a success of it.

Miss Laura McDonald, 259 Perry street, reported to the police on Saturday morning that she had lost a purse on the market square, containing three $1 bills and 40 cents in silver.

Fred Casman, a sixteen year old boy, who has been in the Children's Shelter for a week, was placed with Mr. Stanley Armstrong, a Springfield farmer on Saturday by Chief of Police Thompson.

Percy Kennedy, a driver for E. F. Mason was badly hurt by being run over from his sleigh, laden with goods, as the vehicle turned turtle down the embankment at Murray and Ridgeway streets. He will be laid up for some time.

Hobcaygeon Independent. While returning from Fenelon Falls on Minerals. From the tabulate diagram, giving the rate per 1,000 killed in the mines of various countries. We note that Canada shows the highest death rate, being the status covering the years 1903-4. In these years the rate stood 131 per 1,000. Canada's lowest rate was during 1897, being 12. Last year Canada's mine death rates stood 34. The country showing the smallest death rate was Belgium, which was less than one per 1,000. Great Britain comes next in safety of her mine employees, which during many years, shows an almost even death rate of a trifle over 1 per 1,000. The United States shows a death rate of 74 per 1,000 in 1906.

MR. R. R. GAMEY HERE ON PRIVATE BUSINESS

Mr. R. R. Gamey, M.P.P., Manitoulin, the man who helped to wreck the late Row Government, was in the city Saturday. He left yesterday for his home. A Times representative on Saturday asked Mr. Gamey whether his visit to Peterborough had any political significance. That gentleman replied, "No, my business in Peterborough is purely of a private and non-political nature."

Saturday afternoon, Mr. Gamey, with Mr. J. Wilson, of the C.G.E. Co., met Mr. James Kendrick, ex-M.P. The three went upstairs to a room to discuss business. We understand that Mr. Gamey was here in connection with a mining proposition. He left yesterday, per C.P.R. for Toronto, accompanied from the Ontario to the depot by License Inspector Stewart.

HIGH MORTALITY IN CANADIAN MINES

The Times is in receipt of the report of Mr. W. J. Dick, Mining Engineer, of the Dominion Committee, on Minerals. From the tabulate diagram, giving the rate per 1,000 killed in the mines of various countries. We note that Canada shows the highest death rate, being the status covering the years 1903-4. In these years the rate stood 131 per 1,000. Canada's lowest rate was during 1897, being 12. Last year Canada's mine death rates stood 34. The country showing the smallest death rate was Belgium, which was less than one per 1,000. Great Britain comes next in safety of her mine employees, which during many years, shows an almost even death rate of a trifle over 1 per 1,000. The United States shows a death rate of 74 per 1,000 in 1906.

HOG SWALLOWED WATCH

Camden, Pa., Feb. 8.—While leaning over the side of a pigeon to get a good look at an "special" unpurker on the farm of W. A. Hallam, near this city Judge Charles V. Keeler, a noted poultry fancier, of Winamac, Ind., dropped his $200 watch into the feed trough and Mr. Keeler promptly swallowed it. Judge Keeler then bought the hog for $100 and shipped it to Winamac, where he will butcher it and recover his timepiece.

MAKES YOUR BACK ACHE VANISH, DRIVES ALL RHEUMATIC PAINS AWAY

New Discovery Eases Nerve, Moves, Swollen Joints and Muscles, Relieving Backache and Bladder Disorders After Few Doses are Taken.

No matter how badly you suffer, how chronic your case may be, or what has failed to cure you, your pains will leave, your aches vanish and the torturous, killing backache or rheumatism will bother you no more. This is what Croton, the new scientific discovery, does for sufferers of such troubles. It cures these diseases because it reaches the cause and removes it. It soaks right into the walls and linings of the kidneys and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive organs like water does a sponge—neutralizes and dissolves every particle of uric acid and makes the kidneys sift from the blood all the waste matter and poisons that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism. It soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder and leaves the kidneys in a clean, strong, healthy condition.

so they can filter the blood and keep you well. If you suffer with backache—have pains in the neck or shoulders—nervous or dizzy spells—a few doses of Croton will relieve the congestion and you will be surprised how quickly all kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles will disappear.

Croton is different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else on earth ever used for the purpose. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you suffering the very first time you use it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You can secure an original package of Croton at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croton should fail in a single case.

VOL. XL, NO. 35. PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, Feb. 11, 1913. PRICE, TWO CENTS.

COUNCIL RAISED SALARIES OF OFFICIALS LAST NIGHT

Substantial Increases For Fire Chief and His Brigade—City Clerk, City Solicitor, Treasurer and Tax Collector also get a Raise.

The City Fathers met in Committee of the whole Council last night. There were present Mayor Bradburn, Aldermen Gillespie, Anderson, McIntyre, Johnston, Langford, Duncan, Green, Gordon, Duffus and Buller.

The advisability of building a fire substation in South City was fully discussed. Chief Howard estimated that such a building would cost $6,500; its equipment $3,500, making a total of $10,000 for a substation similar to those installed in other cities. The Chief is also anxious that an auto chemical apparatus be procured for the central fire station at a cost of $7,900. The ratepayers will be asked to vote on the matter of the fire substation; it was not decided what action will be taken in regard to the new chemical apparatus suggested.

Some Salaries Raised, Others Not.

The committee here wrestled with the several increases in salaries asked by city officials.

City Treasurer Frank Adams is drawing $1250 from the city, $1400 from the Water Commissioners and $200 from the Public Library Board—$2850 all told—Out of this he pays $1500 a year for clerical help, which leaves him $1350 for his own services. Ald. Gordon and Anderson moved for an increase of $100; Ald. McIntyre moved in amendment that no action be taken, but secured no second. Ald. Gordon and Anderson's motion carried, hence the treasurer gets an increase of $100 a year.

City Clerk Armstrong gets all told some $2700, of which he has for himself after paying his own clerical help about $2200. On motion of Ald. Johnston and Duffus, Mr. Armstrong was granted an increase of $300, netting him a personal salary of $2500 a year. Mr. Armstrong also attends to the duties of an Industrial Commissioner.

City Engineer Hay is drawing $1400 a year; he had not applied for an increase. Ald. Gordon and Johnston moved that his salary be increased to $1600—lost. Ald. Gordon and Anderson's motion that his salary be raised to $1500 was also lost. Ald. McIntyre and Duncan's motion that Mr. Hay's salary remain as it is pending changes in the department, also failed to carry. Consequently no definite action resulted.

Tax Collector W. J. Green is getting $1200 out of which he pays his help and postage; this leaves him $950 net. A motion of Ald. Gordon and Green that the tax collector get an increase of $200 was lost. Later on in the evening Ald. Gordon and Duffus moved that Mr. Green be granted $100 increase; this resulted in a tie vote. Ald. Gordon and Duffus then moved for an increase of $50, which carried. Consequently the tax collector gets an increase of $50 a year.

Relief Officer Miller is paid $250. On motion of Ald. Johnston and McIntyre his salary was raised $50 a year.

Street Commissioner Evans gets $1000. No increase asked and none granted.

Assistant Street Commissioner Fitzgerald draws $700. No increase asked and none awarded.

Plumbing Inspector Thompson is getting $600 a year. His application for an increase was not granted.

T. G. Quartermaster's salary of $750 was not increased.

Dr. McPherson (Medical Health Officer) asked for an increase of his present salary of $800. No action was taken.

Assessment Commissioner Henry requested an increase over and above his present salary of $1400. No action taken.

Miss Thompson's salary of $420 for typing industrial correspondence, was not increased.

Engineer Jameson, who gets $100 a year for looking after the South City Pumping Station wanted an increase. This man ranks as a third year fireman and benefits from increase as below scheduled.

Teamster Matchett of the fire hall asked for an increase over his salary of $475 a year. No action taken.

City Solicitor E. H. D. Hall has been drawing a salary of only $900 a year. On motion of Aldermen Duncan and Johnston his salary will be increased by $100. It is understood that this salary will be supplemented from other city departments.

Auditor Jas. A. Hall gets $300, he had not applied for an increase; hence no action was taken.

Fire Chief Howard asked for an increase from $1250 to $1500 a year. Ald. Gillespie and Anderson moved an $150 increase. Ald. Gordon and Green moved an increase of $250. Ald. Gillespie and Anderson's motion carried, hence Chief Howard's salary is increased to $1400 a year.

First year firemen's salaries were increased from $550 to $600.

Second year firemen's salaries were increased from $600 to $675.

Third year firemen's salaries were increased from $675 to $750.

These increases were the motion of Aldermen Anderson and Gillespie.

The Assistant Chief's salary was fixed at $850 (an increase of $100). A permanent assistant is yet to be appointed. Captains and Lieutenants will be selected from third year men at third year salaries.

All increases in salaries will date from January 1st, 1913.

Wiring Inspector.

On motion of Ald. Gordon the question of appointing an inspector of electric wiring, probably in conjunction with the office of building inspector, was referred to a joint committee of the Fire, Water and Light and Property, to report.

ENGLISH POULTRY FANCIER FIRST TO BREED BLUE ORPINGTONS.

BLUE ORPINGTONS
THIS STRAIN WAS ORIGINATED BY CAPTAIN DE BATHE FROM HIS OWN STOCK AT HARTLEY COURT, READING, ENGLAND.

Captain Max de Bathe, of Hartley Court, Reading, England, is one of the leading poultry fanciers in England, and several new breeds are directly due to his study and experiments in his chosen field of endeavor.

Captain de Bathe has achieved his greatest success with Orpingtons, and the blue of that breed is the latest result of his breeding and one of the most popular at the recent show at Madison Square Garden, where he exhibited several fine specimens and judged the breed.

REAR-ADMIRAL KINGSMILL TELLS OF THE TERRA NOVA

First Time Captain Scott Saw Her He Resented Her Appearance—Then He Exchanged His Vessel,
"The Discovery," for Her

Toronto, Feb. 10.—Rear-Admiral Kingsmill, the Canadian officer of the Royal Navy Staff, is an old shipmate of several of the officers of the Terra Nova Antarctic expedition. Admiral Kingsmill is surprised that Captain Scott chose the Terra Nova or the expedition in preference to the old ship, to which he was greatly attached. The first time Captain Scott ever saw the Terra Nova, he resented her appearance. He was out in the lonely Antarctic then, cut off from the world. It was on a sunny morning in January six years ago, the Discovery was fast in the ice, and her situation, and indeed that of the whole expedition, was a little serious.

The Government had guessed this and had sent this old but carefully chosen whaling vessel in tow through the Mediterranean and Suez Canal, until with the other relief ship, the Morning she came up to the edge of the Antarctic ice pack. Captain

Petes Lost

Cobourg, Feb. 10.—This evening the rink here was crowded to capacity to see the locals go up against the Peterborough aggregation at hockey. At half time the score was an even break 2-2. At 11 o'clock, the local team had gained one point, and the score stood Cobourg 3, Peter 2. When the bell rang, at the close, the score was Cobourg 5, Peter 2.

SNOWSLIDE ENVELOPES MAN PART WAY UP TREE

Slocan City, B. C., Feb. 10.—When he climbed into a tree to escape a snowslide, John Wafer, of the Meteor Mine, had not time to reach the top, and the rush of snow buried him to the neck. Two men discovered Wafer's predicament. After a lot of digging they released him just in time to save his life.

MRS. SCOTT WAS ON WAY TO MEET HER HUSBAND

Is Somewhere in Pacific Ocean and Will Not Learn of Disaster for Some Days Yet, Although Her Husband and 66 Died

London, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Scott, now tragically the widow of the British Antarctic explorer, whose death with 66 of his staff, was reported in yesterday's papers, though she is not yet probably aware of his fate, sailed from San Francisco February 5, for New Zealand, expecting to meet her husband there. Just before her departure, she said in an interview that she had not heard from him in 18 months, but was confident he would reach New Zealand safely.

Mrs. Scott sailed on the Aorangi, whose first port of call is Papeete, Tahiti. As there is no cable to that point, and as the ship will not touch at any cable point until she reaches the Antipodes, it is improbable that Mrs. Scott will learn of her husband's death until she reaches New Zealand, although efforts are being made to reach the Aorangi by wire.

LONDON CAN'T ADOPT LEMIEUX LABOR ACT

London, Feb. 10.—Sir G. Asquith's report on his investigations into the working of the Lemieux Act regarding industrial disputes, has aroused liveliest interest; but the opinion seems general that the Act is unlikely to prove effective here.

The Pall Mall Gazette to-day points out that thirty days' notice of strike would be impossible here. If it has proved operative in Canada, it is because Canadian labor has not yet acquired the revolutionary temper visible in recent British disputes. "The cure we want is the one which goes to the root of low wages."

SEVEN THOUSAND KILLED IN ONSLAUGHT NEAR SCUTARI

Montenegrins Capture Bardanjoli Hill at a Cost of Nearly Three Thousand Dead and Wounded—Turkish Losses More Severe—Another Battle Now Raging

Cettigne, Montenegro, Feb. 11.—The capture of Bardanjoli Hill at Scutari by the Montenegrins cost the victors 2500 men in killed and wounded.

The Turks left nearly four thousand men dead and wound, on the field of battle.

This heavy price paid by both the victors and the defenders at Bardanjoli was made known in messages received here to-day from the front.

A Montenegrin attack on the heights of Taraboseh, which dominate Scutari on the west, has been going on for three days. This onslaught is believed to have been as sanguinary as the engagement at Bardanjoli, but no news as to the outcome or the actual figures of losses yet has been received here.

Carried It by Assault.

Podgoritz, Montenegro, Feb. 10.—The Montenegrin army besieging the Turkish fortress of Scutari carried the great Bardanjoli Hill by assault at half-past ten this morning, after some hours of severe fighting. The infantrymen on several occasions came into such close quarters that hand-to-hand fighting was general along the line.

Bardanjoli Hill dominates Scutari from the eastern side, and the Montenegrins are mounting siege guns on the heights to bombard the principal points of the city.

Fighting has gone on since early morning right round the city, the Turkish defenders disputing the ground against the besiegers with fierce determination and courage.

More Enormous Losses.

Sofia, Feb. 10.—The route of the Turkish army before Bulair at the neck of the peninsula of Gallipoli on Saturday is said here to have been complete. They are reported to have suffered enormous losses. The field of battle was littered with flags, abandoned field guns and machine guns and rifles dropped in their flight by panic-stricken Ottoman troops.

The Turkish dead and wounded were lying thickly everywhere. Twenty of their officers were among the killed.

The Bulgarian losses are given out as four officers and 421 men, while twenty-two officers were killed.

MADERO REPORTED TO HAVE FLED FROM CAPITAL CITY

This Will Be Followed by Resignation of His Cabinet and the Installation of Felix Diaz as Head of the New Government—Two Hundred and Fifty Killed

Mexico City, Feb. 10.—President Madero has fled from the capital. General Blanquet with a part of the force of 4,000 Federalists he was leading to this city, marched up near the national palace early to-day. The commander quietly announced that he would not attack General Felix Diaz.

Madero's departure which followed immediately, is taken to mean the end of his administration. Later to-day it is expected General Diaz will be proclaimed President.

Reports prevalent in the city early to-day said that Madero and his family were fleeing toward the eastern coast, and they would try to leave the country as quickly as possible.

Members of the Cabinet were reported to have resigned, although this could not be confirmed.

Others May Join In It.

The situation became much graver to-day, when it was learned that in all probability the 3,000 Federal soldiers under Col. Beltran, who were preparing to enter the city, would join the revolt, which yesterday threw the capital into utter confusion and, for a time at least, made Madero a prisoner within the palace. If he gained the Beltran reinforcements it was believed that Col. Felix Diaz and the rebels would soon be in complete control of the city.

Several thousand armed men under Zapata were within a short march of the city, awaiting the word of Diaz to enter the capital.

Madero's decision to flee the capital, it was said, was due to Gen. Blanquet's refusal to stand by him. Gen. Blanquet arrived last night with a small portion of his forces

EDITORIAL NOTES

Received, the lieutenant-governor's sarcasms which cannot complain that those satin breeches were breeches of etiquette.

In an overwhelming vote a woman suffrage resolution has just passed the Pennsylvania House of Representatives. An echo of the Progressive campaign!

By the end of next year a new factor will have appeared in the commerce of the Pacific. The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company has in view the operation of modern trans-oceanic liners between Prince Rupert and the Orient.

Port Hope Guide figures that the government grant of $4,000 to Port Hope, that gave the Conservative candidate 4,000, was "small payment for votes." Under the Conservative administration, the government does not make appropriations "for votes"
but to meet the exigencies of existing conditions as demanded for public utilities.

THE ENDOWED DRAMA

The problem of the theatre in cities where a population of 50,000 persons, more or less, may be drawn upon for patrons, is very perplexing.
Three communities have for many years been obliged to depend on New York for such "attractions" as they might please the men conducting the so-called theatrical trust to furnish.
The strolling company to which belonged the gallant Capitaine Fracasse or that conducted by the eloquent Minot Crammies or any picked-up band of barn-stormers, depicted in history or fiction, may be regarded as con-tellations of stars of the first magnitude compared with the un-dressed, slipshod, "aggregations," that trail across the country in our days, making one-night stands in cities and towns which by all rights ought to have decent stock companies of their own. The plays they stumble through are beneath contempt. Dozens of people simply stay away from the theatre and keep their money until they may chance to go to the metropolis.

Pittsfield and Northampton have been lited into the limelight by reason of recent attempts to remedy this forlorn state of things. Northampton was pre-nted with a theatre, and there an excellent stock company has been gathered to play the repertory drama of the better class.
The city itself gave no guarantee against financial loss. At Pittsfield private individuals joined together to furnish a respectable theatre and to found a stock company. In both cities there was at first a commendable recognition of the new enterprise and people even came in from the neighboring towns. But the prospect of pecuniary success was soon blighted by the rivalry of cheaper shows. It is evident that to pay good actors living wages, to create new shows, and to provide new plays, a small theatre must be filled with a money loss; otherwise there is a money loss, and no manager, and no small band of citizens, however self-sacrificing, is going to face a long series of deficits. It may be very well to run a sentimental or an educational standpoint to have Shakespearean dramas and the good comedies performed. It is fine for the children who are reading these masterpieces at home or in school to see them adequately presented on the stage; but it is foolish to expect them unless they have remunerative audiences. The tendency is to the poorer, but more popular melodrama to drive out the higher work of art.

Bright Ruddy Cheeks For Pale Girls

NO LONGER ANY NEED TO BE PALE, WEAK OR ANAEMIC.
By Following the Advice of Miss Mc-Ewen You Can Quickly Become Strong Again.

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested.
At night she is restless, she dozes,
but doesn't sleep soundly.
Vital force must be increased, new blood must be supplied and a general rebuilding take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton has invaluable experience in these cases, and found nothing so prompt in building up young women as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Buckwheat.
Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food ready for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

Full of spirit, ruddy and strong is the girl that assists her system by the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.
The following recent letter from Miss Etta McEwen, of Haliburton, speaks for itself.

"In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly, and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed."

"Formerly I felt tired and depressed.
I looked as if a severe illness were hanging over my head."
"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I strongly advise every young woman to use them."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, by mail from The Catarrhine Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

IN MEMORIAM

Of Ethel Wood, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wood, Who Passed to Rest, January 15th, 1913.

O, What is beauty, what is youth?
Mere shadows of a day;
One touch of Death's cold icy hand,
Transforms us all to clay.
The dearest form that ever bound
A father or mother's love,
One sharp blast of Death's chill breath,
That loved one will remove.

Grief-stricken friends,
I know my lines no soothing balm imparts,
To heal the wounds, which cruel Death
Inflicted on your hearts.
Your only daughter was by you loved Idolized I know,
Alas! Death came so premature
And laid your Ethel low.

True centre of your family joys,
Kind-hearted, cheerful, bright,
Her pleasing smiles, her winning ways
Her brother's chief delight.
Likewise her father's truest joy,
From youth to woman's years;
Well might her Death unlook and burst.

The floodgates of his tears.
One more endeared by tenderer ties,
More keenly feels the smart;
The blow has filled her cup of grief
And crushed a mother's heart.
The babe she nursed—the girl she loved,
Still haunts her night and day.
It is but fancy caused by grief
For her Ethel—passed away.

How short her pilgrimage on earth
How brief her sojourn here;
And yet she allowed her to prepare
For a far brighter sphere.
Well she improved each passing hour
On heavenly paths she trod;
Her chief aim, her soul's delight,
Religion, church and God.

Her earthly life was but a glimpse
With friends how short she stayed.
The flush of youth had scarcely faded
From her young cheeks to fade.
When youth, health, joy and hope
Held forth their sweetest ray;
Before her twenty-second year had closed.

Dear Ethel passed away.
Yes, she has gone, her presence here
Seemed but a passing wave;
And yesterday in cradles smiled,
To-day she fills a grave.
Not Ethel only Ethel's dust—
In Death's cold chamber lies,
We hope her youthful soul embarks
In bliss beyond the skies.

Grieved, weeping friends dry up your tears.
View the curtain cast on God,
He but afflicts you for your good,
Now he is chastening you.
His greatest trials are sent through love.
We beseech submission say,
"Not ours, O Lord, thy will be done,
Our Ethel take away."

BANK ACT ENDS FRAUD

New Bill Makes Audit Compulsory
AND SAFEGUARDS PUBLIC

Hon. W. T. White Puts Responsibility on Proprietors of Banks. No More Room for Fraud. In Obtaining Certificates for New Banks.
(Special to The Times).

Ottawa, Feb. 10. That the new Bank Act as brought down by Hon.
W. T. White is far more advanced and does not far stricter provisions in regard to protecting both shareholders and depositors than the bill introduced by the Laurier government was very clearly shown by the Finance Minister in a speech upon the second reading of the measure. The Liberals have been particularly severe in their criticisms of the new act, apparently forgetful of the fact that barely two years ago Hon. W. S. Fielding introduced a bill which provided lower safeguards and when he failed to pass it.

The Difference.
Mr. White's comparison of the two measures shows a startling fact now, much more progressive is the present one.
The bill introduced by Mr. White, which was introduced by Mr. Fielding, did not go nearly as far as this measure of mine. The bill, so far as audit was concerned, because he had rejected government banks, made it permissive to the banks, at their annual general meeting of shareholders, to appoint auditors with similar powers to those which we have given them in this measure. I felt that public opinion would require a further step than that and in consequence the provision of the Fielding Bill, but instead of allowing that to remain permissive I made it compulsory.

Step Further.
In other words, is so far as the views of the late governments, through their Finance Minister, and the then Prime Minister, went, at that time, they were unwilling to grant or to consider favorably government inspection, but they had gone the length of permitting the shareholders of banks, at their annual general meeting, to appoint auditors with nearly the same powers as we have given them in this measure.
That is the substantial difference between the two bills, the Fielding Bill and the Bill of this Administration, on the question, that is to say, that the late government made audit permissive to the shareholders and this government has taken a step and made it compulsory.

Two Other Differences.
There are two other substantial features of the Bill which differ from those contained in the Bill of the Hon. Mr. Fielding. We have adopted a very stringent provision to prevent fraud and dishonesty in the person of the auditor, by requiring the incorporation of a bank and the issue of its treasury certificate.

Help the Farmers.
Another provision is one to which I shall refer a little later on at great length, namely, a provision whereby the banks may advance to farmers a number of other features, to aid in the security of the threshed grain and to ranchers on the security of their cattle. Another is a provision that banks may issue their own circulation against gold.
These are the other features, for example, one to strengthen the form of the return which shall be made to the Government and in many other ways the Bill has been improved in order to meet judicial decisions.

Non Political Measure.
Mr. White made it very clear that the Bill was in no way a political measure. He welcomed suggestions.
The Bill has been sent to the Banking and Commercial Committee, where a number of amendments will undoubtedly be proposed.

BANK ROBBERS LEAVE NO CLUE

Cashier Attacked by Trio of Masked Men Whose Pursuit is Futile

Enos, La., Feb. 10. Lack of a description of the burglars who attempted to rob the Enos State Bank of its funds early Thursday evening, when the cashier, G. Carroll, was attacked by one of a trio of masked men, the posse who gave chase to the fleeing bandits have about abandoned hope of finding any trace of the hold-up men. The chase continued throughout Thursday night, but up to the noon hour Friday the efforts of the posse were fruitless.

It appears the robbers had closely watched the movements of Cashier Carroll early Thursday and when he entered the bank about 6.30 o'clock one of the number followed him jumping on his shoulders and throwing him to the floor. Somewhat of an athlete, Carroll, however, was powerfully built, Mr. Carroll had no trouble grappling with the robber in a struggle for his life.
The robber was bested, and while getting away from the bank cashier, drew his revolver and fired several ineffectual shots at the bank cashier.
On reaching the street the masked man who attacked Mr. Carroll was joined by two other masked men, who stood guard at the bank entrance.

The trio fled in a northerly direction. Mr. Carroll gave chase for a short distance, exchanging shots with the would-be robbers.
The robbery was attempted at an hour when the streets are practically deserted. Evidently the intentions of the robbers were to bind and gag the cashier and loot the bank.

PUBLIC OPINION.

responsible for the opinions of its correspondents.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

Editor Morning Times.
Sir, I must take exception to the statement in The Times a few days ago, that Roman Catholics are the enemies of the Public School. This is a base untruth. While we prefer our own school, we are far from being the "enemies" of the Public School.
All we ask is that we be left alone in the enjoyment of our rights.

DANGEROUS CROSSINGS

Editor Morning Times.
Sir, I have noticed that your paper is the only one issued in the city that has had the courage and snap to reprimand those responsible for the scandalously dangerous condition of our icy pavements, during the past few weeks. "One thing I, as a resident, in that part of the city, would like to call the attention of the authorities to is the danger existing on Dublin, Edinburgh and London streets, where they cross Stewart and Bethune streets. The only safe way of crossing the pavements at the spots indicated is in an acroplane. Now a man with an axe at other suitable tool, could, in ten minutes cut away or scarify the pavement so as to make walking safe for pedestrians.

FRAUD IS FOUND IN FUR TRADE

Federal Action Urged Against Sureties of Company Violating Laws

FEMALES ARE KILLED

Action Re Pribolet Islands Against Sureties of North American Commercial Company to be Taken For Damages.

Washington, Feb. 10. In a report on fur seal condition at the Pribolet Islands the House committee, which conducted a wide investigation today indorsed a closed season of five years.
President Taft recently asked to have a law to that effect repealed.

The committee reported that the North American Commercial Company had violated the law by killing female seals and yearlings, and recommended that the attorney-general proceed against the sureties for the company who subscribed to a bond of $500,000 for faithful fulfillment of its contract. The sureties were D. O. Mills and the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins. The committee charges that the lease was obtained by fraud, which consisted of the signing of a false affidavit by Isaac Liebes, president of the company, to the effect that neither he nor his associates were engaged in Pelagic sealing or in any violation of law.

The committee reports set out that Liebes and his associate, Herman Liebes, were interested in the schooner James A. Hamilton, Lewis, outfitted for the purpose of committing depredations on the high seas, and that the Liebes combined with "Alexander McLean, known as a notorious British pirate, to commit depredations on the high seas by way of unlawfully killing fur seals belonging to the government of the United States."

Your committee finds," says the report, that Isaac Liebes corresponded, combined and agreed with H.
D. Pierce, then third assistant secretary of state of the United States, to the purpose of committing depredations on the high seas, in preparing and collecting a fraudu-ment. The Russian government rewarded the United States $50,000 for the owners of the vessel.

WILL ACCEPT BRITISH NAVY SUPERIORITY

New York, Feb. 10.—A cable from London to The Tribune, says: The declaration by Admiral Von Tirpitz that Germany would accept the British claim to a 60 per cent. superiority in naval power has aroused immense interest throughout Europe, an interest which has risen to excitement in France.

In Germany, Great Britain is still suspected, and German nationalists declare that a margin of 60 per cent.
can be accepted only if the warships which are being built by the British Dominions and colonies are included.
The opinion is general in France that Germany intends by attempting to come to an agreement with Great Britain to release the money now being spent on shipbuilding for the strengthening of the army and the aerial fleet, to the great danger of the French republic.

CIVILIZATION IN ANCIENT MEXICO

Harvard Professor Finds People Had Means of Reckoning Time.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Mexico and the countries of Central America enjoyed a civilization when all the remainder of the western hemisphere was sunk in darkness, according to Prof. Alfred M. Tozzer, of Harvard University, whose treatise on Mexican manuscripts was made public today by the Smithsonian institution.
The investigator found that the ancient peoples had their own methods of counting time by means of circular calendars and that their evolution from recording events through picture writing into actual phonetic writing is distinct.

"Unfortunately, the material available is very limited," Prof. Tozzer says, referring to the scarcity of manuscripts. "The number of manuscripts is exceedingly small, for through their earnest efforts to stamp out the religion, ancient doctrines and teaching of the natives, the Spaniards destroyed a large number of these manuscripts."

The paper, which is regarded as a distinct addition to the world's knowledge of the ancient American peoples, is published by the institution as an addition to its annual report of 1911.

LOCAL REAL ESTATE MAN WINS SUIT OVER BARBER

Yesterday afternoon, in the Division Court, His Honor Judge Huycke held a trial, with jury attachment.
The case tried was that of Mr. Carroll, the local real estate agent versus Jimmy Lewis the Hunter street tinosaal artist. This was a suit for $75 for alleged commission on a property sold by Carroll for Lewis.
Lewis claimed not to have engaged the services of Carroll. He said that their conversation in regard to the property in question was in a casual, not a business way. However, when the jury had sifted the evidence they found Mr. Carroll's commission down to $25 and awarded accordingly.

SUFFRAGETTES RAID LONDON'S CLUBROOM

Hurl Bricks and Lead Balls Through the Windows of Exclusive Resorts.

London, Feb. 10.—The suffragettes to-day enforced their demands for the ballot by smashing clubdom.
Simultaneously, bands of militants attacked four exclusive clubs in Pall Mall—the Reform, the Oxford and Cambridge, the Carlton and the Junior Carlton. They also made an onslaught on Schomberg House, the home of Prince Christian, a relative by marriage of King George V.

With chunks of lead stamped "votes for women," and brick-bats wrapped in "votes for women" paper, the suffragettes broke all the windows on the ground floors of the club houses.
Three of the women were arrested, and held for trial in Bow street.

UNCLE SAM MAY SEND WARSHIPS TO MEXICO

Officials Confer on Matter To-day—Must be Upheld, Says Knox.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Secretary of State Knox, Secretary of the Navy Meyer, and Secretary of War Stimson will confer this afternoon immediately following the Cabinet meeting to determine whether warships shall be sent to Mexico.

"While the situation is apparently grave and the instructions have been reached, it does not yet appear that there is the slightest possibility of the United States interfering," was the comment to-day of Secretary of State Knox.

"Intervention talk is premature,
as nothing but a general upheaval, paralyzing American lives, will change the non-intervention policy of this Government in the next few weeks."

PUT OUT COUNTESS IN RIDING HABIT

New York, Feb. 10. "It is true we refused to permit the Countess Cimeros to enter the tea room wearing a riding habit, and we could not permit no one else in a riding habit to enter that room," said the manager of the Hotel Plaza today.

"And this is America, the land of the free and the home of the brave," said the countess, as she told of her experience. "I was accompanied by my husband, but I was ejected for wearing a riding habit. Paris, Rome, Berlin, St. Petersburg—no European capital would countenance such tyranny."

The Plaza manager pointed out that he had to exclude riding habits in order to protect other guests.

GIANT SKELETON IS UNEARTHED

Kearney, N. J., Feb. 10.—The skeleton of a man 6 feet 7 inches tall was dug up today by Samuel Aspinwall.
Aspinwall was digging in the garden at the back of his house at 80 Dukes street, intending to transplant a peach tree. He found the bones of a man's right arm as soon as he broke the ground. The entire skeleton was buried only a foot and a half below the surface. It was in good condition.

Aspinwall, who has lived on the property for more than 25 years, said he was sure the body had not been buried in his garden during his occupancy of the premises. A horseshoe steel plate was found near the skeleton, indicating to the police that the body may have been buried 50 years ago, when horseshoe heel plates were worn.

BLUE LAW REIGNS OVER MISS. COAST

Fruit, Candy and Livery Business
Under Ban Until Further Notice.

Gulfport, Miss., Feb. 10.—Never in the history of the State has the Mississippi coast had the Sunday law clamped down as firmly as was the case Sunday, when a prohibition was laid upon practically all business by the drug stores, and that the actual dispensing of drugs, livery stables, automobiles, garages, candy, soda water and fruit establishments were not permitted to carry on business, and the result was a Sabbath that would have compared favorably with any in the history of the zealous old Massachusetts Bay Colony. The sudden excess in enforcement of the Sunday law was due to the fifty-three indictments last week, the sequel to the efforts of ministers and of women's organizations who gave testimony that resulted in the bills of indictment.

Mrs. Luckwater, a medium, was sent for and tried all Saturday night was compelled to admit she was unable to do so.

FEET OF THOUSAND GIRLS IMPERFECT

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 10.—"There is not a perfect foot among the 1800 girl students at the University of Illinois, and, more than that, there never will be as long as shoe fashions for women remain as they are," said Miss Gertrude M. Moulton, director of physical training, after an inspection of the young women's feet had been finished.
"We did not make the examination in quest of a perfect foot," continued Miss Moulton, "but with the idea of helping those with bad feet. We found some that might have been near perfect, but shoes have ruined them.
There was only one girl whose measurements in the remotest manner approached perfection."

'GHOST' TERRIFIES APARTMENT HOUSE

New Castle, Pa., Feb. 10.—Rap-pings and gentle tappings that fit from the window panes to the doors and then come from the floor and and spirit mediums and have driven the tenants of a big apartment house the Kimberly, in Pennsylvania ave-ue, into a panic of fear.
The rappings first started in the apartments occupied by A. G. Hessel man and then were heard in the apartments occupied by the Gregors, Aloops and Kimberlys. Mrs. Hannelman said:
"A rapping like a person knocking at my door startled me about 6.50 last Friday evening. When I looked out in the hall no one was in sight.
The rappings have kept up since that time.
So alarmed did the tenants become that four policemen were detailed to look into the matter. A policeman was stationed in each apartment.
They admit hearing the rappings at all hours of the day and night, but have been unable to solve the mystery.
One policeman, sitting just inside the door, was startled by the loud clinking on the glass panel within a

FOUGHT IN MANY BATTLES

Death of Gentleman-at-Arms Who Was Descended From Rodney

The death occurred at Cheltenham of Colonel Edward Brown, one of the King's Gentlemen-at-Arms, and formerly commander of the 101st Foot, in his eighty-fifth year. Colonel Brown was a descendant, through his mother, of the famous admiral Lord Rodney, and he saw a great deal of active warfare in India. He was one of the last survivors of the battles of Poonah and Soorah, in the Sutlej campaign of 1845. Seven years after he was taking part in the recapture of Pegu and the relief of its garrison during the Burmese war. The Indian Mutiny broke out a few years later, and he was present at the battle of Budlekeer, the siege of Delhi, and the assault of Edgware, where he was five times wounded, two wounds being so dangerous that his recovery was despaired of. In 1868 he was in the North-West Frontier war, and was present at the capture of Umbeyla. He was appointed a Gentleman-at-Arms thirty-four years ago.

FRENCH DOCTOR HAS CANCER CURE

Will Give Secret to the World When He Proves Its Worth Beyond Doubt

Can cancer be cured? This is a question which many physicians of the highest international repute will answer in the negative, but Dr. Gaston Odin, a 38-year-old Parisian declares that not only is the disease curable, but that he has discovered the cure. To an interviewer he told a most interesting story of his work. "Cancer fascinated me," he said, "and I studied the blood of cancer patients. To my astonishment I discovered that, in the blood of cancer sufferers, some of the blood corpuscles were shaped like chestnuts instead of being perfectly round. It dawned on me that perhaps the cancer germ was hidden within the blood corpuscles, like the yolk of an egg is hidden within the shell. How could I break the shell of these chestnut-shaped corpuscles? I tried many chemicals.

The cancer germ very many times enlarged.

"One day after one of these tests I picked up a piece of glass, on which I had been experimenting, and behold the blood was swarming with microbes. That was the cancer germ released from the shell. I have proved that fact beyond doubt.

"Now, I have found the cure. I have made a serum that kills this germ, and I shall tell the entire secret to the world. I do not think that all of this has been done suddenly. I have worked on it for 18 years. It will not be long before physicians in any part of the world will be able to give my treatment."

Four men sat in the outer office of Dr. Odine's place. Two of them had their cancer-eaten faces bound in cloths. The other two were also cancer sufferers.

"The doctors told me I should die," one man said. "They had cut and cut at my neck without avail. I have traveled over Europe seeking help. I have been coming to Dr. Odine for a week, and the swelling has gone down by one-half. My pain is gone."

Dr. Odine took the two newspaper men into one of the largest hospitals in Paris, where the cowed monks who act as nurses have absolute faith in the ability to accomplish perfect cures of the terrible disease. A patient there—a man of huge frame—said he had been given five weeks to live by his doctors. A cancer was eating his throat away and he could scarcely breathe. After three weeks of Dr.

DR. GASTON ODINE

Odine's treatment he was able to speak a little and a week later he could walk and talk without difficulty. The swelling and the pain had vanished and he hoped to leave the hospital as soon as he regained his strength.

Dr. Odine's treatment consists of injections of serum, usually into the thigh, even when the disease is located in the throat. Operations, he says, are useless. By his method the cancer is dissolved and the fluid is moved by lancing.

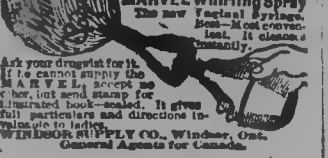

Improving Buckingham Palace. Buckingham Palace is to be renovated at a cost of $300,000, the Office of Works having determined to do something to improve the exterior, a building known as the ugliest residence in Europe.

Sir Aston Webb, the official architect, who designed the Victoria Memorial in front of the Palace, the new Processional road, and the Admiralty Arch at the end of it, passed plans which contemplate the substitution of an imposing white frontage of Portland stone for the existing drab exterior.

such an extent as to warrant their being called "other people."

certain that these people came from whose birthplace was believed to be Kamchatka, in Asia, and it is almost race. He is cleaner of habit than the northern Asia. Their appearance is more of the Mongolian, and in artistic work they have much the same skill and craftsmanship as the Japanese. The Aleut is superior to the native race. He is cleaner of habit than the Eskimo and more willing to work.

The tribe's ancient dwellings, now long grown over with grass, represent the age of stone implements, when excavated were found to be large, roomy houses made of sod, built above the ground, and usually of more than one room. Whalebone was often used for parts of the framework. The cemetery of the community was not in a common burial ground, but in a room of the house especially constructed for that purpose. The corpses were buried in a sitting posture.

Certain caves were used also as a place to bury the dead, but owing to the occurrence of skulls with fractures in them it is presumably the warriors who died away from home who were so buried. A few had the distinction of being stuffed with moss and made into mummies and placed in caves. These customs have long since changed, owing to the efforts of the Russian priests, and now few there are that can offer an explanation for the strange burial rooms, the cave burials and the moss stuffed mummies.

The Aleuts occupy the island peninsula of Alaska, and number about one thousand. Three hundred are well cared for at the seal islands; the balance herd, nothing left but fish, a few fox and the basket industry. The time was when they were employed to kill seals; also their tribe supplied the men that manned the sea otter boats and killed that most valuable of furs.

These furs are practically a thing of the past and the Government has prohibited both the whites and the natives from killing any of them. This is not adding greatly to their troubles, for these fur animals of the sea are now so scarce as to be of little benefit to the Aleuts any more. The basket industry is now their chief support. Their baskets, though the finest in any market, bring them less than one-fourth the retail price, and provisions sell to them at about three times the cost.

A woman will work two weeks to make a basket, and then get $3 for it; pay 75 cents for a pound of tea, 20 cents for a pound of sugar, and 7 cents a pound for flour, and what for clothing? The father can get a few fish to dry, gather a few drift sticks as thrown up by the sea as no timber is found on the islands. In winter he catches a very few blue fox, perhaps four or five, at $5 each. Curio seekers pay fabulous prices for an Aleut basket, which is, in truth, one of the best that can be had; the most artistic, the finest weave and the most beautiful of design. One of the prettiest baskets I ever secured came from the house of a widow at the figure of $2.50; a full two weeks work!

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to its credit 25 p.c., without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. are paying enterprises right from the start of the operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

FISCAL AGENTS—

J. T. ARMAND & CO.,
(RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.)

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

FAMOUS STAMP COLLECTIONS

Lord Crawford's Was One of the Most Extensive in the World

Stamp dealers in all parts of the world are discussing the sale to a London dealer of the bulk of Lord Crawford's great collection. What he sold was probably one of the finest collections of foreign stamps in the world, and what he retains includes the finest collection of United States stamps, and a collection of British stamps second to that of King George alone. Before the sale Lord Crawford's collection was the finest that the expenditure of unlimited money and the research of half a lifetime ever accumulated, with the possible exception of the collection of Count Philippe de Renciere, said to be worth about $5,000,000. Lord Crawford's collection of United States stamps, however, was unrivaled, and no matter what amount a collector might be willing to spend in the effort, he could not duplicate the collection because of the peculiar circumstances in which some of the unique specimens were obtained.

BIG GAME COUNTRY

Hunters' Paradise in the Grand Canyon District of British Columbia

Some seventy miles up the Fraser River from Port George, B. C., the Grand Canyon is reached and from there a magnificent moose country extends as far as the Little Spoke River. From reliable reports received it is probable that there are more moose here to the square mile than there are in any other part of the continent, and every year their numbers seem to increase. Whether the horns attain the large size of the Caspian moose has yet to be determined but some very fine heads have been seen. In this district caribou are also very plentiful on the higher plateaus and, at places, both grizzly and black bear are numerous. It is beginning to appear, in fact, that, with the exception of antelope and musk-ox, British Columbia has every species of big game that exists on the continent, even the rarest of them being found in fair quantities. In addition there the wild fowl and game birds of various species, some native and some acclimated, that furnish sport, while the waters afford unequalled salmon fishing.

Memorial to Jem Mace

Jem Mace, the old time prize-fighter who died in 1910, is to have the honor of a memorial in Norwich, where he lived for some years. Mace, who was a native of Norfolk, fought his most famous fights in the early sixties, being deposited from the position of champion by Tom King.

"The O'Mahony of Kerry"
Mr. Pierce O'Mahony, D.L., made a statutory announcement to the effect that, being the direct descendant in the elder line of Dermot O'Mahony, who, in 1387, founded a separate chieftainship in Kerry, Ireland, he intends to use the title of "The O'Mahony of Kerry."

FINEST SHED IN WORLD

The building will be 800 feet long, 80 feet wide, and two stories in height, and will be built of steel, concrete and brick. The upper story will be used for the inspection of immigrants, and the lower floor devoted to baggage, restaurants, ticket offices, etc. The shed will cost in the neighborhood of half a million.

EX-PREMIER'S NOSE BROKEN

It was a Marble Reproduction, However, and Was Quickly Repaired

The statue of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which was supposed to have gone down with the Titanic, while it was actually on La Bretagne, has been put in place at the Chateau Laurier at Ottawa. Monsieur Paul Chevre, the sculptor, watched anxiously while the product of his art was moved by the workmen. How his fingers twitched to take it himself. How careful he would be with it—how much more gentle! Then one cannot tell how it happened. But that statue was dropped. It fell on its nose. The nose of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was broken.

The workmen stood back amazed, horror-stricken. M. Chevre tore his hair. He shouted till his throat was hoarse. He stopped in his wrath. He looked at the men. "Alions," he said. That was all. And they went. He remained alone with his work. As the afternoon sped drearily on, he sat at work in his sleeves. He heeded nothing going on around him. He was an artist again. And the nose of the statue was broken. But he worked on till the twilight. Then he got up and looked at it. One more touch there and one here. The nose of Sir Wilfrid was not broken. So it appeared. But the statue, Monsieur Paul Chevre and Le Bon Dieu all knew the truth. In after years the people who hear of this accident and ask the elevator man at the Chateau when the nose was broken will be told it is a fabrication.

MONEY BRINGS IMPORTANCE

Welsh Laborer Finds Himself Sudden Millionaire

Price Goodwin Beavan is the name of a farm laborer in Breconshire, Wales, who is acclaimed as the heir to $300,000—one million dollars—left to him by his father, Richard Goodwin, who died in Texas. The farm laborer has employed a solicitor of Landreth Wells to devote his time to securing the inheritance, and Price Goodwin Beavan has left the farm at Llwynidyll, exchanging his slouch hat, corduroys and gaiters for a new black suit and hard felt hat. Beavan is now being deluged with hundreds of begging letters for his money, besides which he is asked to contribute to scores of benevolent and church projects.

A new gold camp has been discovered on the National Transcontinental route in the district immediately south of Murriceau, a rapidly growing town 140 miles east of Coburn, Ontario. This district is in the immediate vicinity of Kionawick Lake, 45 miles south-east of the town.

Cures Old Folks' Coughs

Doesn't Disturb the Stomach, Eases at Once and Cures Thoroughly.

"CATARRHOZONE" A BOON TO MANY THOUSANDS.

Because you are old is no reason for suffering with everlasting coughing—those terrible chest troubles and difficult breathing can be thoroughly cured with Catarrhozone. You simply breathe the healing vapor of Catarrhozone, and instantly its rich, balsamic fumes are carried by your breath into the deepest recesses of the nose, throat, chest, bronchial tubes and lungs.

Just think of it—a direct, breathable medicine, full of soothing antiseptic pine essences that reaches every sore, congested membrane in two seconds. No drugs to take—nothing to harm or sicken the stomach, because Catarrhozone is the purest, safest cough, catarrh and cold remedy ever devised.

"For many years," writes Richard McCullum, Stirling, Ont., "I have suffered from Catarrh, and continual hoarseness and coughing, so that my throat was always in an inflamed, irritable condition."

"Doctors' medicine did not help me in the least, and all other remedies I used were quite useless. In one case it was time wasted in sniffing powder up the nose; in another using a greasy ointment, and so on. Not one of them was the least bit of good."

"I heard Catarrhozone favorably spoken of, and tried it. Really it benefited me more in a few hours than years of treatment with doctors' and other so-called remedies."

"Describing each immense benefit, I continued using Catarrhozone, and in a few weeks I was completely cured of Catarrh and throat trouble." Get Catarrhozone to-day. Large size costs $1.00, and lasts two months. Smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Mr. Dinsdale's seat companion was hurled through the car window, but providentially escaped serious injury.

A Lakefield Fire.

Pat Cat's Tail on Mink Skin.

Bobcat's Independent. "One of Haliburton's enterprising trappers" sold a mink's tail on a black cat skin and sold it to a fur buyer for a mink. DEPARTMENT WILL WATCH EMPLOYMENT OF WOMEN

Industrial Centres will keep Department of Labour Posted on Conditions of Employment of Women and Children

(Special to The Times.)

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labour, has made an important move looking towards the protection of female and child labour in Canada. He has decided to appoint in the four largest Canadian cities women representatives of the labour department who will look after the interests of the weaker sex. The representatives will be located at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

Later if the work proves successful representatives will be appointed at all large centres where there are factories. With the rapid increase in the number of factories in Canada where female and child labour is employed, Mr. Crothers feels that the work can be made highly useful.

MONTHLY REPORTS

The representatives will act as correspondents of the Labour Gazette and will be called upon to supply a monthly report on current conditions of female and child labour. They will cover all movements that affect women either directly or indirectly as an industrial class and will pay special attention to such matters as changes in wages and hours of labour affecting women, strikes and lockouts, meetings of women's organizations, etc. In addition they will be employed to make special investigations for the department.

LIVING CONDITIONS

Among the questions which it is the intention to investigate are actual living conditions of certain classes of female employees, the extent to which employment agencies exist or are abused, lodging house conditions, wages, sanitation and marketing conditions.

Given below is a report, in part, submitted to the Board of Health, which speaks for itself as follows:

Dear Sirs,—In compliance with your request at the meeting held in this building, Tuesday, January 28th, last, that I give you a statement in writing of those facts which I expressed verbally in your presence on that occasion, I beg to present for your attention the following statements regarding the affairs of this hospital.

The amount of the bills for provisions, groceries, etc. for use of the hospital during the year 1912, according to statements given me at the City Treasurer's office, are as follows:

Groceries and household supplies	$362.30
Meats	216.67
Fish, fruit, vegetables	123.39
Milk	120.79
Eggs	72.77
Bread	70.55
Tea, coffee, cocoa	17.00
Powder	5.00
Cake	6.00
Ice	43.00
Total	$1106.87

The above total includes everything used as food in the hospital for the year. It also includes preserved fruit, 72 quarts of which are still on hand, and pickles and catsup, 22 quarts of which are yet unused. In the grocery bill is a large number of articles, handled by grocery stores which are not provisions, but which are required for household purposes in the hospital such as, soap, starch, blue, borax, ammonia, chloride lime, matches, stove polish, brooms, brushes, cleaners, toilet paper, clothes pins, etc.

Of necessity, we have in this, as in all isolation hospitals, three distinct and separate departments, viz., nurses, patients, and help.

The nurses department consists of matron, permanent nurse (not a graduate), and such other temporary nurses as are required from time to time, depending on the number of patients and the different kinds of contagion, which must be kept separate one from another.

The patients' department consists of patients who are treated in the hospital for scarlet fever and diphtheria. These departments must be kept apart, with a different nurse in charge of each disease.

The help department consists of caretaker, cook and laundress. The laundress does all the cleaning and scrubbing. Since April 1st, 1912, there have been present in this department, with the permission of the M.H.O., two children, one, the child of the caretaker, 6 years of age, the other, the child of the laundress, two years of age.

The total number of days of the various persons in these departments for 1912 are as follows:

Nurses	776
Patients	1265
Help and children	1648
Total	3689

Now, accepting the amount of the year's expenditure for provisions, etc., as given in the statement from the City Treasurer's Office, we have the following:

Total number of days for nurses, patients and help, 3689. Total cost of meals, 3675.10. Therefore, cost per meal was 10.44 cents.

As you are well aware, gentlemen, the inmates of an isolation hospital can not of necessity be boarded as cheaply as an equal number of persons in a private home, for the following reasons:

1.—In this hospital, as already explained, there are three separate and distinct departments with separate dining rooms.

2.—Any food sent to a contagious ward which is not consumed, must be destroyed.

3.—Patients and staff must have the most nourishing foods, and such foods as by no means the cheapest. As shown above, the cost per person for the year was not quite 10 cents.

In connection with the supplies for the hospital, a number of reckless misstatements have been made by certain persons who were in a position, had they so desired, to learn the truth in the matter.

It has been stated—
1.—That the weekly grocery bill was $22.13. Now as I have previously shown, the grocery bill, together with the enumerated household supplies, was $282.30, or a weekly average of $6.96. Truly an extravagant sum for 10 persons.

2.—That items for poultry, pies and cakes appear throughout the year's bills. The year's bill for fowl as shown was $8.85. Cakes $4.00. The fowls consumed were four pairs of chickens, two small turkeys for Christmas Day, one pair ducks for New Year's Day. The cake was bought only when the help was incompetent. Do you consider this a matter of extravagance and a point for criticism?

3.—That supplies are purchased in a haphazard manner, instead of large quantities.

All non-perishable articles are bought in as large quantities as possible. From that fact no place was provided in the building in which to keep anything perishable, such things as meat of necessity be bought in comparatively small quantities. We have only one small household refrigerator in the basement which holds our butter, milk, eggs, cold meats, etc. In 1911 I asked the chairman of Property Committee to provide a pro-

BEAUTY WHO IS PRINCIPAL IN QUEER DOMESTIC TANGLE.

MRS. RUTH B. BUSTANOBY

Two actions for alleged alienation of affections and one for divorce, one divorce which has been granted and another action for divorce which was discontinued, are the outward signs of unhappiness which has parted one New York family circle and threatens to part another. In the three acts of the domestic play five principals appear, with Jacques Bustanoby a long time upon the stage.

Mrs. Roberta Menges Corwin Hill Tearle has united the double plot of the drama, in which her present husband, Conway Tearle, an actor, and his first wife, Mrs. Josephine Park Tearle, form the first part. Mrs. Josephine Tearle has asked $25,000 from the wife of her divorced husband for alleged alienation of affections. To that action, now pending, Mrs. Roberta Tearle has answered that she did not know her husband at the time of the divorce proceedings.

Mr. Bustanoby, who is a well known New York hotel man, has pending an action for divorce from Mrs. Ruth Bustanoby. He also has asked from Mrs. L. Reynolds, politician and real estate dealer, $25,000 for alleged alienation of affections. It remained for Mr. Reynolds to bring this two alienation actions together when in answering Mr. Bustanoby he named Mrs. Roberta Tearle as the real reason for Mrs. Bustanoby leaving her husband and seeking a temporary home in Belgium.

Children though living in the building continuously have never been ill. This side of the question seems to be entirely ignored by the critics. Some importance has been placed on the fact that the expenditure was $1,000.00. Considerable part of this amount has been spent on permanent furnishings for building and grounds, and for payment of public services, as follows:

Furnishings	$59.20
Cedar hedge, grading, etc.	200.00
Sundries	244.54
Telephones	40.00
Water	60.00
Light	50.28
Total	$654.02

If we add to this—
Fuel account $507.76
Salaries $141.91

We have a total of $2706.77 leaving an amount of $1249.53 expended for ordinary maintenance of hospital. Looked at under these items it can be seen that a large part of the expenditure may be considered to be on capital account, or permanent services, the cost of which is unrecoutable.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I would just like to say that this institution has been conducted as efficiently and economically as possible. The staff have worked faithfully, with the best results. We resent very much the publicity and inconsiderate criticisms which, to say the least, are not new to the well-being of the institution and beg to submit that it is difficult to see that a Board should see that the true state of affairs, as I have herewith presented, is given as great publicity as the very damaging criticisms.

Thanking you for your consideration for me and my staff in our relations in the past, I remain, Yours sincerely,
BERTHA M. MOWRY, Matron.

THE BEAVER—"I don't have to be an adjunct."

What Will Rowell Do?

Toronto, Feb. 12.—What will Mr. N. W. Rowell do in regard to bi-lingual schools, is now being discussed here by the members of the Legislature. He will have to declare himself one way or the other. There is no such thing as sitting on the fence any longer. It is said that Gustave Evanturel, M.P.P., for Prescott, will ask the government: "Why was Harry Malsonville, formerly secretary to the Minister of Public Works, dismissed in 1910, almost immediately after Bishop Fallon made his charges?"

"I know the reason," said Mr. Evanturel, "but I want the Minister of Public Works to tell it to the House."

While Mr. Evanturel does not know what Mr. N. W. Rowell, the Liberal leader, is prepared to do, this very French-Canadian will go on with the war whether he gets the support of the Liberals or not.

Petes Win

Last night Brock street rink was fairly well filled to witness the senior game between Peterborough and Varsity in the O.H.A. series. At half-time the score stood, Petes 5, Varsity 2. When the final bell rang, the result of the game was a victory for the home team. The score stood Petes 6, Varsity 5.

The ice was in good shape and the game throughout was fairly fast and some very brilliant work done by both teams.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETS

IN A REGULAR SESSION

Considers Matron Mowry's Report in Alleged Extravagance in Groceries at Isolation Hospital and Other Matters

Dr. Young took the chair. Those were present: Messrs. Ald. Duncan, Murty, Mayor Bradburn and Dr. McPherson.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

A letter from Mr. J. H. Vance was read, tendering for outside cash for the Isolation Hospital. His price was $70 for the windows not already provided with double windows.

The Mayor thought it not necessary to do this work this winter. He thought it could be done better when the weather moderates. No action taken.

Dr. McCullough, of the Provincial Board wrote asking that an officer of the Department would soon visit the city. He advocated having wire screens put on windows of places where manure is stored to prevent flies from breeding and thus circulating disease.

A number of accounts were presented and ordered paid.

Dr. McPherson presented the report of the Isolation Hospital for January. This shows scarlet fever, one case, diphtheria, 1, measles 3. There are at present, two cases of scarlet fever, two of diphtheria and five of measles in the hospital. Report adopted.

The report of Miss Mowry, matron of hospital, was next read. This report was due some time ago. It was made at a former meeting of the Board regarding alleged extravagance at that institution, and on reply to categorical questions put by the Board.

Ald. Gordon said the report offered studied insults to those who criticized the management. He as a citizen and a taxpayer was determined to answer the hysteria contained in the report. No far as he knows no charges, but criticism was made. One of the children she mentioned, and charged up pro rata in the expense report, is only two years old and another, only six. Restaurant keepers and householders have assumed that the meals should be supplied cheaply. The "pink tea" question was unfortunate, and possibly "froth." He hopes there will be a better system of purchasing in the future. The bills show that the hospital does not buy in sufficient quantities, at a time to get the economy.

The speaker said that Dr. McPherson had acted conscientiously and well.

Ald. Anderson had not had time to go into the report. Were it not for the impertinence it contains, it would make a good defence of a bad case. The report shows that there have been two children who up till now have been kept in the dark. It is presuming too much on his innocence to expect him to believe that such children, and a two year old child would eat as much as an adult. He says he can prove that parties, not patients were entertained as visitors. He refers mainly to the cost of dishes. He has every confidence in the M.H.O., as has the public. He still thinks the hospital could be run cheaper.

Dr. Young explained that convalescent children eat as much as adults. You can't have the cost of an isolation hospital, per capita, for food on similar cost to a private family. He did not think that either Ald. Anderson or Ald. Gordon had substantiated their criticisms.

Ald. Duncan noted that Miss Mowry asked for a storage room. This was not done because it was not thought it would, under present conditions, help to keep potatoes and other perishable goods.

WERE DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE

Winnipeg, Feb. 11.—Fire which started in the Sutherland hotel at midnight caused $3,000 loss and endangered the lives of 35 guests and 20 servants, who had to escape by fire escapes into the 20 below atmosphere. Some women became hysterical and were carried down ladders. No person was injured.

THE CONTRACT BETWEEN CITY AND THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC COM.

City Council's Power Committee Wrestled With The Matter Last Night—Will Be Signed By The City And The Commission At The Earliest Possible Date

The City's Power Committee met last night, Ald. Johnston presiding, and discussed the contract to be signed with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission which provides in part as follows:

That the Commission shall generate and deliver to the city for distribution 1000 horse power of electric energy at the earliest possible date. Committee will try and get this date fixed at December 31st this year.

At the expiration of three months notice any additional electric energy asked for by the city shall be supplied.

That the Commission shall at all times use the most perfect apparatus and plant.

The city shall agree to use all diligence to prepare to accept and distribute the power when ready for delivery by the Commission.

The city to pay annually interest at 4 per cent. per annum on all monies invested by the Commission to acquire dam, five and plant for generating power to supply the municipality.

The city to provide a sufficient sinking fund to retire in 30 years its liability for a distributing plant and also to retire the debt incurred by the Commission in acquiring No. 5 dam and the generating plant in connection with same. (This means that the city will eventually secure ownership of both plants, paying for same in 30 annual instalments.)

The city to pay for three-fourths of the power contracted for, whether used or not.

If the corporation during any month takes more than the amount of power ordered and held in reserve or if for twenty consecutive minutes the taking of such excess shall thereafter constitute an obligation on the part of the corporation to pay for, and on the part of the Commission to build in reserve an additional block of power in accordance with the terms and conditions of the contract.

When the city's power factor of the greatest amount of power taken for twenty consecutive minutes falls below 90 per cent. the corporation shall pay for 90 per cent. of said power divided by the power factor.

The foregoing are the main essential clauses in the contract, which involves many others of a technical and minor importance. The full text of the agreement will be published and signed, which will be as soon as a meeting with the Commission for that purpose can be arranged.

Ald. G. Walter Green remarked that the deal for Hydro-Electric did not sound as rosy as it did from the platform.

The Mayor thought if the general rumors about pink tea was wrong, the public should be told.

Dr. McPherson said it was wrong to suppose that all the patients are children. Of six persons with measles, four are adults.

The Mayor thought an isolation hospital cannot be compared with a sanatorium or boarding house, as children. Dr. McPherson said that only 27 families in the city had cases of contagious diseases.

Mr. Murty said that from personal visit to the hospital he thinks things are all right.

The Mayor thought the hospital could not be run cheaper. The chairman agreed with this, as did Dr. McPherson.

Miss Mowry's report was received, pending Ald. Anderson bringing further evidence at next meeting, the second Tuesday of next month.

Chief Howard reported that he had inspected the Isolation Hospital and found fire conditions unsatisfactory. He considered $208 should be put for fire protection. Tenders are to be advertised for complete fire protection asked for, including inside stand pipes.

Tenders for ice for the Isolation Hospital will be left with the chairman with power to act.

Dr. McPherson said the Dan Spence ambulance has to be disinfected for 82 hours after carrying a contagious patient, before it could be used for other hospitals.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THE SPEED OF LIGHT

Sixteen Minutes to Travel Two Hundred Million Miles

Light travels at the astonishing rate of 186,000 miles a second. To the layman this seems incredible and his first question is how do they go about it to measure light. There is a delicate instrument used in measuring light which throws a beam of light upon a revolving disk. There was some doubt about the figures obtained in this way until it was found that when the earth was in the part of its orbit nearest Jupiter the eclipses occurred 16 minutes earlier than when it was in the furthermost part, whereas by all rules of astronomy they should have occurred at the same minute each time. It was deduced from this that the light was not instantaneous, and consequently took 16 minutes to traverse the diameter of the earth's orbit, a distance of about 200,000,000 miles, thus giving to light a velocity of 186,000 miles a second, which was accurately shown later by other experiments.

NIAGARA DRY ICE JAM

Stops Mighty Current's Flow
---Remarkable Condition

Niagara Falls, Feb. 12.—Remarkable conditions have resulted from the severe cold of the past three days in the rapids above the American falls. An ice jam has formed, which extends from along the brink of the falls to the head of Goat Island, the ice being solid and holding back the water from the upper rapids. At noon yesterday no water was going over the American falls. The river bed below the American falls is dry and several persons experienced the excitement to-day of walking in the river bed there. The prevailing condition is more than ordinarily interesting to those who have opposed the proposed enactment in congress of the bill which provides that water may be diverted from the American rapids over to the Canadian falls by the construction of a dam in the river. It is asserted to give full illustration of the condition which would become permanent, as far as the American rapids, and falls are concerned, if the bill should become effective. The last time a jam of this sort dried the American fall and river bed below was in February, 1908.

CITY'S PRIVATE BILL.

To Be Submitted to the Provincial House for Legislation.

The City's Legal Committee met Solicitor Mr. E. H. D. Hall last night and took up clause by clause Peterborough's application to the Ontario Legislature for special legislation. The bill, as drafted by Mr. Hall, in part says:—

For authority, without appeal to the ratepayers to consolidate those debts created in the past for which no or insufficient sinking fund for their retirement was provided, and the issue of new debentures with the object of subsequently wiping out such debts by means of a sinking fund provided therefor. For sanction that debenture coupons may be signed by means of lithographed or printed signatures.

That the clause in the Municipal Ownership Act compelling municipalities to first lay out any company's plant, doing a street lighting business on the municipal-ownership plan be struck out.

That the clause in said act, allowing remuneration for profits to a private company bought out by a municipality or agreement by this municipality, be eliminated. For authority to purchase the Peterborough Light and Power Company's distributing plant in furtherance of the Hydro-Electric proposition. For confirmation of the measure to borrow $10,000 for an incinerator plant.

The above draft of bill was accepted as satisfactory.

MAY ADVERTISE PETERBOROUGH

(Council Asked to Take Space in a Valuable Publicity Medium.)

The City's Manufacturers' Committee met last night and heard Mr. Duncan Robinson on the advantage of advertising Peterborough in either "The Commercial Handbook of Canada," or "Opportunities in Canada," together with a smaller handbook, entitled "Opportunities in Ontario." The price for a page in either of the two first publications, which are large volumes of great general industrial and commercial publicity value, together with a page advertisement in the latter handbook, of which Peterborough would have 1000 copies for exclusive circulation, would amount to $185.

The covers of the smaller books together with Peterborough could be devoted entirely to this city, together with a page in the interior. These works have a large circulation. "Opportunities in Canada," especially so, and are guaranteed to reach 15,000 manufacturing concerns specifically interested in Canadian opportunities for investment. The smaller work is of a Provincial character, dealing with the Province in which the municipalities carrying advertisements therein are located, and goes jointly with either one of the larger works selected for advertising subscribers. As a medium for advertising the industrial advantages of any particular municipality this proposition appears to be one of a self-evident nature.

Mr. Robinson will be accorded another opportunity for meeting the committee on this question again this morning.

The Great Phosphate and Mica Mines of The Progressive Mining Company Ltd.

Non-Personal Liabilities

Capitalized at $500,000. Divided into 500,000 shares of $1 each. 400,000 shares in the Treasury

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

The Company possesses 607 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

POSSIBLE PRODUCTION AND PROFITS

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to Katered: 25 p.c., without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. The output of this Mica Mine is almost all sold in advance to large English firms.

THIS PHOSPHATE AND MICA MINES

are paying enterprises right from the start of its operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

THE PLANT, MACHINERIES

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

FISCAL AGENTS—

J. T. ARMAND & CO.,
(RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.)

If you wish to make your money work:

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

FARMING MADE EASY

It This Keeps on "Rural Joy" With Really Mean Something

Six years ago a farmer put in a small electric plant and the following record of what he made it do is worth of for by Farm and Poultry. In the first place every building, including the pig sty, is lighted by electricity. A small motor drives a divider and which cuts expeditiously what has hitherto been done by hand. The same motor turns a lathe, drill and other machinery in a farm machine shop.

Another motor drives a vacuum pump, and the sweeping of the house is done in the most modern manner with vacuum cleaners. No dust. All the string of druggery is removed. A pipe from this same vacuum line is run to the cow stable, where two vacuum milking machines milk twenty-five cows each day.

Another small motor runs the milk separator and churn and in the summer an ice cream freezer. Even the grindstone is turned by electric power, which relieves the small boy from one of his most disliked tasks and gives him more time to attend to the needs of the Babes in the always nearby brood. Five electric heaters in the house keep the temperature at seventy-five degrees, if desired, when it is zero outside.

In the kitchen all the cooking for a family of five to ten is done upon an electric range. A tiny motor runs the family washing machine and wringer and drives the sewing machine.

Electric fans are installed through the house and a ventilating fan in the attic. The water system for house and barn is supplied from an electric motor driven pump. These farm electric plants can be installed at a cost of $400 to $1,800, the cost varying according to the work to be accomplished and the amount of installation work done by the farmer himself.

By the Authorized Mileage of 11,500, The N. T. R. has Charge of 1,800.

The authorized mileage of the Grand Trunk Pacific main line and branches is 11,500 miles, of which 1,746 miles are between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert. 1,800 miles are under contract by Transcontinental Railway Commission between Winnipeg and Montreal.

The Old Way and the New

In a recent article showing how home manufacturers have become public utilities and how women are responsible for these just as they formerly were responsible for their own cooking and sweeping and their own domestic servants, Martha Hensley Bruyere makes the following amusing but effective comparison:

When I was in college we had a song in which the hero asked his beloved

"Can you brew, can you bake Good bread and cake?"

Before my love I utter,
Can you sew a seam?

Can you churn the cream?
And bring in the golden butter?

What use is refraction?
Chemical reaction, biologic proto-

plasm, Psychologic microcosm?

Would you be my wench,
You must cook the meal—
You shake your head—
You'll not wed—
An so farewell!"

If that song were re-written and brought up-to-date, the lover's questions would be much harder to answer and yet they might not be so disconcerting. They would run something like this:

"Are you up on the pure food laws affecting the manufacture of canned soup?"

Can you assure me that you know the conditions governing the sanitary production of pastry?"

Can you bring enough influence to bear on public opinion so that the family clothing will not have to be made in a sweatshop?"

Do you know how to get honest Government inspectors appointed, to assure the purity of the milk and butter you promise to serve me?"

What use is your knowing Everything of sewing,
All of pickling and preserving,
All of washing and of serving?

Would you be my wench,
Do not cook the meal—
You shake your head—
You'll not wed—
And so, Farewell!"

MR. WILL CROOKS

Labour Orator on Duty to Nation Wife, and Home

Mr. Will Crooks, M.P., speaking in England, gave utterance to the following original aphorisms among others:

Some people's conception of manhood is that a man should be master in his own house. But I say that a man should never be master in his own house. Marriage is a partnership, and don't you forget it.

The man who thinks that the "I don't-care-for-anyone" attitude is the manly attitude will live long enough to realize that no one cares for him.

There are no clever people nowadays, except those between the age of eighteen and twenty-four. They know absolutely everything they do.

The foundation of the British Empire exist in the homes of the toilers of the nation, and you and I are bound to try to make those homes reasonably and sensibly happy.

"What a fool I should look," says the average husband when told that he should behave as well towards his wife after marriage as before it.

"Why, it would look as if I was courting." My answer to him is: My dear chap, you could never look a bigger fool than you did when you were courting.

So long as the ordinary man submits his responsibilities so long will the present deplorable state of things continue to exist.

I want you to leave off apologizing for being working men. Let the people who don't work do the apologizing.

HOW TO GATHER FISH WORMS

A new labor-saving device for gathering fish worms is called from an embezzler: "The take a broom handle three and a half feet long, drive it into the spot likely to be inhabited by angle worms. Leave an end sticking up about six inches. Then take a rough board and rub it over the top of the broom handle. This rubbing will cause a vibration of the earth and the worms, angry and disturbed, will work their way out of the ground. A fellow can get a full bucket of worms in a short time."

Canada stands fifth on the list of wheat producing countries in the Northern Hemisphere. Leading the procession is the United States with

$1,000 bushels. Behind Canada comes Italy and Hungary, with 193,897,000

Great Britain and Ireland raise 64-

Oil is The Fuel of The Future

In 1911 California produced more than 77,000,- 000 barrels of oil. The fuel product of this was equal to 20,000,000 tons of the best coal. Geological authorities say California can keep up this rate of production for a century without exhausting the fields so far discovered. The coal wealth of Alaska does not compare with the oil wealth of California.
Nor does the wealth of the sea reach the value of this one product of the Sunset State. DID YOU KNOW that California's oil product at the wells last year was greater measured in dollars than
ALL of the fisheries products of the three Pacific States, the Province of British Columbia and the territory of Alaska combined!

Many huge fortunes have been made in the industry, but even greater fortunes are yet to be taken from the virgin oil territory of the Pacific slope. The value of oil as a clean and economical fuel has been established. This has brought production in California fields to the high mark reached last year.

Production in the Pennsylvania petroleum fields is going down, and now regions must be developed to furnish the higher grade paraffin base product.
Katalla, Alaska and East Kootenai, British Columbia, produce the oils which are the nearest like the Pennsylvania petroleum. These are the fields for profitable investment.

The Colonial Oil Company of Seattle has holdings in all the oil regions of the Pacific Coast, and are prepared to develop and exploit some great and profitable properties. Our representative in Peterborough wants to tell you all about it.

A DIFFERENCE IN BUTTONS

Buttons make the supreme and mysterious separation of the sexes. And buttonholes. If as a man you will go through your clothes, from overcoat to the underclothes, you will find that the buttons are on the right and the buttonholes on the left. But you will notice that the feminine garments close up the other way, and that the woman demands her buttonholes to correspond. Feminine clothes fold right to left, masculine from left to right. And there the problem must be left by a puzzled commentator—Dandies Advertiser.

The Difference

A wealthy French Socialist, who has been in the habit of preaching that no man has a right to have more money than another, has just lodged a charge against some unknown burlars who entered his villa and helped themselves to all they could find!

GOOD ROADS NEEDED

Interesting Ruins in Far-off Cambodia, a French Protectorate

There are no roads to Angkor, in Cambodia, a kingdom and French protectorate on the Gulf of Siam, except a wretched bullock-cart road, and consequently few persons have ever heard of the splendid ruins that are in that vicinity. Yet they possess a strong appeal for the artist and the architect, and no less for the archaeologist, since the language of the builders is still undiscovered.

The Angkor Wat, or Temple, is the most recent of the buildings, the best preserved, and the most ornate of them all. Standing in front of it, you see a central tower and two or more four-cornered towers, these towers being at the top of a forty-foot stone stairway, and the whole area being surrounded by a moat some thirty rods wide. At a distance the effect is of fabular magnitude only, because the entire structure or group of structures is resting flat upon a plain. Nevertheless, the central tower rises 313 feet in the air, and the others, on nearer view, are sufficiently lofty. Almost every square foot of the whole edifice, outside and inside, bears some exquisite design, carved in stone. A few blank spaces in the main temple seem reserved for masterpieces that were never made.

Probably most interesting of all the decorations are the several series of bas-reliefs, which in quantity also exceed the rest. They include: a battle between men and monkeys—a favorite theme—160 feet long; battle between Hindus and unknown enemies, 160 feet long; hunting procession, 224 feet; procession of the seven-headed Naga, 128 feet; procession of Paradise and Purgatory, length undetermined, but over 160 feet. Both sides are armed with spear, shield, cuirass, and war-club; the leaders,
however, have swords, bows and arrows, and are protected from the sun even in battle by enormous umbrellas.

he went on to Edmonton, and then to Port Saskatchewan, where he conducted an hotel. When the gold excitement broke out, he went on to Sandon, and finally joined the Yukon gold rush in 1900. Returning from Dawson he sold his business in Port Saskatchewan and removed to Winnipeg establishing The Mariaggi, which he disposed of six years ago and went back to his native land having accumulated considerable money through shrewd speculations. There he bought back his father's vineyard, added to his landed area, built a beautiful home, and laid out one of the finest gardens in the city, employing 60 hands for several months in carrying out his plans. Mr. Mariaggi has resided there ever since, except two trips he has made to western Canada closing out some of his holdings, including an hotel at Port Arthur, which he had purchased during his term of occupancy of The Mariaggi in Winnipeg. In Corsica he soon became a leader in every progressive movement, his new world ideas soon placing him at the head of the progressive branch of French politics.

What is a Gentleman?

A gentleman is the man who dissolves company with the snob who relates at the club his latest conquest of a woman.

A gentleman is one not having loud clothes and loud talk as part of his equipment.

A gentleman is one who does not forget that the washerwoman in the crowded street car belongs to his mother's sex.

A gentleman is the man "higher up" who is big enough to grasp the hand of the man "lower down."

A gentleman is one who believes you innocent until you are proven guilty.

And, above all,

A gentleman is one who does not try to prove it.—Hya Yaka, O.A.C. Re-

FORMER WINNIPEGGER HIGHLY HONORED

Frank Mariaggi Elected to French Chamber of Deputies—Made Fortune in West

Mr. Frank Mariaggi, a former well-known resident of Winnipeg, who made a fortune in Winnipeg and Edmonton real estate, and who removed to Corsica six years ago, after 20 residence in the Canadian northwest, has been elected a member of the French chamber of deputies for Corsica. He had the choice of being mayor of Ajaccio, the island's capital, or a member of the nation's parliament for the island, and chose the latter.

Mr. Mariaggi went to Winnipeg with the Wolseley expedition as a private soldier, and continued in his career for a few years. Then for several years he was a well-known chef, and later on conducted the Winnipeg club but finally entered into the restaurant business, but in 1888 removed to Ital-gary. After two years residence there,

MEN WHO DON'T EXERCISE

SUFFER FROM INDIGESTION, HEADACHES, POOR APPE-TITE, SLEEPLESSNESS.

Nothing so sure to "Set Up" a Man as Make Him Eat, Sleep and Vigor, as Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Lack of exercise and overwork were the causes that combined to almost kill Samuel S. Stephens, Jr., one of the best known citizens of Woodstock.

In his convincing letter, Mr. Stephens says:

"A year ago I returned home after a long trip, completely worn out. I was so badly affected by chronic biliousness, so much overcome by constant headaches, dizziness, that I despaired of ever getting well.

"It was a blessing that I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. In one week I felt like a new man. The feeling of weight and nausea in my stomach disappeared. My eyes looked bright, my color grew better, and, best of all, I began to enjoy my meals. The dizziness, languor and feeling of depression passed away, and I fast regained my old-time vigor and spirits. To-day I am well—thanks to Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

For health, strength, comfort and good spirits, there is no medicine like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, five boxes for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or by mail from The Cataract Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

On Thursday evening last Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hall celebrated their china wedding, the high esteem in which they are held being evidenced by the numerous and costly presents they received. Yesterday's Fires.

The fire brigade had two runs in the blizzard of yesterday. The first call, at 4:50 p.m., came from the Wm. Hamilton plant. Here a spark from the cupola set fire to the roof. Before the brigade could get to the scene, the men of the factory had extinguished the blaze. Very little damage. At 6 o'clock, the boys in blue were called to a chimney fire and made quick time to the Grand Hotel. No damage.

Not Shaved Since 1866.

Most of our citizens are well acquainted with the well known face of Mr. J. B. McWilliams and his flowing beard. It is not against the consolidated statutes of Upper Canada to either wear a beard or use a safety razor. Still it is of interest to note that Mr. McWilliams, a little veteran of '66 during the campaign was compelled to go ten days without a shave, decided to grow a beard. No razor has since crossed his face.

OLD FOLKS FIND NEW REMEDY RELIEVES ALL KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Drives Rheumatic Pains Away, Relieves Backache and Bladder Disorders After a Few Doses Are Taken.

Sleep disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, and the many other kindred ailments which so commonly come with declining years, need no longer be a source of dread and misery to those who are past the middle age of life.

The new discovery, Crozone, cures all such disorders because it removes the very cause of the trouble. It works right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering glands and cells, and gives the kidneys new strength to do their work properly. It neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substance that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; and makes the kidneys filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood and drive it out of

"Telepathy," and his address gave evidence of deep study. That the speaker aroused great interest, was evinced by the discussion which followed the lecture. The Rev. P. J. Savers in a happy speech, moved the vote of thanks which was seconded by Mr. A. E. Sherwood and enthusiastically carried.

A Correction.

Inadvertently our report on increases in salaries of city officials, yesterday morning, read that the city solicitor had been receiving "4900" a year and was granted an increase of $100. This was a mistake, not written. Mr. Hall's salary has only been $400 a year, and the error occurred through a displacement in machine operation of the figure "4" for a "9" mark. Thus while the report read that the city solicitor has been receiving "4900" a year, it should have read "4000" a year. He was voted an increase of $100, and little enough at that.

New Leader for Knox Church.

A Preston Exchange says: With very sincere regret did the congregation of the Lutheran Church learn that Mr. Geo. Kenyon, their very able and efficient organist and choir leader, had handed in his resignation, to take effect at the end of the present month. It is understood he has accepted position as organist of Knox Church, Peterborough. Mr. Kenyon has been organist and choir leader in the Lutheran church here for the past two years, and despite many difficulties has made a marked success of his work. Able and thorough in his methods, his efforts were greatly appreciated by the congregation. His departure will be regretted by a large class of pupils in Preston as well as by an extensive circle of friends.

A Blackletter Got His.

Thos. Killenbeck was defendant in the police court yesterday. His wife said Thomas who is a blackletter, on Saturday lost his pay cheque and going out failed to put a cheque on his appetite for joy juice. In fact Thomas came home drunk, and, figuratively speaking, raised herry merrill Killenbeck, she said, had not provided her with groceries or food, and she was forced to live at her relatives for a few days.

A fine of $10 was imposed on the accused. He was defended by Mr. G. N. Gordon. A young man, an employee of the C.G.E., who took in the excursion to Cobourg Monday night and a quantity of liquor, he sides, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He was discharged giving his promise never to drink again. He was given a peremptory invitation not to stop longer in the city than it would take his legs to get him out.

ESCAPES POLICE 4 TIMES IN 11 DAYS

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Frank Madia owner of the Michigan avenue garage, which was used as headquarters by the automobile bandits, surrendered Tuesday, while the police searched for Robert Webb, the gang chauffeur, who late Monday shot and killed Detective Peter Hart.

Madia, who is said to have acted as the agent of the automobile robbers in disposing of stolen property, told the police that on one occasion he purchased six diamond rings from James A. Perry.

James A. Perry, confessed leader of the gang, for which he paid him $65. Later he purchased a gold watch from him for $4.

After murdering Detective Hart the officer's own revolver, Webb made his fourth escape in eleven days. He was one of the motor crew that shot Policeman Frederick Sticken on Jan. 9. On Jan. 14 he jumped from a window and eluded the police. Last Saturday he was arrested and released on the word of Madia, gang headquarters keeper.

MRS. JOHN ALLAN GIVES AN ADDRESS ON MUSIC

Last night, St. Paul's church was well filled to hear Mrs. John Allan, wife of the organist of that sacred edifice, deliver an address on "Music, Its Place and Power in Public Worship." The speaker handled her subject in a masterly way. She dealt with the subject of music from its earliest production and began by mentioning the first musicians. Then she traced the history of music as one of the acknowledged arts. She traced the history of music from its inception among the savage races, including the Pipes of Pan and the first wind instrument to the 20th century musical instruments. Mrs. Allan briefly referred to the everlasting proofs of music as known in ancient Egypt and Asia. She showed how the organ was first introduced in the 7th century, and how the organ in Winchester Cathedral was built in the 10th. Next she turned to the suitable use of hymns, as a means of suitably conveying supplication to the Almighty. The history of the Te Deum (To Thee Oh Lord), was given with exemplifications of the grand accompaniments which brought the grand words out so permanently and effectively. Gaelic singing at open air communion, was also touched on. A parallel was drawn between singing by the choir and the congregation. The importance of an experienced organist and choir-master. The benefits of music in the Presbyterian Church, was undoubtedly proven. The peroration dealt with the "power of music."

In addition to the interesting addresses given by Mrs. Allan, a fine musical program was rendered, including Miss Dorothy Allan, soprano; Mrs. Ellis, contralto; Mr. Park, tenor; Mr. Asa Huxley, baritone, with Mr. John Allan, organist.

NO ARRESTS YET IN THE PETERBORO H'D CASE

No arrests have been made in connection with the rumored theft of $920 partly cheques from the office of the Peterborough Hardware Co. Dame rumor says that some little time ago, the officers of this company having had their books made up during the morning in question placed $920 in the company's office, previous to the dinner hour. The same old lady alleges that on the return of the officers in question, after dinner, that the $920 had mysteriously disappeared. It is understood that the police are busily engaged investigating the affair.

TO RENEW COMPLEXION WITHOUT COSMETICS (From the Dermatologist)

If the excessive use of cosmetics only knew the impression her artificiality really makes upon others, she would quickly seek means of gaining a natural complexion. Let her acquire the mercurized wax habit, discarding make-up entirely, and she will soon have the kind of complexion that women envy and men admire. It's so easy to get an ounce of mercurized wax at any drug store, use nightly like cold cream and wash it off mornings. And the results are so remarkable. Gradually the lifeless cuticle peels off, in almost invisible flaky particles. In a week or so there's a brand new complexion, clear, velvety-soft, of girlish color and texture. The treatment is so simple, harmless and marvelously effective, the wonder is that every woman whose skin is withered, discolored, rough, chapped, freckled or pimply, has not already adopted it.

Let wrinkled women quit pastes and massage creams which mar the skin still more and try this more sensible treatment. Dissolve 1 oz. powdered exfolite in 4 pint witch hazel; use as a face bath. Every line will quickly disappear.

PRICE, TWO CENTS

MOTHER SEEKS CHILDREN FROM A CATHOLIC HOME

Institution First Agrees to Give Them Up, Then Declines
—The County Orange Lodge Takes the Matter Up

Toronto, Feb. 12.—Failing in an effort to obtain her two little girls, from one of the Roman Catholic institutions of the city, a Catholic mother has appealed to the County Orange Lodge, Toronto, to assist her, and steps are now being taken to make effective the appeal of the mother for her children.

A few years ago the mother married a Roman Catholic, and four children were born to the parents. The husband died, and the mother was reduced to such a condition of poverty that she could no longer support the children. At that time the agent for one of the Roman Catholic institutions of the city learned of the circumstances and obtained possession of the two little girls and placed them in the institution he represented. The two boys were taken to the Children's Aid Society.

In the course of time the mother succeeded in getting on her feet again and into a position of material security. A short time ago she married a second time, and being in a position to take care of the children, made a request for them at the two institutions where they were being cared for. She had no difficulty in getting the boys, but when she appeared at the Roman Catholic institution for the two little girls $72 was demanded for the care of the children during the time they had been there.

The matter was brought to the attention of the representative of the County Orange Lodge who deals with such cases, and one-half the amount demanded for the release of the children was subscribed. This amount supplemented by an equal amount by the mother of the children, but when the full amount was offered at the institution where the children were being cared for, it was refused.

Upon inquiry it was learned that the reason for the changed attitude of the Roman Catholic authorities was there objection to the children going to live with their mother and stepfather in a three-roomed apartment, their contention being that there was not sufficient accommodation for six persons.

Referring to the matter a representative of the County Orange Lodge stated that if the children of all parents living in three-roomed apartments were taken from them because of their crowded conditions there would be a small army of children in the institutions of the city.

Old Age Pensions

The Committee appointed by Parliament to investigate the question of Old Age Pensions for the aged deserving poor, met for 1913 for the first time to hear witnesses on Feb. 11. Dr. Bruce Smith, Inspector of Prisons and Hospitals for Ontario, was examined at length and made out a strong case in favor of the scheme. Clement Stubbs, President of the United Miners of British Columbia, was also strongly in favor. The report of the Committee for last year showed an immense amount of testimony, both that heard before the committee and that contained in correspondence very largely in favor of the scheme. Many more witnesses from all parts of Canada remain to be heard before the Committee can bring in a complete and final report.

This matter is being taken seriously by the Orangemen of the city, that a meeting of the County Orange Lodge Executive Committee has arranged to provide the funds necessary to take it into the courts to recover the children. It has also been decided that a deputation will appear before the Board of Control and ask that the civic grant be withdrawn from the Roman Catholic institution involved until they comply with the request of the mother of the children. The same deputation will also interview Sir Jas. Whitney with a view to seeing if the Government grant cannot be withheld.

THE PANAMA BILL IS A WRONG ON THE EMPIRE

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 12.—The Legislature of British Columbia listened to an able exposition of the position of Western Canada in the matter of the Panama Canal shipping, when Sir Richard McBride moved a resolution which, after reading the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and the position taken by the United States Congress in August, 1912, declared that the proposed amendment in the direction of discrimination would be to the disadvantage of British Columbia, and it was the sense of the British Columbia Legislature that the attitude of Great Britain in upholding the rights of British shipping to use the canal on equal terms was most satisfactory. The resolution also expressed the hope that the negotiations looking to the settlement of the difficulty between Great Britain and the United States would reach a speedy settlement. The motion was unanimously endorsed by the Legislature.

In the course of his speech Sir Richard said that while in the Legislature of British Columbia they did not pretend to any official responsibility in regard to matters of international concern, it was nevertheless their duty to make it known that they had a strong conviction that a wrong was being perpetrated against the Empire, that this was being tamely left by the Province, which borders upon Alaska and Washington, and by a people who have nothing but kindly and generous sentiments for the people of the United States.

WOMEN MARCH FROM NEWARK

Sixteen Suffragettes, Headed by General Rosalie Jones Set Out on Long Tramp

New York, Feb. 12.—They're off! Sixteen short-skirted, brown-cloaked suffragette pilgrims, headed by the gallant "General" Rosalie Jones, veteran leader of the famous march to Albany, and accompanied by more than a hundred part-of-the-way sisters in the cause, boarded a Hudson tube train to-day on the first stage of the "hike to Washington."

The only walking done by the suffragist army between this city and Newark, N.J., were the steps necessary to pass the ticket window of the tube station and alight from the train after it had transported them across the New Jersey State. So closely did the pilgrims wrap their cloaks around them in protection from the wintry blasts that it was impossible to tell at the start how many of their fair marchers had followed General Jones' advice about wearing those mysterious garments, "bikers," but it was understood on good authority that there were at least half a dozen pair of them in the group. Full information was expected on this point after the army got really under way.

FEARFUL ATROCITIES BY THE TURKISH SOLDIERS IN WAR

Said to Have Massacred Women and Men, Whole Christian Population—took The Girls Away

Sofia, Feb. 12.—It is reported here this morning that the Turkish troops enclosed the whole male Christian population of Buyuk Chekmedje in the school house there, and then massacred them. Subsequently they killed all the Christian women and children with the exception of the young girls, whom they carried off on board ship.

There was no fighting yesterday, either in Gallipoli peninsula, or at the Tchatalja lines. The bombardment of Adrianople, however, continues.

Bulgarians Driven Back.

London, Feb. 12.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily News asserts that Enver Bey made a successful landing at Charkou, compelling the Bulgarians who opposed him to retire. He intends to cross the Rhodope mountains and attack the Bulgarians in the rear at Kavak. Another body of Turks, according to the same correspondent, landed at Silivri under the cover of the fire of the warships. The Bulgarians entrenched near the shore inflicted heavy losses on the Turks, but were eventually driven into the interior by the guns of the ships.

Newton as Coach

Jack Newton who will this season act in the capacity of honorary coach of the University of Toronto's intercollegiate Rugby Football Union, piloted the University of Toronto team to the national championship over the Ottawa Rough Riders at Rosedale in the fall of 1934. The players were exceedingly strong that year, but the Blue and White smothered the Big Four winners with their speed. Newton played on the half line. He was a full back. The players of the team were of the type, not yet a Maynard, but Coach Tom York unreservedly gave the credit to Newton for beating the supposedly unbeatable Rough

EDITORIAL NOTES

Another transatlantic war is threatened. When transportation companies fall out the traveling public gets its due.

Kaiser William's 54th birthday was last week, and the Kaiser gave himself a large portion of Central and Eastern Ontario, whose people have the money to pay for what they purchase.

Reports of the rumpus in the Japanese chamber indicate that the Japs now boast a constitutional government of the most modern and ultra-advanced type.

A new name has been invented for the more dangerous element among the militant suffragettes. They are called Bashibazoukesses. What have the Bashibazouks been doing now?

The destruction of costly plants in Kensington botanical gardens by the suffragettes is mean enough; but it does not touch the depth of meanness of which the sisterhood were guilty when they destroyed the children's Christmas mails.

Colonel H. H. McLean, M.P., of New Brunswick, staunch Liberal though he be, is patriotic enough to ignore party interests when such a great national question as the navy question is presented for settlement.

An American tuberculosis specialist just back from Germany expresses the opinion that the Friedmann serum is not new, and that Dr. Friedmann did not discover it. And indeed it would not be surprising if Dr. Friedmann turned out to be a fakir. He has certainly been acting like one.

The latest value of a seat on the New York exchange is $48,000, one half of what it was four years ago. This drop reflects the uneasiness of the operators of the great metropolis Congressional investigation committee, the attitude of the people, and uncertainty as to the Democratic policy no doubt contribute to this uncertainty.

THE ANTARCTIC DISASTER

The world learns to-day with profound sorrow the fate which has overtaken Captain Scott and his brave companions among the desolate wastes of Antarctica. If it is the human aspect of the calamity which strikes our imaginations and wrings our hearts at the first announcement, we are none the less conscious of the irreparable loss which science has sustained. We have not yet received more than the barest outline of the disaster. We do not know whether death came quickly or whether the tortures of hunger and extreme cold were added to its terrors. But it seems beyond dispute that the whole party has perished after it had reached its goal, after it had turned homeward bearing tidings of victory.

It is but a melancholy satisfaction, and yet in a moment like this we cling to it tenaciously, that Scott and his party reached the South Pole. They had achieved the geographical goal of their ambitions, but that was scarcely what they sought. There was nothing more characteristic of Scott than his subordination of all spectacular triumphs to the scientific purpose of his voyage. He was a great sailor and a great man of the sea, loving and beloved by his companions. He could count to the last on their loyalty as they on his.

The last personal message received from him, many months ago, was that he would remain another winter in the Antarctic to complete his work. We do not know how far the fruits of that work have been lost in this disaster. We can only hope that Fate, which has dealt so cruelly with him, has not destroyed those monuments of his achievement which would make his name immortal among men.

A CITY COAL YARD.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I read in your paper yesterday that Ald. Sharpe, of Lockport, N.Y., is introducing a by-law in that city providing for a municipal coal yard. Whilst the Lockport coal merchants naturally maintain that the city could not sell coal cheaper to its citizens than they do, Ald. Sharpe with considerable force argues differently. Would it not be wise for Peterborough to try the experiment? Whilst I do not think the local coal dealers are making exorbitant profits, I am firmly convinced that with the city's credit behind, and the purchasing of thousands of tons ordered in bulk, where individual dealers order thousands, a municipal coal yard would result in much cheaper coal and a greater certainty of supply for the citizens in case of a strike.

KNIGHTS WITHOUT "SIR."

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Permit me to give a suggestion to Mr. J. H. Burnham in regard to his crusade against titles of honor. I notice one in Thursday's Star from N.Y.C., advocating the conferring of new surnames by the King after the manner of For-Bess; but, in my opinion, we would have so many families called "Forcanada" that they would be as numerous as the Smiths and Browns. I think Mr. Burnham will object to the plan adopted by the King in conferring knighthood on the Archbishop of Canterbury (Dr. Davidson), and on the former Archbishop of Armagh (Dr. Alexander), now deceased. These two prelates were made Knights Grand Cross of the Victorian Order (G.C.V.O.), but it is distinctly stated in the reference book that they did not receive the accolade, nor are they styled "Sir." Why would not this plan do away with the crusade of Mr. Burnham? What difference would it make how many Canadians the King knighted so long as they did not have the right to put the handle "Sir" before their names? The letters denoting knighthood, such as Knt., K.C.M.G., K.C.V.O., would be placed after the surnames as now, and could be no more objectionable than L.L.D. or Ph.D. are at present. To the democrats of Canada, "John Smith, K.C.M.G." would hardly be considered a titled personage, whereas "Sir John Smith" would be the reverse. Yes, Mr. Burnham, that's the simplest way out of it. Let the powers that be go on creating knights to their heart's content, on the distinct understanding that the title "Sir" is not to be used, nor the accolade given.

CHOKES TO DEATH ON PIECE OF TOY

Woonsocket, Feb. 13.—While on his way to Sunday school, 11-year-old Alfred Pepin was killed by swallowing the wooden mouthpiece of a toy ball.

The boy was endeavoring to blow the balloon to its full capacity. Suddenly it burst and the mouthpiece went down his throat, lodging in the trachea.

His playmates seeing him gasping for breath ran for assistance, but a man who was passing grabbed him by the arms and carried him to the Woonsocket Hospital, only a short distance. The boy was dead when he arrived.

Alfred was one of the 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pepin and lived at 90 Cass street.

KINGSTON TO WELCOME CONNAUGHT.

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 13.—Preparations are concluded for the welcome and entertainment of the Duke of Connaught when he comes to Kingston to-morrow. The chief features of the day's programme will be the scene, loving and beloved by his companions. He could count to the last on their loyalty as they on his.

POLICE FROWN ON HIS FROLICS

Czar's Favourite Nephew Disciplined For Contemptuous Disregards To Orders

St. Petersburg, Feb. 13.—The police are getting so assured as to go after the sacred person of an imperial grand duke. The other night Grand Duke Dimitri, the Czar's favorite nephew, was having a good time at the Villa Rode, a celebrated restaurant near here. When the festivities didn't come to an end at the customary hour the police telephoned to the commander of Dimitri's regiment asking him to stop the frolic. The commander sent his lieutenant to the Villa and Dimitri promptly invited the gentleman to sit down with the rest and have a good time.

But the colonel's representative, Count Fahlen, took the matter very seriously and refused, whereupon Dimitri told him not to bother him any more since the colonel had no authority over his private amusements. Next day the count resigned and was given a post at court. Dimitri was called before the Czar, his uncle, and given a raking over the coals. The upshot of it all was that Dimitri decided to go on a year's journey. "How times have changed," he said. "If that had happened to my father when he was a young man, he would have cut off the noses of every policeman in the plot, the chief's included. Wouldn't they have looked funny?"

Greatest Invention of Age For Hearseness, Weak Throat

Nothing So Far Discovered is so Beneficial to Public Speakers, Ministers, Singers and Teachers as Catarrhose

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal cords, Catarrhose cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes hoarseness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhose keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the singer's greatest source of anxiety—hoarseness of voice. The most eminent speakers and prima donnas are seldom without Catarrhose and credit is no small degree their uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence.

Singer Recommends Catarrhose
"For many years I have been a sufferer from that terrible disease known as CATARRH." "Being a professional singer, you can readily understand that Catarrh would be a serious hindrance to my professional skill."

"One year ago I read in the 'Progress' a convincing testimonial from one who had been cured of this disease through using your God-sent Catarrhose. I tried it."

"Catarrhose cured me and has been the means of my success. 'You are at liberty to use my name if it will help relieve some sufferer, and I will always remain a grateful debtor.'"

"Bob Bixley, New Glasgow, N.B."

Mr. Bixley is one of the best known singers and entertainers in the Maritime Provinces. Everyone knows him, and his testimony for Catarrhose is the best sort of evidence of what great benefit Catarrhose is to those suffering with throat weakness or catarrh.

Complete outfit, consisting of a beautifully polished hard rubber inhaler and sufficient liquid for recharging to last two months, costs one dollar. Sold by all druggists or sent safely to your address by mail if price is forwarded to the Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N.Y., or Kingston, Ont.

MENINGITIS FOUND IN POLICE STATION

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 12.—Montgomery health authorities are organizing a rigid quarantine against cerebro spinal meningitis, three cases having been found here. Only one death has resulted from the disease.

The police station was placed under quarantine Saturday morning when a negro, arrested Friday night for drunkenness, was found with a severe case. The patient is believed to have come here from Birmingham. Late Saturday afternoon the entire police and detective departments were moved to the county jail, while a guard was placed at the city prison to maintain a quarantine over the dozen prisoners and patients held there.

A FEW OUTSTANDING FACTS

FROM THE

SIXTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CANADA LIFE

ASSURANCE COMPANY.

A Splendid Year.

In important respects the Company in 1912 excelled its record for any previous year in its history.

Greatest Surplus Earnings.

1. THE SURPLUS EARNED in 1912 was $1,530,667, exceeding by over $267,000 the earnings of 1911, and by a much larger amount the earnings of any previous year.

Interest Rate Increasing.

2. THE INCOME of 1912 was greater than that of the previous year by $50,000, and the greatest in the Company's history. The rate of interest earned, which had been steadily advancing since 1899, was further improved in 1912. This is an important factor in producing surplus.

Assets Show Record Growth.

3. THE ASSETS were increased by $4,044,182, and now stand at $48,301,523. This growth surpasses that of any previous year.

Another New Record.

4. THE NEW PAID-FOR POLICIES amounted to $15,512,339, exceeding the amount of the best previous year, 1911, by over $3,000,000. THE TOTAL ASSURANCES now in force are for $144,877,970.

Payments to Policyholders.

5. THE PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS in 1912 totaled $2,422,955, an increase of $167,891 over those of 1911. In addition to this, LOANS TO POLICYHOLDERS on security of their policy contracts were made for $1,355,104.

Strong Reserves.

6. THE CANADA LIFE now values $76,500,000 of its business on a 3% basis, and $68,100,000 at 3 1/2%, which means that its Reserves are much stronger than are required by any Government Insurance Department on this continent.

A copy of the Financial Statement and Report of Directors, together with proceedings at the Annual Meeting, held 6th February, 1913, will be mailed on request.

BAKE SHOPS UNDER MORE STRINGENT RULE

Whilst it is understood that the local bake shops are operated in a clean manner, it is none the less interesting to note that, in his efforts to scour up the Province and promote the general good health and welfare of the people, Sir James Whitney has lent his signature to a new clause in the Bake Shop's Act which is calculated to keep all diseased persons away from food either in the process of manufacture or sale.

It comes under the head of protection and states that no employer shall knowingly permit any person affected with pulmonary tuberculosis, scrofula, or other communicable skin disease, to work in a factory or shop in which food or food products are manufactured, stored, kept for sale, or sold. The onus of cleanliness is placed upon the employer, who must also be well-washed and free from disease.

CRISIS ON IN ALBERTA

Alberta Government May Be Forced to Resign

(Special to The Times.)

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 13.—With the usual ceremonial the session of the Provincial Legislature was opened this afternoon. The session bids fair to be one of the most important in the history of Alberta. Only a few weeks ago the forecast was for a short and comparatively uninteresting session, but since then a momentous change has been wrought in the political situation by the Privy Council's decision in the suit of the Royal Bank against the Province of Alberta.

When Premier Sifton came into power he obtained the passing of an act by the Provincial Legislature, declaring that the proceeds of the bonds of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railways belonged to the general fund of the Province. The Great Waterways Railway and the Royal Bank, which held the money, immediately claimed that the measure was ultra vires, and payment was denied. The Alberta Government then sued to recover. The judgment just rendered by the Privy Council in favor of the Royal Bank means an enormous monetary loss to the Province and a corresponding increase in the public debt. The decision has dealt a hard blow to the Sifton Government, which came into power as a result of a split which the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway had caused in the previous government. It is freely predicted that a general election is likely to follow soon after the adjournment of the present session of the Legislature.

A DIRIGIBLE GOES AGROUND ON HOUSE

Berlin, Feb. 13.—The dirigible balloon Schuettelan, which was forced to land near Potsdam yesterday because of the failure of the elevating rudders, was seized by a cross-wind and carried upon a house, where it hung, the envelope badly rent, and the balloon otherwise damaged. A mechanic jumped out from an altitude of 60 feet, breaking his arms and legs. The accident followed a three hours' trip in a high wind.

WONDERFUL SURGERY

Organs Transferred From One Animal to Another With Splendid Results

Surgical experiments on dogs and cats conducted during the past six years, of which if they are ever applied to human beings the end can be foreseen, were explained at Toronto before a large number of Ontario physicians by Professor Alex. Le Carre of the Rockefeller Institute of New York.

The successful accomplishment of such operations as the transferring of complete organs from one dog to another dog, from one cat to another cat, and even from a dog to a cat, were described.

Professor Carrell told of experiments in suturing veins and arteries in dogs. As a climax to these experiments he had removed a portion of the aorta of a dog and replaced it by a section of jugular vein of another dog. The dog died several years later by being run over by an automobile.

The Professor next told of removing the entire kidneys from a dog, placing them in a jar for fifty-five minutes and then placing them back in the dog. The animal lived for two years afterwards. Following a number of these experiments Professor Carrell determined to see if tissue could not be kept in stock in latent life so that it might be ready for such surgical operations. He told of having kept a portion of human tissue taken from a baby which died as soon as it was born. This tissue was kept in a solution in cold-storage for seven weeks, and was then grafted successfully on a human being.

As a climax he told of having taken a carotid artery from a dog, keeping it in cold-storage for twenty-four days and then substituting it for the carotid artery in a cat. The cat lived with the canine artery for three years, and finally died of "acute old age."

HAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS
CURE BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Ottario Man's Kidney Disease Gradually Grew Worse Till He Used
Dodd's Kidney Pills—Then He Found Speedy and Complete Cure

Lefevre, Ont., Feb. 12.—(Special)—Rescued from the grasp of deadly Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Amable Lamarche, a well-known resident of this place, is singing the praises of this standard remedy for kidney ailments.

"My sickness started from a strain," Mr. Lamarche states, "and for a year I did not know a well day. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing, my appetite was fitful, and my limbs would swell. Then rheumatism set in, and neuralgia, backache, headache and heart trouble added to my tortures.

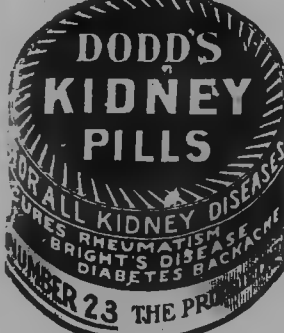

"The doctor who attended me could give me no relief, and finally, when Bright's Disease had me in its grasp, I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"After taking three boxes of them I was as well as ever I was in my life, and I have had no pain since."

Mr. Lamarche's case again demonstrates two things: The first is that Bright's kidney trouble brings the most painful and dangerous diseases; the second that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure kidney disease in any of its stages. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure where every other medicine has failed.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages. That disease is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

PA CONSENTS, ELOPERS TO WED

Miss Hourin Delighted as Father Says "Certainly, My Children."

New York, Feb. 12.—A good looking seminary professor, 23 years of age, a pretty girl of 16 and a gray haired father, frock-coated and dignified, appeared as principals in the closing scene of an elopement romance before Magistrate Krotel in the Harlem Police Court today.

There was a serious charge made by the father against the young professor. There were many blushes and some tears by the girl. Then there was an offer by the old gentleman to withdraw the charge if the young professor would marry his daughter right away.

The young professor eagerly consented—said, in fact, that the proposal embodied his fondest wish; and then the happy trio with detectives and newspaper men started for City Hall and the marriage license bureau.

It came about in this way: Harry White, the young professor, whose home is in Waltham, Mass., a graduate of Fordham University, this city, became a professor of history in Tilton Seminary, Tilton, N.H., last September. Katherine Hourin was one of his students. She was 16 years old. White fell in love with her. Last Monday night the professor asked her to marry him, and she promised.

Auto Elopement.

They then made arrangements to come to New York on Wednesday. White had an automobile for the occasion. The suit cases were piled into it at midnight and the pair motored to a station several miles from Tilton. They tarried a day or two in Boston. A girl friend of Miss Hourin in whom she had confided told the principal what she knew.

Jeremiah Hourin of 77 Franklin street, Boston, notified by the principal, and Mr. Hourin notified the New York police. While the father and the New York police were searching for them yesterday, the pair were still in Boston. They arrived here at 1 o'clock this morning and were met by Detective Ryan, who followed them to a furnished room house in west thirty-sixth street. White was arrested.

Father Gives Consent.

The young pair appeared at the City Hall at noon today, accompanied by the detective and the girl's father. License to marry was issued to them by City Clerk Scully, the father signed his consent as is required by law when either applicant for a license is under age. The party left the City Hall without indicating when or where the marriage would be performed.

FLEECE BOOKKEEPER WHO STOLE $350,000

Boston Cops Were Paid Huge Sums for Protecting a Gambling House From Poor Losers.

Boston, Feb. 12.—While Wm. J. Kelher and Martin J. Walsh were fleeing George W. Coleman, who stole $350,000 from the National City Bank, of Cambridge, where he was bookkeeper, out of most of the loot in late fare games in New York, a New York police official was being paid $200 a night to guard the gambling place, according to a version of a confession by Kelher published here on Friday.

Kelher, commonly known as "Big Bill," is serving a sentence here as an accomplice of Coleman's in the loot of the bank, but Walsh has not been apprehended. His friends have said that he is dead.

"While the police were looking for Walsh," Kelher is quoted as saying, "he was in the house of a New York police official. In thus caring for Walsh the officer was merely repaying past favors. The official guarded the gambling house all the time that Walsh and I were there. The lieutenant got $200 a night. The play never lasted more than 15 minutes. We went in, laid our money down twice and the third time it was all over. The play was apparently going on but the victim was taken away from the table to get a glass of wine or a cigar and then he was taken out. Every time we were there the lieutenant got $200. I figure that he got about $20,000 out of Walsh and myself for guard duty.

"His duty was to take care of poor losers who tried to make trouble and to protect us from a raid."

Mother-in-Law's Tears

The suggestion of a story concerning Princess Patricia of Connaught cropped up at (arrickmacross, Ireland, petty sessions when Thomas Hughes, was fined $1.25 for assaulting his mother-in-law, an elderly woman named Mary Daly. Mrs. Daly denied that she was rather given to crying.

"Do you mind the time that Princess Patricia of Connaught paid a visit?" asked Hughes' lawyer.
"I do well, and she was the real nice young lady," answered Mrs. Daly.
"Weren't you crying then?"
"Ah, now, me decent man, what has that to do with the case?"
"And didn't the Princess ask you what you were crying for?"—No answer.
"And didn't you tell her that you were crying for her grandmother, Queen Victoria?"
The witness: "You have the wrong story."

The Great Phosphate and Mica Mines of The Progressive Mining Company Ltd.

Capitalized at $500,000. Divided into 500,000 shares of $1 each.
400,000 shares in the Treasury

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

The Company possesses 607 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

POSSIBLE PRODUCTION AND PROFITS

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to pay credit 25 p.c., without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. The output of this Mica Mine is almost all sold in advance to large English firms.

THIS PHOSPHATE AND MICA MINES

are operating enterprises right from the start of the operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

THE PLANT, MACHINERIES

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

FISCAL AGENTS—
J. T. ARMAND & CO.,
(RESPONSIBLE AGENTS WANTED.)

IF YOU WISH TO MAKE YOUR MONEY WORK

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

AVOID DIPHTHERIA

Some Hints as to How This Disease May be Kept Away

A drinking cup for a child costs 5 cents. A funeral costs a hundred dollars.

Diphtheria is a fall disease. It begins to make its appearance in September. It is at its height in October. It is the most deadly of children's diseases, claiming even more victims than measles.

Diphtheria is entirely contagious and it hangs on long after the patient is apparently well. The germs may remain in the throat for weeks after the patient is up and around. Such a person is dangerous to others as long as the germs remain.

To protect your children from diphtheria:

Give them individual drinking cups for school use and train them to use them always.

Teach them to be careful not to use pencils, toys, etc., that other children have had in their mouths.

When there is diphtheria in the neighborhood keep them at home and keep them away from children from homes where there is diphtheria or even sore throat.

Meien plays with strange cat on way to school; then she drinks from the cup used by other children; later she rubs her slate "clean" with her fingers.

THE NIMBLE CAT

Ingenious Apparatus Shows Why They Always Light on Their Feet

The ingenuity of a scientist has resulted in the construction of an apparatus to show why cats fall in falling invariably alights on its feet.

This apparatus consists of a cardboard cylinder wherein are stuck four rods to serve for legs, together with a tail device on similar principles. The object of the experiment is to show that a cat's peculiar faculty depends on the rotation of its tail with sufficient vigor.

It appears that this faculty is specially developed by climbing and leaping animals, such as members of the feline tribe, monkeys, squirrels, rats, and most insects. The tail plays a most important role in the turning process. According to the inventor of this apparatus all tree-inhabiting monkeys have long tails, and there is not the slightest doubt that these tails are of great aid to all climbers in enabling them to turn in the air. The tail also acts as a balancer, as evidenced in the case of a squirrel, which may be seen walking along a tightly stretched wire or string, swinging its tail from side to side very much after the manner of the professional wire-walker balancing himself with a pole.

Burglars Feast at Barracks

A daring burglary was perpetrated at the Queen's Barracks, Perth, in the early morning. A couple of tramps scaled the high walls, and once inside the barracks made their way to the officers' mess, where they did full justice to roast beef and wine, which they found there, after which they helped themselves to the silver spoons, forks, knives, cigars, and cigarettes. One man was captured.

A WOMAN'S INVENTION
 New Ironing Board to Save Backache, Easily Made for Small Expenditure
 The trials and tribulations of ironing day suggested the idea of a double board to ingeniously Mrs. Mary R. Calkins of Vancouver. So she invented it. The bottom board receives the leg attachments and adjustments and the top board rests on spring blocks, to be free from end to end.
 Thus allowing a skirt to be drawn full length on the board without meeting any obstructions.
 Backaches too often result from ironing all day at a board of uncon-formable height so Mrs. Calkins' board is adjustable in height. Mrs. Calkins fitted her board with a lift off hinge, and fashioned another board to substitute when pressing trousers. The trousers may be drawn over it, thus obviating wrinkles.
 This removable board has another advantage, as it permits one to iron small pieces, handkerchiefs, napkins, collars and cuffs without setting up the whole board.
 The latest improvement on her board is a door bag, which slides in and out on a wire frame in little grooves at the bottom of the under-board and is for extra large pieces.

HOW MANY ANCESTORS
 Trace Back Twenty Generations And
 It Will Be Seen Everyone Has Over a Million
 The full number of ancestors possessed by every individual is far greater than is generally supposed. It is usually accepted that a person has only two ancestors in each generation of past time. This is based upon the theory that each person had only two parents and is fostered by the prevalent practice of ignoring the forebears of the mothers all the way Glancing down the succession of father and son from age to age, one notices that for each individual in the protracted series there are only two progenitors, and receive the impression that these are all that need be taken in to account, and it simplifies the reckoning greatly to lose sight of all the others.
 If this impression were correct, the number of man's ancestors traced back to the beginning of history, and adding two for each generation, would not altogether amount to only 1,200
 if traced back for 20,000 years.
 There are some whose ideas are a little broader. They recognise that the mothers of the long procession bring in new relationships, but treating them as terminal branches, they return to the trunk line as the only one having permanence, and therefore the only one necessary to follow.
 It is now admitted that the number of ancestors of every human being doubles in every generation, as his descent is traced upward, excepting for certain checks which retard this natural law. In the first generation backward, a man has two ancestors—his father and mother. In the second he has four in the third he has eight, in the fourth 16, and, by the time he reaches his 20th generation, he is compelled to acknowledge his descent from 1,048,576 ancestors.
 There are families in which it is impossible that the law of increase in ancestry should not be doubled after the first generation. There must be two parents for each individual. It might be possible to have two grandparents instead of four in the case of the husband. The custom of ancient Persia required that the legitimate queen of their sovereign marry her sister, because as a child of the sun, he could not marry himself with an ordinary mortal.

 Streams by a Forked Stick
 Are you a sort of storage jar for electricity. Most folks are apparently.
 When you rub a rubber comb through your hair, you will hear faint cracklings and spittings as the teeth of the comb pass clear of the hair.
 In the dark you can sometimes get a real electrical spark like that produced by a laboratory machine.
 There are other folks who are able to produce the same thing by rubbing the feet swiftly back and forth on a carpet and then touching their finger tips to another person. If the other person does not know of this possibility the effect is sometimes startling.
 Some people have more of this power than others. They are apparently charged with electrical fluid most of the time. They are able to produce the same effect by rubbing their hands on silk, woolen or other fabrics. When they comb their hair in the dark they can get inch-long sparks of snapping brilliancy.

 It is the same thing that enables a rubber comb to pick up and hold little scraps of paper after it has been pulled through the hair two or three times. There will be a faint whispered crackling as the teeth of the comb approach the scraps and a few of them will jump up and cling to the comb.
 They will continue to do so till the electricity has passed off and left the comb in its usual condition.
 Some scientists claim that different people have different kinds of electrical energy stored up in them. Some are positives and some are negatives.
 It is also asserted that the greater number of people are positively charged and that it is hard to find the human variety of negative electricity.
 Here is the test for negative electricity that also seems to explain the power of the "water witch." If you think you have negative electricity out from a green tree a small limb that forks into two branches of about equal size.
 Trim this limb down into a forked wand about two feet in length. Hold the ends of the fork in either hand with the butt of the limbs upward.
 Then take a walk across the fields or through a wood. If you are a person of negative electricity the moisture in the green wood will act as a conductor for your particular brand of lightning, and as you pass over an underground stream the point of the forked wand will twist in your hands down toward the earth. The point will also show the existence of the underground stream.
 If this is true it explains the ability and the scarcity of the "rural water witch." There are one or two of these men or women in every neighborhood and they are always consulted when the farmer wants to sink a well. They sometimes charge a fee for all wells that are sunk at their direction. Others take pay only when water is found within a certain depth.
 Whether they are men or women, the title of "water witch" is given them.
 According to the theory the positively charged man or woman has no ability to make the green twig move when passing over the water or where the earth is dry. Their particular brand of electricity has no affinity for moist stuffs.

WINS DISTINCTION
 A Canadian scholar, Mr. H. J. Baker, son of Mr. J. Allen Baker, M.P. for Finsbury, has been elected President of the famous Union Society of Cambridge University. Mr. Baker, who secured one of the most important University scholarships is a keen politician and a strong debater, and has had the unique honor of being the first scholar to occupy the Presidency of both the Union Society and the University Athletic Club.

PROMOTING CHILD EMIGRATION
 The Rev. Mr. Whalley, secretary of the Child Emigration Society, in addressing a representative meeting at Stirling, Scotland, emphasized the two great needs of the present day—the need of the Dominions for trained agricultural populations to cultivate the vast tracts of uncultivated land, and the need for the removal of thousands of children in Great Britain from their sordid environment in order that they might live healthy and useful lives.

ROBBED THE MAIL

A Party of Masked Men Held Up a Irish Car
 An extraordinary affair is reported from the West of Ireland. The Royal Mail car from Killokeah, County Ga-way, to Ballyvaughan, was held up by a party of masked men, all of whom it is declared, were armed. A rover was pointed at the driver, who quickly dismounted and fled for his life. The car was then driven some miles in another direction by the masked men, and when it was afterwards discovered by the roadside it was found that several mail-bags had been torn open and letters were strewn about the roadway.

LITERATURE IN RUSSIA

Books That are Popular Among the Russian Children
 Literature of the Sherlock Holmes and Nat Pinkerton type retains its popularity among Russian children.
 In an interesting report on juvenile reading presented to the Library Congress now being held in St. Petersburg, the following criticism, written by a Moscow schoolgirl, was quoted:
 "I adore Pinkerton. How brilliant is the picture of this prodigious man, who has consecrated his life to the extermination of criminals, these plagues of the human race." Similar tributes are paid to Sherlock Holmes by youthful readers. Hans Andersen is the most popular author among Moscow children under 12 years old.
 Grimm comes second. The favorite foreign writers are Mrs. Beecher Stowe, Defoe, Jules Verne, Mark Twain and Mayne Reid.

Poverty in Japan
 After a tour through the poorer quarters of Tokio, Count Okuma, a former Prime Minister, and one of the leading statesmen of Japan, has come to the conclusion that it is absolutely impossible for the lower classes, having regard to the current rate of wages and the charges made for breadstuffs, to earn sufficient for their bare needs. He advocates that the duty on rice should be abolished, but the authorities refuse to listen.

Married Seventy-three Years
 Mr. and Mrs. John Savage, of Gavendish, received a congratulatory telegram from the King upon the occasion of the celebration of their seventy-third wedding anniversary. They are ninety-five and ninety-three years old respectively.
 Next door to Mr. and Mrs. Savage live another venerable couple. Mr.
 and Mrs. G. Fitzbank, aged eighty-seven and ninety-one respectively, live in the Old Irish Castle for Sale.
 The island, Waterford, which is for sale, was erected by the Fitzgeralds early in the twelfth century, rebuilt in the fifteenth century, and since added to. It was the Irish home of Edward Fitzgerald, the translator of "Omar Khayyam." The greatest care has been taken to maintain unimpaired the distinguished character of this famous old Irish castle.

THE ARCTIC PRESS

Papers of the Northern Printed Just Once a Year
 There exist several journals that make their appearance only once a year. These are published within the confines of the north polar circle.
 The Eskimo Bulletin, for example, is edited near Cape Prince of Wales, on Behring Strait.
 Here, in a village inhabited by Eskimos, the English missionaries have established a school, and as only one steamer lands at this place, and that only once a year, that news that it brings is consigned to a sheet of paper printed with the mimeograph. Its size is eight by twelve inches. The paper is very thick and only one surface is used.
 This Eskimo Bulletin in a subhead claims to be the "only yearly paper."
 This, however, is an error, for there is an annual sheet published in Godthaab, Greenland, where a small printing office was established in 1882, whence news sheets and lithographic prints have been issued. The journal in question is entitled Attagasiddit, meaning in English "something for reading," or "something for entertaining subjects." The language is that of Greenland, a dialect of the Eskimos.

 Portrait of the Duke of Kent
 Her Royal Highness the Princess

Do You Realize What This Means to You, Mr. Business Man?

When Appetite Fails and Digestion is Bad

THE MAN WHO NEGLECTS
NATURE'S WARNING.

Dyspepsia Tendencies are Serious and Should be Treated Accordingly.

There is a strong moral in the statement of James Schrum, of Pleasant street, Dartmouth, N.S. Like thousands of people, he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away, he was losing ground every day. "I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave tone and strength to my stomach. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I don't know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs through my veins—clear skin and unmistakable evidence of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of curing the sickly, un-erated man and I strongly urge everyone in failing or lost health to use this grand remedy."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable, 25c. per box, five for $1.00, all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid from the Catarthone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Smith, Inspector of Prisons and Hospitals of Ontario, was strongly in favor of Pensions for the aged deserving poor, and advocated also pensions for widows with young children in need. Clement Stubbs, secretary of the Miners' Union, of B.C., also gave evidence in favor of the scheme and astonished the committee by stating that coal miners there are less than two dollars a day, and their usefulness ceased at 55 years of age.

Dr. Arnold Lorand

Physician to the Baths, Carlsbad, Austria

In his recently published book, "Health Through Rational Diet," from the press of the F. A. Davis Co., Philadelphia, says:

As a breakfast food, another variety of the healthful cereals, which is much used in America would be advantageous. Grape Nuts, in which the floury substance has been dex-trinizied by long baking and thus rendered digestible and easy of assimilation, is eaten with cream and would be a useful addition to our usual breakfast.

The recommendation of this eminent European authority to the wealthiest health seekers in the world (those who frequent the famous baths of Carlsbad) is especially interesting to Americans.

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

Is sold by Grocers almost everywhere in America for 15c the pkg.

While Grape-Nuts may be a "health luxury" in Europe, this sturdy health-giving food is within the reach of practically every American at trifling cost.

In thousands of families Grape-Nuts and cream is the regular breakfast dish of wide-awake, go-ahead people.

Rich in the brain-making, body-building elements of prime wheat and malted barley, this food has won for itself at home and abroad the title of "The King of Breakfast Foods."

Health and Beauty Helps

BY MRS. M. H. MARTIN.

A. J. B.: You can have beautiful, long, glossy and fluffy hair of rich,
even color if you shampoo carefully at least once every month with any wash that does not contain "free" alkali. Do not use soap. The best, most dependable and really delightful mixture is made by dissolving a teaspoonful of caustic soda in a cup of hot water. This is enough to cleanse both hair and scalp thoroughly of dandruff, dirt and excess oil and the hair dries quickly and evenly with a wonderful gloss and delightful richness.

Mrs. M.: Clinging skin with powder is likely to ruin the finest complexion, enlarge pores and produce pimples and blackheads. An economical, home-made spumax lotion is fine for complexion faults and frequently used instead of powder, as it is invisible when on and imparts a delightful, velvety smoothness and healthy hue to the skin. Get four ounces of spumax from your druggist and dissolve in a half-pint hot water, to which add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. The spumax lotion prevents chaps and overcomes oiliness
and that lifeless look to the complexion.

Florence: Your pimply skin and unlown feelings is doubtless due to impurities in the blood, which cause most skin eruptions. The best and most effective remedy is this homemade and very inexpensive one: Dissolve one ounce karsene in a half pint alcohol (not whiskey) then add a half cup sugar and enough water to make a quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and it will expel poisons from the system, clear and tone skin and build up and strengthen entire body.

Blanche B.: Yes, you can reduce your superfluous flesh without dieting or exercise. Relief may be found in this harmless remedy: Dissolve four ounces paraffin in 14 pints hot water and take a tablespoonful before meals. It removes fat rapidly and leaves the skin free from wrinkles or sagging. It has helped many who have tried for years to find relief.

Mrs. F. P.: It is humiliating to have a fuzzy growth on your chin, but if you will follow these simple directions it will soon vanish. With a little detestation and water make rough paste to cover the hairy surface. Apply it and let remain two or three minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and all trace of hair will have vanished. This is a harmless way to banish hair or fuzz and does not mar the skin.

Brace F.: There is only one dandruff cure I recommend and it not only rids the head of dandruff but aids the growth and appearance of the hair. It is, in fact, a perfect quinine tonic which you can make at home.
Get an ounce of quinine from your druggist. Dissolve in a half-pint alcohol (not whiskey) to which solution add one-half pint of cold water.
Rub into scalp once or twice a week with tips of fingers. It is effective and helps the growth of stimulating scalp to perfectly natural action.

Ruth: I always cure dull, listless, tired aching eyes by the use of this simple, inexpensive, home-made tonic, which can be prepared very easily by dissolving an ounce of crystals in a pint of water. Two or three drops placed in each eye, quickly relieve that smarting, burning sensation, reduce inflammation and gives beautiful sparkle and brilliancy to the eyes.

VOL. XL, NO. 38.

PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, FEB. 14, 1913.

PRICE, TWO CENTS.

THEY MUST TEACH ENGLISH IN THE SCHOOLS OF OTTAWA

Pupils Must Gain Working Use of That Tongue at School

Ottawa, Feb. 13.—At a meeting of the Separate School Board last evening until long after midnight hour, the Provincial Department of Education, through Chief Inspector Crowley, "read the riot act" to the opponents of the new English-French regulations.

The official from Toronto delivered a two hour address, in which he explained the regulations. It has been considered after much study that the method proposed would be the one best suited to the exigencies of the situation, and with this in view it had been proposed to try it for the present school year. It had been pointed out that bi-lingual schools under the old method were not efficient, and the new system, while not involving any extraordinary radical changes, proposed to remedy this by giving a pupil a good working knowledge of the English language, which he was required to study after the preliminary use of his native tongue.

Lose Government Grant. If the Board refused to carry out the regulations, and persisted in so doing, it would lose the Government grant, and not only this, but the present model and training schools for teachers in this city would be removed. It was also made clear to the teachers what they would incur if they participated in such disobedience of the regulations. Another special meeting of the Board is called for to-night to consider action following the inspector's warning.

U. S. STARTS THE WAR

Special to The Times.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The United States has at last awoke to the seriousness of the war in Mexico, and American troops are now on their way to Mexican border. Canadians find it hard to realize that bloody warfare is raging on this continent within 48 hours' railroad journey from their own border. Yet that is the fact. Six American battle-ships have been despatched South and 25,000 American troops are held in readiness to move should their interests require protection. Canada's investments in Mexican railways, mines, and water power exceed $100,000,000.

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO IN A SYNOPSIS FORM

Warning That United States Marines Would Be Rushed to Capital Has Had Little Effect—Milk Famine in City

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—A synopsis of conditions in Mexico to-day is as follows:
President Madero's force of 7,000 and about 6,500 rebels under Gen. Diaz prepared during the night for a decisive battle.
The loss during yesterday's bombardment was heavy on the Federal side, but neither gained a distinct advantage.
Americans and other foreigners have fled by the hundred to comparative safety in the outlying districts beyond the immediate zone of bombardment.
Farmers afraid to enter the city, have brought on a milk famine, and causing great suffering to the children of the city.
The city swarms with thousands of desperate criminals, released from the Belm jail by the rebels, who spent the night looting wrecked buildings.

Many women were attacked by the hands of looters, and murder, rape, and robbery were reported from several sections of the city.
The death of Mrs. H. W. Holmes and Mrs. Percy Griffiths, Americans, from an exploding shell which struck their house, brought another desperate appeal from the beleaguered Americans for intervention by United States troops.
All business in the city was suspended, the stores boarded up, and streets deserted.
Ambassador Wilson's warning to Madero and Diaz that United States Marines would be landed from Vera Cruz and rushed to the city had no effect on the attitude of either of the belligerents.

HON. COL. SAM HUGHES SAYS TALK WAS ONLY A PRIVATE ONE

Montreal, Feb. 13.—Colonel the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, filed the reply to the action begun here by D. A. Macnab, late editor of the Montreal Star, against him for $50,000 for alleged slander. Mr. Macnab claims that the Minister slandered him by telling Sir Hugh Graham, managing director of the Star Company, that the plaintiff had conducted a campaign against the Ross Rifle because he was connected with an English small arms company.

TRADES AND LABOR ENDORSE BURNHAM'S IDEA

At the regular meeting of the Trades and Labor Council, with President D. Moore in the chair, Mr. O'Dell, organizer for the Boot and Shoe Workers Union, addressed those present. He said, in part, that he congratulated the labor men of Peterborough on the fine premises that had been secured since his last visit, and commended the idea of a central Labor Hall. He considered the Trades and Labor Council to be the Board of Trade for the workers, to watch the movements of their legislators. As taxpayers, the working men had the right to express their opinions.

Old Age Pensions. A letter was read from J. H. Burnham, M.P., asking the Council to appoint a labor representative to appear before the Committee of the House of Commons which has under consideration the question of Old Age Pensions. Bros. H. Robertson and D. Moore were selected, with Bro. Sharpe as alternative.

"JACKALS," "HYENAS," NAMES GIVEN TO OUR POLITICIANS

Winnipeg Clergyman Insists That Canada Is in Great Need of a Third Party Like the "Bull Moosers" in the States

Saskatoon, Feb. 13.—Rev. Dr. Blood of Winnipeg, speaking at a meeting of the Grain-Growers, said of the politics of the country: "Politics seem to me to have sunk to the lowest depths to which politics can sink, and before we can be a nation we must stand for something and have we anything to stand for that no other nation has? You never can get the right men into politics, until we have a third and new party inspired by a new ideal of national life like the new Progressive party in the United States. The day will come when politics will be a holy thing in Canada, when a multitude of men will rise from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and drive these human jackals, those hyenas, into the depths whence they came."

DEFYING THE GOVERNMENT

The Ontario Government, says the Orange Sentinel, is showing great patience towards the French people in this province. Time and again the Government's official, the bi-lingual school inspector, has visited a school only to have the French children walk out of the building. In some cases this action was taken on orders given by the priests and executed by the sisters in charge. The French hierarchy and the French Educational Congress have bullied the trustees and teachers until they were driven into open rebellion against the Government of Ontario.

The Educational Department should refuse to treat with those who defy its authority. Absolute submission and a complete apology should be essential preliminaries to any further discussion between the Government and the rebels. The administration will lose respect by overmuch leniency toward those who have treated it with indignity. It has mapped out a policy that it believes fits the situation to a nicety, a policy that is satisfactory to the great bulk of Roman Catholic and Protestant citizens. Consideration for its own prestige must lead it to show less patience with the antics of a few hornets like Mr. Genest. Is Whitney going to govern or will he abdicate to a little ring of agitators claiming special race privileges? He spoke truly when he said Ontario would not stand for racial schools; then let him go full steam ahead!

LONDON PAPERS COMMEND U. S. INTERVENTION IN MEXICO

London, Feb. 13. Several of the London morning papers print editorial comment on the Mexican trouble. They generally recognize justification for American intervention. The Daily Mail says: "American interests involved are very great. If the Mexicans are wise they will settle their differences as speedily as possible." The Standard says: "Nobody would seriously object if the Washington State Department carried its activities still further. With the completion of the Panama Canal, American interests in the security and stability of the Central American States will be too strong to be denied, and Mexico must get her affairs in proper order or accept the jealous supervision of her great neighbor."

Pets Win

Last night the Pets went up against Cobourg at Port Hope for the district championship. The rink was crowded to capacity, many visitors from Cobourg being present to root for their team. The half-time score was 4-11 in favor of the Pets and when the final bell rang, the score stood Pets 8, Cobourg 5.

NOVA SCOTIA BANKER SHOT AT MONTE CARLO

Austrian Count Said to Have Killed
W. V. Trefry of Springfield.
Halifax, N.S., Feb. 13.—The Evening Mail received a letter this morning signed "John K. Wollard," Monte Carlo Hotel, Monte Carlo, and dated January 27, 1913, stating that a young Nova Scotian named W. V. Trefry had been shot and instantly killed in that city on the night of January 26, by Count Beraski of Austria. The writer states that it would appear that Trefry had been connected with the Royal Bank of Canada in Halifax, as a letter was found in the young man's pocket dated from the Royal Bank branch at Halifax. The writer further states that Count Beraski was immediately placed under arrest, and is being held by the Monte Carlo police.

LONDON EDITOR IS NOT SENT TO TOWER

Said That House of Commons Fears Ridicule Which Would Follow
Such an Action.
London, Feb. 13. The House of Commons yesterday did not send L. J. Maxse, editor of the National Review, to the Clock Tower for his refusal to tell the committee investigating the Government wireless agreement the names of the person who had given him the reports on which he had based allegations of improper conduct against some of the Cabinet Ministers. The House evaded giving a definite decision on the issue raised by agreeing to "do nothing at present."

HEAVY FIGHTING NOW GOING IN MEXICO—MANY KILLED

United States Will Not Permit Further Killing of Foreigners

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—The fighting was begun at 8 o'clock by a Federal battery of artillery and the general attack on the rebel positions was expected to start immediately. At six o'clock movements of troops were observed both in the rebel and Federal positions. There was a scattering fire throughout the night and a sharp exchange of cannon shots shortly after one o'clock, but this lasted only for a few minutes.

Strongly Reinforced. Government forces were strongly reinforced in the night hours and the Federal command declared this morning that he disposed of almost 7,000 men. The rebels on the other hand were said to number approximately only 3,000.

A number of heavy guns were brought up by the Federals before dawn and posted in readiness for the expected action. The Federal commander declared that he believed he would win the battle decisively in a short time and claimed an enormous advantage both in the position and strength of his troops.

Mexican Killings Must End. Washington, Feb. 13.—United States Ambassador Wilson's overnight despatches were laid before President Taft to-day immediately upon his return from Philadelphia. They contained principally an account of the most disquieting feature of the fighting in Mexico City—the killing of two American women yesterday. Administration officials look with much apprehension upon the effect of the killing of two Americans and one of the first results of the incident was last night's order to Ambassador Wilson to warn all Americans out of the danger zone.

TROOPS SHOT TO PIECES

Two Non-combatants Killed by Bursting Shells in Mexico

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—Stragglers of Federal troops who arrived at the American Embassy this morning declared that a detachment of Government troops had been shot to pieces on the western edge of the city. This indicates that Diaz has also a mobile force outside his lines in the central district.

Two combatants were killed at half-past nine by bursting shells in the street in front of the American Club.

BALKAN WAR GIVES WAY TO THE MEXICAN TROUBLE

Public in France Pays Keen Attention to Developments in The Republic—States to Take Hand

Paris, Feb. 13.—The civil war in Mexico occupies a larger place in public interest in France at the moment than does the Balkan war. The keenest attention is paid by the members of the diplomatic corps to the possibilities of intervention by the United States, the prevailing view being that this probably will occur before order has been restored.

The French Foreign Office declines to make any comment on the situation, as it wishes to maintain its attitude of neutral observation. The Foreign Minister, however, receives constant communications from the French Charge d'Affaires in Mexico City, who forwards frequent reports of the occurrences there. The Mexican legation in Paris also from time to time transmits to the Foreign Office encouraging messages received from the Madero Government. The interest taken in the situation by the ordinary Frenchman is chiefly a dramatic one, and is stirred by the vivid narratives published in the newspapers of the fighting in the streets of a modern city. Frenchmen hold considerable investments in Mexican securities.

LOOKING FOR HEIRS TO HUGE FORTUNE FOUND IN GARBAGE

New York, Feb. 13. A packet of stock certificates turned yellow with age, but believed to be worth over $100,000, together with an unsigned will and other documents belonging to the late Brigadier-General, Daniel C. McCallum, have been found by a junk man in a pile of rubbish, it was learned to-day. The papers were found in a musty little trunk that may have been gathering dust for forty years. Attorneys are giving publicity to the discovery in the hope of finding General McCallum's heirs.

In addition to the stocks which are mainly of New York and Virginia railroads whose identity has long been lost in various mergers, there is a letter from Edward M. Stanton, Secretary of War under Lincoln, commending the work of Gen. McCallum, and calling attention to the fact that it was largely through his ability as a bridge constructor that "Sheridan's" memorable march to the sea was accomplished.

POLICE COURT NEWS

At Saturday's police court, Frank Seaton pleaded not guilty to stealing a pair of gauntlets from Dan Wetung, the jovial Chemong Village stage driver. The first witness was Mrs. Samuel Finberg, who said that prisoner came to her husband's second-hand shop and sold a pair of gauntlets, about two weeks ago. Dan Wetung said the gloves worth $4.50 were taken from his overcoat pocket in the Windsor Hotel. He saw Seaton there the same day he lost them. Mrs. Finberg brought the gauntlets to the chief's office on January 31st, saying that she had bought them from the same man from whom she had previously bought a fur cap. The fur cap which was stolen from a prisoner in the cells was valued at $16.00.

"You get six months in the Central Prison," said the Magistrate, "because you are a good-for-nothing and of no value to any person in the place." Samuel Finberg, who conducts a cobbler's shop, faced a charge in the police court this morning of having second-hand goods without a license. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs, or $13.35 in all.

Edward Losey, who lives on Auburn street, was charged with receiving stolen goods. The theft of the articles was admitted by a fifteen-year-old lad named James Patrick Jennings. The boy told the court that he had stolen the articles one by one and sold them to his "Uncle Losey."

Mr. G. N. Gordon asked for leniency for Losey, on the ground that he was evidently a very stupid man and apparently did not realize that the goods were stolen by the boy. He also proved that Losey had always possessed a reputation for honesty. Jennings was given a term in the Mimico Reformatory.

WOMEN VOTED AGAINST EQUAL PAY WITH MEN

London, Feb. 12.—The plebiscite taken by 12,000 male and 6,000 female school teachers over the question of equal pay resulted in an overwhelming majority against the proposal. Curiously enough, most of the women voted against the proposition.

SUFFRAGETTES START TO BURN BUILDINGS

London, Feb. 13.—The refreshment hall in Regent's Park, London, was burned down to-day it is believed by militant suffragettes, as on the adjoining path the words, "Votes for Women" were found scratched. The building was of considerable size, being 75 feet long by 40 wide. Baskets smelling strongly of petroleum were found in a shrubbery in the vicinity.

HAWAIIANS FEAST ON "FOURTH OF JULY"

Honolulu, Feb. 13.—Americans and natives joined today in celebrating the 20th anniversary of the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy—the Fourth of July of the islands. The festivities ended to-night with a banquet in honor of those who participated in the revolution.

EDITORIAL NOTES

This year the Militia Department proposes to spend $325,000 for cadet training and equipment. This is an increase over last year of a quarter of a million dollars, and betokens a great increase in cadet activity this year.

Twelve years' enfranchisement has not increased the average woman's political education in Australia, writes an Australian correspondent of the London Times. "All we have succeeded in doing is in adding a huge uneducated emotional vote to the electorate."

John Allen, of Enid, Okla., buried $1,665 in 1907 and then lost his memory. A few days ago when kicked by a mule he regained consciousness and went and dug up his money. It is now in order to add Mr. Allen's name to the long list of men who have had some sense kicked into them.

What would socialism mean to farmers? Would it give them an eight-hour day and a regular weekly wage paid in full and promptly, no matter what the harvest might be? Would it mean that he would no more need to get up at five o'clock in the morning and toil till he fell asleep at night? Perhaps it would; but how? That is the only difficulty. How?

"Tempora mutantur et in illos mutatur" is a well known Latin truism. The "times are changed," and we certainly have "changed with them," when an Indian girl, daughter of an Indian chief is to lead a troop of Indian girls in the Washington, D. C., suffrage parade. No more looking after the papoose or mixing curry in the stewed dog for her.

THE EMPIRE'S OPPORTUNITY.

One clear and encouraging feature of the international situation is that there is fighting on the side of the British peoples. For them it is not only "the New World which has been called in to redress the balance of the Old," but parts of the older hemisphere are also marching to their assistance. Effective naval activity on the part of three such virile peoples as the New Zealanders, the Australians and the Canadians must have an influence on the balance of power. If Austria's projected four dreadnoughts produce a distinct oscillation in that delicate instrument, why should not the five capital ships contributed by the three Colonies named, also have their effect?

Germany is playing the game with no help outside of her European territories. Austria is in a similar position. France has a few Colonies from which she hopes to get some military support; but she has nothing at all to compare with the great white Colonies of Britain. Russia is a vast unexplored force which will make progress in the future chiefly by training her enormous strength to strike with effect. In the effort to keep the balance between these powers, Britain has hitherto had only her European population to count upon. She was almost as strictly a European power as Germany or Austria. But the rapid growth of her white Colonies is building up for her new allies at a rate not paralleled by any similar development in Europe.

Thus when we say that the collapse of Turkey and the creation of a new Balkan Alliance, which bids fair to be pro-Russian, has destroyed the preponderance of the Triple Alliance and finally restored the balance of power which the Russo-Japanese War upset, we make the very significant statement that the British Empire has been given another reprieve during which it ought to render itself impregnable by the development of its over-seas forces. If the Balkan War has resulted differently—if Turkish armies were now besieging and menacing Serbia, instead of the present far different situation—our Empire might not have enjoyed the opportunity it possesses at present. Then the forces of the Triple Alliance—Turkey and Roumania—would have been omnipotent in the Balkans; and the possible friends of Russia would have been crushed. The result must have been that Austria would have become the paramount power of the Peninsula—that German overlordship of Turkey-in-Asia would have been assured—that Russia would have been fatally discouraged as to the ability of French and British support to enable her to get her way—that Italy would have had no choice but to eline to the Germanic Empires—and that France and Britain would have found themselves in positions of the gravest peril.

Had Stomach Rumblings Distress Before Meals

Was Seldom Free From That Weary Droopy, Half Dead Feeling.

Now Cared, and Gives Good Advice To Others With Dyspeptic Tendencies.

If you have any stomach distress at all you will certainly be interested in the following experience which is told by Mr. Edward Dawkins.

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of indigestion," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salts or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour and always after eating there was pain and flatulency. To-day I am well—no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

STRANGE CASE OF DOUBLE SUICIDE

Two Sisters End Lives. With Telepathy Playing a Part in the Tragedy.

Geneva, Feb. 12.—A curious case of what is described as telepathy with a suicide is being discussed here. Some people ascribing the Salve by the funicular railway, were startled to see an elderly woman walk to a ledge overlooking a ravine 400 feet deep. She wrapped a shawl around her head and jumped over the precipice. The victim, so it was afterwards discovered, was a widow named Mme. Simon, who had been greatly distressed because a younger sister, with whom she had lived, had for the last five months been a patient in a hospital.

Here is the curious feature of the tragedy. The news of the suicide did not become generally known in Geneva for several hours, but at the time of the tragedy the woman in the hospital declared to the nurse that her sister was dead, and she did not wish to survive. In the nurse's absence she threw herself from the ward window into the street and was so severely injured that she is not expected to recover.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I was amused on reading The Times yesterday to find that a writer who signs himself "A Separate School Supporter," has had the sublime assurance to state that the Roman Church is not an enemy of the Public Schools. I can answer him in no better way of proving that he is wrong than by quoting the utterances of his own priests and bishops: "I frankly confess that the Catholics stand before the country as the enemies of the public schools."—Mgr. Sautoli.

"The public schools ought to go back to the devil, from whence they came,"—Freeman's Journal.

"The public schools have produced nothing but a godless generation of thieves and blackguards,"—Priest Chaurer.

"The common schools of this country are sinks of moral pollution and nurseries of evil,"—Catholic Tablet.

"The time is not far away when the Roman Catholics at the order of the Pope, will refuse to pay their school tax, and will send bullets to the breasts of the government agents rather than pay it,"—The Catholic.

"I would as soon administer the sacrament to a dog as to Catholics who send their children to public schools,"—Father Walker.

"They who send their children to the public schools cannot expect the mercy of God. They ought not to expect the sacraments of the Church in their dying moments,"—Father Walker.

"Education, outside of the Catholic Church, is a damnable heresy,"—Pope Pius IX.

"The public schools are nurseries of vice; they are godless, and unless suppressed will prove the damnation of this country,"—Father Walker.

"The children of the public schools turn out to be learned house thieves, abolitionist counterfeits, well versed in the schemes of devilry. The Roman Catholic Church stands before the world as the enemy of the public schools,"—Father Phelan.

"The duty of all loyal Roman Catholics is to wage common war on the public schools,"—Priest Gleason.

EUGENE, EX-QUEEN, LIVES ON HER MANY MEMORIES

Widowed For Forty Years, the Pathetic Little Figure Still Cherishes Royal Hopes.

Paris, Feb. 12.—The Empress Eugenie who visits here every little while has been called empress for sixty long years and has been "ex" for forty-one. She has been a widow for thirty-four years and has been childless for thirty-three years. Yet she lives on pleasantly enough, seemingly enjoying herself. She is on very good terms now with Prince Victor, the representative of the imperial family and the husband of Princess Clemence. Victor isn't much of a throne-stealer, and it's doubtful whether he would take the French crown if it was offered to him, but Eugenie hopes that Victor's son may be of sterner stuff than papa and eventually the empire of the great Napoleon.

ALFONZO XIII CHAMPION FLIRT AND LINGUIST

Madrid, Feb. 13.—King Alfonso of Spain speaks all the dialects of Spain, also English, French, German and Italian. He addresses each monarch in his own tongue. He is an expert in translating foreign poetry into Spanish and some of these translations are very good. Like Emperor William, he is a painter and draftsman and a booklover. He could make money as a chauffeur anywhere, likewise as a sea captain or as an officer of horse.

But above all Alfonso likes to flirt with pretty girls. He says it's his business to be popular, hence he must make plenty of friends among the women. He seldom passes a pretty woman without raising his hat to her. Yet he is a good husband and an excellent papa.

Last but not least, Alfonso is a good dancer. There are few men in Spain, it is said, that can dance the valse as well as he.

SCENT HOMICIDE IN A SKELETON

Victim Supposed Member of Italian Laborers' Gang Three Years Ago.

Boston, Feb. 13.—The discovery of two bullet holes in the skull has given rise to the theory that the skeleton of a man found on the Dane estate, near Hamilton, Saturday afternoon, is that of the victim of a murder. The state police will today begin an investigation to solve the mystery of the supposed victim's identity and that of his possible murderer.

As yet there is no clue to either. Circumstances indicate that death took place a year or two ago. The police will first try to find members of a gang of workmen which was employed in that neighborhood about three years ago and had its camp not far from the spot where the skeleton was found. There is no way to tell whether or not the dead man was an Italian, but the police think he may have been a victim of a secret vendetta.

Selectmen George Cummings and Clarence Knowlton, Medical Examiner G. A. Bailey of Ipswich, and Police Officer Alfred T. Pool and Oswald Woods of Hamilton, went to the Dane estate and viewed the skeleton yesterday. Dr. Bailey found the bullet holes. One was just above the right ear, and the bullet went out through the top of the skull. The other bullet entered and left about an inch from the first, following an almost parallel course.

The skull was covered with a low-crowned black soft hat, through which the bullet emerged. There were a pair of dark trousers, winter underclothing, woolen stockings and congress shoes. The skeleton is that of a man about 35 years of age and about 5 feet 5 inches in height. The body had been exposed so long that little flesh was left on it. At first it was thought that the man might have been a suicide, but the peculiar location of the bullet holes and the absence of all weapons changed the opinion of the police.

The skeleton was removed to the town tomb. The finding of the skeleton created a small sensation and many visited the spot yesterday, searching the woods for anything that might give a clue to the identity of the victim.

BOY WITH GUN FIGHTS 2 COPS

Boston, Feb. 13.—John J. Fermyole, 16 years old, fought a running pistol duel with two Cambridge police officers in the streets of West Somerville yesterday afternoon and made his way to the cellar of a house on a small court of Yorktown street, where he hid behind a barricade of boxes.

The officers—Patrolmen Leachy and Tansey—followed into the cellar with drawn pistols and told the boy to surrender or they would shoot. He came out, handed over a 32-calibre revolver with four empty chambers. At the North Cambridge station when the officers found a second revolver with five chambers loaded and a quantity of cartridges.

Fermyole is under sentence to the state industrial school for boys at Shirley for breaking and entering, and is out on bail while his appeal is pending before the superior criminal court. Recently he secured employment at the John T. Connor store on Massachusetts avenue near Regent street, North Cambridge, and on Thursday afternoon was sent out by the manager to collect a few small bills. When he failed to show up for work yesterday morning, the North Cambridge police station was notified, and in the afternoon Patrolmen Leachy and Tansey went over to his home, 66 Cameron avenue, West Somerville, just across the Cambridge line, to look him up.

Each entered the house by the front door and Tansey went around to the rear. Leachy had hardly crossed the threshold when the boy darted past him into the street. A few paces away he turned, drew a revolver and fired at the officer. The bullet whizzed by Leachy's shoulder, and he rushed after the lad, with Tansey, who had been attracted by the shot, bringing up in the rear.

Leachy drew his gun and fired at the fleeing boy, who, as he turned into Glendale street, replied with a second shot from around the corner. The officers as they turned, fired, and the lad, turning back, fired two more shots before turning into Yorktown street.

The crowd that had been gathering in the chase becoming larger by this time the officers feared to shoot again, and continued after the boy as he turned into a small court a short distance down the street. When the officers reached the court Fermyole had disappeared, but a number of persons directed them to the cellar of the house nearest the corner. Descending the stairs with drawn revolvers the officers called to the boy, but he made no answer. They were satisfied that a pile of old boxes was the only refuge the cellar offered, and they told him that unless he came out a volley would be sent into the barricade. He walked out sheepishly and surrendered one pistol to the officers.

At the station house as they took the second revolver and supply of cartridges from his pockets he smiled. He said that he had collected the money and spent it for the brace of pistols. As to other facts he was reticent. The police are to conduct an investigation to learn who sold him the revolvers.

On Jan. 8 Fermyole was sentenced by Judge Almy of the Cambridge district court to the industrial school with another youth for breaking and entering the fruit store of Carmello S. Chiffano, on Massachusetts avenue near the Cambridge Junction station. The present charge against him is assault with a loaded revolver.

SISTERS RESCUE 32 LITTLE ONES

Ray Cady, Son of Police Capt. Cady, Was Passing the Asylum When He Smelled the Smoke. Which the Sisters Detected.

Portland, Me., Feb. 13.—Fighting their way again and again through almost suffocating smoke, the Sisters of Mercy of the St. Elizabeth's Female Orphan Asylum to-night carried to safety 32 little girls when the annex, containing the children's dormitory, caught fire.

With two children apiece, the sisters struggled up the steep incline of the gallery that connects the burning annex with the main building of the asylum, put their charges down in safety and returned to save others.

One of the heroic women, heedless of her own peril and almost overcome by the smoke, insisted on remaining with the 18-year-old youth who discovered the fire, passing buckets of water with which to fight the smudge until the fire departments arrived.

The fire occurred just before 8 o'clock, originating in an overheated furnace. It spread between the walls of the annex, filling the building with dense smoke and defying for a long time all efforts to extinguish it.

The children had been given their supper and had been put to bed on the second floor of the house. Young Cady notified the Sisters, and they rushed across the narrow gallery into the annex. Each seized two of the dazed children and hastened back to the main building. The incline of the gallery is very steep, and this fact, added to its narrowness, made it difficult to get the children out quickly.

On each returning trip they found their work more difficult, owing to the increasing amount of smoke which had filled the house and threatened suffocation both to the children and their rescuers.

By the time the firemen had arrived the sisters had succeeded in getting all the children into safe quarters. Cady and the one sister had sent the fire sufficiently in check so as to make this rescue possible, and probably did much toward saving the annex from entire destruction. The damage was limited to about $100.

FASTEST ARMORED SHIP

Vessel Steamed at a Rate of Over 34 Knots an Hour

The battle cruiser Princess Royal, the nineteenth Dreadnought of the British Fleet which was commissioned for service in the first cruiser Squadron of the Home Fleet in 1906, is 360 feet in length, 58 feet 6 inches in beam, and displaces 26,350 tons. Her turbines are of 70,000 horsepower and were designed for a speed of twenty-eight knots.

On trials, however, the vessel easily exceeded her contract speed, and was able for a time to maintain a rate of 34.7 knots. She is thus easily the fastest armored ship in the world, beating the Lion by three knots; and there are comparatively few torpedo-craft which can show a better speed.

The Princess Royal can discharge at one broadside projectiles weighing 10,000 pounds.

A Salisbury Memorial

The Salisbury family have placed in the Salisbury Chapel of Hatfield Parish Church, a handsome memorial to the late margrave. It is a recumbent figure in bronze of the famous statesman in his robes as Chancellor of Oxford University, wearing the chain of the knighthood of the Garter, with the hands crossed over the breast and clasping a crucifix.

BRITAIN'S WAR SCHOOLS

Her Soldiers Trained by Mechanical Devices in Various Branches

Thanks to a number of ingenious inventions, the British soldier is now being trained under conditions that are as near to those of actual warfare as they are ever likely to be. By the use of moving pictures, the raw recruit can experience the sensation of desperate situations, with complete safety to himself. He can learn the thrill of seeing a squadron of charged cavalry, and train his nerve to frustrate the dastardly bullets of sharpshooters skulking in the undergrowth.

Although it is so dreadfully effective a weapon at close quarters, the bayonet is not an easy fighting instrument to handle. It requires considerable practice to learn to make those quick short jabs characteristic of this sort of fighting; for the rifle is a clumsy weapon to handle for other purposes than shooting. To teach a recruit to handle it with speed and skill, mechanism is again introduced.

A square frame of wood about ten feet high is erected in the ground. Down the center of this structure runs a wire, on which are threaded a number of balls composed of thickly woven straw. The man with the bayonet stands in front of this apparatus, and the balls are drawn up to the top of the wire. A mechanical device releases them at quick speed, and they travel down the guide wire in rapid succession. As they pass the waiting soldier he has to stab each one of them with a quick movement and with a subtle twist of the wrists—achieved by long practice—withdraw the weapon in time to stab the sphere following closely behind. The advantage of this machine is that not only does it teach quick and accurate bayonet work, but it develops the wrist muscles necessary to withdraw the weapon immediately it has completed its deadly design.

In several military riding schools it is possible to see erected a most interesting device, consisting of a dummy horseman pivoted on a wooden stand that runs on wheels, guided by a rail. Sometimes this dummy is mechanically propelled, but more often it runs on a sloping rail. The lay figure is started on its way along the rail, and a cavalryman gallops to meet it. As he dashes by he delivers a cut with his sword at the padded figure, and if his stroke is well directed, it topples the rider over. The dummy is counter-balanced by a weight beneath the horse, but if it is hit with accuracy and strength, this weight is overcome, and the sham rider falls backwards or forwards, wherever the blow directs it. If the blow is badly judged, then the figure only swings, and the attacking cavalryman is only credited with having wounded his strange opponent. The idea, of course, is to bring horsemanship as near to reality as it is possible to do without danger to the attacked or the attacker.

The menace of the airship as a death dealing factor in modern warfare soon brought into existence a gun specially designed to cripple aerial craft. But how to practise with such a weapon for some time puzzled the authorities. But now a successful plan has been devised. A captive balloon of large cubic capacity is attached by a long wire cable to a powerful motor lorry. A number of artillerymen with guns are stationed some distance away. The balloon is sent aloft, and when it has attained a considerable height, the motor-lorry proceeds to drag it across the front of the firing party. As it sways and dips in the atmosphere aloft, the attackers endeavor to pour a hail of lead into the delicate fabric of the balloon. This is no simple task, for the constant change in the position of the mark is most disconcerting. So far, however, this apparatus has proved very successful in familiarizing gunners with this strange form of marksmanship. At Peterborough and the military grounds on Salisbury Plain, one can see the other aspect of aerial warfare being practiced. A number of the most stable and solidly constructed army aeroplanes of the military type are fitted with lightly built machine guns for use under favorable weather conditions against dummy targets on the grounds.

ARCHDUKE AS STUDENT

Heir to the Throne of Austria Pursues Studies at Stonyhurst

The famous seminary at Stonyhurst, Lancashire, has the distinction of housing his Imperial highness Francis Charles, Archduke of Austria, and heir to the Austrian throne. He entered the college as a "philosopher." Upon its rolls the institution has many sons of the Roman Catholic aristocracy of England and the Continent. One who has come in contact with the archduke states that he leads just the same life as the other youths, and that he is taking the same course as the other philosophers. The period of study covers two years. Tall, clean-built, of fair complexion, and eighteen years of age, the archduke is fond of golf, shooting, and horsemanship, and he is often to be seen riding in the pretty country round Stonyhurst.

WOMEN IN A DUEL

A duel with pitchforks took place in Dijon, France, between two women. They both worked in a bleachery and were continually quarrelling. The women in their workroom, of the perpetual bickering, advised them to settle their differences by a fight. The two women armed themselves with pitchforks and fought in a lonely field. News of the fight soon spread, and the police hurried to the field, where they found one of the women lying unconscious with a wound in her head.

CHEERS IN ALL TONGUES

Bennet Burleigh, the well known war correspondent, says that the Bulgarian cheer sounds very much like the English "hurrah" except that the Bulgarian people usually pronounce it "harrah." The Bulgarian cheer is "Oorrah," with no initial "h" and with an indefinite prolongation of the "ah." The Russian cheer is the same. It is the Slav variety of the Teutonic "Hurrah," used not only by the English but also by the Germans, Swedes, Danes, and others. But its use is wider and more frequent in the Slav than in the Teutonic countries. In Germany "three cheers for the Kaiser" means not three hurrahs, but three times "Hoch!" (literally "High"). In Russia or Bulgaria "three cheers for the Czar" means three times "Oorrah!" The Serbian cheer is different. They usually shout "Zdravo" which is the equivalent to the French "Vive!" the Italian "Viva!" and the Hungarian "Eljen!"

A STRANGE PEOPLE ARE THE SERVIANS

When a Servian widow wants a new husband she hangs a doll in her window. The doll gives fair warning to any bachelor who may chance to pass by.

If a widow or a maiden is very anxious to marry, she also hangs a wreath of corn up on the outside of the house. If the wreath is stolen she will be married soon. If she is very, very anxious to wed she hangs the wreath down quite low so it can be more easily reached.

Servia is the one country where parents are not anxious to marry off their daughters, and want their sons to mate early. The reason is, all the women work in the fields along with the men. When a son marries he brings another helper home; if the daughter marries she goes to her father-in-law's fields to work.

Women in Servia work long and hard. The men regard them as inferior beings and treat them so. At the table women are served last, after the men have all the food they wish. There are no rich folks in Servia, and outside the king's family, no titles. Domestic servants are unknown except in hotels, where Germans are employed, for the Serb regards it beneath him or her to be an "employee." That's why most of them farm, or raise pigs, which is the chief source of the small fortunes some of them have. The Serb is not very religious, and many go to church only when a festival is held.

Every grown man has the use of five acres of land, which cannot be taken from him. He may buy other land, but those five acres are "loaned" to him by the government for life, and the products of those acres cannot be taken for debt.

Belgrade, the capital, is the only city; and it is becoming western in style, while the villagers are slowly moving toward European customs.

The men wear loose trousers or knickerbockers of white frieze, and cardigan waistcoats with sleeves lavishly embroidered. Women wear souve jackets with loose sleeves, knee skirts, and two highly colored aprons, one in front and the other behind. The aprons look something like small rugs.

The peasant married women dress their hair so it projects in two great ram's horns over their foreheads. The unmarried girl wears a colored handkerchief over her head. The more "fashionable" women wear little red faces.

Where the Bulgars are sullen and quiet, the Montenegrins quarrelsome and noisy, the Serbs are merry, light-hearted, contented with very little, and always wear smiles.

PRISON REFORM

The Parole System and the Education of Criminals Working Out Well

Mr. W. P. Archibald, Dominion parole officer, in an address on Prison Reform said that there were crimes whose very enormity and atrocity made it an impossibility for man to do other than wreak vengeance upon the criminal. If a crime was atrocious enough man will not forgive; from God alone was there any hope of forgiveness.

Students of criminology, he continued, said, "Once a criminal, always a criminal." This, averred Mr. Archibald, was not so. The criminal mind could be reclaimed by common sense with its Maker. Illustrating this, he cited an instance of an old man, a murderer, who had been spared the ignominy of hanging and the reproaches of a guilty conscience when he believed that God had pardoned him and answered his prayers.

The speaker then stated that there were 1,800 men in the penitentiaries and jails of Canada. These men, he declared, were being given a chance; they were being taught industries and trades and given a common school education. The old idea of vengeance was gone; nowadays the prisons were reformatory, upon them the exercise of reforming the mental balance of the criminal by subjecting him to new environments and giving him new ideas so that the best of crime was a forgotten memory. Many criminals were the result of heredity, and in cases like this there was little hope for them.

criminal acts until his conception of right and wrong had become as nothing, that was the big problem. There were a few of these criminals in Canada, but in other countries they abounded.

From long observation Mr. Archibald said he had found the criminal highly responsive to kindness. Criminals could be reformed by kindness alone. In the penitentiaries today manual labor was giving way to high reformatory training. Many prisoners were being given the chance to reform through the parole system. By this system the men were freed and placed on parole with the chance to become once more useful and respectable citizens. In 12 years 8,748 men had been released on parole; of these only 79 had gone back to crime. These facts, he affirmed, knocked the theory held by criminologists, "Once a criminal, always a criminal," on the head, and showed that the way to reform society was not to wreak vengeance on the offender but to purify his mind and restore him to the community a changed man.

INCREASED BOY'S HEIGHT

How Famous Doctor Enabled Laid to Pass Academy Test

Dr. George Alexander Gibson, the famous physician, lecturer and author of many works on various diseases, narrated at a meeting of British medical men at Liverpool a remarkable instance of treatment with thyroid extract.

A boy of 18 who was anxious to enter Woolwich Military Academy was shrunken on the ground that he was too small in stature, being as much less than five feet.

Dr. Gibson treated him with thyroid extract and in six months he grew seven inches and gained a high place at his entrance.

An examination showed that his cerebral functions had not been disturbed.

Mr. Fred Blasterah, proprietor of the Palace Hotel went down to identify a few goods he has mysteriously lost during the past few weeks. He identified, among other of his possessions, an unopened bag of peas, half of a ham, etc. Mr. Blasterah states that the prisoner Giles would come to his hotel to sell goods and carry away more goods than he could dentally getting paid for what he left. Giles would sell him a barrel of apples, to be delivered later. To get access to the hotel he would say that on account of cold weather, he would not bring the whole barrel, but "just enough to keep you going." Giles, or whoever the thief may be, seems to be an expert on cheese. In the police court plunder are dozens of chunks of cheese, many of them wrapped in paper as received from the grocery stores and later stolen from refrigerators in summer kitchens. Mr. Frank Montgomery, of the Montgomery House also identified, among other lost articles, a hind leg of pork. The goods in question were all found by the officers mentioned at the Giles' farm.

Did You Ever Count Your Own Heart-Beat?

The heart "thumps" when you run hard,
It "flutters" from excitement and emotion,
Tea and Coffee-drinking makes it do both!

Many a person carries a fine watch and is mighty careful that no harm comes to his timepiece. It ticks 120 times each minute, and he winds it once a day.
His heart (wound up for a lifetime) beats about 72 times each minute, but he gives it little or no attention until Nature forces the fact home that it is working too fast or too slow.
If the watch ticked faster it would run down more quickly.
How about the heart?
Thousands "whip" their hearts into unnatural action by the use of tea and coffee.
A cup of tea or coffee contains from 1½ to 3 grains of caffeine, a poisonous drug. Its effects are subtle, but sure.
A pretty good way to find out whether tea and coffee are harming YOU is to Count Your Own Heart-Beat.

If you find an irregularity...faster or slower than 72 beats per minute...and value your future health and comfort

BRILLIANT FUNCTION AT THE LOCAL NORMAL SCHOOL

Last Night's "At Home" Attended by Over Three Hundred of Peterboro's Best Citizens--Many Strangers Present and a Fine Musical Programme

Last night the fine normal school of Peterborough was thronged by over three hundred of Peterborough's best citizens. Many strangers from Toronto and other outside places were present. The occasion was an "At Home" given under auspices of the Normal school literary society. It might be mentioned incidentally that there are about 80 students in attendance at this school, of whom the large majority are of the fair sex. To illustrate this we quote from a remark made by one of the guests, who, by the way is a confirmed bachelor. After noticing the pretty decorations in evidence in halls and various rooms, Mr. Bach remarked: "Well they've certainly decorated the place nicely. One can tell at a glance, however, that the ladies are in the majority." Why? was asked. "Just look at those ornaments, nearly every one of the designs hanging about are hearts. Another thing is this; just to show the outness that education evolves, not one of those paper hearts is pierced. The girls are evidently heart free so far."

The actual reception to guests began in the Masters' room by president of the "lit." Howard S. Conner, assisted by Principal D. Walker and the reception committee. After the formal welcoming of guests was complete a musical program was rendered in the Assembly Hall, which seats about 400. Here the following attractive program was run off:

DEAD REMAIN AS THEY FALL DIAZ GAINING GROUND

Big Guns Wreck Much Havock in Mexico City--Rebels are in Control

Mexico, Feb. 14.—President J. de la Huerta, another ultimatum to the rebels. Diaz demanding his surrender and the reply came in the shape of a number of cannon balls from the insurgents biggest guns.

By seven o'clock the firing had settled into a steady fusillade. All around the arsenal, the rebel headquarters, the flash of the discharged field guns and quick-firers was incessant.

Federal officers declared that their men were being prepared to make a forward movement on the rebel lines.

Two Federal batteries totalling 10 guns stationed on the Paseo Reforma in the neighborhood of the British legation poured a constant stream of shells on to the rebels in the arsenal. Another Federal battery posted on San Juan De Lastran street three blocks east of San Francisco avenue joined in.

Many shrapnel shells from the rebel artillery fell around the cable office, the American Club and other buildings in that vicinity. Others reached their mark, the national palace at the end of the line of streets.

Diaz Asks Recognition.

Diaz this morning asked for recognition as a belligerent by the United States Government in an informal note to Ambassador Wilson, stating that he was in complete control of the city.

Citizens Flee for Lives.

A constant stream of refugees, most of them Mexican citizens, was observed carrying bundles and hurrying toward the suburbs from the densely populated district between the arsenal and the National Palace as soon as the firing became more intense.

In many of the churches special services were started by the clergy for the restoration of peace to the capital. Thousands of refugees knelt in the old edifices and joined in the prayers, at the same time trusting not a little in the heavy walls for protection against the flying projectiles.

SPOKE ONE WAY BUT HE VOTED WITH GOVT.

W. F. Maclean Lined Up With the Premier on Vote on the Navy Measure.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—The vote on the navy bill in the house last night showed that W. F. Maclean, the "bolter" from the Conservative party. Many had concluded from his speech in favor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's plan for a navy, "built, manned and equipped by Canada" that he would support the amendment of the opposition leader, but when it came to a test, "W.F." was found to be with the Government in every case.

The defection of the seven Nationalist amendments out of order, unconsciously acted as a friend to Sir Wilfrid and his followers as he thus detached seven votes from the Government, thus reducing their majority to 14.

Speaker Sproule, by ruling the Nationalist amendments out of order, unconsciously acted as a friend to Sir Wilfrid and his followers as he thus detached seven votes from the Government, thus reducing their majority to 14.

ARTHUR SIMS IS LET OUT ON MODERATE BAIL

Detective Newhall returned from Guelph early this morning in charge of Arthur E. Sims, who is wanted here on a charge of unlawfully removing goods from the residence of his wife.

Family trouble is said to be the cause of the difficulty in which Sims now finds himself.

It seems that Sims and his wife did not agree like little birds in their nest. When it came to a question of separation and alimony Sims was ordered to sign over a portion of the household goods and chattels to his wife. It is alleged that he gave a bill of sale to his wife and left the city, and in the meantime has carried away a quantity of household goods, the property of his wife.

He elected summary trial yesterday morning and was remanded for one week.

Sims was able to secure bail during the afternoon of two sureties of $250 each and his own bond for $500.

Says Borden Naval Policy Most Helpful for Empire

London, Feb. 14.—News of the carrying of the naval proposal in the Canadian House last night reached here too late for the morning papers. To-night's Westminster Gazette, one of the soundest of the London Liberal papers, regrets that it must differ from Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the naval policy. It maintains that Premier Borden's policy appears one of the most helpful to the Empire and the likeliest to give Canadians the protection they desire.

MR. AND MRS. FINLEY J. SHEPARD GO ABROAD FOR HONEYMOON

MR. AND MRS. FINLEY J. SHEPARD

The surprise of all but a very few of their friends is that Finley J. Shepard, who since their marriage have been living quietly at Lyndhurst, left New York city for an extended honeymoon tour abroad on board the Empress of Germany, of the North German Lloyd line.

They will leave the steamer at Cherbourg and, going first to Paris, will travel at their leisure along the Mediterranean until they reach Egypt. They will not return to this country until next May.

MALE ADVOCATE OF THE SUFFRAGETS REMOVED BY FORCE

New York, Feb. 14.—A cable from London says: "Another exciting incident in the suffrage agitation occurred last night in the House of Commons. While the Hon. C. T. Mills, member for Exbridge, was speaking on the Indian silver question, a man in the strangers' gallery arose and shouted: 'I protest against your brutal treatment of women.' Since the last scene of the kind occurred several private detectives have been on duty in the gallery, and these immediately jumped up and before the man had time to utter any further words he was overpowered. One of the detectives put his hand over the man's mouth and the other carried him out of the gallery. After being detained some time he was escorted out of the building.

A few minutes later another man, who evidently had become too excited in consequence of the incident, fainted and was quietly removed.

Refused to Give Names to Government Investigators

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—An interesting incident figured in the proceedings of the Public Accounts Committee this morning. A witness refused to answer a question and it was decided to refer him to the House.

R. C. Miller, of Montreal, head of the Diamond Light and Heating Co. of that city, swore a couple of years ago a court proceeding that he had secured business from the Liberal Government to the extent of $117,000 and had to pay $41,000 to get it. The other members of his company sued him to recover the amount and the Public Accounts Committee of that session got after the information and subpoenaed Mr. Miller to appear before it. He did not obey the summons then, but did so this morning. When asked to whom he had paid the $41,000 he declined to state, giving as reason for his refusal that an answer would prejudice pending litigation.

Mr. Meighen demanded that the witness be reported. After some discussion he was allowed to make the following statement:

"In addition to the fact that an answer would prejudice the case now in the courts my refusal is due to the fact that I never paid a dollar to any Senator or member of Parliament or official of the Government. I think this is a private affair."

Taft Is waiting for Attack on Americans

In That Event He Will Rush Special Message to Congress in Thirty Minutes.

Washington, Feb. 14.—President Taft declared to close advisers that only one thing could force him to ask Congress to intervene in Mexico. If the Madero or Diaz forces should turn upon Americans merely because they are Americans or foreigners, Mr. Taft let it be known that he would rush a special message to Congress in thirty minutes' time. He does not regard the killing of a few Americans in the course of the battle as a cause for war, but looks upon such cases as unavoidable, and believes that the proper authorities should be held liable for damages.

The President was disturbed today when he heard the reports that communication between Mexico City and the United States might be cut off.

He met the Cabinet at the usual semi-weekly session and the Mexican situation was generally discussed. It was understood that the Cabinet is in complete accord with the President's attitude.

SUFFRAGETTES DENY THEY HAVE COLD FEET

"They May Be Sore," says General Jones, "But We Will Walk to Washington."

Lincolnton, N.J., Feb. 14.—"Our feet may be sore but they are not cold and everyone of us will stick it out to Washington," declared "General" Rosalie Jones to-day as she carefully adjusted her "hikers," she prepared to lead her little army of suffragettes out of town.

A riotously good-natured crowd of several hundred students escorted the pilgrims to the edge of the town and cheered them vociferously on their way.

The fifteen tramps were in good condition save for a few blisters and a slight stiffness of the muscles due to the extra long bike they took yesterday when they missed their way from Metuchen and walked at least ten unnecessary miles.

PROTESTANTS IN KINGSTON ARE NOT GIVEN A FAIR SHOW

Complaints Made That The Roman Catholic Warden of Penitentiary, Does Not Deal Fairly With Other Creeds

Kingston, Feb. 14.—As a result of the persistent questioning of Dr. J. W. Edwards (Cons.) member for the County of Frontenac, a commission will be appointed by the Federal Government for the purpose of making an investigation of charges preferred against certain officials of the Portsmouth Penitentiary. These charges it is understood, are centered mainly on Daniel O'Leary, Deputy Warden. It is understood that there have been complaints registered by convicts and guards of the Protestant religion that they have not received fair treatment at the hands of the officials. These complaints are of long-standing and it is only lately that any attention has been paid to them.

Since the resignation of ex-Warden Platt, which was accepted a few months after the last general election, pressure was brought to bear to have Major W. S. Hughes, who is a brother of Col. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, and who has been accountant at the Penitentiary for many years, appointed to the vacancy. Strong opposition has arisen in many quarters to this appointment, because it is said that he would be appointed over the head of the deputy warden.

Deputy Warden O'Leary, Dr. Phelan, chief surgeon of the Penitentiary, and a large majority of the guards are Roman Catholics, and it is on ground of partiality to convicts of their own religion that the charges are being made. An instance of this is shown in the report of the action of the late member for Kingston under Laurier's regime. It is said that several guards were dismissed for drunkenness a few years ago. They were Roman Catholics and through the intervention of the former member for Kingston, it is stated that they were re-instated.

Rev. G. M. Atlas, who was sentenced to serve a term from Toronto into three years ago, on his release on parole, made some charges of favoritism.

WILL BE TWO MORE WEEKS TALK ON THE NAVAL BILL

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—The vote last night has cleared the political situation at Ottawa. There has been a great deal of uncertainty as to how many Nationalists would come out against the Government, or whether more than Col. Molson of Sunbury-Queens would support the Borden proposals. The lines are now pretty clearly defined. Seven Nationalists voted against both the Laurier and Borden proposals. With one exception they are the same seven who voted against the Government a year ago on the school question. Dr. Paquette last year voted against the Government and last night recorded his vote in favor of the Borden naval bill.

Two Weeks More Talk.

How long the Liberals will carry on the fight on the second reading is hard to say, but after the disaster of their opposition so far it is not believed it will be more than a couple of weeks at the outside. The Conservatives are prepared to give a reasonable time for debate, but amendment was defeated. All eight sittings may be resorted to. However, it is not expected that the Government will have to go to such lengths.

Both sides express themselves well-pleased over the divisions of last night. The Conservatives are delighted that the bill has passed another stage and are in fettle to fight to a finish. They are also pleased over the Borden amendment was defeated. The Liberals, on the other hand, profess to be pleased over the fact that the Borden proposal only carried by 32.

BRITISH PRESS INSISTS FIELDING MUST BE OUT

Shows Danger of Dragging Canadian Party Politics Into Arena--Borden Policy Best For Canada

London, Feb. 14.—Five hundred million dollars in British money is invested in Mexico, being in railways yet outside the foreign railway market of the Stock Exchange, little is said about the chaos in Mexico. Englishmen are thinking rather of the orphaned little Peter Scott, and today's kindly funeral, to the Antarctic heroes at St. Paul's Cathedral.

The Standard is the only leading journal publishing an editorial.

The Daily Telegraph thinks the Canadian naval situation is of far more vital importance than the Mexican squabbles.

It gives Hon. W. S. Fielding and the British radical M.P.'s a seriously worded reminder of the danger of dragging Canadian party politics into the British arena and says Mr. Fielding does not deny his repeated conferences with radical M.P.'s who are taking concerted action to influence Premier Asquith and his Ministers against Mr. Churchill and the Admiralty, in the hope of rehabilitating Sir Wilfrid Laurier's scheme of defeating Mr. Borden.

Subterranean Motives

The Telegraph accepting what it calls "Fielding's carefully worded denials," adds: "Mr. Fielding has had long and honorable intimate association with one of the greatest constitutionalists, his venerable leader. No one knows better that the Imperial authorities can accept only one exponent of Canadian policy and action, namely the Government, placed in office by the Canadian people themselves."

Proceeding, The Telegraph charges that a considerable body of radical members with subterranean manoeuvres, are lobbying in the hope of embarrassing the Government, responsive alone to the Canadian Parliament. Premier Asquith and Mr. Churchill have both been interviewed in the hope of inducing them to assist the Liberal party in Canada, by hearkening Mr. Borden, whose present policy is a direct sequel to Admiralty advice.

SYLVIA AGAIN CONVICTED.

London, Feb. 14.—Sylvia Pankhurst, suffragette leader, to-day was convicted of window-smashing in the Thames Police Court, and given her choice of a 33s fine or eight weeks in jail. She chose imprisonment.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Pankhurst was fined for interfering with the police. She defiantly chose a jail cell at that time, but some "unidentified" man paid her fine.

Anarchy in Mexico City

Toronto, Feb. 15.—President Madero's message to the Star indicated a sincere desire to protect Canadian and other foreign interests in Mexico. Despatches to-day, however, convince one that the capital and country are practically in a state of anarchy, and that life is not safe. Any moment may produce the incident that will lead to the movement of United States troops to Mexico.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's
Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa
South

OWING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation.

The population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600,000. Salaries would amount to $559,800. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $63,000 for meat, $96,000 for potatoes, $5,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $65,700 for butter, $27,600 for eggs. All told the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for clothing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,428,350.

The fine new $40,000 plant of the Bishopric Wallboard Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A second industry to employ 300 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land while a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK of the number of stores to be built there.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters,

bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether separate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousand and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homestead now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

EDITORIAL NOTES

After travelling 113,000 miles in the last four years, the Hon. Bill Taft will close the record with a to-be-honored ride on March 4.

Expert predictions are that Adrian will fall within a week, but that town has been hailing for so many weeks that when it does finally drop the incident will be too much for some overwrought nerves.

A bill making it a felony to entice a servant girl from one place of employment to another has been introduced in the Minnesota legislature. The sponsor for the bill, of course, is a man, because what the average housewife considers to be the greatest achievement of domestic science is to get a good servant away from a neighbor.

The popular verdict is that the man who proposed marriage to Dr. Anna Shaw has qualified for a Carnegie hero medal.

What will the English suffragettes do after they get all the windows and other things smashed?

If the closure is to be intruded at Ottawa let it be the genuine article—strong enough to hold back the mighty torrent of talk.

From the way things are moving at Ottawa it looks as though a continuous lent of many years' duration, is likely to be forced on the Liberal party.

A divorce case at Reno last week took exactly nine minutes for court proceedings. The man who regained his freedom said that in nine minutes he had got eternal rest from scolding.

How many of our Peterborough ladies, who are mortifying the flesh, by denying themselves candy and theatre tickets during Lent, will put the accumulated savings into Easter hats?

Those squirrels that a fortnight ago sported in Central Park, are now probably wearing mufflers and causing the weather man.

THE LOSS OF SCOTT

The death of Captain Scott is sincerely lamented all over the world. Gentlemanly conduct and bearing, for he had made so fine a reputation for willingness to give others credit to which they were entitled, for personal courage and resolution, that the loss of such a life is felt to be one of more than common severity.

As far as may be gathered from the reports sent in, the fatal end of the expedition for himself and companions was due to lack of preparation in the way of stations of food and shelter for the return trip.

Captain Amundsen took great pains in that respect and was further favored by weather. He had, no doubt, a marvelous stroke of luck, but he took no chances and made careful provision, preparation for surprise as he fell back from the pole. No doubt Captain Scott thought he had made preparations sufficient, but he miscalculated.

It is known that the South pole is on a continent. It is a land journey to reach it after one leaves the ship. One may gather from this disaster what has befallen Captain Scott, from the experience of Captain Amundsen, that the exploit of reaching the North pole was a much more difficult one than to reach the South pole, and, incidentally, it throws a new light upon the claim of Dr. Cook to have reached the North pole alone.

The world awaits with great interest the full report of the explorations about the South pole that will be found in papers of Captain Scott when they are brought back to England. But meanwhile, it is the sense of regret over the fate of the expedition that is felt most keenly.

HAD BAD SORE FOUR YEARS

ZAM-BUK HAS HEALED IT!

Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Ave., Toronto, says: "About four years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about half an inch in diameter and very painful. I went to a doctor, but the ointment he gave me did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely, and was most painful. I had it cauterized, tried poultices and all kinds of salves, but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years."

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small, it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply."

"Each box did me more and more good, and, to my delight, before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks, I saw that it was going to heal the sore. In less than a month it was healed."

"I know a lady in the east of the city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation, Zam-Buk was tried in that case. The other day when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely."

"My daughter, who lives in Leithbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory result. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ringworm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price list. In case of skin disease use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

SPARROW HAWKS ATTACK WORKMEN

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 15.—Workmen who have been painting the tower of College Hall on the Vanderbilt campus were attacked while suspended on their ladders by two diminutive sparrow hawks, the self-appointed guardians of the tower.

One of the birds, the workmen said, lighted upon one of the gargoyles of the tower soon after the painting was started and after a few moments of reconnoitering, sallied into the "mere man," pecking at his head and beating him with its wings. The workman fought back, but the bird was not hurt. Its cries brought its mate to its assistance and together the birds continued the battle.

A lucky stroke of the workman's paint brush at last sent one of the hawks away and the other soon followed. The workman said that the birds were small but that he was afraid his eyes would be pecked out before he could beat the hawks away. The behavior of the birds is strange, as this is not the nesting season, and they presumably had no reason for wanting to guard their tower except the fact that it had been their home for several years. Barely if ever before have sparrow hawks been known to attack a human being.

BURIED ALIVE AT TOWN PUMP

Self-Confessed Slayer of Twenty-Year old Mrs. J. C. Williams Dies After Exonerating Houston, Mississippi, Vigilantes

SECOND FOR ONE CRIME

Tell-Tale Ring Taken From Murdered Woman's Finger by Black Butcher Death Warrant That No Earthly Power Could Prevent Being Signed, Regardless of Pleas of District Attorney and Promises of Early Trial—Thousands Meet Out Vengeance—Sheriff Held Prisoner.

Houston, Miss., Feb. 14.—While a court stenographer took his testimony, David Tucker, negro, 30 years old, Saturday morning, the execution of 1,000 persons convicted himself of the murder of a white woman, was condemned to death, and while the sheriff and his deputies looked on, powerless to act, was chained to a steel pump in a courthouse yard, oil soaked, wood was piled about him, the match applied and the body incinerated. A number of the mob fired four shots into Tucker's body before he died. His ashes were gathered up and carried away and the crowd dispersed.

The lynching was the second in as many days and followed the killing of Mrs. J. C. Williams, who was clubbed to death in her home here Thursday and her body thrown in a pit under the house after it had been stripped of a diamond ring and other jewelry.

EXCULPATED LYNCHED NEGRO. Andrew Williams, was the first negro arrested charged with the crime. He was taken from jail by a mob and hanged Friday. The same night Tucker, an employee of Mrs. Williams' father, was taken into custody and was hidden in a dwelling by the sheriff.

Early Saturday the mob ferreted out the hiding place, took the negro from the officers, who were played out, and proceeded to give Tucker a public trial without official interference. He was led down the street to a convenient open spot, the court stenographer summoned, and an opportunity given to Tucker to tell his story. He was outraged for two hours. He declared the negro previously lynched to be guiltless. He told in detail of entering the dwelling of the white Mrs. Williams for money and, being refused, he said he choked and beat her to death.

THIS SKIN PEELER ALL THE RAGE IN SOCIETY (From Society World).

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms. The advent of mercurized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remarkable substance produces complexions so natural in appearance, so magnetically beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin the skin is peeled off. The wax peels particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, younger skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or two, is lily white, satiny, soft and smooth. It's not a patch-covered complexion, but a brand new one. That's why mercurized wax has become such a rage among society folk. The wax was put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings. All druggists have it; one ounce will do.

Another hygienic treatment now much in vogue is the use of primulas, made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered salolite in 4 pint whisky. Used as a wash lotion it "acts like magic."

APT TO GET INTO EARN, CAUSING DEAFNESS, OT TO REACH THE LUNGS AND LIVER IN CONSUMPTION

You Can Cure Catarrh in Any Stage by Breathing the Healing Balsamic Fumes of Catarrh-Exposure, and Here is Proof.

Mr. Urie Berault, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetburg, Que., inherited catarrh from his mother. The disease spread through his system till he was a physical wreck.

"As a child," said Mr. Berault, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages."

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Catarrh was fairly eating me up."

"Every organ of my body seemed affected, and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrh-Exposure and I inhaled it ten minutes a day for a few hours, and was rewarded in a few days by a wonderful improvement."

"Catarrh-Exposure pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it occasionally and took Ferruccio Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered and the doctor says no remedy but Catarrh-Exposure could work such a miracle."

"Everyone in town knows I was just about dead with catarrh, and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrh-Exposure can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrh-Exposure."

Two months' treatment, large size, price $1, and guaranteed. Small size, 50c., all reliable dealers, or the Catarrh-Exposure Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont. Beware of dangerous substitutes and imitations for "Catarrh-Exposure."

CLAIMS GIFT OF HEALING

Mystic Rabbi who Lives in Great Palace in Austria

CURES MANY DISEASES

Wonderful Story Which Reads Like Old Bible Romance—Goes About Doing Good.

Czernowitz, Bukovina, Feb. 14.—In this Austrian province, where Rutenian, Jew, Pole, Magyar and Czech rub shoulders, is a young rabbi whose name is famous not only throughout Austria-Hungary, but in Poland, Galicia and southern Russia as well. He has the gift of healing, and has inherited it from an ancestor, Beer Mizioz, who lived in Volhynia some 200 years ago.

Israel Beer Mizioz Freedman, or Israel Beer Mizioz, as he is called by the thousands of pilgrims who flock to his home at Sadagora, is only twenty-five years old. But his learning is so great that many old and wise rabbis come from all over the world to hear him speak wisdom. For over one hundred years has the family of Beer Mizioz reigned for Sadagora, moving thither when the great rabbi of Volhynia subjected the Jews there to persecution. For over a century they have healed millions of sick, both in body and mind. The people of Sadagora whisper that the great Beer dealt in wonderful mysticism; that he could only talk to and pray over a sick man to make him well. His gift has descended down many generations, and now rests with Israel.

FAITHFUL SERVANTS. He lives in a large palace, just outside the little town of Sadagora. He is surrounded by a little court of faithful followers some of whom never leave him. When pilgrims come to see him, they must pass through quite a guard of courtiers, who see that the applicants are really in earnest, or really ill in mind or body and have not come out of more idle curiosity. The rooms of the palace contain many beautiful things, gifts of grateful pilgrims to eight generations of healers. But Israel Beer Mizioz seldom goes into these splendid apartments. He spends most of his time in a quiet, bare room, at the far end of the palace, or in the Temple of Prayer, which his great-grandfather built on the premises. Those who want to see him are given permission to enter the bare room. Grave conversation then takes place, followed by prayer. The patient returns again and again, till he is well. If he is rich, he leaves money for good works, but the poor are helped out of their financial troubles as well.

Israel has reigned since 1905, when his father, also Israel, died. At the age of eighteen he was married to a rich girl from Russia. Neither had seen the other till the marriage took place. Her wealth is spent in relieving the distress of their poor brethren all over the world, and especially in Russia and Austria. Israel is a strict ritualist. All the observances of his race are kept with great regularity. His constant fasts and work tired him out to such an extent that it was thought needful for him to leave Sadagora for six weeks. He refused to go at first, but saw that his health would fail if he had no rest. So last summer for the first time in his life he left the precincts of his little domain, and went to Baden, near Vienna. The quietest possible villa was chosen, and he traveled with 15 of his court. His wife did not accompany him, and no women were allowed to be of the number. Most of the 15 were kept busy guarding their "king" from would-be visitors who practically bombarded the villa as soon as it was known that the great Israel Beer Mizioz had left his retirement. The others saw that his food was prepared as at Sadagora, and served him with their own hands.

When Israel left Baden to return to his strenuous duties, the road to the station was lined with crowds to see him. But he traveled in a close carriage and passed at once into the train. Those who saw his pale countenance struck with its nobility and earnestness.

So this young reclus, though ignorant of life at first hand, bears as many of life's secrets during the year as do most of our priests, has now returned to his rich palace, where he is a lonely sage almost a prisoner.

The Times has arranged for the installation of some new machinery, which will be duly installed in the near future. While these changes are in progress, the paper will be issued about mid-day. In the meantime we bespeak the kind indulgence of our readers.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

BRITAIN FEARS AIR PROWLER

Will be Lawful to Fire on Foreign Airships

London, Feb. 15.—Parliament is rushing through its various stages the aerial navigation bill, which will expose any foreign airship travelling over the United Kingdom to the risk of being fired upon under certain specified conditions, although a state of war may not exist between this country and that whence the airship has flown.

Not secret is made of the fact that the bill is destined to check German exploits of this kind. For several months past, at intervals, there have been reports of mysterious flights of airships over one or another part of the country, and the introduction of the new measure, coupled with the Government request to the Opposition not to delay its progress through Parliament, is taken to mean that the Government has awakened to the fact that foreign airships have actually flown over British territory.

No Time Lost.
Colonel Seely said that Germany introduced the bill last Friday afternoon. It was read for a second time on Monday. Its remaining stages in the Commons were passed on Tuesday, and the bill will be taken to the House of Lords early next week.

On the second reading, Col. Seely said: "I would like to point out to the House that this bill is not aimed at the air craft of any foreign power but rather at preventing mischievous persons, possibly from overseas, from hovering over places where there are combustible stores, to the great inconvenience of the people of this country."

Germany Has Five Airships.
Colonel Seely said that Germany possessed five military airships of the rigid type, of large size, and capable of being safely used at night, and carrying and discharging quantities of high explosives on to British docks, ships and magazine stores. A number of sky guns, designed for firing at air craft had been ordered by the Government some time ago. These would be fixed at various points on the coast in order to carry out the new law.

The London Times has an editorial stating that visits of foreign airships were becoming unpleasantly frequent.

DESPOT IN TROUBLE

Seigneur of Sark, Erratic and Tyrannical, Lands in Jail

Every traveler who has visited the Channel Islands will recall the picturesque island of Sark, famous for its magnificent cliff scenery and caves. In some part of the battlements of the island of Guernsey, but is owned by a man of the name of William Frederick Collings, who exercises manorial and feudal rights dating back many hundreds of years, as Seigneur of Sark. The arrest of Collings for shooting with intent to kill a former friend named Lovibond, occasioned little surprise, as Collings was long known to be a man of most eccentric habits.

The shooting occurred when Lovibond, who was visiting the Manor House of Sark, went to the assistance of Miss Collings, daughter of the Seigneur, when the latter attacked her most brutally, breaking her nose and her front teeth with his fist. The consensus of opinion seems to be that Collings' reason is unbalanced and that he is only fit for a lunatic asylum. Indeed, the unfortunate inhabitants of Sark, some 800 in number, and every one of them his tenants, are convinced thereof, since his tyranny of late years has become absolutely intolerable. His feudal rights of seigneur prevent his tenants from selling the produce of their holdings without his consent, which has often been refused, and in other cases only granted on their surrender of a portion thereof to himself. The population of the island have a sort of legislature or manorial court, which sits twice a year. But as the Seigneur has a right to veto all its ordinances and decisions, it has become incapable of accomplishing anything. Of course,

The Seigneur has magisterial powers and these he uses with the utmost despotism.
Ten or fifteen years ago Collings, as Seigneur, entertained King Edward, Queen Alexandra, and other members of the Royal Family at Sark, but of late he was averse to visitors, and any stranger visiting the island on days of the week other than the ones appointed for the purpose was chased off by the Seigneur with shotguns and dogs.

WILD AND BARREN IS MONTENEGRO

The People are Most Hospitable and Very Honest—All Carry Arms

According to Mr. Harry de Windt, the noted English traveller and lecturer, Montenegro is such a chaos of mountains that half of it is as yet unexplored. I have seldom, he says, "seen in the Arctic, crossed a more wild and desolate country, although in the lowlands around Lake Scutari, and in the cases of Risks and Podgoritsa, which are delightful places in summer time, maize, barley, and even vines and orange trees flourish in profusion. But so sterile is the island of Montenegro that many of the natives have never tasted anything but brackish rain water from crevices of rock."

Podgoritsa, where the first of the fighting of the Turko-Balkan war took place, is the most thriving little town in the country, which it provides with wool, hides, and tobacco.

Ruined walls and towers show that it was once strongly fortified, for in olden times this was the scene of many a desperate conflict between Turk and Christian, and mosque and minaret still give the place an Oriental aspect.

for the crime of theft in this primitive land is almost unknown, and even the poorest peasant will entertain you on the best he can produce without thought of pecuniary reward—an offer of which would grossly insult him. You enter the meanest dwelling, to be told that all it contains is yours—and the owner means it. I once refused a dagger which I had admired, and would not accept as a gift, in a wayside hotel, and several hours later found the weapon cunningly concealed in my rug. At the same time I have no doubt that the giver would have shot me without the slightest compunction had I in any way impugned his honor or vanity, for this, although a land of bloodshed, is also one of inflexible honesty and thrift.

The Afghans of Europe
Montenegrins are justly called the "Afghans of Europe," for they closely resemble those Asiatic fire-eaters. The men are a race of giants, who would probably regard an Englishman of moderate height as a dwarf. All wear the national dress—a tunic of coarse white serge, embroidered with black braid and baggy breeches with a kind of sandal secured with a network of string. Sheepskins are worn at all seasons, at any rate, by the peasantry, who also assume many layers of underclothing in winter, to gradually discard them with the advent of spring. Firearms and daggers are carried. And all, irrespective of rank, wear a black silk forage cap with scarlet crown, which bears the initials of the ruler, and around it five semicircles worked in gold thread, denoting the five centuries of Montenegro's self-gained independence.

The women are mostly plain, and their costume—a shapeless white skirt and bodice, secured by a leathern belt and worn under a long dark coat of masculine shape—does not enhance their appearance. Although Christians, the Montenegrins regard their wives from a very different standpoint, and treat them as mere beasts of burden.

The Smallest Capital
Cettinje is the smallest capital in Europe, and in autumn the bleakest, with the exception, perhaps, of St. Petersburg, for it is not only piercingly cold, but very damp and windy. There are two broad, straggling, cobbled streets, with single-storied dwellings. The shops are very poor, although there are dark, malodorous dens occupied by gold and silversmiths, where genuine bargains can still be picked up in antique rings, filigree work, and women's heavy leather belts studded with gems (or glass), which are peculiar to this country. The principal square is in the centre of the town. King Nicholas is a tall, broad shouldered man with stern, hard some features and piercing grey eyes—a stately figure, upright as a gun barrel, notwithstanding his years. Although a smoker, he generally consumes about 100 cigarettes a day, and can still flick a cigarette from a friend's lips with a deft little flick at twelve paces.

TRANS-BALTIC MAILS BY AIR
Germany Makes Such a Proposal to Denmark

Germany has asked Denmark whether it is disposed to employ German ships in carrying the trans-Baltic mails, Denmark paying a small subsidy which will be devoted to building and maintaining an airship station at Amager, near Copenhagen. Germany contends that air mail service would be particularly advantageous in winter, when the ice often delays steamships.

Denmark acknowledged the receipt of the proposal and expressed the greatest interest in the scheme, but as yet has made no decision.

Overlook School Children
In his report on the medical inspection of school children in the Renfrewshire district of Scotland, Dr. Henry D. Robb stated that the number of children who were really undernourished formed a very small percentage. Cases of children being undernourished were more frequently met with among boys than among the girls. A considerable number of the children were found to be over-nourished.

FOR NINETY YEARS

Registralship at Barrie in the Lount Family That Long

Samuel Lount, Registrar of Deeds for Simcoe County, who died recently, came from a family that figured largely in the history of that part of Ontario since the year 1811, when the late Gabriel Lount, grandfather of the deceased, settled just south of Holland Landing. Samuel Lount, the oldest son and uncle of the late Mr. Lount, did not become a regular land surveyor like his father and younger brother, George, but was an expert woodsman, ranger and explorer of the great northern forests, and as such, assisted his brother with the survey of much of the southern portion of the County of Simcoe. In the course of time the elder Samuel Lount became one of the best known men of the country. Ultimately, in 1824, being elected one of the members of the Upper Canada Legislature for Simcoe County. The part he bore in the rebellion of '37 and his subsequent execution is familiar to all readers of the history of that period. George Lount, father of the dead Registrar, was born in 1799, and he qualified as a land surveyor. When Simcoe County was created into a separate district in 1826 George Lount became its first registrar. He was the first postmaster at Holland Landing and conducted a general trading store. In 1844 he removed to Barrie, which had been made the county town, and held the position of Registrar of Deeds until the year 1873, a period of almost half a century, when he resigned, and was immediately succeeded by his son, Mr. Samuel Lount. Thus it will be seen that the position has been held by the Lount family (father and son) for upwards of 90 years.

MANY PRINCES IN FIELD

Balkan Royal Personages Take More Chances Than Others

The number of princes of Royal blood who took to the field at the outbreak of the Turko-Balkan war constituted a record in modern history. It is quite in keeping with the medievalism which still lingers in the Balkans that this should be the case. Modern practice is against the presence of kings with their troops in war; too much depends on the chance bullet. In the Russo-Japanese conflict the Russian grand dual personages engaged took a very minor part in the war.

England gave a prince of the blood to the South African War and a soldier's grave. The Duke of Connaught was in the Egyptian War and the late Duke of Cambridge did doughty deeds at Inkerman. But the tragedy of the prince imperial proved a deterrent to royal adventures of this kind (servants show such risks).

GREAT SWIMMING FEAT

Russian Made Thirty Miles in a Day and a Night

A school teacher named Romanov swam thirty miles in the Caspian Sea in 24 hours and ten minutes, and at the end showed no undue fatigue, despite the strong wind and boisterous sea with which he had to contend. He claims to have beaten the record of T. W. Burgess, the champion English swimmer, who accomplished the journey between Dover and Calais last year, and has challenged the Britisher to a swimming contest from St. Petersburg to the Black Sea, or about 1,000 miles. Romanov proposes to start on his feat on the 17th inst. and to complete it in a fortnight.

HEAVY CANNONADE CAUSES GREAT EXODUS OF PEOPLE

Constant "Procession" of Residents Streams to the Outskirts of the Fire Zone

Mexico City, Feb. 16. For the first time since the remarkable battle between the federal troops and the rebel cannon, lasting half an hour, in the total darkness shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, the rebels were seen in the city. The reverberating reports of the exploding shrapnel shells revived the anxieties of residents and it was estimated at one time that the government forces were about to storm the rebel positions.

The exodus of the populace from the district under fire was even greater than that of yesterday. There was a constant procession of people hurrying through the streets to the suburbs long before dawn and this lasted until the middle of the day. The offices of the Imparcial were commanded by the federal troops this morning for use in their operations.

The rebel activity occasionally threw shells at the national palace, where the senators were endeavoring to devise a means of bringing about the federal board of command of the federal positions and continued steadily throughout the morning.

A series of sharp engagements occurred at various points, all the federal forces being armed with machine guns with machine gun and infantry firing, to which the rebels sharply responded.

The government batteries in Alameda Park came into action, as well as another near the Colonia Railroad Station, and still another on San Juan street, to east of the rebel positions.

After holding an executive meeting in the chamber of deputies the majority of the cabinet members left for the National Palace for the purpose of demanding the resignation of President Madero. They were accompanied by Francisco La Barra and the Spanish Ministry to Mexico.

HENRY VIII'S FLAGSHIP

Ancient Wooden Man-of-War Discovered in the Thames Mud

While excavating beside the river Woolwich, workmen unearthed from the mud parts of a large wooden ship in a good state of preservation. From her size and construction the vessel is believed to be a man-of-war of Tudor times.

Mr. W. T. Vincent, President of the Woolwich Antiquarian Society, drew attention to the fact that it was in this neighborhood that the Harry Grace & Dieu, the first great battleship of the British Navy, built by Henry VIII, met her fate by fire, as a contemporary record has it, "by carelessness of the mariners" in 1558. This vessel was built at the Royal Dockyard at Woolwich in 1512, and it was aboard her that Henry crossed to the Field of the Cloth of Gold.

The position in which the old vessel was found leads to the conclusion that she must have been run ashore in an ancient dock or creek, as she was on an even keel just on a level with low water-mark, twenty feet below the surface of the wharf in which excavations were being made when the vessel was discovered.

Two or three years ago an ancient barge was found deep down in Thames mud during the excavations for the London County Hall, and this was afterwards secured a fine relic of the Roman occupation, and now reposes in the London Museum.

BULGARIAN CZAR HAS FINE RECORD

Brought His Country out of Chaos Into State of Prosperity and Enlightenment

The most outstanding figure among the rulers of the Balkan countries undoubtedly is Ferdinand, of Bulgaria. It is only a little over a quarter of a century since Prince Ferdinand of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha assumed the duties of government in the principality which 21 years later he was to declare a kingdom. It was in July, 1887, that the Bulgarian people made him the vacant throne, and on August 14th, at Tirnovo the ancient capital of the Bulgarian Czar, he took the oath to observe the Constitution of his adopted country. Just a week later he made his entry into Sofia, and assumed his new functions as ruler.

The task which lay before the young sovereign was no easy one. It was exactly a year since his predecessor, the gallant Prince Alexander, had been seized in his palace by the troops whom he had led to victory, compelled to sign his abdication, and transported to Russian soil at Rens. Throughout his reign of seven years Prince Alexander had been confronted with the problem of reconciling the demands of the Bulgarian people to assert their independence with the claim of Russia to keep the newly liberated nation in leading-strings. He finally determined to adopt a national policy, and the part which he played in the Eastern Roumelian revolution sealed his fate.

Advised by His Mother Prince Ferdinand in his early reign derived inestimable advantage from the counsel of his mother, Princess Clementine, a highly gifted lady, whom Gladstone described as one of the cleverest women in Europe. A daughter of King Louis Philippe of France, the Princess, while still a girl, was accustomed to advise her father on matters of State; she possessed a masculine strength of character and a penetrating capacity of judgment, and it was largely owing to her initiative that her son embarked on his perilous adventure, which she was resolved to bring to a successful issue. Through her over her husband's family she was connected with many of the principal sovereigns of Europe, including Queen Victoria, who was much attached to her; she was acquainted with most of the leading figures in the political world, and she skillfully utilized her relationships and friendships in her own cause.

Proclamation of independence in 1908 it was widely felt in Bulgaria that the revolution in Turkey afforded a golden opportunity for the achievement of national unity, while the Prince, who noted the sympathy which the Young Turk movement had aroused in Europe, resolved on maintaining a policy of caution. But a slight step upon his representative at Constantinople by the new Turkish Government, and the action of the powers, who insisted that the Bulgarian portion of the Oriental Railway Company's line which had been seized by his Government should be restored to Turkey, produced a state of feeling in Bulgaria which could not be ignored, and on October 6, 1908, the Prince proclaimed at Tirnovo the independence of Bulgaria, and assumed the title of Czar of the Bulgarians.

The progress of Bulgaria under Ferdinand has been extraordinary. The condition of the people has greatly improved; education has made wonderful strides, and the commercial and industrial development of the country has been equally rapid. The country has been covered with a network of railways, and new ports have been constructed at a heavy outlay. The dynasty is now established, and its position has been further assured by the King's marriage with Princess Eleonore of Roumania-Kostritz, the present Queen whose beneficent activity in many directions has endeared her to the Bulgarian people.

TURKISH WORDS

"Sublime Porte" is one of those European expressions for Turkish institutions which are never used by the Turks themselves. The Ottoman Government's official title for itself is Hukumat-i-Saniye, the glorious Government.

Turks do not speak of "the Sultan," but of the "Padisha," a Persian term meaning the father of monarchs. Turkey is a geographical expression used outside the land it denotes but unknown to those who dwell in it. The Turks talk of Rumelia Anadol, the former residents may speak of Anatolia, Albania or the Lebanon. They will tell you that they live at Smyrna, Salonica or Beyrout or elsewhere, but the word Turkey never crosses their lips. In the realm in which there is no collective name for the territory of the Sultan.

Albania, Bulgaria and Roumania, though contiguous to one another, speak three entirely different languages. The Bulgarian tongue is that of ancient Russia, and Roumanian resembles that of ancient Rome more closely than modern Italian does. Albanian has no marked affinity with any other language, though philologists have discovered in it some slight traces of Pasque and Hungarian influence.

Where Nelson Fought There is now a fine field of cotton where over a hundred years ago some of Nelson's ships fought at the battle of the Nile. Delegates of the International Cotton Federation in Egypt visited near Aboukir Bay, an estate of 80,000 acres which has been reclaimed from the Mediterranean. Forty years ago the land was covered by a lake, but has now been drained.

WOMEN DOCTORS

According to an investigation recently made by the university authorities at Berlin there are at present upward of 172 certified women doctors in Germany. Between 1869 and 1909 forty-five German women took dental courses in America, and in the decade ending 1912 up and of sixty took the course of dentistry in Germany. In both dentistry and medicine women are doing well in Germany. On the other hand the demand for women lawyers in the Empire is almost nil, according to this investigation, and only two appear to be making any definite use of their diplomas.

The Great Phosphate and Mica Mines of The Progressive Mining Company Ltd.

Non-Personal Liabilities

Capitalized at $500,000. Divided into 500,000 shares of $1 each. 400,000 shares in the Treasury

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

If you wish to make your money work

The Company possess 607 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE. There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

POSSIBLE PRODUCTION AND PROFITS

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to pay credit 25 p.c. without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. The output of this Mica Mine is almost all sold in advance to large English firms.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

THE LAKES OF KILLARNEY

Embedded in the Midst of Miles of Majestic Mountains

The beautiful Lakes of Killarney are equal, if not superior to all other noted beauty spots in Western Europe. The scenery around them possesses a peculiar richness, and variety, and the vegetation a wild luxuriance which cannot be thoroughly appreciated until seen. Among the great writers who have given the lakes unsurpassed praise are Sir Walter Scott, Wordsworth, Thackeray, Macaulay, Sir Walter Scott said it was "the grandest sight he had ever seen." Wordsworth, that "in point of scenery the finest portion of the British Islands;" and Sir David Wilkie, the great painter, that "for beauty and grandeur, he had never seen them surpassed."

The lakes lie embedded in the midst of wildly majestic and lofty mountains, whose ridges and slopes are covered with the most luxuriant verdure and shrubbery, and in many places with splendid forest trees. The highest mountains are Carrigrohilly and Mangerton. The bosom of the lakes is dotted with romantic islands, some of which are connected by bridges with each other and with the shores; and all around are cascades and waterfalls of every size and form, many being prominent points of interest in the excursions. Besides their beauty, the Lakes of Killarney are of great interest on account of the many prehistoric remains found around them, and the ruins of the celebrated monasteries of Innisfallen, Muckross, and Aghadoe. The lakes cannot be satisfactorily seen and explored by the tourist in less than three days. Those, however, who have leisure, and wish to be more minute in their explorations, may spend weeks in roaming among the mountains and gleams with profit and gratification, each day exhibiting new and increasing beauties the closer and longer they are examined.

BRITAIN LEADS IN NAVAL POWER

Line-up of the Six Great European Powers Shows Her Apparently Safe Position

There is much food for reflection and many interesting comparisons to be drawn from figures contained in a return issued by the British Admiralty regarding the naval resources of the six leading European Powers. In carefully prepared tables is set down the exact effective sea fighting strength of Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Russia, and Austria-Hungary.

Exclusive of dreadnoughts, battle cruisers, armored, protected, or unprotected cruisers on the stocks, and without including 30 torpedo boat destroyers and four torpedo vessels in the yards of the builders, England's mighty fleet, according to the report totalled 657 ships of all classes, every one of which was ready for sea at once or at least within a few hours' notice.

There were 55 battleships and four battle cruisers of the indomitable class, "mystery ships," as they are termed, 31 comparatively fast armored cruisers, 35 protected cruisers of the first class, 35 protected cruisers of the second class, 15 unprotected cruisers of the third class, five unprotected cruisers, eight scout vessels, 25 torpedo vessels including special vessels such as depot ships, 179 torpedo boat destroyers, 109 torpedo boats and 55 submarines.

Ranged up alongside the British figures in the report were those of Germany which was shown to have 33 completed battleships, 2 battle cruisers, 9 armored cruisers, 24 second class cruisers, 11 of the third class, 4 unprotected cruisers, 109 torpedo boat destroyers, 90 torpedo boats and 18 submarines, the entire fleet of the Fatherland aggregating 359 vessels not including 59 building to the 75 vessels in the hands of British shipbuilders.

France's Big Navy
 It will perhaps come as a surprise to the majority of people to learn that the war fleet of France is just over 50 per cent better than that of Germany, the Republic being credited with 21 battleships, 21 armored cruisers, 6 protected cruisers, 4 second class armored cruisers, 6 third class cruisers, 2 torpedo vessels, 58 torpedo boat destroyers, 161 torpedo boats, nearly as many as Great Britain's and Germany's combined, and 58 submarines.

were always placed before him, and extracts from important speeches delivered in the House of Parliament were cut out and pasted on sheets of paper for his personal use. As is well known, the late King took a keen interest in sport, and he was always kept supplied with the latest information on that topic.

King George is a firm believer in doing things himself, and he personally reads the morning newspapers. His Majesty's private secretary saves a certain amount of time and trouble, however, by marking articles and items of news of special interest. The King then jots down notes while he is reading. Some of these notes take the shape of queries asking for further information on some particular subject, and it is the duty of the private secretary to see that this is supplied.

Kaiser a Hungry Reader
 The German Emperor is a very "hungry" reader, and is able to absorb a vast quantity of information in a very short time. He reads the papers quickly, and is especially interested in technical and engineering papers and in journals dealing with shipbuilding, gunnery, and other war-like matters.

The Emperor of Austria very rarely reads himself. He is read to. The aged monarch still takes the keenest possible interest in the political movements in his country; he also likes to keep abreast of the time in all other subjects. Literature and the arts do not, however, appeal to him.

The Czar of Russia has a paper of his own, specially printed each morning. It is the most exclusive paper in the world, for only two copies are supplied, one for the Czar, the other for his private secretary. It is a two-page sheet containing a digest of the news of the world, compressed into tabular form. Needless to say, everything calculated to disturb His Majesty's peace of mind is carefully omitted.

The King of Italy has a literary leaning and is fond of reading magazine articles, a taste shared by the King of Denmark, who is thoroughly informed on the literary movements of the day and well able to converse on them.

A Court Newsmen
 The King of Spain has a great admiration of everything English, and English papers and magazines figure on his study table. Details concerning his own kingdom are supplied by his secretaries and an official who holds the post of Court Newsmen and is supposed to be up in all the social gossip of the hour.

The late Emperor of Japan was exceedingly well informed and in his case also the bulk of his information was derived from English newspapers and reviews. As the Emperor could not read English with facility, the articles had to be translated into Japanese and a concise resume made. The famous Dowager Empress of China was probably the most smothering in the matter of her news supply. Anything considered of importance was carefully written on sheets of the great newspaper. These scrolls were read aloud by a court official, trained to the somewhat trying duty, for he had to prostrate himself but length on the floor behind a screen, so that he might not gaze upon the sacred face of the great lady.

A Sturdy Centenarian

"It's a grand thing to be alive and have good health," is the philosophy of Mr. William Brown, of Mottlingham Farm near Elyham, England, who maintains towards life an outlook of invincible optimism, and who is now over 102 years old.

"I eat well and sleep well," he confessed, "and can smoke my cigar and take my glass of grog with any man. I'm getting a trifle more dull in my ears, but it comforts me to know I never turned a deaf ear to any who were in want. I am glad to think there are some today who are better off because I gave them a helping hand."

Mr. Brown, when he grows reminiscent, has memories worth the telling. Among his early acquaintances was George Stephenson, the great engineer, "the best of all the Georges," he calls him. "I had many a talk with him, and helped him to make the railway from Liverpool to Chester, and I helped him to unload the first engine that ran on the Great Western to Maidenhead."

Mr. Brown's memory is as sound as his health. He recalls that he earned his first money when, at the age of eleven years, he worked on the construction of the first railway from Chester to Liverpool. He was a keen and industrious worker and later, as a contractor, he laid a line of railway from Elyham to Woolwich.

Mr. Brown is very proud of the fact that he rose entirely without assistance, by his own unaided efforts, up took Mottlingham Farm in 1853. Thirty years ago he started a "Boggy Road," where he gave a gift of land to the poor.

The Sultan's Forebears
 The Sultan of Turkey is the thirty-fifth sovereign of the family of Osman and the twenty-ninth since the capture of Constantinople in 1453. It was Mohammed II, who took the great city by assault, and he was the first to assume the title of Padishah. Selim I, acquired the title of Caliph in 1518, and also the sacred banner and other relics of the founder of Islam, which have since been preserved in the Seraglio at Constantinople. Under his son, Suleiman the Magnificent, Turkey reached the summit of her glory. He was the first to take the title of Sultan or Selim, or Sultan of Sultans, the predestined of the destinies of his descendants, the present Sultan.

King George Personally Reads Leading Journals—Some Rulers Have Papers Carefully Culled

The popular idea that kings live their lives apart, and know little or nothing about what is going on in the outside and workaday world, may have had some foundation in fact in the old days. Speaking generally, it has absolutely none now. Even the late Sultan of Turkey, Abdul Hamid, who was generally considered to be steeped in the exclusiveness of the East and wrapped up in himself and his own personal schemes, took good care to be informed of what was going on, not only in his kingdom, but outside it. His chief source of information, apart from his spies and the diplomatic representatives of Turkey in the various European capitals, was derived from French newspapers. These were delivered regularly at the royal palace, and it was the duty of two officials to read them through and commit anything which they considered of interest to the Sultan to memory. Admitted to the royal presence, they were called upon to recite what they had learned, and if the Sultan had doubts upon any point they were called upon to produce evidence, and were belittled if it was not immediately forthcoming and failed to substantiate their verbal statements.

LOOK TO CANADA FOR A NEW START

How the London Emigration Officials
Sift the Fit From the Unfit
Would-be Canadians

A visit to the various Canadian emigration offices in London brings one into contact with the many types of Britons who are contemplating settlement in the Dominion and affords an interesting insight into the methods of selection adopted by the officials.

What kind of men and women are these candidates for a new life in a new country? The best and perhaps the worst types. It is the business of the emigration officials to see that only the best go. Here is a prominent old man, he says he is 40; his face speaks of the privations and troubles of three score years. With earnestness that is pathetic, he pleads that he is able and willing to take up the arduous work of a Canadian farmer. Indeed it is his only escape from starvation, for he cannot obtain work in the old land. This "case" can be decided instantly. To the discerning official his undeveloped physique and enfeebled frame render him unfit for Canadian farming.

The next is of the right type. A country lad, 16 years old; a six foot with the thighs and muscles of one who has guided the plough from early boyhood. He is from Somersetshire, where he earned $3 a week and kept himself and he is after $30 a month and board in Canada. This man is scored right away.

The "Know-all" Along comes a type which is not liked very much in Canada, at least until he has learned not to emphasize his opinions. With all the assertiveness of the Londoner he, even at this stage, tells the man he has come to for information what he knows about Canada. In a mental vision one can see him telling the Canadian farmer
"the best way to do it." The official loses no time in assuring him that his best interests will be served if he is prepared to do things in the way Canadians want them done. "Excellent material," says the official, "he will be all right after a few months in the Dominion."

Then, there is the country gentleman with property who is disposing of his estate which has been in the family for centuries. Here is an old colonel, sunburnt from a score of years in India. He wants his son to go to Canada. "I don't want him pampered, sir, but if he gets in with the right people he will succeed," says the old soldier.

The Case of the Women
A deeper note is struck with the women. Here is one from London's fashionable quarter. Cultured and with the poise of a woman of breeding she is concerned about her son and wants him to go to Canada for his own good. A mother's tragedy is here. If he can get away from his "bet" he will be all right. And so the praisers offer the solution, and the mother's pain of parting from her boy is lost in the feeling that if he remains the future will hold a greater grief.

Then we see a woman with a family of no less than eight children. The official's eyes glaze when he hears this. They are country born; robust and healthy. One sturdy youngster of 16 has the sinews of a man, and he is prepared to take the place as breadwinner of the father, who is dead. They are all right and Canada will welcome them. A brave wife whose husband has lost heart in the unsuccessful struggle for a living is the next candidate. She is prepared to mend the family fortunes by taking a place as a domestic servant in Canada.

And so on in an endless procession.
One is welcomed; another is warned not to go to Canada. In this way the officials prevent many undesirable from reaching the Dominion. It is the most interesting and perhaps the most valuable Canadian work done in Great Britain.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

The Progress of the Movement
Throughout the World

Much is heard in Canada of "Votes for Women." It is interesting therefore to note the progress of this suffrage movement in other parts of the world. John Stuart Mill was the first champion of women's suffrage in the House of Commons. This was as long ago as 1837, when the Mrs. Pankhurst of to-day had scarcely learned the art of dressing a doll. Nine years later, in 1846, the bantling was crushed under the weight of an adverse majority of eighty-seven; and a good many years were to pass before legislators would listen to such a proposal. In 1897 the tide had turned; a Bill conferring the suffrage came triumphantly through the second reading in the House of Commons with a majority of seventy-one; two years later, the majority had grown to 114; and last year, when the Constitution Bill was put to the test of a second reading, 325 M.P.'s marched into the "Aye" lobby, while only a paltry eighty-eight said "No" to it.

The first woman registered her vote in New Zealand in 1893; the following year, 1894, South Australia took up the running; and West Australia followed in 1895.

In 1901, the first woman in the British Empire won the trophy, and in the same year the first woman in the Antipodes, was awarded to women.

BALKAN TROUBLE A QUEER TANGLE

Little States Formerly Part of Turkish Empire—Russia a Political Factor

Perhaps the most peculiar thing about the trouble in the Balkan Peninsula is that it is caused by the uprising of the group of little states themselves that have hitherto been only pawns in the diplomatic game of the great powers.

That the four little states which have taken it on themselves to defy the Ottoman Empire—Greece, Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro—should have formed a coalition as they now have is one of the surprising features of the whole affair. Only a few years ago most of the world had begun to believe that racial and national prejudices, which the Turks in Abdulhamid's day had played upon so effectually would make any approach to an understanding impossible.

Once Seized by Russia
Each of these four states was once part of the great Ottoman Empire that at one time reached almost to the gates of Vienna. Through their own insistent struggles and finally through the intervention of the Powers they obtained their independence and today they demand of Turkey that she same blessings of independence they are themselves enjoying shall be extended to those of their own race who yet remain under Ottoman rule.

The Berlin treaty, signed in 1878,
at the close of the Russo-Turkish war, was the most notable and probably the most carefully worked out of all the attempts to adjust and balance the conflicting claims and interests in the Balkan Peninsula. Russia had fought a successful war and was looking for rich rewards. If she really had ambitions for the acquisition of Constantinople, which had been one of the great points of Russian diplomatic policy as laid down by Peter the Great, she did not attempt to win them. Instead through the treaty of San Stefano, which she had entered with Turkey, she had hoped to establish a great Bulgarian state that would be bound to her by race, religion and political necessities. This Bulgaria was to include most of Macedonia, with a seaport on the Aegean and a boundary that extended almost from Constantinople to Salonica. This would have made Bulgaria by far the most powerful of the Balkan states and would have given Russia the predominant influence.

Russia's Plan Frustrated
But at the very first sitting of the congress of Berlin, Prince Bismarck suggested that the question of the greatest importance was the "delimitation and the organization of Bulgaria." Thus Russia was compelled to give up her grand designs and the new Bulgaria was restricted to the part of Turkey lying between the Danube and the Balkan Mountains.

The congress also established as independent states Montenegro, Serbia and Rumania. Bulgaria was still remained unsettled, however, two great questions, the disposition of Crete and of Macedonia. Plan after plan has been formulated and commission after commission has been appointed by the Powers to bring peace and quiet to each of these disturbed lands. Everything has proved ineffectual. There has been no great disturbing factor in the internal politics of Greece, and the condition of Macedonia was more recently put forward as a reason for war.

HUNTING THE SWORD FISH
A Great Sport off the Coast of New London, Conn.

Unless one can afford the time and expense of a whaling ship and a voyage into the Arctic, there is no sport-hunting that excels sword fishing off New London, Conn. Really you do not fish for the sword fish—you hunt him. When you find him, you fight him to a finish—his fish or yours. The season is the two adjoining weeks of June and July. In the dawn of morning you sail, or motor, into the open sea. By nine o'clock you are anchored in the sword belt with two men aloft, in the lookout. They sight a fin, signal and the boat speeds ahead. If the fish is at rest on the surface, it is easy to approach him. He treats the boat with contempt. He disdains meeting a boat head-on and he resents being followed, but if you get him crossing under your bow, the man in the "pulpit" away forward, usually drives a harpoon into him, and then the fight begins. There are 400 feet of cable attached to the iron, and a barrel at the other end. No, you do not make him fast to your boat. Madded by the sting of the steel, he heads for the open sea. When in deep water, he goes down, taking the barrel with him. While this one is bobbing the sting of the steel, he heads for the other end. No, you do not make

A Marmora Love Story. Police Magistrate Jarman of Bancroft has had his time pretty well occupied with an abduction case, the principals being a young girl from Marmora and a young man of Marmora, who has lately been making his home near the northern village. As the bride-to-be is not yet sixteen years of age, her mother made a very vigorous objection, and when they took the train to Marmora to have the ceremony performed, the mother came to Bancroft and laid information, charging the young man with abduction. The Magistrate made the arrest at Eldorado and brought the runaway bride to Bancroft. The girl's father came to town on Wednesday and gave his consent to the marriage. From Sunny Alberta. A local lady, who has relative living in "Sunny Alberta," on Saturday received a letter containing a story possibly worth repetition. It seems that the lady's correspondent had a friend who with two other men, recently went on a trip to Peace River. The friend did not come back, but one of his companions returned with one of the original six dog team, when the friend returned with money, he told a somewhat disjointed story about the disappearance of his companion. Suspicion was aroused and the N.W.M.P. were communicated with at a Northern fort. The policeman in authority at once went to a nearby Indian encampment and induced (or compelled) three squaws to accompany him to what he guessed might be the scene of a tragedy. The officer compelled the squaws in stocking feet, after some half-burned clothes of the deceased were found, to trudge through the half frozen muskeg or swamp. When half way across the morass, their sensitive feet felt unexpected resistance and the dismembered bodies of two dead men were buried in the mud. The survivor is now under arrest.

Memorial Sermons Yesterday. Rev. Canon Davidson delivered a memorial address, based on the recent Capt. Scott disaster, in St. John's church. His text was "The Heroic Side of Life." Fined for Illicit Hunting. At Saturday's police court, Edward Herron of Chemung Island, was charged with breaking into muskrat houses contrary to the statutes, for the purpose of securing the rats. He was convicted. He was ordered to pay a fine of $5 and the costs of the case amounting in all to $30.85. It was a case of cash up or go to Castle Nesbitt for three months. As Herron did not have the cash, a good natured man in the crowd paid the fine. The conviction was the result of work done by Fishery Inspector Watt.

Belmonts Entertain Mariboros. That the Belmont Club are good entertainers, is beyond contradiction. This was proven at the reception they gave to members of the Mariborough Club. Entertainment was followed by a musical program, winding up with refreshments. Among those who contributed to the program were L. Mendel, on the mandolin, and F. Clark on the banjo. Mr. Clark was engaged four times, when he gave his original composition, "His Watermelon," with banjo accompaniment. Dr. Park, the local violinist complimented Mr. Clark in his mastery of the banjo.

IMMORAL HOUSES ON DECREASE IN NEW YORK.

Police Department is More Active Since Rosenthal Case Brought Revelations.

New York, Feb. 15.—Since the murder of Herman Rosenthal, for which former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and four gunmen are confined in the death house at Sing Sing prison, the committee of fourteen, an organization of prominent citizens, in its annual report for 1912, finds a decrease in the number of disorderly houses in New York.

Previous to the Rosenthal case, the report says that "very little" was suppressed disorderly hotels. Since the murder the department has been much more active in suppressing all violations of law.

EAGLES IN DEATH FIGHT HIGH AMONG THE CLOUDS

Moultrie, Fla., Feb. 15.—Two eagles fought a battle to the death high in the air Tuesday morning at the outskirts of this village. They were first observed by a negro, who called the attention of School Superintendent D. D. Norcott, of St. John's County, to the aerial fight. The giant birds finally grappled each other with their talons, and after a few whirled both dropped 100 feet to the earth and were dashed to death.

WIFE WRECKED HUSBY'S OFFICE

Beautiful But Jealous Woman Made Serious Trouble.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Mrs. Genevieve Waver, the beautiful wife of a prominent automobile man of Chicago, visited her husband's office recently

She knocked down the glass partitions, scraped all the pictures from the walls, overturned the furniture that wasn't too hefty to handle, pulled the telephone out by the roots, and otherwise disarranged things.

The police were summoned, and when the patrol wagon pulled up outside the shop Mrs. Waver locked herself into a closet.

"Madame, you'll have to come out of there," said stout copper. "Us policemen are busy gents, and we haven't any time to waste."

There was no response from Mrs. Waver, so the policemen got a kit of tools from their wagon and set to work to remove the hinges of the door. When the door was lifted off Mrs. Waver, smiling at the men for their trouble, stepped out of the closet.

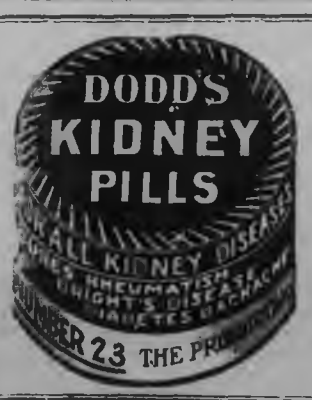

She wanted to ride to the station house in one of her husband's automobiles, but was persuaded to accept a seat in the patrol wagon by copper, whose collars were wilted and whose patience had evaporated.

Mr. Waver, who is secretary of the Pathfinder Motor Car Company, got a bodysman for his life, and the copper sent a boy out for a dozen paper collars. A friend of Waver's explained things to the police.

"She's insanely jealous, and from what occurred at the Pathfinder office, it might be said that she also has a temper. If he isn't loving her all the time she's suspicious. Perhaps it's her nature and she can't help it. She's one of the finest women in Chicago, but oh, so jealous."

Our Only Son Victim of Mysterious Bleeding Affliction

The pronouncement of the Czar's physicians concerning the illness of the Czarvitch—that the boy is a hemophilic—is the subject of interesting comment in an issue of the "Hospital." It is stated that this strange and terrible malady, whose victims bleed excessively after comparatively slight injuries, has occurred at intervals among the scions of European Royal families since the Middle Ages, and that at present many princes are suffering from it. Their blood lacks to a greater or lesser degree that power of coagulation or clotting which in normal persons leads to natural arrest of hemorrhage after any but very serious injuries to large blood vessels. The late Duke of Albany suffered from the disease, and eventually died of it. The second son of the King and Queen of Spain is said to be afflicted by it and to be incurably deaf in consequence of hemorrhage into the internal ear. Rumors are also current that the Hohenzollerns are not exempt from it. The disease hardly ever occurs in females; but is handed down almost exclusively through the female line.

TABLOID INFORMATION REGARDING BALKAN

The area of Montenegro is 1,450 square miles, considerably less than the size of Wales.

The population of Turkey consists of an extraordinary mixture of races. In European Turkey the Turks are about 2,000,000, the Greeks and Bulgarians, 1,300,000, and the Albanians, 1,500,000. In Asia the Turks are about 7,000,000, the Kurds 1,000,000, the Greeks 1,000,000 and the Armenians over 2,000,000, while the rest is made up of Servians, Jews, Franks, Gipsies, Tartars, Christians, etc.

The Balkans is the name given to the Balkan Peninsula, which includes the following countries: Turkey in Europe, with its possessions, Macedonia and Albania; Bulgaria, with Eastern Rumania; Serbia; Montenegro; and Greece.

Serbia is an agricultural country, where almost every peasant cultivates his own freehold. There is no pauperism in the sense in which it is understood in the West. There are a few poor people in Belgrade, the capital, but neither their poverty nor their number has necessitated an institution like a workhouse.

Bulgaria is a very small country, with a total population of only a little over 4,000,000, or rather less than Ireland, which it only slightly exceeds in area.

VOL. XL, NO. 41. PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, FEB. 18, 1913. PRICE, TWO CENTS.

ASSESSOR W. J. HENRY GIVEN AN INCREASE IN SALARY

On Ald. Green's Motion, The Salary Fixed on a Graded Scale of From $1,400 to $1,800 a Year—Mr. Henry Gets an Increase of $100 This Year

The City Fathers met in special session last night. There were present Mayor W. H. Bradburn, Aldermen McIntyre, Anderson, Langford, Green, Duffus, Gordon, Gillespie, Buller, Johnston and Duncan.

W. J. Henry, city assessor, tendered his resignation to take effect as soon as possible. This was received and dealt with subsequently.

D. O'Connell wrote that on behalf of his clients, adjacent residents to Downie street creek, unless decisive action to remedy the nuisance engendered by this creek within two weeks from February 18th proceedings against the city will be instituted. The clerk was instructed to reply that the City Engineer has already been instructed to report on this vexed question.

Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., wrote that the Government had appropriated $400,000 for the Georgian Bay end of the canal.

INCREASES IN SALARIES.

The report of the Committee of the Whole was submitted by Ald. G. Walter Green. On motion of Ald. Green and Duffus the increase to the Tax Collector was raised from $80 to $100.

The report was then adopted, confirming the increases in salaries reported as a result of the deliberations of the Committee of the Whole on this question last week.

Engineer Jameson, of the fire hall was classed as a third year fireman with a salary of $750 a year. In addition to this Mr. Jameson gets $100 a year from the Board of Works for looking after the South City Pumping Station.

THE ASSESSORSHIP.

The question of W. J. Henry's resignation as assessor was here introduced by the Mayor.

Ald. Duncan offered that Mr. Henry would re-consider his resignation providing he were given more work by which he could supplement his salary as assessor—$1400—that is to say if Mr. Henry could fill in time by relieving some overburdened official of a portion of his duties.

Ald. Johnston thought Mr. Henry had made a mistake. He did not think he was doing bad with $1400 per year for a start, which the assessor would probably increase another year.

To Ald. Duffus the Mayor replied that Mr. Henry had resigned because he did not consider he was being sufficiently paid, considering that he has to pay for his own office help.

Ald. Duffus thought there are plenty of good men willing to accept the position at the present salary or even less.

His Worship took exception to Ald. Duffus contention that there were plenty of (4000) men open for the position at $1400 a year.

Ald. Green thought a good assessor worthy of more money than $1400, especially when he has to pay for his own office help. He thought the salary for this and even other city positions should be graded with an increase each year until a maximum limit is reached. The growth of the city must entail more labor each year.

Ald. McIntyre and Buller advised that Mr. Henry's resignation be accepted and the position advertised.

The Mayor—Personally if Mr. Henry would accept an increase of $100 I'd be willing to acquiesce; but from Mr. Henry's conversation with me, I must conclude would not satisfy him.

Ald. Anderson thought that if Mr. Henry had wanted an increase he should have asked for it or if he had contemplated resigning he might have intimated earlier in the year and thus avoid handicapping the Council at this time of the year when the assessor should be getting busy on his work.

SCENE AT WRECK ON ELEVATED RAILROAD IN NEW YORK, WHERE A POLICEMAN WAS KILLED AND A SCORE OF PERSONS INJURED.

WRECKING CREW CLEARING THE WAY FOR TRAFFIC. THE WRECKED CARS.

A policeman was killed and at least a score of persons were injured in a collision between two southbound trains of the Third Avenue Elevated Railroad, near Thirty-second street, New York, and by burns in the resulting fire, which added to the horrors of the wreck.

The crash was so great that the motor car of the rear train was forced one-fourth of its length over the edge of the elevated structure, where it swayed, in momentary danger of plunging into the street, carrying with it the many injured passengers in it.

The fire, which sprang up immediately after the crash, is believed to have been responsible for the death of a man whose charred body was recovered from the second train's motor car after the firemen had subdued the flames.

The accident, it is believed, occurred when the forward train stopped suddenly, and the motorman of the rear train was unable to avoid a collision.

The policeman who gave his life to aid other passengers was John M. Gleason, twenty-three years old. He was burned to death. John Moseman, a chauffeur, who witnessed the crash, succeeded in saving many lives through his daring and heroism.

ATTACK MADE ON ENVER BEY, LEADER OF THE TURKS

Was Shot at And Wounded When Leaving the Sultan's Harem by a Secret Way

Constantinople, Feb. 17.—Enver Bey, the Young Turk who made such a havoc out of his Gallipoli expedition, was wounded by an assassin last night, according to a semi-official report to-day. Enver was attempting to leave the Sultan's harem by a secret passage when attacked.

A despatch by wireless from Constantinople to-day says Enver Bey was stabbed severely several times.

Galipoli, in the worst kind of weather, all the houses being filled with wounded.

It is reported that he will ship his men again to take them across the Dardanelles, owing to the report that the Greeks have landed near Bezika Bay, intending to take the forts on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles in the rear.

A correspondent of the Daily News says there are almost certain to be accidents, however, if this move is attempted, for the boats are bad and would be over-crowded and a great tempest is blowing.

Had Hope, But No Food.

Enver was an idealist's armada, not that of a practical sailor. His men started filled with hope, but without food they soon got dispirited. The leaders disdained ordinary precautions for supplying water to the ships, and on the eve of starting they tried to grab two water boats belonging to a local Scottish shipping and hungry, in the open streets of firm, but they did not succeed.

BRING SPITE FROM ITALY

END IT IN DUEL AT CALGARY

Calgary, Alta., Feb. 17.—The Italian quarter of the city was the scene of a desperate battle Sunday evening, during which a dozen or more shots were fired and D. Spisito received fatal wounds. Goetzan Metropoli, with a wound in the wrist, is in jail charged with shooting Spisito.

The shooting is said to have been the result of an enmity brought with them from Italy. Spisito and Metropoli fought, but were separated. They went home and secured weapons and a short time later, each accompanied by a friend, met in the street. Spisito opened fire and there were presently four or five men shooting at once. Metropoli rushed close up to Spisito and, seizing him by the coat, emptied his revolver, wounding him in head, chest and arms.

PRINCE AIDS HURT TOT.

Heidelberg, Germany, Feb. 17.—Prince Henry of the Netherlands ran over and seriously injured a five-year-old child while driving an automobile through the principal streets of this town yesterday. He picked the child up and took it in his automobile to the local hospital.

AMERICAN FORCES AVAILABLE FOR ARMED INVASION OF AMERICA

Washington, Feb. 16.—Six battle-ships—four on the Atlantic and two on the Pacific—are now en route to Mexican ports, with 6,000 blue-jackets aboard and available for short duty if necessary.

The First Brigade of the First Division of the army, about 3,000 strong, and all stationed in New York State, is under orders for "expeditionary service."

Within twenty-four hours after the order to move is given these troops can reach New York by train and be embarked on transports for Mexican ports.

Preparations have been made to move 2,500 marines from the ships of the Atlantic fleet and the Guantánamo naval station to Vera Cruz, to be held there in readiness for landing.

Vessels of the Atlantic fleet at Guantánamo and ready for duty in Mexican waters include five Dreadnoughts, nine other warships and a number of torpedo-boat destroyers. The number of men available approximately is 4,500.

Four armored vessels of the Pacific fleet are available for service in Mexican waters in addition to those under steam. Five hundred marines can be sent from the Pacific Coast to points along the Mexican Pacific Coast in a few days.

Available for duty within ten days in Mexico or along the Mexican border are 15,000 regulars. It would be possible to embark all of these troops and have them en route for Mexico within a week.

On the isthmus of Panama ready for duty in Mexico is the tenth infantry.

TO INCREASE OUR TRADE

Hon. George E. Foster's Most Important Mission

(Special to The Times.)
Ottawa, Feb. 18.—Hon. George E. Foster left this week for a six months' trip of more than ordinary importance to Canada. He will visit New Zealand, Australia and the Far East. The immediate object of the trip is to attend the sessions of the Imperial Trade Commission, a body appointed by the British Government to make a thorough inquiry into the whole question of trade with the Empire. The commission will hold a month's sitting in New Zealand and a two months' sitting in Australia. While in Australia Mr. Foster will complete negotiations for closer relations with the commonwealth.

SEPARATE SCHOOL LAWS IN PROVINCE OF SASK.

The Hon. W. B. Willoughby of Saskatchewan, leader of the Opposition in the Legislature there, and at present in east, said in an interview:—The Legislature brought in recently by the Liberal leader in Saskatchewan is the most far-reaching and tyrannical measure ever brought in in Canada, so far as I know. The law hitherto has clearly been the usual Separate School law, just exactly as prevalent in Ontario. At any rate no stronger and closely following it. But the Separate School system in Saskatchewan was not a success and, in order to make it so beyond doubt, the Government demanded that a law should be passed compelling all Roman Catholic electors to support it. The pretence that electors might move away after incurring a debenture liability, if not bound personally, is one that is rendered ridiculous when we think of the rules and law governing such matters in every municipality in the known world. A large deputation of Liberals protested to the Government against it, but the population in the West if of such a character as to make the new law a desirable political move and for that reason the Government was made. It has acted like a match to powder, however, and will, I am led to believe, be the cause of a tremendous upheaval in public opinion throughout Canada.

CHIEF SHOTS MAN HE WAS TO ARREST

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Feb. 17.—Cornered in an upper room by an armed maniac, Chief of Police Ralph Vincent had an exciting experience late last night which culminated in the maniac, William Saunders, being shot through the hand and thigh before he was stopped. The Chief had gone to the house to make the arrest, but the man had a gun. He was inside the kitchen when Saunders drew the gun, loaded in five chambers, also a sword bayonet. The Chief had a sword bayonet in the door, but this was broken in by Saunders. When his hand came through the Chief shot at it, but to no effect, as the maniac still came on. The Chief had hit him, but the bullet had hit his thigh, and he then fell over and was conveyed to the hospital, where his recovery is regarded as doubtful.

GERMAN EXPEDITION IS IN GRAVE DANGER

Norwegian Relief Party Forced to Return Without Them in a Pitiful Condition.
Christiania, Norway, Feb. 17.—The second Norwegian expedition sent to the relief of the German scientists stranded in a remote part of Spitzbergen has not succeeded in its undertaking. It left Advent Bay late in January, but was forced to return to green harbor in a pitiful condition.

No further effort will be possible until additional dogs are sent from Norway. Experts consider that unless the Germans are rescued in the near future their position will be very precarious.

The Liberal Policy

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—"The Liberals oppose the Borden Navy policy from both the Imperial and the Canadian standpoint," says the Ottawa Free Press, the organ of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. This certainly will be news to many Liberals throughout the country, whose patriotism comes before party.

J. P. MORGAN, III, IS NOT SERIOUS

London, Feb. 17.—J. Pierpont Morgan has been taken suddenly and seriously ill at Cairo, Egypt, according to a despatch from Rome to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

The despatch adds that Mr. Morgan is to-day being brought back to Naples on board the steamship Caronia and that he is accompanied by two physicians and two nurses.

The report about J. Pierpont Morgan's ill health given out by the Exchange Telegraph Company, has not been confirmed, or even mentioned through any other news source.

New York, Feb. 17.—From authoritative private sources it is learned that Mr. Morgan had an acute attack of indigestion three or four days ago, but it passed off and he is now in his usual health. He is leaving Alexandria to-day on the Caronia for Naples and is due in Naples on the 28th and expects then to take his usual journey up through Italy.

FIRE BUG LOOSE AT STANLEY BARRACKS?

Toronto, Feb. 17.—Within a few days no less than three fires have occurred in Stanley Barracks, though fortunately all were discovered while they were in an incipient stage. The first blaze took place in the officers' stables, and nearly resulted in the loss of several valuable chargers. This was followed by another in the stables of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, while the third broke out in the canteen. All were extinguished before the flames made much headway.

The stable at the time contained several valuable horses, two chargers, Capt. Bell's valuable jumper, and several polo ponies.

No alarming news has come that the commanding officer has, in order to guard against future conflagrations, a fire piquet told off for duty every evening, under the charge of a non-commissioned officer. The piquet mounts at retreat and remains on watch until reveille.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Friedmann's sure cure for tuberculosis stirs but little interest. There were others.

New York Chamber of Commerce, with only seven dissenting votes, has declared for the course of national honor at Panama.

One has ever questioned former Lieut. Richmond P. Hobson's courage. He will lead a division in the woman's inaugural parade.

This overwhelming vote of 18,000 London school teachers against equal pay for men and women would have been more remarkable had not 12,000 of them been men.

Two Chicago undertakers are running for alderman in one ward, and the result of the contest may depend upon which one of them gets the most of the graveyard vote.

Down in Mexico City Diaz and Madero are each demanding the surrender of the other. In a little while, both of them may be obliged to surrender to their Uncle Samuel.

Rev. Dr. W. F. Wilson, of Elm Street Church, Toronto, has adopted the method of publishing weekly a short synopsis of one of his Sunday sermons, which is distributed free to any member of the congregation who requests it. It is proving of special value to those who are shut in, and is being largely called for quite outside the bounds of his own immediate congregation. Dr. Wilson is setting an example that might be well worth following by others.

It is plain that William Rockefeller was in no condition to be examined by the Pujol committee. How easy all this trouble could have been prevented! If Mr. Rockefeller's counsel had accepted service and Mr. Rockefeller's physicians had certified that he was unfit to testify, that would have been the end of it. It was the refusal of Mr. Rockefeller's defying the authority of Congress and flouting committees of Congress that made it necessary for the government to bring him to bay. The whole incident shows how much had advice a millionaire can buy with his money.

A SUFFICIENT OF SERMONS

Without a doubt the name of the Rev. Dr. William Hamilton, pastor of the South Side Methodist Church, Wilkesburg, U.S., will go down to posterity as one of the most voluminous preachers that ever lived. There are all manners of feats attempted nowadays, and evidently the reverend doctor discerns no reason why the pulpit should not occasionally be in the running. He has just accomplished a world's record of preaching 21 sermons in 21 consecutive hours. Each discourse was from a different text and each required from 40 to 45 minutes for delivery.

Taking as a basis that the average speaker's flow of rhetoric runs somewhere in the neighborhood of 120 words per minute, the reverend gentleman in the course of his descent, ations got rid of something like the presentable total of 100,000 words, or, run into type, over 100 columns of 11 Times!

CANADA'S HELP.

The Berlin correspondent of "The Navy," the organ of the Navy League in England, says of those who have been describing the British Empire as being on its last legs:

"But they and their disciples of the press have again been thrown into confusion by the Canadian declaration of union between the mother country and its first Dominion on all matters touching the maintenance of the Pax Britannica, they rightly regard as being of immense significance. But it is too much to expect that henceforth the German nation, repudiating these false prophets will arrive at a sane understanding of the facts that never before has the British Empire stood upon a firm foundation, that a challenge to Britain means a challenge to a world wide Empire, and that a blow struck at her will be returned with the united force of the Imperial Commonwealth."

The writer states that the idea that the British Empire is a flimsy framework has taken deep root in Germany. "But each fresh manifestation of unity in the British Empire will help to dispel this false idea, and it is probably a sober fact that the signs of 'militarism' which short-sighted people at home affect to discern in the action of Canada and the other dominions will do more than any isolated efforts on the part of England herself could do to convince our continental rivals that a continuance of their anti-British policy can bring nothing save trouble and loss to themselves. As regards their actual value as arbiters of peace, the Canadian Dreadnoughts represent much more than three additional units for the Imperial fleet. Certainly these three ships, or the principle to which they give expression, will inspire more respect in Europe than a whole squadron of Dreadnoughts built at the initiative of England alone."

SCHOOLS AND LANGUAGE.

No seriously minded person will question the right and the duty of the Provincial authorities to preserve English as the official language of this Province, and to insist that it shall be the language in which all school subjects shall be taught. The Times thinks that to permit anything different or demand anything less from the schools would be neglect of duty on the part of the Government of Ontario. In this there is nothing harsh towards the French-Canadian, nor any disposition on the part of the authorities or the general public to be severe on him or other settlers who may come to Ontario. It is a reasonable demand, a just restriction that all schools receiving Government aid or using the Provincial machinery for the collection of rates shall be taught in English. The school regulations permit—always have permitted—the teaching of French or German as an optional subject in schools when the trustees wish these subjects taught.

Mr. Evanturel, of Prescott, has put a question on the order paper in the Legislature which he evidently intends to lead to a discussion on bilingual schools. He said to a news paper reporter that he wishes to learn English, that he wishes his children to learn English. If he is sincere in his statement all he has to do is to send his children to the nearest Public or Separate School and then do his very best to aid the Minister of Education to make the school and all similar schools efficient.

The Minister has taken steps to make these schools efficient, to make them capable of teaching English to the member's children and at the same time teaching them French het-

Do You Feel Moody, Irritable, Depressed

When That Laggid, Laggid, Easily-Tired Feeling Comes, Your Liver is Slow

Tells How to Act Quickly

"Even when I was young I was not robust and healthy like other girls. I suffered from headaches, and had sort of blue feelings that deprived me of the joyful spirits, and pleasures other girls seemed to get. After I married I found I could not throw worries off like other women, and those full feelings of despondency and weariness made me very unhappy. There was no cause to feel so, and my doctor said my liver was sluggish, and this accounted for my poor color, my tiredness, languor and despair. The pills the doctor gave me were too purgative, made me weaker because they were too active for my constitution. Dozens of my friends recommended Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and they were so mild and helpful. Well, I never used a pill that acted so quietly as Dr. Hamilton's. They were so comfortable to use, I was afraid they might not help. But in a week I knew they had been actively engaged in clearing up my system. They did the work of a tonic and blood medicine combined. I improved to a marvelous degree with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and I now maintain the most perfect kind of health by using them just once or twice a week."

It is Mrs. E. V. Erlanger, well known at Gloucester, who relates the above experience. She proved what you and all other men and women can prove—that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are best for restoring health and best for keeping the system in perfect running order. Don't be misled into using anything but Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. a box, five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid by the Catarhizone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

AIMED AT CAT KILLED HIMSELF

Looked at Gun to See Why It Would Not Go Off—James Morrison, Dead

Toronto, Feb. 15.—When he attempted to shoot a cat on his farm near Gormley, Ont., Saturday, Jas. "Burt" Morrison, aged 28, was so terribly injured that he died at 5.30 p.m. Saturday. The young man received the charge of shot intended for the cat, in the lower part of the abdomen.

Elijah Rose, a farmer living at Gormley, heard the report of the gun and rushed to the rear door of Morrison's house. There he found the man groaning on the floor.

Before lapsing into a state of unconsciousness Morrison said that he had attempted to shoot a cat on the fence to test his aim. The cartridge hung fire, despite the efforts of Morrison to cause the discharge.

He then turned the muzzle of the gun towards his abdomen while he tried to extract the cartridge. Just as he did so the power exploded, the bullet entering Morrison's body.

After medical attendance had been secured the young man was taken to Toronto on the Metropolitan car. Ellis' private ambulance met the car and conveyed the patient to the Western Hospital.

H. K. THAW WORKS ON THE BOOKS

Asks Mattedwaw Officials for Something to Keep Him Busy.

Albany, Feb. 16.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, has become a workaholic. With the announcement that the Legislature would appropriate $10,000 to pay former District Attorney Jerome for services in Thaw's last fight for freedom came word from Mattedwaw that Thaw had become a book-keeper. The officials at Mattedwaw reported that Thaw asked to be set to work for the first time a few weeks ago. Four-over books and figures from five to eight hours daily, it was learned has made a changed man of Thaw. He no longer complains of confinement, nor does he criticize the officials over him.

Thaw's altered demeanor is said to date from the day, several weeks ago when he was taken to New York to testify in the suit brought against his mother, Mrs. Mary Coffey Thaw, for the collection of a debt. The official in whose charge Thaw visited New York reported afterward that Thaw expressed a desire to return to Mattedwaw Asylum as soon as his testimony had been taken on the stand. Thaw at that time had been giving as a bookkeeper for a few days and seemed anxious to get back to his desk.

The most unusual self-imposed change in Thaw's daily routine relates to his meals. Up to the time that he took up bookkeeping, Thaw used to have his three meals brought in to him from outside the asylum. He used to partake of all the season's delicacies, omitting nothing of a culinary character calculated to make life more endurable behind asylum walls.

Now Thaw eats only the prison fare, soups, roast meats, bread and coffee, such as are supplied to the other inmates.

The fact that Thaw's mother no longer makes her residence in a little cottage within a stone's throw of the asylum and undertakes few trips to Mattedwaw to visit him, in connection with his changed attitude, gives an impression that he proposed to give up fighting for his liberty for some time to come.

Warned of Coming of Malefactors, Nevertheless Lets Four Men Escape After Trying Sale in Post-office and Taking Woodmen of the World Fund.

St. Martinville, La., Feb. 16.—All St. Martinville learned Tuesday over the signal discontinuity of Sheriff Fournet and the force of eighteen deputies with which the town was patrolled—on Sunday night in an effort to apprehend the gang of crackmen, who later on, and regardless of the investigation and inventory now a desk, which the gang opened and rifled. Whether they secured anything from the postoffice safe in the same room will not be known until under way by Postmaster Robert armed patrol, succeeded in effecting an entrance to the postoffice and getting away with $61 belonging to the local lodge of W.O.W., and locked in Halpham is completed. Although successful in the main, the men were forced to leave behind a victory, a fuse, already to light and a quantity of fluid in a bottle, believed to be nitro-glycerine.

The warning came to Sheriff Fournet that the men believed to be crackmen, were headed for St. Martinville, about 9 o'clock, the notice coming from the conductor of a Southern Railway freight, who saw the suspicious activity of the train at Cade. The Sheriff immediately marshaled his force, the lighting plant was ordered to keep the current on and the light burning while the guards watched all the avenues of approach to the town. The citizen police watched uneasily.

"NO MAN IF WIFE TAKES YOUR PAY"

Baltimore, Feb. 16.—Criminal Court Judge Dobler says that a man who gives his wife his weekly pay envelope to his wife is no man at all.

The occasion for this legal dictum was the trial of Thomas Nichols for failing to support his wife, Nichols makes $24 a week. In a spirit of remorse and generosity Nichols told Judge Dobler that he would hereafter turn over all his money to his wife each week.

"No," said Judge Dobler in vigorous protest; "I do not want you to do that. A man who gives his wife his salary is no man at all. The man is the treasurer of the family and he should be the financial head in reality as well as in theory. A man who turns over his envelope each week to his wife cannot be a very strong character, and I am not in favor of a man putting himself in such a position. A man must take some pride in the fact that he is a man and the head of the house."

INTERVENTION IS DENIED BY TAFT

Madero Was Missing When Senate Sought Peace Intervention.

Mexico City, Feb. 16.—"I come to the aid of the fatherland" is the note of a manifesto prepared by the members of the senate, for publication to-day. As they were unable to find President Madero in the national palace, the delegation of senators who went there came back to report to the entire body, sitting in secret session.

The senators later determined to inform the public of the alleged determination of the United States to intervene.

London, Feb. 15.—Early to-day a party of suffragette raiders swooped down on the West Essex Golf Club, and after devastating the putting greens, cut the new legend in the turf, in letters a foot high. They also attacked the Sandwich Golf Club and greatly damaged the greens there. The women escaped. They also damaged the St. George's and Raynes Park golf clubs. On the greens of both these clubs they etched "votes for women" with vitriol.

RAPID PROGRESS OF SEA SCOUTING

British Boys Taking up the Idea With Enthusiasm—Chief Scout Recommends it for Colonies

One of the things which struck Lieutenant General Sir R. Baden-Powell during his trip round the Empire was the great possibility of sea-scouting for boys. By developing this section of the Boy Scouts' work the Chief Scout was convinced that it would be of inestimable value to the Dominions who are now occupied with the question of building navies. It would, he argued, give the boys the call of the sea, and the training they received would be of a character to make them good seamen.

In Great Britain sea-scouting is being taken up with enthusiasm by the Boy Scouts' Troops have already

UNITED STATES ARMY AND NAVY READY FOR SERVICE

Six Thousand Jackies on Mexican Ready to Sail at the Drop of The Hat

Washington, Feb. 17. President Taft's reply to Madero's appeal to keep United States troops out of Mexico, pending his further attempt to put down the Diaz revolt, is going forward to-day. While its exact nature had not been disclosed to-day it is understood to be practically a re-affirmation of the United States Government's attitude as previously expressed, coupled with a strong warning to Madero that the United States has the right to land its troops in Mexico to protect Americans and other foreigners should a state of anarchy come about, or should neither of the opposing forces extend protection.

The latest phases of the situation were considered at a Cabinet meeting which lasted until early this morning. At its close it was announced that the reply to Madero's telegram of Saturday should go forward.

Meanwhile the army and navy continues to move into position to do instant work.

The total number of United States men-of-war in Mexican ports is six, bearing approximately 6000 jackies, officers and marines, who could be landed for the relief of the legations at Mexico City should they become endangered.

It is known that the thing which President Taft and the Cabinet now regard with most concern is the maintenance of communication with Mexico City, or any attempt on the part of Madero Government to put a censorship on dispatches to the Washington Government. The isolation of the United States Embassy and foreigners would be one of the first things to force the landing of troops on Mexican soil at this juncture.

POOR BOOK AGENT INVENTS AEROPLANE SAFETY DEVICE

Paris, Feb. 15. Rene Quinton, president of the National Aerial League, announces that a really practicable automatic safety device for aeroplanes has been discovered. It is the invention of a poor book agent named Moreau, and consists of a sort of freely swinging pendulum, with an ingenious arrangement which steadies the machine when oscillations become dangerous.

The military department has been secretly testing the invention for some time, and to-day in the presence of a delegate of the Minister of War, Moreau, with one passenger, flew an aeroplane fitted with his device for 3 minutes in a strong wind without touching the levers, except the upward and downward rudder. It is claimed the device makes the capsizing of an aeroplane practically impossible.

SIR EDMUND WALKER CALLS U. S. BANKS BEHIND TIMES

Tells Currency Reform Committee That Canada Should Have Individual Banking System Aided by Government

Washington, Feb. 17.—Sir Edmund Walker, of Toronto, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce before the Currency Reform Committee of the House, declared the defects of the United States banking system were a lack of flexible currency, and fixed reserves which dissipated needed cash in times of stress.

Sir Edmund declared that the banks of the United States had not grown in relation to the great industries of the country, and that, they were now "behind the times." He recommended a system of regional banking organizations to strengthen the individual banks.

In these regional divisions he said the bank should be allowed to issue asset currency, in bank note form which would appear as it was needed and disappear when the need for it had passed. The National Bank note system, he said, should be continued and perfected.

He witnessed thought that in addition to maintaining the national banking system, the "individual banking system" should be aided by the Government. He recommended that permission be granted to private bankers to establish large banks in the large cities of the country with branches in foreign countries.

He said that had banking could not be prevented by Government guarantee of deposits.

ALARMED OVER FRENCH RUSH

Steady Effort to Colonize Along the Grand Trunk Pacific

Halifax, Feb. 16.—The announcement that the French-Canadians of Northern Ontario are organizing a campaign with the object of bringing in farmers from lower Quebec to colonize along the Grand Trunk Pacific is not news to those who are acquainted with conditions in this section, said a prominent citizen.

For year past now the French-Canadians of this district have been bringing in their compatriots and adding to the already large colonies of them that exist in the various towns of the north. In this town, for instance, nearly one-third of the total population is French in origin and speech. The diocese of Timiskaming, which covers the whole of Northern Ontario including the whole length of the Transcontinental as far as it passes through Ontario, is governed by a French bishop and there is only one priest of Irish origin in the whole diocese.

H. T. Routley, President of the Halifax Board of Trade, and a moving spirit in colonization work for the district, when asked what effect he thought the campaign would have in Northern Ontario, said that he saw in the movement a great danger to the educational work among the children of the settlers.

"A big influx of Quebec farmers will inevitably result in a disorganization of the present school system," he said, "as these newcomers will insist on their own schools even in districts where there are not enough of them to support an efficient one. If the advertising campaign succeeds in bringing in many of these settlers from lower Quebec the public bodies of Northern Ontario may be confronted with a grave problem along this line. The whole movement brings out the urgent need that exists for a more energetic campaign for bringing in young men from Southern Ontario."

FIVE YEARS THEN WAR

Senator Lodge Predicts War and Asks for More Ships

Washington, Feb. 17.—"If the United States abandons its policy of maintaining a powerful navy, within five years—certainly within ten years—aggressions would be made upon us which the American people would not tolerate for a moment."

This was the warning issued by Senator Lodge (Rep. of Mass.) in a speech at the Naval War College to-night, pleading for a big navy as a "guarantee of peace" and nothing else.

"For the peace of the country and therefore for the peace of the world," declared the senator, "a powerful American navy in the present condition of human affairs is absolutely essential. No extravagance which can be committed will equal that of economizing by reducing the navy."

Referring to the fact that the United States already had dropped from second to third place among the great powers, Senator Lodge asserted that the annual authorization of battleships by Congress should never fall below two.

"That the United States should be at peace with all nations and should exert its great influence for the maintenance of the world's peace is above all things to be desired," continued the senator, "but the primary condition of our peace rests upon the navy of the United States. While we have a powerful navy no one will attack us and we shall be able to use our influence in the cause of peace everywhere."

Senator Lodge said there is no argument more shallow and dangerous than that which holds a proper national defense to be an incumbrance to war.

"We have but to look about us at this moment to see illustrations of this fact," he said in closing, "that a real armed state in Europe it has had no war for over 40 years."

most famous of these "very early" music-halls, was the Rotunda in the Blackfriars Road, London. Here appeared as duettists and dancers Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wilde, the parents of the late lamented Dan Leno.

Meanwhile, many of the tavern concert-rooms were emerging from the chrysalis stage into full-blown music-halls. Thus the "Grapes" in South-west London, the Surrey Music Hall, the "Great Hall," in Drury Lane blossomed forth as the "Middlesex Music Hall," and so on.

CHAMPION LAZY MEN

County Clare Native Went to Bed at Ten; Got Up Twenty-nine Years Later

The "won't work," many of whose careers of laziness have been revealed in the police courts during recent years, have achieved some remarkable records of idleness, says a London paper; but the case of a gardener who recently committed suicide out of sheer disinclination to go on working is surely unique.

This man did not mind starting a job, but he could never be induced to finish it. He was one of the men about whom the wife recently complained to the magistrate at Wood Green Police Court. She described her husband as a piece-worker, and it seemed that he only worked on Wednesday, when it was his custom to put in two hours' toil.

Another case was that of a man sentenced to three years' penal servitude for theft. His age was 40, and it was stated that he had only done one day's work in his life. This was during the taxidermy strike, when he wheeled a barrow of luggage from Charing Cross to Euston.

There are at least half a dozen claimants to the title of the laziest man in England. A good first would be the lazy man at Tottenham. Although he found it impossible to sleep all the 24 hours of the day, he tried very hard.

He was practically dragged from his bed to the police court by his indolent wife, but he promptly went back to bed again when he had been lectured by the magistrate and had paid the penalty of his idleness.

Then there was the County Clare man, who went to bed when he was 10 and did not get up until he was 39. Then for some mysterious reason he began to get bored. He rose from his couch in 1907, took to the strenuous life and was last heard of securing a coal truck.

One man, brought up at the Willesden Police Court charged with sleeping out, actually fell asleep in the dock while the magistrate was pronouncing sentence.

Another man, who had not worked for so long that he had forgotten whether he was a gardener or a printer, when asked by the magistrate whether he had anything to say, replied with a drawl, "Hardly worth while," and disappeared with a yawn into the cells below.

Yet another case was that of the man of 59 who, when the policeman said he had never done a day's work in his life, protested indignantly that "he once did a bit of 'oppin'."

MAN'S INTRINSIC VALUE

The Human Body Actually Worth Less Than Ten Dollars

It has been supposed that if there is anything on earth entirely valueless it is the ordinary human being, but popular belief is once more shown to be wrong. A German professor says that the average man contains fat worth $2.50, enough iron to make a nail, phosphorus enough for the heads of 3,300 matches (the wood could be cut from the head), enough magnesium for some respectable fireworks, albumen equal to eggs, sugar and salt.

Altogether the average man or woman is worth about $7.50 at current prices, and with the advancing value there is no knowing what he might go to. Obviously this undeveloped wealth should attract the investor and the speculator, and some way should be found to make available for public use all this phosphorus, fat and magnesium.

QUAINT DUTCH CUSTOM

Started by Discovery of a Gunpowder Plot Three 300 Years Ago by Boys

Of the many quaint and curious customs, traditions and privileges prevailing in Holland, none is more extraordinary than a certain privilege that has been enjoyed by the boys of Amsterdam for nearly 300 years.

At a fixed time each year these boys gather by the hundred in the great square called the Dam, situated in the centre of the city. Each boy has a drum slung over his shoulder. Facing this square is the stock exchange, and on the occasion in question, just as soon as the day's business is over, as many of the boys as can crowd into the building. They proceed to the door of the exchange, where pursuant to this odd custom they are permitted to march about singing and beating upon their drums.

The origin of this custom, it is said, is as follows:

One afternoon in the year 1632 a crowd of boys playing in the Dam lost a ball in the canal that in those days skirted one side of the square. One of the lads, while climbing in among the piles on which the building stood, found, instead of his ball, a boat moored in a dark corner and loaded with boxes of gunpowder. This showed clearly enough what was afterwards ascertained with certainty, the intention of Spanish conspirators to blow up the stock exchange while it was crowded, as it was every day, with the leading citizens of the city.

The boy who stumbled upon the gunpowder at once hurried to the boatload of explosives, was quickly sunk in the canal and the Spanish plot thus frustrated.

When the burgesses asked the boy what reward he desired for the service he had rendered the town he replied that so long as there was a stock exchange in Amsterdam the boys of the town would like to be permitted to make the floor of the exchange their playground during a certain part of the year. The request was granted, and so the custom survives.

DIFFERENT NAMES OF TURKISH SOLDIERS

Bashibazouks are irregular Turkish auxiliaries. The Pomaks, or Moslem mountaineers of the Bulgarian border, are correctly described as Bashibazouks.

The regular army consists of Nizams, Redifs and Mustahids. A Nizam is a young Ottoman who is serving his term of military service. When a Nizam has finished his time in the active army he passes into the Redif, or first reserve, and then into the Redif, or second reserve. The Redifs form the main part of the Turkish army in time of war.

Finally when the soldiers of the Redif have reached the age of 35 years they become mustahids, a sort of general militia, to be called upon only in times of grave emergency. An Ottoman is liable to service up to the age of 70. The mysterious word ordi simply means army corps.

Sluts and Crime

In opening the Dublin Sessions the City Recorder said a large percentage of the cases were the inevitable consequence of the poverty, intemperance, and squalid environment of an old city. The reduction of the criminal calendar could be accomplished by drastic dealing with what was described by the Prime Minister as by far the great set blot on their civilisation—the want of provision of clean, decent, humanised housing environment for the poor and tolling masses.

RULED BY KINDNESS

Bestock the Animal Trainer Allowed no Cruelty to Animals

Mr. Frank Bestock, the well-known menagerie proprietor and lion tamer, who died at Kensington, England, came of a family of showmen, but it was originally intended that he should take holy orders.

He might have done so but for finding during a school vacation that his father's lion tamer was cruel. One night, as a result of his cruelty, the lion tamer almost lost his life. The boy asked permission to take the man's place, but the father peremptorily refused. But next day the father found Frank (he was only fifteen) in the lion's cage. He threatened him with a thrashing if he got out of the cage alive. But instead of the thrashing young Bestock was congratulated on his success and was promoted to the trainer's place. Thereafter he was closely identified with the fortunes of the "Jungle" which first bore his father's name and afterwards his own.

Of the many desperate adventures with the wild beasts he sought to tame or train the one that came the nearest to costing him his life was in 1905, at a charity performance at the Paris Hippodrome. He attempted the subjugation of Wallace, a lion which had resisted every effort to tame it, and which during its lifetime killed and injured several people.

Immediately Mr. Bestock entered the cage Wallace pinned him against the bars, bit him severely through the left hand and shoulder, and lashed him with his claws. Wallace also bit him in the back, actually grasping his spinal column with his teeth. Mr. Bestock eventually drove the beast in the arena. Then he was taken to hospital, where he remained for many weeks.

On another occasion a lion, after gripping him through the thigh, picked him up in his mouth and carried him to the lady trainer who also was in the cage, then dropped him and walked away.

The late Mr. Bestock always held that kindness was the best policy in training wild animals, and claimed that no cruelty entered into his methods. Discussing his unruly pupils, he once said:—

"In the case of an attack the fire hose is a good expedient for quelling an infuriated animal. Blank cartridges, too, are very effective. I do not allow red hot iron, as I consider they are cruel and often ineffectual."

"A man who contemplates being a trainer must primarily be a lover of animals, he must possess the patience of Job, and the Alpha and Omega of his whole creed must be kindness."

NAVAL GUNNERY

New Style to be Adopted by Britain as Result of Tests

To settle the question of the superiority of Sir Percy Scott's system of naval fire control over that hitherto in use, trials were carried out with 135 guns by the battleships "Thunderer" and "Orion," the former being fitted with the new system and the latter with the old, at a range of 10,000 yards. The "Thunderer" made five times as many hits as the "Orion," thus definitely establishing the superiority of Sir Percy Scott's system. The vessels are sister ships, with the same characteristics, the same equipment, and the same type of guns. The firing was delayed until the seas were rough, and then the two vessels were directed by signal to discharge broadsides at two targets. The accuracy of the firing of the "Thunderer" in the unfavorable conditions which prevailed was phenomenal.

It is understood the new system will be fitted to all armored ships with the least possible delay.

Alabaster Sphinx Found

Another sphinx, weighing 90 tons and carved from a single block of alabaster, was unearthed at a point between the world-famed Colossi on the waterlogged plains of Memphis in Egypt. For hundreds of years it has lain in a recumbent position buried beneath the sands on the road to Sakkarah. This newly found sphinx was betrayed in its hiding place by its tail, which Mr. Mackay, one of the students of the British school in Egypt, discovered about a year ago. The figure bears no inscription, but it is considered by Prof. Flinders Petrie, the director of the British school in Egypt, to have been carved about 1800 B.C.

Much Be-Titled Family

Lord Mountgarret, whose death took place at Nidd Hall, in Yorkshire, was the fourteenth holder of an Irish viscountcy. He was created first Baron Nidd in 1811. He was a member of the famous Irish family of Butlers who held five separate peerages—the Marquisate of Ormonde, the Marquis of Carrick and Lanesborough, the Viscountcy of Mountgarret, and the Barony of Dunboyne.

Enormous Death Duties

The amount of the death duties which the Rothschild family had to pay at Vienna after the death of Baron Albert de Rothschild was over five million dollars.

Schools as Moving Picture Shows

Edison, the electrical wizard, is preparing to spend $3,000,000 and devote eight years of effort to the production of a series of educational moving picture films for use in school-rooms. It is expected that moving pictures will in time become "an indispensable adjunct" of school course, and one of the special advantages claimed for the plan is that it will "interest boys who hate school and cannot learn from books."

MARVELS OF RADIUM

Latest Use of Mineral is to Mix it With Water for Medicine

In the medical exhibition at Westminster there is a dark room where an expert, rather bleached in appearance from living so much without light, shows you some of the wonders of radium.

When your eyes have got used to the darkness of his cave he will hand you a commonplace cardboard box and tell you to stare intently at the lid. You do so, and soon the thing becomes luminous, breaks out into shifting radiations as if it contained some wonderfully heartless coal of fire. The expert says it looks like a snowstorm, and so it does, if you can imagine flakes of rosy snow drifting and circling round a center. Then he opens the door and lets in the disilluminating daylight and taking off the lid you find inside the box nothing but a tiny drop of water, a new and fascinating branch of radium therapy.

You can now buy it in bottles—radium water—and drink it for the cure of rheumatism, gout and similar ailments.

The theory now is, of course, that the therapeutic virtue of the waters of Bath, Buxton and other wells is mainly due to their radio activity. It has been observed that the workmen in the mines in Bohemia and Cornwall, where radium ore is dug, rarely suffer from rheumatism or neuralgia. So you can drink radium as much as you like as well as use it as a search-light in surgery.

Prehistoric Cemetery

The discovery of a prehistoric cemetery and crematorium at Gora Goch, Wales, led to an examination which showed that the inhabitants of the uplands of Cardiganshire in the earlier part of the Bronze Age cremated their dead. Medical men pronounced all bones found to be human bones. A number of circular cavities opened at Gora Goch, which contained charcoal, but no vestige of bone, are a mystery. It is possible that these hollows were receptacles for food for the departed.

King's Gift for Tropical Medicine

The King sent a donation of $600 to Mr. Austin Chamberlain, for the fund opened by the Lord Mayor for the London School of Tropical Medicine, which, his Majesty notes, owes its inception to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain. Mr. Austin Chamberlain wrote: "His Majesty's interest and approval encourage us to make a renewed effort to secure the $600,000 for which we originally asked. We have already secured nearly half that sum."

Prod Palfreyman, a Hamsworth miner, was fined $4.35 at Pontefract for taking down a mine's match, which he was found using as a toothpick. For a similar breach of the regulations James King, a Purston miner, was fined a similar amount. He had a match in his pocket.

PRINCESS EUGENIE PALEOLOGA

ORIGIN OF NAUTICAL TERMS

"Starboard" and "Larboard" Derived From Old Saxon Language

The words "starboard" and "larboard" are descriptive of certain parts of a ship. The word "starboard" is derived from the Saxon "bord," meaning field. On the Viking ships each warrior hung his shield on the side opposite to him and above the apparatus for his oar. The Viking held the steering oar, which was fastened to the right hand side of the stern, stern being in itself a contraction of steer oar.

The right hand side of the ship thus became the steer side, and as board came to mean the whole side where the shields or bords were hung, the right side came to be the steer bord, starboard, side, and the lower or lurking side became larboard.

TO CLEAN THE CLOCK

Often times when the clock refuses to work it may be clogged with dust. All it needs to make it as good as new is to place inside the case a bit of white cotton thoroughly saturated with kerosene oil. Let this remain two or three days or a week, and at the end of all the dust will have been taken out of the mechanism. The clock will be in good condition, and the dust will be quite black with the kerosene it collected.

GOLD NUGGETS STOLEN

They Belonged to the Canadian Government's London Office

A daring robbery was committed at the Canadian Government's London Office in Whitehall, near Trafalgar Square, London. In the early morning a policeman patrolling the thoroughfare noticed that the large plate-glass window had been smashed, and investigation showed that a showcase containing ten gold nuggets in the rough, which was displayed in the window, had also been smashed and nine of the nuggets abstracted. The plate-glass had been first smeared with some sticky substance, and a hole made just sufficiently large to allow of the insertion of an arm.

The nuggets were very good specimens in the rough state that the Yukon goldfields produce, but they were small and thin, and their total value was not much more than $50. An official at the office stated that the thief would hardly be able to dispose of the nuggets, except at a trifling figure.

5 Years' Throat Trouble and Influenza Cured

EMINENT DOCTORS FAILED TO CURE—HAD GIVEN HOPE.

This Case Does Prove That When Catarrh is Breathed Every Trace of Catarrh Disappears.

Millford Haven, Dec. 31.—Everyone in this neighborhood knows of the long suffering from influenza and catarrh endured by Mrs. D. Gurney. Today she is well. Her recovery is due entirely to Catarrh-zone. This is her own statement: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh in the head, throat and nose, and endured the manifold tortures of influenza for five years. My life was a misery. Catarrh was undermining my strength very fast. I used treatments from eminent doctors, but all failed to cure me. I had given up hope of ever being well. Then I read of a wonderful cure made by Catarrh-zone. Immediately I sent for Catarrh-zone, and before I had used one bottle I was greatly relieved. Today I am cured. We would not be without Catarrh-zone in our home—so sure in colds, coughs, bronchitis and throat trouble. I feel it is my duty to publicly recommend Catarrh-zone."

Get the large dollar size of Catarrh-zone; it contains a beautiful hand rubber inhaler, and medicine that lasts two months. Smaller sizes, 25c and 50c. Beware of imitations—accept only Catarrh-zone, sold by all reliable dealers or by mail from The Catarrh-zone Company, Kingston, Ont., and Buffalo, N.Y.

Lindsay's Carnival a Success.
Lindsay's Winter Carnival has closed, crowned with a halo of success. Big crowds, big parades, splendid exhibition of Lindsay-made goods, joy and wassail characterized the affair. Whilst the first day was so cold that the trombones and cornet players left drifts of frozen notes behind them, the remainder of the event was favored with good weather.

Washington, Feb. 17.—To protect Americans endangered by the fighting in Mexico City Ambassador Wilson Thursday was ordered to draw on the State Department for $10,000. This could be used for the relief of the destitute or for getting Americans out of Mexico.

Mundane vs. Mortuary.
It would seem that the cemetery board of management are possibly more interested in mundane, than mortuary affairs, as whilst the time for tendering for the proposed new iron gates for Little Lake cemetery, has expired, no action has yet been taken. Mr. W. H. Moore, president of the Board stated yesterday that he had not, as yet, had an opportunity to get the committee together, to consider the problem.

Prosecution Should Follow.
Chief Thompson is authority for saying that the police have the name of the reckless driver, who as reported in yesterday's issue, caused harm to Miss M. S. Thompson, and that a prosecution will follow under the criminal code. Should the police have enough evidence to make a conviction, it is to be hoped that the driver if guilty, will get the limit. Drivers of many rigs seem to think that, so long as they are safely perched on the seat of a conveyance, behind a horse, that pedestrians have no right to go. As a matter of law, the pedestrian like a sailing vessel in juxta-position to a steamer has the right of way.

Burglars Arrested at Lindsay.

Lindsay Warden: A burglar and suspect were arrested last night in the vicinity of the Town wharf by Chief Chilton. One was Ben Madison who is charged with the premises of Rose & Co., Kent street, about one year ago when he entered the store from a rear window and took about $43 in cash and sundry other articles in stock. His accomplices, who it appears, he forced to assist in committing the deed, were allowed out on suspended sentence owing to their youth. Madison paid the boy about $4 from the spoils and skipped with the balance. He has lived in Rochester (U.S.) and other points since absconding. His friend, who was charged with vagrancy at the police court this morning, hails from the Plaster City. Both were remanded for one week.

Cigarette Starts a Fire.

The stump of a "cotton-nail," still alight, was yesterday morning thrown on a bundle of cloth outside the Dixon dry goods store, 365 George street. With the perversion that seems to follow such trivial things as cigarettes, the cloth caught fire and soon adjoining bundles were ablaze. The burning cloth was flung into the roadway. Possibly the redeeming feature of this incident was that the cloth was not set fire by hot ashes from the pipe of a man, who smokes chewing tobacco. Had such a catastrophe happened, the bystanders, who saved the cloth, might have been put into a state of coma from the tobacco fumes.

FOR CLEAN BREAD.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir, Why cannot the bakers of Peterborough wrap their loaves for delivery in some cheap kind of paper. By doing this bread could be delivered in sanitary condition, from producer to consumer, undelivered by sweaty hands in summer, or matted covered with winter. It would cost very little to wrap bread up in the way suggested. One baker in Calgary adopted this system and, as a result of increased trade, is using an automobile.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"Madame Sherry."

Because everyone all over the country is humming singing or whistling some numbers of the score of the big sensational musical success, "Madame Sherry," the impression is current in some quarters that the production's charm is in greater part musical. Report says that the musical qualities of the play are no less engaging than its score. The love of a man for a maid under odd circumstances, love of the soulful, romantic sort, love that blossoms in the heart of youth and flourishes as true love ever does when thing do not go smoothly, is the reigning spell of the production, according to report, but this love, this courtship, is so beset on every side and attended by so many misadventures, that while it is self remaining an appealing interest, all its accessory situations arouse amusements. Some idea of the fun developed may perhaps be gleaned by a summary of the characters of the play which, besides the lovers, include an Italian house janitor, his Irish wife, a lively fun-loving actress, a New York mad-about-town, an amusingly whimsical uncle of the maid in love, and others, including the pupils of a dancing school and the guests of a yachting party.

Both the two lowest tenders were received from parties outside the city.

HEIR TO MILLION WOULD KEEP JOB

He's Engineer is a Sawmill and Wants to Stay, But Wife Hays "Nix."

Parishfield, Ore., Feb. 17.—Although he has received news of sudden enrichment in the sum of more than $1,000,000 in New York city property, James Bennett, an engineer in a lumber mill here does not want to quit his job. His wife does, however.

Bennett, so he was informed, with his two brothers, has won a lawsuit involving property in Harlem said to be valued at several million dollars, which comes to them through their great grandmother, who was Mrs. Susannah Bennett.

While Bennett would prefer to remain in Marshfield and stick to his job, Mrs. Bennett desires otherwise. "He can build himself a sawmill for a plaything if he wants to now," said the wife.

THE UNITED STATES ARE STILL RUSHING ON TROOPS

All Ready Now For Co-Operation Between Army and Navy in Mexican Affair—Officials in Suspense

Washington, Feb. 19.—Further preparations for co-operation between the army and navy for any emergency in the Mexican situation went forward to-day with the assembling of 2,000 marines at Newport News and Philadelphia, from where they are to be transported to a concentration camp at Guantanamo. It was expected that the two regiments would sail to-day. At Guantanamo they will be seventy hours from Vera Cruz.

While a veil of secrecy was thrown about preparations for mobilizing an army expeditionary force at Galveston, from the troops now on the border, it is known that troops as far north as Leavenworth, Kansas, have been ordered in readiness. The order last night to send two of the army transports at Newport News to Galveston disclosed that the general staff was actually organizing for the possibility of a movement from the latter point.

This would leave the first brigade of the first army division, already under marching orders, without ships but it is assumed that the War Department has arranged with the Merchant Lines under a mail subsidy. Officials were kept in suspense by the continued censorship at Mexico City and official despatches were brief.

Fitted Out in a Hurry.

New York, Feb. 19.—The battleship Connecticut, flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, steamed out of the Brooklyn navy yards at daybreak to-day bound for the United States naval station at Guantanamo, Cuba, where emergency forces, including 2,000 marines, are being concentrated while developments in Mexico are being watched.

Although the big battleship was in drydock when orders were received yesterday from Washington for her to proceed to Guantanamo, the warship was floated, provisioned and manned within eight hours, and she moved out of Wallabout Bay at the navy yard punctually at 6.30 o'clock, the hour set in the orders, under command of Rear Admiral Winslow.

$17,600 WANTED FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT THIS YEAR

The City's Fire, Water and Light and Property Committees met in joint session last night. There were present Mayor W. H. Bradburn, Aldermen Gillespie, McIntyre, Buller, Duncan, G. Walter Green and Duffus.

A letter was received from the Canadian Fire Underwriters Association, stating that they had appointed Mr. Herb. Fife their electric expert for this city with a view to standardizing the electrical wiring work in all buildings. For this work of inspection the owners of buildings would be assessed by the association as follows: for from 1 to 5 outlets, 50c; 6 to 10 outlets, 10c each additional; 11 to 50 outlets, 5c each additional; 51 to 100 outlets, 2c each additional; over 100 outlets 1c each additional. The city's co-operation in this suggestion was asked.

Ald. Duncan offered that the wiring of buildings should be inspected before the walls are lathed in. The association could not make such wiring compulsory unless the city passed a by-law to that effect.

Fire Chief Howard pointed out that one fire this year caused by electrical wiring entailed damages to the extent of $7,000. He also pointed out that the Underwriters are now demanding a particular brand of wire that cannot be procured in this city. The wire heretofore used here, and which the Fire Chief considered perfectly safe, was the product of the C.G.E.

Ald. Green contended that the Underwriters are colluding with the wrong city with their inspection proposition if they are going to demand wire not made by one of our most important industries, the C.G.E.

Ald. Buller agreed to this. The whole committee agreed on the importance of the wiring of new and remodelled buildings being inspected. The Underwriters will be advised that the city is willing to co-operate with them in their proposition for the inspection of electrical wiring; but would like further information as to the particular brand of wire to be used, and why they specify such brand of wire not made by our own electrical industry.

THE ESTIMATES.
Fire Chief Howard submitted that the estimates for this year for his department must be increased from $14,000 as last year to $17,600. This would include salaries and equipment for six more men, rendered necessary by the substitution to be provided in South City. It costs $114 to suit each man out complete, including bedding and minor incidentals. The new men would have to be put in training right away in preparation for the new substitution.

5000 Cases Measles

Montreal, Feb. 18.—This city is suffering from an epidemic of measles, the Board of Health officials estimating that there are over five thousand cases. These officials bitterly complain that many of the city doctors do not report cases and thus make the work of the Health Department in controlling the spread of the complaint very difficult.

MADAME'S NEW COAT IS ALSO A STEAMER RUG— SHE WEARS IT UPSIDE DOWN OR INSIDE OUT

THE WOMAN'S TUXEDO COSTUME MAY BE WORN AS A COAT OR A STEAMER RUG

Will madame wear her new wrap as a coat or use it as a steamer rug to-day?

The new rug coat is the latest fashion hybrid. Its intricacies have been devised by a tailor for the comfort and protection of woman and also for the utter confusion of any male member of the family who may unexpectedly be called on to fasten the owner into her rug.

These exhibits were a part of New York's exhibit at the fifth convention and style congress of the National Ladies' Tailors and Dressmakers' Association, which took place at the national headquarters in New York. Seventeen other States were represented and helped to decide on the latest fashions.

The rug coat or the coat rug covers more sartorial discrepancies than ever did that full figured wrapper of yore. When folded nearly across fore and aft it becomes a straightaway steamer rug, with the advantage that it covers from hip to toes and can be tucked in neatly at the throat.

SYLVIA TO SERVE 2 MONTHS, "HARD LABOR" IS INCLUDED

London, Feb. 18.—Zellie Emerson, the militant suffragette, of Jackson, Michigan, who is carrying on a campaign of window smashing in the east end of London in company with Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, was again arrested to-day. She was immediately taken before the Police Magistrate and sentenced to a term of two months' hard labor.

Zellie Emerson and her companion broke all the windows of the Liberal Association at Bow last night. Miss Sylvia Pankhurst was also sentenced by the same Magistrate to two months' hard labor.

Zellie Emerson had been already sentenced to jail for six weeks on February 14th in default of payment of a fine of $16 inflicted for a similar charge, but her fine on that occasion was paid by a friend and she was released.

The Times is requested to state that the employees of the Grand Opera House have formed a Union, in connection with the International organization. The members of this local union recently waited on Mr. Turner in connection with the matter and are endeavoring to have their organization recognized.

EUROPE ONCE MORE ALARMED, GENERAL FLARE UP IS FEARED

War in the Balkans Overshadowed by Wider Issues— Situation Is Such as to Cause General Apprehension

London, Feb. 18.—Europe is apparently veering towards another military crisis. Bourses are depressed, Cabinets are hastening fresh schemes of armaments, and every Chancellery is a hotbed of ominous rumors. France's coming emergency vote of twenty-three million pounds for military purposes is a direct reply to the German bill increasing the "peace" army to eight hundred and fifty thousand men.

Paris Papers Pessimistic.

Leading Paris papers are full of alarmist articles depicting secret increases in the German frontier troops.

Interest in the Turkish War is eclipsed by the wider European issues. The Roumanian Cabinet is growing more grasping with Bulgar's partial yielding, and now insists on further territorial concessions and immediate settlement. One section of the Roumanian Cabinet is now urging that the mobilization order shall be issued.

To-day the situation between Russia and Austria remains obscure. War dangers have been greatly exaggerated, but even the Times, which throughout has taken a pacific line, to-day describes the situation as serious enough to justify grave apprehension.

Lord Roberts' Basier Than Ever.

Lord Roberts' campaign for compulsory service continues with greater energy than ever, but is far from being successful. Last weekend an attempt was made to create an English scare over an alleged new German type of single-gun ship which would render Dreadnoughts useless. The scare failed, the story being a reshuffle of a very old canard.

Among the forthcoming British military measures may be anticipated far-reaching cadet training and a method for popularizing military service by making promotion from lower to higher ranks of the army easier.

MEXICAN BULLETS PIERCE UNITED STATES EMBASSY

Severest Fighting So Far Reported to Washington by Ambassador Wilson—Many Federals Killed To-day

Washington, Feb. 18.—A large number of Mexican Federals were killed during heavy fighting in the vicinity of the American Embassy at Mexico City to-day. Many bullets entered the Embassy, but only slight damage was done.

Ambassador Wilson reports that the fighting was the heaviest of the eight days' battle so far.

The gravity of to-day's official despatches were regarded by State Department officials as eloquent proof of the efforts Madero is making to get details of his condition from the outer world.

A Halt Was Called.

Mexico City, Feb. 18.—After fighting all night a halt was called between the Federal and rebel armies at 5.15 this morning. The cause of the cessation of hostilities was not generally known. Up to a quarter past eight the fighting had not been renewed.

It is thought that the break in the battle may mean merely a change of tactics on the part of the Federal commander. It was stated in authoritative quarters that no truce had been arranged.

The Government troops have again obtained possession of the Young Men's Christian Association building, which had been in the hands of the rebels since the second day of fighting, when they captured it in one of their forward rushes. They caused much trouble to the Federals by mounting machine guns on the roof.

The leaders of the Government troops are believed to be preparing for aggressive action against the rebels position. It is said they intend to use dynamite grenades and mortars throwing dynamite shells.

hoped and trusted this assistance would continue to be given to them by the Motherland.

Unless they could hope to secure from Britain necessary funds for development of Australia the progress of that work must be hampered, (least, hear.) He knew that any co-operation which the home Government could afford would be given gladly. Mr. Lewis Harcourt, "Hear hear." He understood there had been some misgivings in this country as to the intentions of his Government to continue their immigration policy. He could assure them that they need not entertain the slightest idea of any abandonment of that policy. The Government hoped immigrants would come in even larger numbers than heretofore. He would like the people of the Motherland to think that they shared in this vast possession with the men and women who were working out its destinies, and would learn to look on it as "our country."

MUCH NEEDED DISCIPLINE.

St. Mikes Won Game

Last night the rink at Midland had a sign of S.R.O. long before the hockey match between the local club of that city went against St. Michael's College. St. Mikes team consisted of Briker in goal; Murphy, point; Doherty, cover; McCamus, rover; Laflamme, centre; Gordon right wing; Richardson, left wing. McCamus takes Rankin's place at rover. There is a chance of Briker playing goal on account of his knowledge of the lighting conditions of the Midland rink.

Green Caldwell of Barrie acted as referee. St. Mikes team returned to Toronto after the game. At half time the score stood 2-1 in favor of St. Mikes. Within four minutes St. Mikes scored another goal in the second half. When the final bell rang the score stood 4-1 in favor of St. Mikes.

YOUNG WIFE BELIEVES HUSBAND'S INNOCENCE

Hamilton, Ont., Feb. 17.—J. Herbert Knowles, who was arrested at Denver, charged with counterfeiting, and is said to have made a confession, is a half brother of R. G. Knowles, the famous comedian and lecturer. Knowles' right name is Glover. His wife, who is a Beaver girl, and her three small children, are visiting here at the residence of Glover's mother. The mother is ill and was not acquainted with her son's arrest. The young wife became hysterical when told the news. She refuses to believe that her husband is guilty.

DEAD BABY BESIDE HER

Girl Found in House Alone and Unconscious, by Postman.
Toronto, Feb. 17.—Discovered unconscious in a house on Dugan avenue this morning with the body of a newly born male child beside her, Cassie Jenkinson, a domestic, only 15 years of age, is now in Grace Hospital in a serious condition. The baby remains in the house. The mother and child were removed to the morgue and Chief Coroner notified. It appears that the young woman had been alone in the house for some time, the family having gone out of town. The discovery was made by a postman who went to deliver a special delivery message.

ANOTHER GAS VICTIM

Joseph Harvey, of Blackstock, Dead in Toronto.
Joseph Harvey, a young blacksmith from Blackstock, Durham county, well known in Peterborough, was found dead in his bed at the Bonell Hotel, with the gas jet full on.

Harvey was a single man, 29 years of age. He went to the city a week ago and until on Saturday night, stayed with his uncle, Mr. Edward Williamson, at the latter's house at 1388 West Queen street. Sunday, however, some other visitors notified the house, and it was decided that Harvey should spend the night at the hotel.

His uncle went with him to book his room and left him about 11.30. The hotel people were instructed that the young man would not want breakfast and intended to sleep late. At 1.30 the proprietor, Mr. W. A. Bonnell, went up to call Harvey and found him dead. The room was full of gas.

ANIMALS IN BUNCHES

Each Species Formerly Had a Distinguishing Name for a Group

Much of the language used in various sports is our inheritance from the Middle Ages. Different kinds of beasts when in companies were distinguished by their own particular epithet, which was supposed to be in some manner descriptive of the habits of the animals. To use the wrong term of these words subjected the would-be sportsman to ridicule.

Many of the terms have passed away, but some of them are still retained. This list from the Middle Ages is still good usage today. A "pride" of lions, a "leap" of leopards, a "herd" of harts and of all sorts of deer, a "bevy" of geese, a "sloth" of bears, a "pride" of foxes, a "squad" of wild swine, a "cove" of wolves, a "bait" of hounds, a "ray" of roils, a "stun" of mares, a "pace" of asses, a "batten" of mules, a "team" of oxen, a "draw" of ships, a "flock" of sheep, a "cove" of poets, a "skulk" of foxes, a "cove" of hares, a "nest" of ravens, a "clowder" of cats, a "scurriedness" of apes and a "labor" of moles.

Also, of animals when they retired to rest a hart was said to be "har-bored," a rabbit "slept." Two grey hounds were called a "brace," but two harriers were called a "couple." There was also a "mule" of hounds for a number, a "kennel" of hares, a "hit" of whelps and a "cowardice" of cubs.

This kind of descriptive phraseology was not confined to birds and beasts, but was extended to the human species and their various propensities, natures and callings.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The impression continues that the Hon. Bill Bryan will be the centre of the President Wilson's cabinet team.

Smith College, Washington, is trying to raise $1,000,000 in nickels, and we believe that it will be easy enough if all the Smiths in the country will chip in.

The Turks insist that they have just awakened. If so, they can be hurrying a little have time to get their clothes on before crossing the Bosphorus.

It may be true that the woman's suffrage movement is not making any progress in England, but the fact cannot be questioned that it is booming the business of the British glass factories.

The newspapers are saving both time and money by keeping standing headlines to the effect that the Turks have been defeated again and that the British suffragettes are still smashing plate glass windows.

The Bulgars call to the Turk to surrender Adrianople, but the Ottoman has apparently mislaid his ear trumpet. It will probably be some time before the Turk is ready to hear the call.

The British suffragettes should abandon the practice of sending to government officials letters filled with snuff and powdered pepper. If they had the impression will be created that their cause is "something to be sneezed at."

It must take a thirty-third degree exponent of equal suffrage to perceive the advantages which the wanton destruction of mail will bring to the cause. If it is a safe gamble that those who practice such destruction are tolerably certain that there is none of their personal correspondence in the boxes into which the acid is thrown.

BARRING ROOSEVELT
The United States senate has adopted a resolution to submit to the various states for ratification an amendment to the constitution extending the presidential term to six years and making the incumbent ineligible for re-election. The resolution also includes a provision which would bar former President Roosevelt, President Taft and President-elect Wilson from again becoming candidates for that office.

The resolution, which now goes to the House of Representatives, was passed by the Democrats and regular Republicans in the senate over the objections of the Progressives and so-called Progressive Republicans. The clause eliminating presidents as candidates in future was vigorously resented by Roosevelt supporters in the senate and will doubtless be antagonized by the Progressives in the lower house. Nevertheless the resolution is likely to be approved by the coordinate branch of congress and will then be submitted to the various state legislatures for ratification. It appears settled in advance that the proportion will be carried by a sufficient number of states to make it a part of the fundamental law of the nation. The Democratic party is pledged to the single presidential term, and President Taft has endorsed the principle, even if he did seek a re-election. Under the present system most of the first term of a president is devoted to framing plans and policies to insure his re-election. If the constitution is amended to extend the term and bar a president from re-election the occupant of the White House will be able to exercise an independence of thought and action very difficult, if not impossible, at this time. The action of the senate is in sympathy with a very general public demand in the United States. The opposition of the Roosevelt supporters is significant. It is apparent that the Progressive leader has not abandoned hope of another term in the presidency. It is quite certain that the action of the Republicans in the senate in supporting the resolution was prompted by a desire to shut the door of opportunity in the face of the redoubtable leader of the radical forces in the United States.

CHECK SWINDLERS NOT AS NUMEROUS

Professional Hotel Forgers, Thieves, and "Beats" Nearly All in Prison

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Check swindlers who made it their business to defraud hotels and the chain of crooks that carried printing presses and changed their checks and stationery every week or ten days, have passed, according to the report of the American Hotel Protective Association, made public here recently. It is said this class of criminal have either emigrated or are in the penitentiaries, there having been 12 convictions within the last two years. The convictions were of forgers, thieves and hotel "beats," and in addition the association collected more than $10,000 in bad debts.

"No professional check men are operating against members of the association now," said Secretary J. K. Blatchford.

DETERMINED TO SEND FRENCH TO THE ONT. PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—The French Association of Education of Ontario, has decided to continue its opposition to the regulations which restrict the teaching of French in the separate schools of the Province. "We intend to keep up the agitation until we have obtained justice," said C. S. O. Boudreau, president of the association this morning, when questioned as to the effect of the statement of Hon. Dr. Poirer that the regulations must be carried out. "Under no circumstances," said Mr. Boudreau, "will the French-Canadian of Ontario accept regulation 17. We are quite willing to accept the schools as they were formerly, but we will not submit to anything but the recognition of the parents' rights. The substitution of English-speaking Protestant inspectors for French inspectors will meet with the same reception as before—the children will walk out of the schools."

INTERVENTION GIGANTIC TASK TOO COSTLY, NOT WORTH WHILE

Washington, Feb. 18.—Five hundred thousand men and a million dollars a day for two years! This is what intervention in Mexico means, in the opinion of one of the highest authorities of the Government, who is in a position to know what he is talking about. In other words, the Taft Administration realizes that intervention in Mexico means the plunging of the United States into a long and costly war. The military and naval authorities are convinced that to intervene in Mexico in the present state of affairs would bring upon this country one of the most gigantic tasks it has ever undertaken. They declare without exception that the enormity of the operation necessary for successful intervention in Mexico would make the war with Spain like an afternoon's skirmish by comparison and reduce the Philippine insurrection to a mere incident. There would be far less talk in favor of intervention if the officials believe, if the country at large understood what such a course would mean to a nation. At least officers of the Government find it difficult to believe that any patriotic American would openly desire to see his country plunge into a struggle which would cost the United States millions of dollars and the loss of thousands of American lives.

HEAVY BONUS PAID IF DREADNAUGHTS BUILT HERE

London, Feb. 18.—One of the biggest British shipbuilders, a man of world-wide repute, gives me the following opinion of Hunter's undertaking, cabled here from Montreal, to build warships in Canada if the Government agrees. "The cost of building dreadnaughts in Canada has been most carefully estimated, and cannot be less than 50 per cent. above the British cost, possibly one hundred per cent. The difference is due to the increased cost of labor and material, the absence of inherited skill, also the probable interference with work out of doors, owing to the climate. Even at this ruinous increase in cost, Canada could not produce the ship under five years. Moreover, in order to keep this costly industry alive, she must go on laying down one dreadnaught every two years."

Why It Costs So Little Here.
"In so highly complicated an industry as dreadnaught building, you must preserve the rotation of trade. You must have one ship on the stocks and one in the water fitting out. Otherwise half your highly trained men are idle, and must be discharged. This is worse for the Government than for the shipbuilder. It is a naval shipbuilding in private and Government shipyards here. That is chiefly why we build so cheaply. If course if Canada insists on wasting money in this way she cannot prevent her. If ships are built here she gets the competitive price from any one of six firms. If she builds in Canada she takes the first fixed price in this competition, and must pay whatever this firm likes to exact. Moreover, the guns and most of the equipment of dreadnaughts, nominally built in Canada, would really still be British and made in British yards. Canada would only see the semblance of extravagance, priced British material on Canadian soil, paying an enormous premium for the privilege."

Called Big Bonus Scheme.
"A greater piece of fatuity no business man could conceive. Of course the favored British shipbuilder and shareholders would like it, but where are the interests of Canadian industry, Canadian labor or the Canadian taxpayer served? Stripped of all pretences this is simply a big Canadian bonus scheme for British shareholders."

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

TO HONOR TECUMSEH

Canada's Historic Spots to be Fittingly Marked by Monuments

The Ontario Historical Society decided at Napanee to take steps to commemorate the centennial of the death of Tecumseh, by securing the erection of a fitting monument to mark his loyalty and valor in defense of Canada against the attack of Britain's enemies in the war of 1812. The society also decided to urge the Ontario Education Department to give a larger importance in the public and high school curriculum to the study and illumination of Canadian history through reference to the unentered storehouses of historical romance to be found in nearly every district of the Dominion. A further resolution was passed authorizing the executive to memorialize each County Council in the Province with a view to securing their co-operation with the society in collecting and preserving local historical records.

To give the society a permanent home and working centre a committee consisting of Sir Edmund Walker, Dr. J. H. Coyne of St. Thomas and Clarence M. Warner of Napanee was appointed to consider ways and means. Sir Edmund Walker, reporting for this committee recommended that steps be taken by the Executive Council to secure the erection in Toronto of a permanent building to house the Province's historical records. The report was unanimously adopted. The building will be erected by public subscription in conjunction with Government assistance. Sir Edmund Walker expressed the hope that the Federal Government would widen the scope of the National Battlefields Commission to include the national preservation of historic sites in all parts of Canada. He also urged Government action towards the erection in Canada of a series of colossal statues perpetuating the memory and romantic achievements of all the discoverers and early explorers of Canada.

The society also placed itself on record as favoring the creation of a National Art Gallery and National Library at Ottawa.

Unfurling Australian Flag

Bonnington road school also possesses a flag from New Zealand. Provost Malcolm Smith performed the ceremony of unfurling the Australian flag, in presence of the people assembled in the playground.

SALMON FRY THRIVE

Experiments With Salmon in Algonquin Park Highly Satisfactory

Experiments for the propagation of Atlantic salmon in the lakes at the Algonquin National Park of Ontario have proved a success, as from the fry that have been planted there about three years ago, results are now being realized. Last year quite a large specimen of this magnificent fish was caught in Source Lake where the fry had been originally planted. Another beautiful fry, 18 inches long, was caught in White's Lake. The Superintendent of the Park is gratified with the result and has arranged to plant 175,000 salmon fry and 50,000 yearling trout. These will be placed in a series of three lakes that have only one outlet, and this outlet will be screened and the fish kept within certain bounds and these lakes used as supply basins for many of the 1,200 lakes in the Park. It is confidently expected that within a few years, land lock salmon will be one of the great attractions of Algonquin Park. In Algonquin Park the fishing is good for speckled trout, salmon trout, and small-mouth black bass, when in season.

Mouse in a Coffin
How a mouse made its home in a coffin was related at an inquest on a collier at Neath, Wales. Dr. Evans said that he performed a post-mortem examination, and found two wounds, one above each eyebrow. A portion of one of the thumbs down to the bone had disappeared, and this appeared to have been due to mice. The left ear was also eaten away. When they lifted the body out of the coffin they found a live mouse underneath.

Clairvoyance Frauds
At Glasgow a middle-aged woman named Agnes Ferguson, or Lavery, was sentenced to nine months' imprisonment on two charges of fraud. The accused, by pretending that she required jewellery for purposes of clairvoyance, obtained a gold cross and gold-mounted tiger's claw, and pawned these articles the same day. Later she obtained from a lady in Bothwell a gold ring on a similar pretence.

Man Who Took Part in a Revolution in Honduras

A career of strange adventures was recalled when Mr. Donald Francis Charles Stuart Seton appeared at the London Bankruptcy Court for examination.

On coming of age in 1893, he came in for a sum of $125,000, and for ten years he travelled and engaged in prospecting, pearl dredging, and treasure hunting. He also took part in a revolution in Honduras. Returning to England in 1904, with between $10,000 and $15,000, he engaged in magazine writing, and backed horses on a system of his own, losing the residue of his money. He then started with a partner as a dealer in pictures and works of art. That business ended in a loss of $5,000. He also carried on business under the firm name of the New Ventures Syndicate, with a capital of $15,000 all borrowed. Finding himself unable to raise more money, and being pressed, he left the office, and afterwards moved about from place to place, eluding writs. Finally he was arrested. He owes $24,196, and has assets amounting to about $300.

FENIAN RAID GRANTS

Applications for Fenian raid grants continued to pour into the militia department at Ottawa, and indicate a misapprehension of the qualifications necessary to secure the $100. Included in the thousands who are laying claim to the money are many in the lower provinces where simply the proclamation was read without the troops going to the front. It is estimated there will be about 20,000 claimants. The number actually on service was around 10,000 and a third of them are dead.

BUDDHISM IN LONDON

Not a Creed for Aggressive People of the Occident—Monks Beg Bread

The Buddhist Society of Great Britain and Ireland have raised funds to found a Buddhist sangha or monastery in London. The society was formed in 1907 at a meeting over which Professor R. C. Davids presided. In the following year a Buddhist monk paid a visit to London and gave several lectures on the Buddhist faith, and during his prolonged stay interviewed also a large number of people who were interested in the subject, many of whom joined the society. There are, moreover, several Buddhist monks of British birth in Ceylon and Burma, the most notable being Allan Bennett MacGregor, who was born in London but is of Scottish descent.

The life of a Buddhist monk is by no means an easy one. Shortly after rising at about four o'clock in the morning and performing his ablutions he repairs to the temple adjoining the monastery, where, after a recital of a portion of the Law, he starts on his begging round. One of the rules of the order is that all monks must beg for their daily food, but they are not allowed to receive gifts of money or food meat, their diet being strictly vegetarian, all animal products, eggs included, being prohibited. Monks also partake of one meal only a day, and that must be finished by fore noon, after which hour no food may be eaten.

Commenting on the activity of the Buddhists in London, the Standard says:

"A few Europeans have been attracted by the morality of the pure Buddhist creed, but on the whole it is not a religion that appeals to a Western people. It lacks the powerful incentives to conduct of Christianity, and is equally destitute of Mahometan self-assertion and intolerance. On the soft-fibred races of Eastern Asia it maintains a somewhat nerveless hold; there are over nine million Buddhists in the Indian Empire, the vast majority of whom belong to Burma. But any race in whom love of action is a passion turns coldly aside from the Buddhist ideals. Nirvana—the dying out of the three cardinal sins of sensuality, ill-will, and stupidity—is a negligible perception; but it lacks the driving force of the creed of Islam. Islam is active. Buddhism is passive, and in any equal contest between the two the fiercer and more positive system wins. Buddhism, too, whatever its original merits, has become enervated with innumerable corruptions, and its success in uplifting a people is not conspicuous in those regions where it has had uninterrupted dominion. It is significant that the creed has lost all hold on the progressive Japanese."

HE'S CALLED TOM

Finance Minister's First Name Not Familiar to Many

Hon. W. T. White was not elected in Leeds, at least, Wesley Thomas White was not. This amusing and somewhat interesting mistake has come to light.

Mr. White was christened Wesley Thomas. Somehow, his name on the electoral lists of Leeds appeared as William Thomas, and the minister was gazetted as William Thomas, and his name is recorded as such in the parliamentary guide. Now it has been discovered that the name is Wesley not William.

Mr. White was the first to discover the curious mistake.

At the corner of the Via Stabia and the Vicolo di Mercurio in Pompeii is "The house of the Lagoon," which was a complete milliner's and baker's establishment, containing grinding mills, and a large oven for baking. It was from this oven that the loaves of bread now shown in the Naples museum were taken by the side of the oven.

is a lead-lined, excellent state of preservation. The boiler was heated with charcoal, the hot water being drawn off by means of a bronze tap. This points to the fact that the dough was kneaded with warm water. Charcoal was generally used for heating and cooking purposes, though lately some excavations in Belgium prove that the use of coal was known to the Romans. The boiler was heated by means of a brickwork exactly the same as the "bancs" used by the Italians to-day.

SIX GENERATIONS

The Remarkable Longevity of a French Family

Writing to the "Echo de Paris," a correspondent declares that his wife who is twenty-one has a great-great-grandmother is forty-five and his lady's mother is seventy-four and his grandmother ninety-five. These six generations are all of the same name and bred, except the junior spring who was the light in the suburbs.

From Limours, however, another correspondent hastens to inform the world that a baby girl has just been born to him by his young sixteen-year-old wife. The following is the ascendant family tree in the feminine line of this newcomer into the world: grandmother 33, great-grandmother 63, great-great-grandmother 71, and great-great-great-grandmother 88, whilst the mother of this last old lady died at the age of 105, just three months too soon to allow of her being one of the greatest of all great-great-grandmothers.

BIBLICAL IGNORANCE

Members of Parliament Who Have Made Amusing Errors

Bone interesting stories are told of members of the British House of Commons who were lacking in biblical knowledge. For instance, in a debate a few years ago Mr. George Wyndham referred to David and the fifty fighting men he had in a castle. "Not David Daniel," interjected Sir Edward Grey. "I am much obliged to my right honorable friend," continued Mr. Wyndham: "of course, I meant David," as the House resounded with laughter and shouts of "Obadiah!"

A little later the same evening Sir Edward again cited his biblical knowledge by speaking of the feeding of the prophets on bread and water, when Sir William Evans Gordon corrected everybody by suggesting that the prophetic menu consisted of insects and wild honey.

Certainly a few lessons on the Bible would have been useful to a good many statesmen, past and present. Mr. Gladstone once committed the atrocity of putting Daniel in the fiery furnace, and made the Psalmist responsible for the words, "God tempests the wind to the storm-lamb." John Bright saddled St. Paul with the well-known aphorism, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," and Lord John Russell made a touching reference to Pharaoh and his host struggling in the engulfing waters of the Jordan.

It was a present from Queen Victoria to a former President. It was made from the timbers of H.M.S. Resolute, which was sent in search of Sir John Franklin in 1852. The ship was caught in the ice and had to be abandoned. It was not destined to go to pieces in frozen waters, however. An American whaler discovered and salvaged it in 1857, and it was subsequently purchased and sent to Her Majesty by the President and the people of the United States as a token of goodwill and friendship.

In an English dockyard the timbers were at last broken up, and from their timbers a desk was made, which was sent by the Queen as a memorial of the courtesy and good will of the people which dictated the offer of the Resolute.

At this desk itself a representative of the kindly feeling of the President does the greater part of his writing.

The St. Leger, which was won this year by August Belmont's Tracer, is years older than the Epsom Derby, having been run 127 times over the corporation course at Doncaster. The distance is 1 mile, 6 furlongs. In the past sixteen years the winners have been: 1896, Persimmon; 1897, Galtee More; 1898, Wildflower; 1899, Flying Fox; 1900, Diamond Jubilee; 1901, Doricles; 1902, Sceptre; 1903, Buck Sand; 1904, Pretty Polly; 1905, Challowcombe; 1906, Troubadour; 1907, Woolvinder; 1908, Your Majesty; 1909, Bayardo; 1910, Sunnyside; 1911, Prince Palatine.

Most Capable Girls Emigrating

At the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association, Mrs. Arnott, who presided, said she did not think there had ever previously been a year in which so many of their girls in service had emigrated to Canada and Australia. She was glad they should go for their own sakes, because they went to a larger and wider sphere of life, giving them more chance for the future, but she was also sorry, because it was their very best girls that were going. It was a striking fact that the girls who went to the Colonies were the finest, clearest, and most capable members.

FEMALE PIRATES OF OLDEN DAYS

Two Englishwomen Led Adventurous Lives on the Sea And Finally Died on the Scaffold

Long before even the suffrage was an issue in England, in a time when women for the most part spent their lives by their own hearstones, there flourished two women pirates, British born. Real buccanniers they were, who swaggered and swore right lustily and sailed the Spanish Main and did all the other things well-regulated pirates were in the habit of doing. Their names were Mary Read and Anne Bonny, and their records are still to be read in certain ancient British court records.

Mary was one of those strange women who have gone through life dressed as men. She kept her secret from all except a few. Before she was 18 she enlisted as a sailor in the British navy, and a history of pirates published in London in 1724 by Capt. Charles Johnson tells all about her. She did well enough as a sailor, then enlisted in the army and went with a British regiment to Flanders, where she fought through a number of campaigns and was distinguished for reckless bravery and helped keep up the reputation for profanity which goes with soldiers in Flanders. She called herself Frank Read, and apparently no one suspected that she was a girl.

But, being a woman, she could not refrain from falling in love and finally was married to a fellow soldier of whom she had grown very fond. Then they both left the army, bought a little inn in Flanders and settled down to housekeeping.

Mary's husband died in a year or two, and she went back to her wild, masculine life, shipping as a sailor on a Dutch merchantman bound for the West Indies. Before the vessel reached its destination it was halted by British pirates, who, being in need of a sailor, took the lusty Mary, never suspecting that the recruit to their crew was a woman.

Mary pirated for a little while with the boys, and then the ship put in at New Providence, one of the Bahama Islands, and took advantage of a general pardon offered to every British pirate except Captain Kidd and Captain Avery. They all promised to be good, the crew disbanded, and there was Mary out of a job again.

Now, the British Governor of New Providence was fitting out a privateer at that time to harry Spanish commerce. Mary became a member of the crew of this British privateer, and, incidentally, it was a very rough crew she joined.

One member of it was a pirate named Rackam. Another was his wife, Anne Bonny, a buxom wench, who, like Mary, was disguised as a man. The rough and ready Anne Bonny fell in love with Mary, who, she fancied, was a man. Of course, Mary had to explain, and then Anne explained, and they grew very chummy.

The bold Rackam couldn't bear the thought of being a subordinate and dividing up the spoils of war with the Government, so he led a mutiny, soon tossed the officers of the ship overboard and moved his belongings up to the captain's cabin.

They went plundering merrily over the Southern seas, although they do not seem to have been as bad as some members of the profession. Generally the crew of a merchant ship was allowed to go its way after everything of value had been carried off. Needless to say, Mary was killed occasionally, but wholesale plant-stealing was not a feature of this cruise.

Eventually the pirate ship was overtaken by a British frigate. A short fight followed, the pirates served their stubby cannon until a storm of grapeshot drove them from the deck. Everyone rushed to the hold except Mary Read and the redoubtable Anne Bonny, who continued to load and fire the cannon. Anne in rare rushed to the companionway of the ship and roared down to the men below to come up and fight, and when they refused, jerked a great pistol from her belt and fired into the huddling, cursing mass, killing one and wounding several others. But it was of no avail, and in a little while the crew of the man-of-war came tumbling and cheering over the side of the pirate ship and overwhelmed its cowering defenders.

All the pirates, including Anne and Mary, were put in irons and carried back to England where they were tried and hanged.

AWFUL DEATH TOLL OF SNAKES IN INDIA

According to a report published in Simla the number of wild animals destroyed in India last year was 25,840, as compared with 19,383 the year before. This total included 1,434 tigers, 5,452 leopards and 4,261 wolves. Nearly 175,000 snakes were destroyed, more than twice as many as in any previous year.

This increase is largely accounted for by the offering of rewards by the British Government. That this action was necessary is proved by the fact that in one area the paddy fields were so snake-infested that their cultivation was impossible.

Altogether 1,947 persons were killed by wild animals and 24,364 by snakes. The number of cattle killed by wild animals was 91,709, and by snakes 10,538.

With regard to snake bite of human beings it is said that the use of Sir Lauder Brunton's antiseptic is reported in a number of cases to have been successful. In previous years, however, the statistics relative to the successful use of this instrument can only be accepted with reservations.

KILLED BY CANNIBALS

Victim of an Attack on a British Mining Expedition in Nigeria
 Details have been received in England of the recent attack by pagan cannibals in Nigeria on a British mining expedition, and the murder of Mr. Campbell, the Scottish prospector in charge.

It seems that Mr. Campbell, with his only white companion, Mr. Poole, had been working in the locality of the attack for two weeks, during which time the natives were most friendly, and treated the expedition well. All went satisfactorily until in the course of their work it became necessary for the party to erect flags and beacons to mark the limits of the ground.

Unfortunately these and especially small white cloth flags, which were planted among the native crops, aroused the superstitious fear of the pagans, who regarded them as a "juju" against their fairs. Warnings were given as to the threatened danger, but apparently these were not regarded as serious.

Suddenly one morning two old pagan chiefs arrived on the scene, throwing earth over their heads, a proceeding which, it was thought, was intended to indicate that the visitors should go, as the people were getting out of hand. Definite news on the point is wanting, but it is probable that this action was wrongly explained by the interpreter as merely being a native form of salute. In any case, the chiefs retired, and in a few minutes the expedition was attacked.

By good luck Mr. Poole, who was wounded, reached his horse, but Mr. Campbell's "boy" rode off on his, and the luckless prospector was shot down by innumerable arrows. A few days after his naked but unutilized body was recovered and buried. A neighboring village proved loyal, and prevented the murderers from looting the British camp, losing some men in resisting the attackers.

SNOW FIEND BEATEN

Man's Ingenuity Overcomes Obstacle in Mountains

An interesting bit of railroad history, revealing in a striking manner the difficulties and triumphs of construction work in the far west has just been made public by a British Columbia journalist who writes:

"There was an unusually heavy snowfall up the Skeena River Valley in the winter of 1910. Tons of snow lay on the grade of the Grand Trunk Pacific and there were regular avalanches of beautiful white trouble to deal with in the deep cuttings and at exposed portions of the line for the first hundred miles out from Prince Rupert. One memorable day when all but one of the locomotives on the first completed stretch of line at Prince Rupert were out with the snow plows up river there came a blizzard and a big snow slide. Half a mountain of snow slid gracefully on to the grade between the locomotives and the city. The situation was most exasperating. One solitary engine remained in the shed at Rupert. It was not a complete engine. It lacked a tender but otherwise it was an efficient locomotive. The General Superintendent got busy after fighting his way back through the drifts to the city and having received a tank and coal bunker fitted to make up a long emergency train on which he conveyed an army of men to the scene of the slide. After a day or two the lost steel glided back between the marooned engines and the line to Prince Rupert.

In order to avoid once and for all any possibility of a recurrence of such a snow-slide as marooned the engine in 1910 a special tunnel has been bored through solid rock in such a way that not a vestige of snow can reach the track at this point even in the hardest winter. Any slide of snow from the mountains above will glance harmlessly into the Skeena.

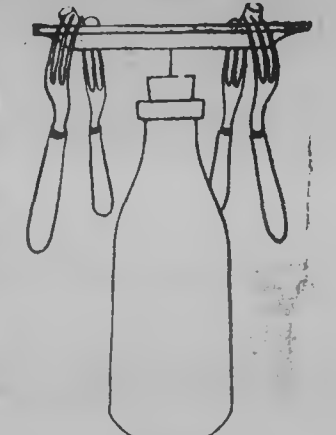

BODY IN MOUNTAIN GLACIER

A Fall of Ice Reveals the Body of a Man

A guide recently came into Kandersteg, from the Loetschenthal, Switzerland, and brought the news that a fall of ice from the Loetschen Glacier had revealed the body of a mountaineer and a hat supposed to belong to another man. The guide believed he had solved the mystery of the two Englishmen, Messrs. Cohen and Hencke, who were lost on the glacier in 1895, when they were surprised by a snowstorm and fell into a crevasse. A later report, however, states that the body is that of a Swiss who disappeared in 1899. The discovery was due to the abnormal melting of the ice owing to the great heat. The discovery of the body came about as follows:

A guide went with a lady over the Loetschen Pass towards Kandersteg. Instead of the usual way over the Loetschen Glacier the lady expressed a strong inclination to take another path, and they came across a very little used track, on which they found the body.

THE PLATE AND THE PIN

Can you balance a dinner plate on a pin?

Easy enough, if you do it this way. Drive a pin into a cork in a bottle. Take four forks and four other corks and stick each fork into a cork, near its end. Then, by hanging the forks about the edge of the plate as shown in the picture, you can balance the plate on the pin.

A Timid Port Hope Maid.
Ralph Bayles, who was working on the railroad near Port Hope, was accused in the police court of that town, with "obstructing a young lady in an insulting manner." The young lady, in court said that Bayles met her on Ridout street and said "excuse me." The timid little thing ran into a grocery store and telephoned for the police. Bayles, she said, and no insulting language.
The prisoner was let go, and is now possibly an anti-suffragette.

Further, that it was his predecessor in office who had entered this land as Homestead land, and had sold and given to his Liberal friends all of it except the 80 acres in question, and he read the records of it in a file in the department, proving his case up to the hilt. One more Liberal lie exposed, another slander, conspiracy brought to light. Is the Liberal cause so bad, so wicked, that it must be bolstered up with lies and supported by slander. Is the truth so very much against the interests of the Liberals, that they flee from it, as from the wrath to come. Why do they prefer lies to truth, slander to fair statements. The truth would injure them beyond all repair. Fair statements of their opponents would keep Grits out of public favor, and keep their opponents in. They resort to lies and slander because they are afraid of the truth. Are they so divorced from truth, that they have a slander factory at headquarters?
Hon. Rogers said in the House of Commons last Friday: "I am rather inclined to believe that this article emanated from the manufacturing establishment that is carried on for the purpose of falsification and the misrepresentation of Hon. members on this side of the House. I say that I honestly believe that that information comes from 'The Central Information Bureau' of the Canadian Liberal party, conducted under the authority of the Right Hon. Sir Wilfred Laurier, a manufacturing establishment which seems to be for the purpose of manufacturing 'slander'."
What did the Hon. Sir Wilfred say to that charge? Here are his exact words: "It is a sort of order."
I am connected with that bureau. I omit. But I do not admit that that bureau is a manufacturer of lies. It will be the hon. gentleman says it is I will call upon him to prove it.

Here then, is the query: Is there a slander factory amongst the chiefs of the Liberal party? Mr. Rogers says their central information bureau is just that. Sir Wilfred says there is such a bureau and he runs it. He does not make up lies. Which are we to believe? No other Liberal denied Hon. Rogers' statement.
What the average citizen asks himself is: Where does all these Liberal lies and slanders come from? There are so many and they are certainly all inspired. Where are they made?
Is there a Liberal slander factory?
Perceval G. S. Webb.

Astonishing Scene In House

Ottawa, Feb. 18.—On Monday afternoon on the assembling of the House, Middlebro (N. Grey), Chairman of Public Accounts Committee, moved for the citing of R. C. Miller before the bar of the House, to give details which he refused to give to the Committee concerning the sum of $41,000 on which he acknowledged business in June, 1907. Sir Wilfred Laurier demanded a notice of motion, but was overruled. Carroll (Lib.) also opposed the motion. It was carried, however, and Mr. Miller will be brought before the bar of the House of Commons.

INTERESTING SCENES IN THE STREETS OF MEXICO'S NATIONAL CAPITAL, WHERE PANDEMONIUM EXISTS FOLLOWING UPRISINGS

CROWDS OUTSIDE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES

GENERAL FELIX DIAZ

TYPES OF MEXICAN CAVALRY FROM THE SPHERES

A condition bordering on anarchy is now existing in Mexico City, following the insurrection which has arisen among the Mexican soldiers. The situation is believed to be beyond the control of the government. The public buildings have been seized by the federal troops, who have revolted and are being led by Felix Diaz. President Madero, who is a prisoner in the palace, is likely to be taken by the revolutionists at any time. Colonel Diaz is a nephew of Porfirio Diaz, who was ousted from the Presidency and took refuge in flight just prior to the revolution which resulted in placing Madero in the Presidential chair. For weeks there has been a feeling of unrest, but so quietly were all arrangements for the revolt made that when the uprising came it found the federal government unprepared to cope with the situation. The residents of the city are in a state of terror, and so far none has been able to forecast just what is to store for them. The adherents of the Madero government realize that their safety lies in flight, and they are leaving the city as speedily as they can.

PETERBOROUGH LIBERAL CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION

Big Meeting in Lakefield Town Hall Elects Officers and Endorses Borden's Naval Policy

Yesterday afternoon the town hall at Lakefield was comfortably filled with members and friends of the East Peterborough Conservative Association. The train for Lakefield was some 50 minutes late leaving the city, which bore visiting members. Among those who took the train were Messrs. J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., J. Thompson, M.P., Havelock, John Read, Otonabee, F. Birdsall, Hon. Pres. Birdsall, Con. Young, E. C. Squire, secretary of the Association; C. E. Pakenham, Norwood; C. Brewster, Havelock; W. Wyld, Havelock; Elias Williams, Havelock; Norris Whitney, vice-president of the Association; G. Ghent, Havelock and Dr. Fraser.

At 2.30 President Andrews introduced the proceedings. He explained how the meetings of the Association are held annually in Lakefield, Norwood and Havelock. He said the first and most important business of the evening was election of officers. If they wanted another president, after three years' service, he would have a kick coming.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. Chairman Andrews said the first business, after communications, of which there were none, and other routine work transacted, would be nomination of officers.

Mr. O. A. Langley, of Lakefield, spoke on the constitution of the Association. Mr. D. Johnston, of Otonabee, spoke of the constitution, which he said, had never been adopted. People should know what the constitution really is. He moved that the constitution should be read. Adopted.

Mr. Johnston moved that the first three clauses be adopted as read. He thought that the financing of the Association should be investigated. "We want all the funds we can raise."

The secretary explained that the Grand Opera House, J. J. Turner & Sons, Owners and Managers, Tuesday, Feb. 25th, The Funniest Man in America, Charley Grapewin, Supported by MIKE DONLIN, The Great Ball-player and ANNA CHANCE, The Balmy Comedienne.

constitution had been adopted. Mr. Langley, of Lakefield, explained that it had been decided to raise funds for the association by a small tax in the various polling subdivisions. He moved in amendment to Mr. Johnston's motion that clause 4 be struck out, except the last part, viz., $1 contribution annually from each polling division. The amendment carried.

Mr. Johnston thought that the 3rd Wednesday in February was not a fit time for the annual meeting. He thought time would be better. He moved that the annual meeting be held on the third Wednesday in June. Carried.

Other sections of the constitution were read and confirmed. Mr. C. H. Bruce, of Havelock, said after the committee had carefully considered the constitution, it was hardly the place of the meeting to make changes after two or three minutes' talk.

Mr. Langley moved that the constitution, from clause 10 be read and adopted. This was seconded by Mr. Carter.

Mr. Johnston moved that the convention be composed of delegates only. This put as an amendment. Dr. Fraser thought officers of the Association should have a say in convention. Mr. Langley's motion carried.

Mr. Langley said that it was probable that during the next few weeks the Dominion Parliament would probably pass a law giving large grants towards county roads. He moved that the members for East Peterborough, and officers of the Association be a committee to call on the Provincial Government to see that East Peterborough gets her share. Carried.

The next business was election of officers which resulted as follows: Mr. Langley, Lakefield, and Dr. Fraser, Lakefield, and H. G. Fitzgerald, Lakefield, were nominated for president. Mr. Brewster, Havelock, and Mr. Johnston, Otonabee, took the chair during election of President. Mr. Fitzgerald elected President. President Fitzgerald then took the chair, and made a short well-worded speech, thanking those present for the honor conferred. Dr. Ford was nominated by Dr. Fraser as honorary president—elected unanimously. Dr. Fraser moved that Dr. Ford be 1st Vice-president. Carried unanimously. Mr. Langley was nominated as secretary, but declined. Mr. Langley moved that Mr. Squires be secretary. The latter thought, however, it would be better to have a Lakefield man as secretary. Mr. Squires was elected unanimously after Mr. Bygott had been nominated, but withdrew. Mr. Ghent was elected on motion of Dr. Fraser, as Treasurer, again. Mr. Andrews was elected an honorary president. Mr. J. P. Peables was elected for Otonabee. Mr. Pakenham was made vice-president for Norwood. Mr. Langley was elected vice-president for Lakefield. Otonabee has Mr. Read for vice-president. Anphodel has Mr. Drain for vice-president. Mr. Brewster was the man for Havelock. Mr. Stephen Miller was elected for Douro and Mr. Parker for Dumfries. Burleigh has Mr. Church re-elected for vice-president. Chandos has Mr. Caldwell for vice-president. Anstruther again has Mr. Lane. Methuen again has Mr. Whitney.

The meeting closed with an enthusiastic and unanimous endorsement of Right Hon. Mr. Borden's policy.

Evening Meeting. At 8 o'clock the hall was crowded to capacity with an enthusiastic gathering. President-elect Fitzgerald very ably filled the chair.

Mr. J. A. Sexsmith, M.P., East Peterborough, made a rousing and patriotic speech. Mr. Sexsmith on rising on the dais was loudly cheered. His address from start to finish breathed the very British Canadian spirit. He referred to the grant of $100,000,000 by the Dominion Government towards the fostering of agricultural industries, and commended the same. Mr. Sexsmith also touched upon the grant made by the Dominion Government towards improvement of county roads and assured his auditors that he would do all in his power, to see that Peterborough gets her share. On the Hon. naval policy, Mr. Sexsmith rose to supreme eloquence. Whilst he advocates shipbuilding in and by the people of the Dominion, he contended that an emergency now exists in international affairs, and that the Motherland, with her established shipyards, is better able, under existing needs, to turn out warships for the mutual protection of the Empire, and her colonies.

Major Sam Sharp, M.P., for North Ontario and Donovan, M.P., Brockville, also gave patriotic addresses and endorsed Mr. Borden's policy. The meeting closed with the usual cheers for the King, the Premier and Mr. Sexsmith.

BRITISH PEOPLE ASTOUNDED BY THE LATEST OUTRAGE

Fortunately Chancellor's Country Home Was Unoccupied, Under Fugitive Law He Was Free to Run—Target For Enemies—The Aim Was Deadly

London, Feb. 19.—Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd George's country residence at Walton Heath, was wrecked by a bomb explosion early to-day, and detectives from Scotland Yard are convinced that the outrage was perpetrated by suffragettes. The bomb was planted in the servants' room, and the explosion shattered the walls on that side of the house, blew out all the windows in the building, and broke many of the joints supporting the floors above and below.

The house was new and unoccupied, as the finishing touches had not been completed. When the workmen arrived to-day they found the house a complete wreck, in one of the front rooms they discovered another bomb that had not exploded. Detectives were notified by telephone and came on the rush in automobiles.

Knew No Danger to Human Life. The fact that the house was unoccupied, and the presence of fresh automobile tracks on the road and driveway, convinced the detectives that suffragettes had planned the explosion to destroy the property, knowing there was no danger to human life in the exploit.

Sensational reports that it was a deliberate attempt to murder Lloyd George are being spread by those violently opposed to the suffrage movement, but it is not believed by the police that anything more serious than destruction of property was contemplated.

The detectives following the trail of the automobile that is believed to have driven the bomb planters to Walton Heath have not given up the hope of finding the car.

Was to Be Set Off by a Candle. The unexploded bomb was composed of a ten pound can of black powder to be ignited by a short candle set in shavings soaked with kerosene. The candle was supposed to burn down until its flame touched the shavings, which, flaming up, would reach the powder. The candle was blown out by the first explosion before it reached the shavings. Remnants of the exploded bomb proved that it was of similar "home-made" construction.

Further indication that the explosion was the work of women were found in two broken hat pins on the floor of the front room. The house was so badly damaged that it is believed that it will have to be entirely reconstructed.

Lloyd George is in the South of France, and has been notified by wire.

HONESTY OF BRITISH TRADER MAKES HIM PREY OF SHARPER

New York, Feb. 19.—A cable from London says. At a meeting of the Royal Statistical Society yesterday, Professor Lincoln Hutchinson read a paper on "The Panama Canal and Competition for Trade." He said that in countries which would be served by the canal, trade has been more concentrated in the hands of Great Britain, the United States and Germany.

The wide-spread knowledge of the excellence of British goods, the reputation of British traders for square dealing, the supremacy of the British mercantile marine and other factors, he pointed out, had operated strongly in favor of Great Britain. This very strength, however, had led to certain weaknesses, to a conservatism of method and to overconfidence in the inevitability of continued success.

On the whole, he remarked, the German and American attack on the markets which would be served by the canal had met with some success. The fact that the United States, in spite of serious handicaps, had more than held its own in competition, pointed to an important advantage. When the canal is in full operation it was self-evident that America will unquestionably derive greater benefits therefrom in the increased accessibility of the markets than any European country.

POLE WAS MURDERED AT HAMILTON, ONT.

Man Charged With Crime Was Taken From Bed Where Wounded Wife Lay. Hamilton, Feb. 19.—Sleeping peacefully beside his injured and unconscious wife and ten-month-old baby Willie Dojko, a Polish housekeeper, was arrested this morning for the murder of Cajimer Linkiewicz, a boarder, whose body was found at 7 a.m. in a woodshed in the rear of the Dojko home. Police believe Dojko murdered Linkiewicz, and then attacked his wife with an axe, and then went to sleep beside her. It is thought the woman cannot recover.

PRESIDENT MADERO SHOT DOWN BY HIS OWN GUARDS

Under Fugitive Law He Was Free to Run—Target For Enemies—The Aim Was Deadly

Mexico City, Feb. 19.—The execution of Gustavo Madero, known as "the power behind the throne," in Mexico, formed to-day a tragic sequel to the upheaval in Mexico City yesterday, when Francisco Madero's administration was turned out by Federal generals, and all the Cabinet Ministers placed under arrest.

The ex-president and his brother, Gustavo, were sent this morning as prisoners to the Arsenal, from which Felix Diaz had bombarded the city for two days. Soon after their arrival there Gustavo Madero was subjected to the "fugitive law," by which he was free to run under the rifle fire of his guards. He fell dead under their bullets.

There is some trepidation also as to the fate of the other prisoners because of the finding of a list of those "who ought to die" among the documents of Francisco Madero's Government, and this it was thought might lead to ugly reprisals.

AN ASYLUM FOR MADERO AND THEN BANISHMENT

Mexico City, Feb. 19.—The resignation of President Madero will be formally accepted by Congress to-day, and General Felix Diaz will be elected provisional President immediately afterward.

Madero will be examined by physicians, and, if plans of the leaders of Congress are carried out, he will be declared insane. The deposed President will be sent to the asylum for insane criminals until peace is finally declared. He will then be pronounced sane, and banished from the Republic of Mexico for ever.

Meanwhile, General Victoriano Huerta is acting as military director of the Republic, and General Blanes is military governor of the Federal district, which includes the capital.

SUFFRAGETTES GLORY IN THEIR LATEST GREAT OUTRAGE

London, Feb. 19.—In the hull belief that the wrecking to-day of Lloyd George's new country house by a bomb explosion was the work of some of her fellows, Mrs. "General" Flora Drummond, militant suffragette, par excellence, to-day expressed great delight.

"It was simply grand," she exclaimed, "it shows the great determination of the women of our cause, and their fearlessness. I heartily approve of all demonstrations of militancy against Cabinet Members except the taking of human life."

GIVES ADDRESS TO-NIGHT. This is the night that the Rev. John McNeil gives his address in Knox church, and there is every indication that more people than the church can accommodate will desire to hear this world-famous orator and preacher.

HOCKEY

The Peterborough Intermediates and Seniors had a practice game last night at Brock street rink. Peterborough will face a pretty strong combination this evening in the Toronto team. The lineup will be as follows:

Peterborough		Toronto
Addison	Goal.	Dwyer
Heffernan	Point	Spratt
Hunter	Cover	Giroux
Hyland	Rover	Coughlin
Meekins	Centre	Park
Brown	Right Wing	Armstrong
McLean	Left Wing	Kelly

The fast and much talked about Tool Room team met an unexpected defeat last night, when they clashed with the type-stickers at the Brock street rink. In the first half the Tool Room succeeded in scoring two goals while the Printers failed to make connection with the nets. In the second half, however, the types got down to business and had it all over the Roomers, who could not locate the goal while the Printers put three goals over on them. In the course of the game Primeau of the T.R. aggregation had a patch worn to the penalty box. The game finished with a score of 3-2 in favor of the Printers. Referee, Ross.

The Brinton team defeated the Plumbers by the score of 5-1. The half time score was 2-1. The game was fairly fast and exciting. The score does not indicate the play. Mr. Ross also refereed this game.

Twenty-five Dollars Does It

This Helps You Buy a Beautiful High, Dry, Level Lot in the Fast Selling Subdivision

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's
Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa
South

It is selling rapidly to good people of the class who will build homes and improve the property. There are a number of fine houses in course of erection, and many others to follow immediately. The lots are grassy lots without rock. They are level and easy to build upon, and there is abundance of clear, cold, pure water. The view takes in the whole City of Ottawa. Streets are 66 feet wide, and are being well laid out with trees and boulevards, and fine gravelled sidewalks just like every Metropolitan City.

Early connection with the City by no less than three electric railways is expected. The Morrisburg and Ottawa Railway have decided to start building on May 1st, 1913. The C. N. Railway have announced their early start upon their gas electric service, which will run right through RUSKIN PLACE. The Kingston and Rideau Lakes Electric Railway have surveyed right through the property and expect to commence work in the near immediate future.

When any one of these lines commence operations look out for an immense increase in price of RUSKIN PLACE Lots.

Lots at Ruskin Place Now Sell for $275, $300 and $375,

A REMARKABLE MAILBAG
In Winter the inhabitants of St. Kilda, the little Scottish island fifty miles from the nearest land, are completely cut off from the outside world two or three times during the summer an excursion steamer calls there, but for the other nine months they can communicate with the rest of the world only by means of the unique postal arrangements called the St. Kilda mail. This is a tin canister, which is tied to a buoy made of sheepskin. Money to pay the postage is enclosed and a wooden label asks the finders of the mail to "please open." The contrivance is cast into the sea when a north-western gale happens to blow and, with good luck it may reach the island of Lewis, sixty miles away. In 1905 the mail accomplished its journey in two days. But very often it is lost. On one occasion three bags were sent off together; two were never heard of again, while the third drifted ashore, two months after dispatch, at Dunrobinness, in Shetland.

Manufactured From Pure Blades of Arctic Moss

Mining engineers and prospectors along the Peel and Mackenzie Rivers, on the Arctic Ocean Slope, discovered a new breakfast food in the Arctic moss abundant there. Thousands of square miles of moss await either consumption by settlers and their pack animals or conservation for future generations by Canadian Pinchots. James East, a mining expert, noticed that dogs were fond of the moss which grows prolifically in that region. His tests showed it contains sustenance for man and beast.

For dogs he made cakes of moss mixed with lard and caribou tallow. Dogs ate the cakes eagerly and thrived. The miners then tried it and subsisted chiefly on the moss. Other prospectors learned of the new food with joy and began using it.

Mr. East named the new food Mossolyte. If conservationists do not prevent it, it is intended to produce reindeer along the Arctic slope to help consume the great moss supply.

WALNUT ORNAMS

Take one pound of shelled walnuts, the white of one egg, one pound of icing sugar, and a tablespoonful of water. Add the water to the white of egg. Stir in sufficient sugar to make a very stiff paste, and flavor with a few drops of vanilla. Mould into round balls the size of a small marble. Divide the kernels of the nuts into two, and when you have formed the balls, press half a nut on each side. Leave them several hours in a cool place to harden.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Why don't the Turks enlist the services of a few of the English suffragettes?

The Mississippi mob which lynched the wrong man was high-minded enough to apologize for their mistake and to make reparation by lynching the right one.

There is evidently "a hot time" coming in Sudbury. The Star of that burg says: "when the new hall will be ready for occupation, it is proposed to celebrate the opening by the turning on of anything stronger than water."

Many of the pulpits are backing Mr. Burnham's proposal to abolish titles. Rev. J. W. Pedley said in his sermon in Western Congregational Church, Toronto, on Sunday, that titles or class distinction have no place in Canada.

Hamilton Times: Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P. for West Peterborough, is the latest Conservative to apply the toe to Premier Whitney. It is suspected that Mr. Burnham's real objection to the premier is that Sir James accepted a title.

The two hundred woman students who suffered from ptomaine poisoning as a result of participating in a "pure food dinner" in Chicago, have been convinced that quite often things are not what they seem.

Persons who are still hunting for the Lost Chord may find it in the chorus of sighs, moans and howls that will be heard when Premier Whitney puts into force in Ottawa his anti-Mingal programme.

THE MEXICAN CHAOS

From the accounts of travellers and the more formal statements of correspondents, it seems that Mexico is merely a big, boiling kettle of anarchy, a land in which revolution has been carried so far that some of the movements consist of revolutions against revolution, where the demand for liberty is so insistent that a citizen feels compelled to go forth and shoot down a neighbor by way of expressing his yearnings for freedom, with all bonds broken and all yokes cast aside.

From time to time, Washington has sent work that Mexico must bring some form out of her chaos. But, so far as signs go, the word hasn't had the desired effect. Mexico keeps on seething, keeps on boiling over, and no one can tell when the business of house-burning, crop-destroying riot and rapine is going to stop. Conditions call for interference. Yet it is doubtful if interference will be attempted until either the people of the United States echo the feelings of Washington in the matter, or the people of Mexico are exhausted and starving, ask the United States to send down troops to part the fighters and force a breathing spell.

That fire which Malero lit has become a conflagration, and Malero himself cannot put it out. The pity of it is that in such a case it is succumb to all prevalent and shameful so all national pride to call for the services of other fire departments. Mexico will probably be in ruins before she can make the slightest beginning at reconstruction.

A CIVIC BUSINESS MANAGER

The appointment by Fort William of a civic manager at a remuneration of $5000 marks a real departure in Ontario towns from old established lines. It is understood that he will be clothed with large powers, will have full control of all the departments and be free to systematize their workings. Our contemporary, the Sudbury Star, thinks that such a position certainly calls for rare qualities in the appointee, but there is no reason why the proper man should not be available for a job of that kind. It is the same principle put in operation by large private corporations, and after all the business of a municipality should not differ much from any other business. The watchful eye, the practical application of ideas, the centralization of authority, coupled with freedom of action, are all factors that should make for the success of the innovation. It is a scheme that merits a careful trial.

In the City of Westmount, adjoining Montreal, the same experiment of having a business manager is being introduced. Of course, he merely acts in an advisory capacity, the council still being supreme. In this regard the analogy is similar to that of general manager and board of directors. The board represents the shareholders and is the final arbiter, but the manager is given a free hand. Similarly the council is responsible to the ratepayers and the civic boss to the council. There is no usurpation of authority on the one hand nor renunciation of power on the other; both have their respective functions.

A great deal will depend upon the man selected as to the ultimate success of the move. He will need to be upright and above suspicion, as the position is peculiarly liable to the onslaughts of the grafter element. Another essential to its success will be absence of aldermanic interference and influence. Let the manager be boss while he is boss, and if not performing his duties, disinterestedly replace him by one that will.

A WHITE SLAVER IS CAPTURED

New Orleans, Feb. 17.—Daniel Fuller Scott, formerly a racehorse jockey under the name of Dan Fuller, who claims that his father was at one time district attorney of New York city, and is at present a prominent legal practitioner of that metropolis, was one of nine alleged white slave raiders caught in the police dragnet Tuesday night.

Fuller, who was well groomed and is a good conversationalist, was found in a room in the Bush Hotel at 4.30 o'clock Wednesday morning, by assistant Chief of Detectives Dan Gregory and Special Officers Harry Gregson and Henry Martinez, with whom he was registered as his wife. The woman lives at 1303 Customhouse street. The two are being held as fugitives from San Antonio, Texas, where they are said to be violating laws in the city's moral code were also fled against the couple.

Montney, Gregory and Martinez worked all night locating white slave raiders and they succeeded in getting two of the arrested, Victor Bichard, a Frenchman, and Jeanette Smith, Neb., for white slavery. They were found at 424 Burgundy street, at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. The woman, who lives at 1292 Customhouse street was additionally charged with the man for violating city ordinances.

At four o'clock Wednesday morning, a plain clothes team located four white slave raiders in a house at 1723 Orleans street, which is a respectable neighborhood. Allen Pugh and Minnie Pugh, Frank Grothkop and Pearl Corrigan, were taken from this place, and were properly charged.

The police believe they will be able to show that they are white slave traffickers.

Three Montreal Women Share $6,000,000—Father and Step-mother Banned

Montreal, Feb. 18.—The three Montreal women who inherit the bulk of the estate of the late David P. Ranken, of Clayton, Mo., are Mrs. R. L. Logan, wife of one of the vice-presidents of the G.T.R., and her two sisters, Miss Mary and Miss Jessie Ranken, all of whom live in St. Louis, before coming to live here. Each will receive about a million and a half of the six million left by the capitalist.

MODERN JUGGERNAUTS

Terrible Death Toll by Motor Vehicles in London's Thoroughfares

Figures published by the Home Office regarding the number of men, women and children killed and injured in the streets of London every week are startling.

During one year no fewer than 410 people met their death in the streets while the street accidents reported by the police, not ending last week, amounted to 15,154. This makes a total of 15,564 killed and injured, which works out at the rate of practically 300 a week.

Perhaps the most terrible feature of London's street accidents is that about one-third of the persons killed in the streets by motor and horse vehicles are children under the age of fifteen. In five years 312 children under seven and 233 between the ages of seven and fifteen were killed in the London streets—a terrible death-roll of 545.

Year by year the total number of killed and injured by vehicular traffic in London has gone up. Seven years ago the total number killed was 173, and injured 11,588, which means that there are now nearly two and a half times as many people killed and over 8,000 more injured every year.

Undoubtedly the chief cause of this fearful list of casualties is the rapid increase of motor vehicles. As a matter of fact, out of the 410 people killed last year there were only 132 fatalities caused by horse vehicles, the remainder being due to motor omnibuses, electric trams, motor cars, and cycles.

It is this enormous increase in motor vehicular traffic which makes the streets of London veritable death traps. To lay the whole of the blame for this remarkable increase in the number of street accidents upon motor-driven vehicles is, of course, somewhat absurd, for while accidents, fatal and otherwise, have increased with the increase of motor cars, motor omnibuses, and electric trams on the streets, there is no doubt that the chief reason lies in the fact that Londoners have not yet accommodated themselves to the changed condition of traffic.

Hundreds of suggestions have been made by various people for minimizing the perils of the streets, but perhaps the most interesting and valuable are those of the famous motorist Mr. Charles Jarrett. "No motor bus," says Mr. Jarrett, "should be capable of travelling at a speed of more than twelve miles an hour, or at a maximum, fourteen."

The suggestion of the habit of many drivers of rushing across main thoroughfares from side streets should be severely dealt with; likewise drivers on main thoroughfares crossing side streets should be made to slow down. "I am convinced," says Mr. Jarrett, "that a few commonsense regulations drawn up by an experienced board would make for an improvement which would be welcomed by the general public, including pedestrians, ordinary drivers, cyclists, and motorists generally."

MEMORIES OF IRVING

His Son's Tale of Snobbery at a Famous Public School

Mr. Laurence Irving, younger of the two actor sons of Sir Henry Irving, at Bristol, received from the British Empire Shakespeare Society a bronze tablet which is to be affixed to the house in Bristol where Irving then John Henry Brodribb, lived as a boy. Comparing his father with Macready, the great Shakespearean actor of a generation before, Mr. Irving said Macready never entirely recovered from the fact that he had a public school education—he never quite got the public school contempt for players out of his mind.

"I shall never forget when, at the tender age of ten, I became a student at Marlborough College the astonishment at dinner as to which I found out that the boys regarded with undisguised contempt the occupation which had already rendered my father one of England's most celebrated sons. "But I did not entirely boy my head before the verdict of the boys of Marlborough College. I caused blood to flow from the nose of the overbearing son of an apothecary named Nicholson."

"Like Kean, my father had known what it was to be hissed and howled at, as well as to be regarded with contempt, and like Kean, he had ultimately aroused such storms of enthusiasm as are only evoked in the theatre when an unexpected meteor rushes into view."

DECLINES TO SUICIDE

Late Mikado's Physician Does Not Like the Old Fashion

The doctor who attended the Emperor of Japan in his last illness is finding himself in difficulties because he will not satisfy the demands of that circle in Tokyo which still clings to old ideas. These persons, who were much impressed by General Nogai's suicide, demand that the doctor also shall kill himself, but the doctor declines to do so. It has been explained to him that he will be held in dishonor if he does not follow the example of Nogai, but all the persuasion of the Mikado's circle has failed. It was not his fault, he says, if the emperor died. He declares that he was unable to attend the Mikado as he should have done owing to the poor etiquette and added that if the emperor had followed his advice and abstained from alcoholic drinks he would still be alive.

Killed While Fencing

While fencing with a fellow playmate at Enfield Grammar School, James Crichton, aged 14, of Bush Hill Park, was accidentally killed. Crichton was playing with fells with another boy named Howard, who was in the school gymnasium. Howard, during the combat, retreated before a lunge by Crichton, and by a mischance Howard's weapon struck Crichton just under the eyebrow, entering the brain. The boys were not wearing masks.

Buildup Assists in Theft

Found guilty at Dublin of stealing eighteen pairs of shoes, a property of Peter Lennor, John Duggan, a convict on parole, was sentenced to twelve months with hard labor, James Hemmings to ten months, and Bridget Poterrell to six months. The trio, it was stated, entered the shop, and while the men were examining some goods the woman made off with the shirts in a cloak after her, one of the men, who had a bulldog on a chain contrived ways to have the dog to the way of those who were trying to capture her.

Interested Relic of Scottish Past Sold in London

There came under the auctioneer's hammer in London a rare personal relic of Robert Burns, and one of peculiar interest to those who value the intimate belongings of great men. It is the last razor that Scottish bard ever used, and belonged to David Paterson, a citizen of Liverpool, who bought it eleven years ago at the dispersal of Edward Quill's collections of antique guns and curios.

In 1898 the razor was presented by Robert Burns, junior, to William Dunbar, who in 1886 passed it on to T. A. Porter, from whom in 1872 it went to J. Harris Gibson. It came into Mr. Quill's possession in 1870, and remained one of his most prized possessions till the day of his death.

SOLDIERS' HARNESS

Canadian Militiamen Will Soon All be Relieved of Leather Equipment

The new web equipment which will shortly be in general use by the Canadian militia will mean far greater comfort to those who have to wear it, in comparison to the uncomfortable leather equipment of bygone days.

The main principle underlying the design of this web equipment is the subdivision of the complete set into what may be called the "marching" and "fighting" portions.

The arrangement of this equipment allows a soldier to have normally with him the whole of his equipment, while, when an action is imminent, the pack and its contents can be discarded, and extra ammunition in "emergency" bandoliers carried in place of the pack.

This equipment is perfectly balanced, is made of flexible and woven webbing instead of the old leather straps. When marching at ease, the belt can be worn loose without the pack shifting. The whole load is easily thrown on and off when resting on the march and there are no straps crossing the chest to press on the lungs. The component parts of the web equipment are: waistbelt, frog, braces, cartridge carriers (right and left), pack, supporting straps, haversack, water bottle and trenching tool carrier.

Our Great Buffalo Herd
 The Old Monarchs of the Plains Thrive in Captivity

The five hundred buffalo purchased by the Canadian Government from Michael Pablo of Montana has increased proportionally and now numbers over fourteen hundred animals, which is by far the largest collection anywhere in the world. Great care is being taken to weed out the cross-breeds and to keep the strain pure.

Whether it dies of old age or is killed or lives on to multiply its kind, a buffalo is a first class investment. Dead it is worth $500 for its head and hide. Killed it is worth the same amount of money plus forty cents a pound for its meat, which is esteemed a great delicacy by gourmands. Buffalo roasts makes delicious Christmas fare for people who can afford it, and between whistles may figure as a place de resistance at banquets of the New York Canadian Club and similar gatherings. Alive, the buffalo is worth $5,000, at which price every zoo in Europe and the two Americas has given orders.

Fifty years ago the buffalo ranged freely over the whole of the north-western plateau. The Canadian prairies still show frequent signs of him in the shape of old buffalo walls, and at one place near Medicine Hat, at the foot of a cut bank, some two hundred feet high, is a great heap of buffalo bones which marks the spot where the Indians made one of their cruel drives. But now the buffalo is a limited monarch. Buffalo Park, near Calgary, Alberta, where the herd is located, is an enclosure twenty miles square, with a high wire fence around it. Inside the fence, some two hundred of the old familiar scenery of his glorious past—the rolling prairie, the poplar bluffs, the knolls and chaparrals, the slow, winding rivers, but not the old excitement of wild life, nor the old Indians on slaughter bent. A visitor who tries to drive across the reservation in a buggy a buffalo bull will charge savagely, but a man on horseback the buffalo rather welcomes, probably because it reminds him of old times. On the whole, civilization has made the buffalo a little slack. Instead of dying on the prairie when the thermometer is sixty below zero, and the snow too deep for him to rustle grass for himself, he will come meekly into the station and eat baled hay out of the feed racks.

CHRISTENED UNDER THE FALLS
 An Indian Girl Baby Receives a Pivotal Name.

A party of Indians went to Niagara Falls for the purpose of christening beneath the great cataract an infant Princess of the Iroquois tribe, thereby repeating the ceremony which was performed in March 1866, upon the same spot. The christening ceremony took place beneath the Horse Shoe Falls on the Canadian side shortly before dusk, and Indians in full regalia participated. The child is a grandchild of Chief Thunderwater, who was christened in the same place. The girl is eleven months old, and was christened "Mabonicee," meaning "Morning Beauty," and "Au-paw-chee-paw-quah," meaning "woman whose name shall never die." The christening was performed by Rev. Geo. Septimus Gerald Hares, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Episcopal Church.

PAT'S REPLY.
 A parson walking along the street the other day under an umbrella saw a bare-headed navvy toiling in a deep hole.

"Aren't you afraid of the heat affecting your brains?" said the parson.

"If I'd any brains I wouldn't be here," said Pat.

GREAT YEAR FOR BRUNETTES
 Blondes do Not Show to Advantage in Season's Modes.

At a recent style show held in Washington under the patronage of a committee of society women the living models chosen were girls with brown hair and brown eyes. No matter how beautiful a girl of the blonde type might be, she did not have a chance of being chosen for the show. The blonde girl is not admired this season, for she does not bring out the good points of the new "creations" and "dreams" launched by the Paris dress-makers for the winter season.

Poirot, the most daring of the Paris dress artists, still clings to the oriental in his latest models. He has finally acknowledged his "jupe pantaloon" or Turkish trouser skirt to be a failure, but the wonderful vivid coloring of the orient still holds his attention, and in some of his startling new afternoon and evening frocks he has combined—color, reds, blues, and greens—color schemes which would be lurid and terrible except when combined with the master hand of a Poirot and worn by a woman of the right type.

The fair beauty of a blonde model is eclipsed when she dons one of these frocks with its vivid color notes. She is not the woman to set it off to best advantage, so an olive skinned, almond-eyed beauty is chosen in her place. It is said there will be no fashions of the blonde employed at any of the big style shows held in this country or Paris.

SIR CHAS. FITZPATRICK
 Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada.

BY HIS FIRST WIFE
 A certain New Brunswick clergyman had occasion to visit the Provincial Asylum in the city of St. John. Passing through one of the wards, he was accosted by a patient, an individual who could hardly lay claim to any but the most mundane cast of countenance, who gravely said to him, "I am St. Peter."

The reverend visitor expressed his gratification at meeting so famous a character, and passed on presently to another ward. On returning a few minutes later, he was again stopped by his piously inclined friend, who surprised him by remarking, "I am St. Paul."

"But," exclaimed the clergyman, "you told me a minute ago that you were St. Peter."

"Ah, yes," explained the man, "but that was by my first wife."

THE MUIR MEMORIAL
 Author of Canada's National Song Honored in Last Resting Place

The grave of Alexander Muir, who wrote "The Maple Leaf Forever," is now marked with a fitting monument. Mr. Muir's body lies in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Toronto. The memorial is of granite and is pyramidal in shape. It bears a bronze, medallion-shaped portrait of the late Mr. Muir and an inscription in bronze as follows:

ALEXANDER MUIR
 1830-1906
 Author of Canada's National Song, "THE MAPLE LEAF FOREVER." Erected by
 The Grand Orange Lodge of British America

The designing of the entire memorial was the work of Arthur James Clarke, a Toronto sculptor.

GARDEN OF EDEN NEAR NORTH POLE

Expedition to Unfold the Mystery of Crocker Land in the Arctic Sea

An attempt is to be made to explore an unknown Northern land that has only been seen—and that at a distance—by one white man, Commander Peary.

The famous explorer, when on his journey to the North Pole in July, 1906, saw the unknown land through a telescope from Cape Thomas Hubbard, the northernmost point of one of the islands lying north of the North American mainland. This unknown land has been called Crocker Land.

The extraordinary part about Crocker land is that its existence was known before any civilized human being had ever seen it. Dr. R. H. Harris, the marine expert, was puzzled by the curious currents of the Arctic Sea. No known land formation could explain them, and the only way to account for their existence was to assume a mysterious land beyond North America and Siberia.

In July, 1906, as stated above, Commander Peary saw this land in the distance, but that was all. The North Pole, the centre of his ambition, lay in a different direction.

Not only did Dr. Harris predict the existence of Crocker Land, but he actually stated its approximate size. From calculations of ocean currents this mysterious Arctic land must be nearly half a million square miles in area, nearly nine times the size of England and Wales.

There are a good many reasons for supposing that the unknown land is the cradle of the human race. Every nation has its legends and traditions from the Chinese to the Greeks, as to where mankind first lived. Some of these legends are very puzzling to explain, but it is a curious thing that many of them point to the fact that in ages past man lived in the Arctic circles, close to the North Pole.

Some of these legends speak of the stars revolving round the heavens in a horizontal direction instead of rising and setting as we see them. At the North Pole the sun, moon and stars move round the sky practically horizontally. In the Arctic circle the heavenly bodies rise and set only once a year, six months' day being followed by six months' night. Here legend and actual facts agree.

Again, scientists are agreed that ages ago (farthest north was not the cold waste it now is, but was a warm, almost tropical land where birds, beasts and plants flourished as freely as they do over Southern Europe now.

No one has been able to settle the origin of the Eskimoes. Many people believe that they are the degraded descendants of races which formerly inhabited places like Crocker Land, when the land was free from ice and snow.

Some of these early inhabitants fled south as the climate changed, while others starved and became injured to the cold. There is every reason to believe, when other facts are taken into consideration, that the Eskimoes are the descendants of those who strayed from the Garden of Eden.

MASSACRE ISLAND

Descriptions of the Interesting Purchase in Lake of the Woods

An interesting purchase was made by the Historical Society of St. Boniface, when they bought at a nominal price, from the Dominion government, the famous Massacre Island at the Lake of the Woods, where the explorer, Sieur de la Verandrye and his 31 companions, including the Jesuit missionary, Rev. Father Aulneau, were martyred at the hands of the Sioux Indians. It will be remembered that the remains of this little band of heroes were discovered by the Jesuit Fathers of St. Boniface on the site of the old Fort St. Charles on American Point, in the Lake of the Woods.

It had been learned from historical documents that the bodies of the martyrs had been removed to Fort St. Charles for burial, and this led to the expedition which ended in their discovery and the tracing of the site of the old fortress. The bones and skulls of the martyrs together with many curious found on the historic site, were brought to St. Boniface college.

Massacre Island includes about 66 acres, and is in Canadian territory. The massacre spoken of above, and after which the island was named, occurred on the 8th of June, 1738, just one and three-quarter centuries ago.

ANIMALS IN BUNCHES
 Each Species Formerly Had a Distinguishing Name for a Group

Much of the language used in various sports is our inheritance from the Middle Ages. Different kinds of beasts when in companies were distinguished by their own particular epithet, which was supposed to be in some manner descriptive of the habits of the animals. To use the wrong term of these words subjected the would-be sportsman to ridicule.

Many of the terms have passed away, but some of them are still retained. This list from the Middle Ages is still good usage to-day. A "pride" of lions; a "leopard" of leopards; a "herd" of hares and of all sorts of deer; a "bevy" of roes; a "looth" of bears; a "singul" of boars; a "sowder" of wild swine; a "route" of wolves; a "barra" of horses; a "ray" of seals; a "stud" of mares; a "pace" of asses; a "barren" of mules; a "team" of oxen; a "drove" of kine; a "flock" of sheep; a "trite" of goats; a "skulk" of foxes; a "down" of hares; a "neet" of rabbits; a "clowder" of cats; a "schrewdness" of apes and a "labor" of moles.

BIRDS' NESTS IN STRANGE PLACES

Birds choose some remarkable places in which to build their nests. Of all our birds, the cunning and do-mesticated robin has perhaps the keenest eye for ready-made sites. Last year a robin built his nest in a sewer-pot in a garden. It was close to a footpath where people were constantly passing, yet robin showed no fear. Many other instances are told on good authority of strange building places. An instance is on record where a pigeon built a nest and hatched young in a corner of a dressing-table which was used daily. Two robins, although evicted twice, succeeded at the third attempt in completing a nest in a magic-lantern. They obtained entrance to a room through a ventilator. Nests have also been found in pillar-boxes, scarecrows and limekilns.

Sergeant-Major Under General French

Veteran of Boer War Who Lost Health on the Veldt Tells Experience.

Good Advice for All who Have Indigestion or Stomach Disorders

In his home at Waldegrave, N. S., no one is better known than "Sergeant-Major Cross, late of the 4th Queen's Own Hussars. Speaking of the ill-effects of a campaign upon a man's constitution, the Sergeant-Major writes: "I served under General French during the late Boer war, in the capacity of Sergeant-Major. It was perhaps owing to a continued diet of bully beef, hard tack, and bad water, but at any rate my stomach entirely gave out. I was in such a state that I could eat nothing without the greatest suffering. The army doctors did not help me much, and since leaving the service I have been very miserable. Some few months ago a friend told me he had been a great sufferer from indigestion until he tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they cured him. I confess I was without much faith I bought a box, but the first dose made me feel better than I had been for a long time. Dr. Hamilton's Pills completely cured, and now I can eat everything and anything. I have recommended them to others and in every case the result has been similar to mine."

Quick, sure results attend the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They cure disorders of the stomach, correct indigestion, make you feel uplifted and strengthened. To renew or maintain health, Dr. Hamilton's Pills always prove a good prescription. 25c. per box, five boxes for $1.00. Dealers, the Cataractine Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

HON. ROGERS TELLS TALE

Minister of Public Works Shows Slander of Regina Paper to be Untrue

On the floor of the House of Parliament, a few days ago, Hon. Robert Rogers (Minister of Public Works) said: "I desire to ask your attention for a few moments to a question of privilege. I have had this morning placed in my hands a sheet, which I presume the rules of this House compel me to dignify by the name of newspaper, published in the city of Regina, under the title of the Morning Leader. This paper, bearing date of February 7th, contains a most scurrilous article misrepresenting—dishonestly entering—the facts, and leaving as far as possible."

It possibly can, an implication and statement reflecting upon my honour in the discharge of my duty as Minister of the Interior. Perhaps I cannot do better than read to the House a portion of the article of which I desire to complain. It is headed in very large type:

Bob Rogers gives Prince Albert City Property to Favorite—Hall of City Limits Restriction—Homeestead Land and Given to Arthur Donaldson without Notice—The Public—Mr. Martin exposes the Deal—Question of the Regina Member of Parliament—The Eldest Answers from Present Minister of the Interior—Admitting the Most Shameless Transaction of Which Any Canadian Government has ever been guilty.

After giving full particulars concerning this evidently unfounded statement, the Minister said, in part: "With respect to the statements contained in this article, I deny absolutely that there were any instructions whatever given, either by me or by any officer of the Interior Department, so far as I am concerned, absolutely knowledge of any act of wrong-doing in connection with this article. Further, there was no act of wrong-doing upon the part of Mr. Donaldson, who brought against him by his wife, the former Lady Randolph Churchill.

Early in January a rumor of incompatibility in the Cornwallis West household was made public and it was said that Mrs. Cornwallis West was about to institute proceedings for a judicial separation. The announcement made to-day points to a divorce rather than a separation and this, according to English law, involves a charge of infidelity.

KING EDWARD HOTEL ABANDONS EXTEN. IDEA

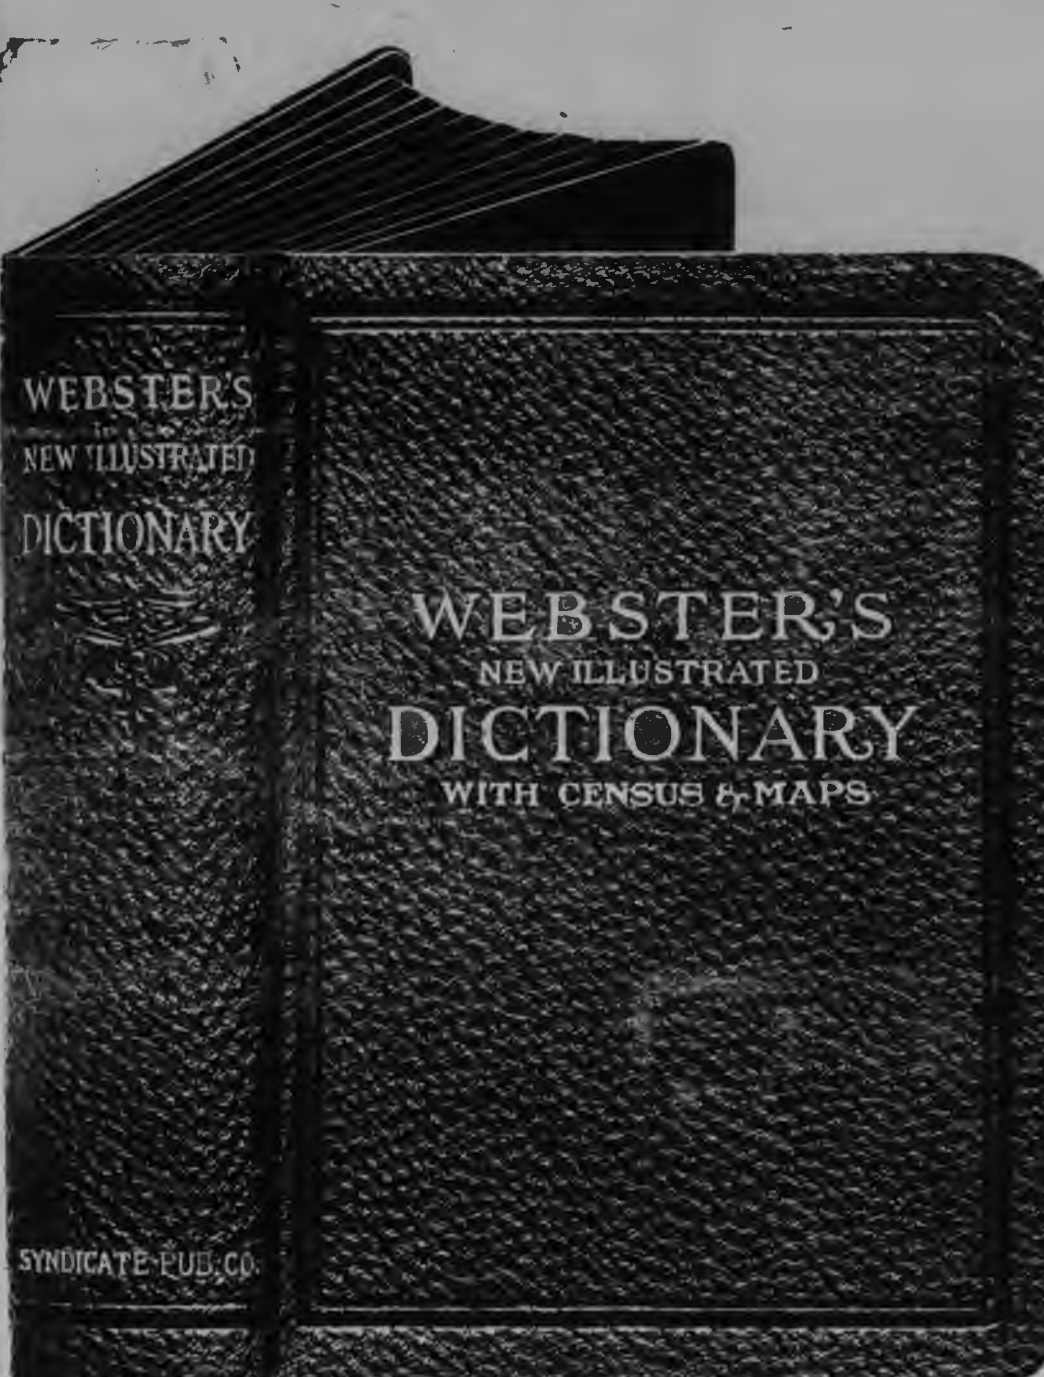

Toronto, Feb. 18.—That the plan for the extension of the King Edward Hotel has been practically abandoned is the information given by one right on the inside of things. This step is the result of the refusal of the City Council to grant permission for the construction of a bridge across Colborne street to the proposed annex. When this proposal was turned down, the hotel authorities then had plans drawn for the putting of four or five stories on their present building. Estimates were obtained from New York engineering firms, but it was found that the cost of reconstructing the foundations and lower floor to bear the extra weight of the new stories was prohibitive.

E. J. Lemox, the architect, admitted that the probability was that the hotel would remain as it was for the present, "unless the question of the bridge is reopened, and the permission granted."

The remainder of the Minister's speech and his replies to questions buried at him by the opposition, demonstrated that the attack was simply a scurrilous rant.

This step is the result of the refusal of the City Council to grant permission for the construction of a bridge across Colborne street to the proposed annex. When this proposal was turned down, the hotel authorities then had plans drawn for the putting of four or five stories on their present building. Estimates were obtained from New York engineering firms, but it was found that the cost of reconstructing the foundations and lower floor to bear the extra weight of the new stories was prohibitive.

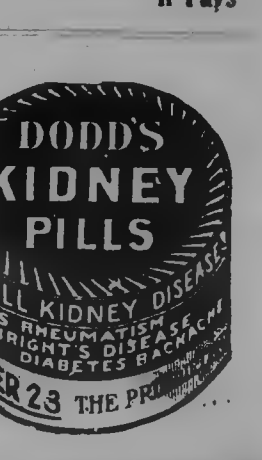

E. J. Lemox, the architect, admitted that the probability was that the hotel would remain as it was for the present, "unless the question of the bridge is reopened, and the permission granted."

THE GREAT TRAGEDY

(The Ottawa Citizen)

The real tragedy was not enacted at the South Pole. It is much nearer home than that. The Valley of the Shadow of Poverty and Death, laid, and faced without hope, but bravely withal, is nearer to us than the Barrier. I know of a case recently where a charwoman, Irish by birth, but French by marriage and adoption, showing that even a poor, voiceless woman can blaze the trail for racial irreconcilables, begged for work. Left penniless, a widow with a large family and a blind father, she did not wonder into the wilderness to die, nor did she challenge the admiration of the world, nor beseech her family to the nation, nor "reap the harvest of the world's applause." She begged for work. Oh! if she could only get steady work to be sure that her children should not die of slow starvation or be driven in the streets. This was what she meant when she begged with her tears for work. The prime minister was communicated with. The return mail brought a request to ask the Minister of Finance. In twenty-four hours she had work, steady work at "the buildings," and now she is happy—happy even when her children are likely to die with croup and she has to sit by them through the night, happy even when without having closed an eye, she can go to work in the morning. As between Commander Scott and this poor woman, which has earned the homage of kings? And yet there are many such. If Sir James Whitney realized that to take the tax off buildings meant the virtual obliteration of most of the slums, if he knew that much of the two per cent. of municipal tax would go to the tenant of the tenement he might talk less of wrecking homes by tax reform. The point at which a building stops because it does not pay, is the point where the poorest (and sometimes the most deserving) of the human race are between home and no home, between life and death (or worse). In the name of the poor, in the name of the young sacrifices

REV. JOHN McNEILL WAS SPEAKER AT KNOX CHURCH

Eloquent Toronto Divine Gives Address and Held Audience between Tears and Laughter

Mr. Mulligan and Mr.
Kenneth Shook Rend
Splendid Vocal Solos
In Fine Voice and Were Very Much Appreciated

Last night the handsome new South Side sacred edifice, Knox church, was crowded to capacity by an audience that assembled to hear an address by Rev. John McNeill, pastor of Cooke's Presbyterian church, Toronto. Rev. Mr. Keith, the pastor, occupied the chair. A male choir rendered some selections, in good harmony. Mr. John Crane presided at the organ and Messrs. G. W. Mulligan and K. Shook gave well rendered solos.

Rev. Mr. McNeill read from Isaiah XL. The glory of the Lord shall be revealed, for the Lord hath said: The people who deny this are a sore affliction to listen to. The grass withers, but the word of the Lord stands forever. There is a spirit of pessimism abroad. The grass may wither, but the Lord's word will stand forever. It does not matter a button what the newspapers say, but the word of the Bible stands forever. If you want to be up-to-date and say something worth listening to, quote the words of God. Let the preachers lift up their voices and not mumble. If you are speaking of God speak up and speak loudly. Don't use tentative suggestions. The world may think that the preachers do not amount to much, but they have got a grand mission. The Lord can come down as hard as the Nasmith hammer but still as gently. The speaker said he was tired of hearing of "the problems coming up for settlement."

If there is any problem to solve, it is God's. There are no problems to omnipotence or omniscience. "I bend your little brows and don't worry, God will settle all." Nations are as nothing in the sight of God. We owe everything to God and God owes nothing to us. This takes the cream off Rule Britannia or the Maple Leaf. The Guardian angels never sang Rule Britannia. (Here the speaker stopped to "sort out" five boys in the gallery who were laughing. He said he had been a boy himself and knew a lot of boys together could not help making a noise.) "Remember, you pitiful little idiot, when you are strutting along the streets of Peterborough, there is someone looking at you. Think of that you fool." Rich or poor your time must come. Who can run us down for our little pretensions or aspirations or who can lift us like God?

Rev. Mr. Keith said that no formal welcome was going to be given to Mr. McNeill, the large audience was sufficient welcome. A collection was taken up, and Mr. Shook gave a vocal solo.

Rev. Mr. McNeill again spoke and asked "why can't we enquire a verse for God?" He had noticed seven men and women in the audience who never opened their mouths whilst the last hymn was sung, the poor things! What right have you to keep dumb? (Laughter). If you know any friends in Toronto who need attention, tell them to come to a man named McNeill at Cooke's Church. It is Christ's presence with us that is our salvation. The Roman Catholics in speaking of the incident where Christ stilled the troubled sea, call the boat "the barque of St. Peter." (Laughter.)

YUKON MEMBER SPOKE HERE

Mr. Thompson, M. P., of The Yukon Gives Graphic Account of Canada's Far West Territory

Last night the Peterborough branch of the Canadian Club, gave the regular dinner at the V.M.C.A. Mr. Morris, the president, occupied the chair and introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Thompson, M.P., for Yukon territory.

On rising, Mr. Thompson was greeted with applause. He said in part, after pointing out the geographical position of the Yukon, and telling about its size, told how it took him three weeks in his trip to Ottawa, to attend Parliamentary duties. When on his way to Ottawa, he travelled from Ottawa for 100 miles by dog train, and 110 miles by stage. Speaking of the natural resources of the Yukon, he mentioned the wonderful agricultural possibilities. Barley and wheat can be produced by getting the right kind of seed. Of course, mining is as yet the staple product of the country. Seven months in winter they see no sun, but only the reflection from its outside. The mercury goes in winter to from 65 to 68 below. The wonderful possibilities of the Yukon River were also touched on. They raise splendid potatoes in the Yukon. The meeting ended in the usual patriotic manner.

MADERO MAY FACE DEATH

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—The execution of ex-President Francisco I. Madero was predicted here to-day. Feeling against him is strong, and it was believed an effort would be made to have him put to death for the killing of Col. Rivera, when the latter attempted to arrest him and the members of his cabinet.

Adolfo Baco, sixty years old, superintendent of the National Palace for many years, was executed late last night. It is said that the aged man faced the firing squad bravely. He laid bare his breast to the rifleman and his last words were "Viva Mexico."

THE WEATHER.
To-day—Fresh northwest winds; fair and a little colder.

MAY ALLOW SUFFRAGETTES TO STARVE THEMSELVES TO DEATH

General Demand That No More Pardons be Granted to Those Sent to Jail and That They Be Not Fed
If They Refuse to Eat

London, Feb. 20.—The suffragette outrages of to-day and yesterday came as no surprise. For a month past the Pankhursts have been uttering bitter threats against Lloyd George, denouncing him as a traitor against women. They are also exceedingly hostile to Winston Churchill. Mrs. Pankhurst has lost many followers recently, and yesterday's outbreak, for which she takes credit, is a desperate attempt to recover her hold and authority. English women to-day blantly despair, regarding the Pankhurst group as the worst enemy of their cause.

How Can They Be Checked?
Everyone is debating how the militants can be effectively checked. The present method of imprisonment and release by the Home Secretary after a few days' hunger strike is reducing the law to a laughing stock. There is a general demand that the Government shall refuse to issue further pardons, shall refrain from forcible feeding, and shall permit the prisoners to starve to death if they so desire.

The Daily Chronicle demands that the Government shall substitute effective monetary penalties against the militant organization for imprisonment. "To inflict the present martyr-making penalties is simply to pour oil on the fire. It is the very thing the promoters want."

Not Much Money for Scott Fund.
There is deep disappointment over the comparative failure of the Scott funds, which untidly only amount to £22,000. This is due to the uncertainty as to the destination of the fund, and the divergent appeals. Now that the schemes have been amalgamated, sufficient will be quickly raised to care for the families of the explorers.

Europe May Evolve Peace

London, Feb. 20.—In a review of the European situation The Times says: "It is now believed in St. Petersburg, that both Roumania and Bulgaria are willing to submit their differences to the decision of the powers. According to the information of our St. Petersburg correspondent the actual arbitration is likely to be conducted by the Russian and Italian Governments under the auspices of Great Britain. In Sofia considerable uneasiness is caused by reports that the Powers are likely to lean toward Roumania's view. In Bulgaria the impression is that this particular danger will soon cease to be acute.

The Roumanian Cabinet met to-day, and our Bucharest correspondent reports that public opinion is in favor of arbitration. The outlook with regard to the Austro-Russian differences on the subject of the delimitation of Albania is not so hopeful. The question has been complicated and envenomed by being made in a sense a test of diplomatic strength instead of being discussed on its merits. But there is no reason to despair of a solution. To-day Sir Edward Grey and the Ambassadors will resume their meetings and will consider the latest Russian proposals, which have already been communicated to Vienna."

AWFUL HAVOC DONE BY FIERCE TEN DAYS' STRUGGLE

4,500 Persons Were Killed—City Rent as if "Struck by an Earthquake

Mexico City, Feb. 20.—So swift had been the current of startling events since the conclusion of the terrible ten-day conflict in the heart of this city, that it was not until to-day that the half-crazed populace found time to draw a deep breath and look at them upon the havoc by the tremendous bombardment. It is, indeed, a panorama of death and destruction that spreads itself to-day before the eyes of the thousands of curious citizens and foreigners swarming the streets within the zone of the unparalleled combat. The spectacle is an infinitely sad one. Hundreds of beautiful homes, with gaping holes torn in their walls, totter on their foundations in all parts of the city. Scores of splendid public and business structures expose their marred and battered walls.

Poor Suffered Greatly.
But it is in the district where the poorer classes had their homes that the element of tragedy is most terribly manifested. Hundreds of the houses in this quarter were literally reduced to ruins, while upon the doors of thousands of scared and crumbling dwellings hang hands of erpe commemorating the deaths of fully 2,000 non-combatants killed during the long horror. The city that Porfirio Diaz tried to make the most beautiful in America, and nearly succeeded in doing, stands to-day a shattered wreck. The destruction could hardly have been more complete had the capital been riven and twisted in the grip of a mighty earthquake.

MRS. PANKHURST NOW SAYS THAT WOMEN WERE GUILTY

London, Feb. 20. With Lloyd George's proposed new country house at Walton Heath, Surrey, near the well-known golf course where the Chancellor of the Exchequer is accustomed to play in his few leisure moments from the cares of State, which was partially destroyed by a bomb explosion, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, speaking at a suffragette meeting at Cardiff, Wales, said she personally accepted full responsibility. "We have blown up the Chancellor of the Exchequer's house. The authorities need not look for the women who actually did it. I personally accept full responsibility for it." Mrs. Pankhurst declared that if she was sent to penal servitude she would go on hunger strike. "The Government will then either have to set me free," she added, "or let me die. If I drop out a hundred women are ready to take my place."

Mrs. Drummond, another militant leader, in an interview acclaimed the outrages as a "grand" act, successfully carried out, and showing the determination of the women. But if it is actually the work of the suffragettes they have made another blunder, for the house is not the property of Lloyd George, he not having yet signed the agreement and had not intended to occupy it before Easter. Recently Mr. Lloyd George decided to have a residence at Walton Heath for weekends. Sir George Riddell, to whom a good deal of the land in the neighborhood belongs, built the house and it is still in his hands. Although described as a week-end cottage, the place has fourteen rooms, many of them considerable size, and a garden of £2,000.

FRENCH PRESIDENT WANTS LARGER MILITARY FORCE

Impossible for Any Nation to Be Effectively Pacific Unless Always Ready for War, Says Raymond Poincare

Paris, Feb. 20.—Raymond Poincare, the new President of the French Republic, in his first message read to the two Houses of Parliament to-day made some pointed references to the necessity of increasing France's military forces. He quoted the adage that "Peace is not decreed by the will of one power. He said it was impossible for any nation to be effectively pacific unless it was always ready for war. A France with diminished power and exposed by her own fault to denunciations of humiliation would, he said, be France no more. It would, he contended, be a crime against civilization to allow the nation to decrease its forces while other nations developed theirs without cessation. He eulogized the army and navy, and then alluded to the diplomacy of France having labored silently during many months "among the perils of a redoubtable crisis."

The message has been approved by the Cabinet Council and was countersigned by Premier Briand.

URGE THAT DR. SYMONDS BE ASKED TO LEAVE CHURCH

Montreal, Feb. 20.—Feeling for and against Rev. Dr. Symonds, the rector of Christ Church Anglican Cathedral, preaching in a Presbyterian church in the parish of another Anglican minister without permission from his bishop is beginning to run very strongly, and the Men's Association of the church of the Ascension have passed a resolution "respectfully asking the Synod to take the strongest possible action by recommending the bishop to withdraw Dr. Symonds' license or enact such legislation as will restrain him or any other priest in the diocese from similar action now or at any future time."

While it is a fact that there is no written law on which to base such action as the Men's Association of the Church of the Ascension recommends, there is precedent for it.

Wine and Beer

Special to The Times.
Toronto, Feb. 20.—The new temperance legislation which the Ontario Government is promoting, is likely to be radical. The report prevails that the new temperance plank will be a measure introduced to cut off the issuing of all licenses in the Province of Ontario except those for wines and beer. The harder liquors, it is said, must go.

Engineer Died After Run.
Windsor, Feb. 20.—Within a few minutes of the time he stepped down from his engine in the Windsor yards of the Grand Trunk after finishing his regular run from London, Alfred Crouch, a veteran Grand Trunk employee was stricken with heart failure and died almost instantly.

Greatest Invention of age For Hoarseness, Weak Throat

Nothing So Far Discovered Is So Beneficial to Public Speakers, Ministers, Singers and Teachers as Catarrhose

Because of its strengthening influence upon the vocal cords, Catarrhose cannot be too highly recommended as a wonderful voice improver. It almost instantly removes hoarseness or hoarseness, thus insuring clearness and brilliancy of tone. Catarrhose keeps the mucous surfaces in perfect condition, and its regular use absolutely prevents colds and throat irritation, thereby removing the singer's greatest source of anxiety—hoarseness of voice. The most eminent speakers and prima donnas are seldom without Catarrhose, and credit is no small degree their uniform strength and brilliancy of tone to its influence.

"For many years I have been a sufferer from that terrible disease known as Catarrhose, and you can readily understand that Catarrhose would be a serious hindrance to my professional life."

"One year ago I read in the 'Progress' a convincing testimonial from one who had been cured of this disease through using your Catarrhose."

"Believing in the merit of Catarrhose, I tried it."

"Catarrhose cured me and has been the means of my success."

"You see, Catarrhose is the name it will help relieve some from suffering, and I will always remain."

"Bob Bixley, New Glasgow, N.B."

Mr. Bixley is one of the best known singers and entertainers in the Maritime Provinces. Everyone knows him, and his testimonial for Catarrhose is the best sort of evidence of what great benefit Catarrhose is to those suffering with throat weakness or catarrh.

Complete outfit, consisting of a beautifully polished hard rubber inhaler and sufficient liquid for recharging to last two months, costs one dollar. Sold by all druggists or sent safely to your address by mail if price is forwarded to the Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N.Y., or Kingston, Canada.

Ten thousand copies are now sold annually, which find their way all over Canada and the Empire, indeed the world.

The Facts booklet is stuffed as full of information as a sausage is of meat. It is the happy and true way an English Journal puts it, and the new issue, which includes many new features and improvements, presents a striking story of the wonderful advance of Canada in a single year. We now talk in billions.

The booklet is issued at 25 cents a copy, by the Canadian Facts Pub. Co., 589 Huron Street, Toronto, and is sold by all the leading newsdealers.

NATION OF WARRIORS

Montenegrins Descended From the Best of Old Serbian Stock

The Montenegrins are a race of splendid fighters. They are the descendants of the aristocrats of the Serb race, for when the empire of the old Serbian Empire the nobles fled to the Black Mountains over the Adriatic, and there for centuries defied the Moslem authorities. For five hundred years they struggled to make their principality a kingdom, and that they have succeeded is proved by the title of their ruling monarch, King Nicholas I, the father-in-law of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. The Montenegrins are a military race, and in many respects resemble the Japanese, having both the strength and weakness of the soldier caste. The national proverb of the Montenegrins is "You might as well take from me my brother as my life." They are famous for the use of arms, and in their mountain country are well known as unquenchable.

Cleanliness is the chief merit claimed for a rubber stamp pad enclosed in a box with a roll instead of the usual tin affair.

NERVOUS ENERGY

This force—in the body—comes from the digestion and assimilation of Right Food; the kind Nature requires for building and maintaining healthy brain and nerve cells.

DISASTERS BREED PATENTS

Inventors Get Busy Following Every Great Calamity.

New York, Feb. 19.—It is announced that a Swabian man has patented an airtight ship with a thin of airtight compartments surrounding the hull above the waterline. Experiments with a model showed that the tanks kept it afloat even when the whole hull was filled with water.

It is a well known fact at the patent office that every great disaster, such as the Titanic wreck, causes a sharp increase in the number of new inventions.

During the past few weeks several new bulletproof shields have been patented and the French police authorities have actually purchased a number of devices of this kind for use in such cases as the siege of the Anarchist Bonnet.

Some little time ago there were no fewer than three successive cases of persons falling out of moving trains. The result was that young "dive-brokers" of Solme, received the sum of £2,500 from the Great Central Railway for an ingenious lock for carriage doors.

Everyone will remember the dreadful submarine disaster of July 1909, when C-11 was struck by the steamship Eddystone, and sank with all hands, except a few who managed to spring out, and were picked up by C-12.

The result was the invention and adoption of the life-saving helmet, which is now provided for the use of all submarine crews. The apparatus which weighs 16 pounds, consists of an airtight helmet, within which is a metal box containing oxyethylene, which when ignited, gives off pure oxygen. The arrangement can be put on without assistance in thirty seconds, and enables the wearer to breathe comfortably for an hour.

DEALT IN MILLIONS

Spectacular Business Career of Hooley the Promoter of Companies

Ernest Terah Hooley, the English financier who was released from Wormwood Scrubs prison, after serving nine months of a one year sentence for fraud, had a most diversified career. In a few years he piled up what was apparently a colossal fortune, and then there came a sudden collapse followed by bankruptcy proceedings, and all his vast wealth vanished into nothingness.

He dealt in millions. One stupendous scheme followed another, and the public were dazzled at his apparent success, and his name became a synonym for financial sagacity and daring. Peers and baronets and titled ladies crowded his reception rooms to ask for "inside" information as to his companies.

Hooley was the son of a lace manufacturer in Nottinghamshire, who from the position of a working "twist hand" built up a small but profitable lace-making business at Long Eaton, near Nottingham. It was in turning his father's business into a limited company that the coming financier tasted blood. This opened his eyes to the possibilities for buying concerns cheap and then persuading the public to buy them at a profit. He went to London and took up his quarters at the Midland Grand Hotel, where he had a suite of eight rooms. His big schemes began with bicycles.

Altogether, his fifteen companies floated between 1894 and 1896, were capitalized at $50,165,000.

Besides bicycles, Hooley had many other large schemes on hand. According to the Official Receiver's statement, Hooley promoted twenty-five companies having a total nominal capital of $93,050,000.

His "consideration" for the same—that is the price at which they sold to the companies—was $10,682,210. The purchase money paid by him for these properties was $45,517,470.

This showed an apparent gross profit of over twenty-five million dollars, and this by no means represents the actual profit which he made.

The bankruptcy proceedings in 1898 made a great sensation. The estate was finally wound up in 1903, and unsecured creditors received a dividend of about 20 cents on the dollar.

WON FREAK WAGER

Two London Clubmen Walked Long Distances inumps

As the outcome of a sporting bet two members well-known in London clubland walked 52 miles from Piccadilly to Brighton, one in evening dress and both in thin socks and dancing pumps.

The bet was made at the Isthmian Club, and it is said, ran well into four figures. One of the gentlemen was Mr. Eric Maturin.

When the journey was started at midnight, Mr. Maturin wore white "shorts," a flannel shirt and the necessary thin socks and dancing pumps, and the other gentleman wore evening dress. They were attended by two friends in a motor-car.

The night was cold, but the competitors, neither of whom was in any sense of the word a "walking-man," made good headway.

The latter part of the journey was not easy, and although Mr. Maturin was in good condition, he gentleman in evening dress showed signs of fatigue. Eventually, after a hard battle their goal was reached inside the stipulated twenty-four hours.

London's Oldest Man

David Jackson, an inmate of the Tooting Home, Tooting, London, celebrated his 104th birthday by dining with sixteen friends at a restaurant. The old man has had an interesting career, and he is justly proud of the fact that he is nearly, if not quite, the oldest inhabitant of London.

Born near Lynn in 1808, Jackson began work at eight years of age, following the occupation of a scow-crow. A little later, he was apprenticed to the merchant service. The life at sea suited him and, when out of his time, he obtained a captain's certificate. Fortune smiled on him, and in time, he saved sufficient money to purchase his own vessel. But the ship was lost, and David found himself practically destitute.

He went to London in 1860, and for 21 years he was engaged by a firm of window-blind manufacturers. He continued to do odd jobs till within two days of his 99th birthday, when he was induced to enter the Wandsworth Workhouse. Thence he was transferred to the Tooting Home.

Jackson can remember the peace being proclaimed after Waterloo.

ENORMOUS COST OF EUROPEAN WAR

Industry Would be Paralyzed and Maintenance of Armies Would Require Immense Outlay

What would be the cost of a present day war if it involved several of the great European powers? This question aroused much discussion in the economic circles in Paris and the Gaulois printed some interesting opinions on that subject from recognized experts on such problems.

The most striking of these was that of M. Jules Roche, former Minister of Commerce, who made some remarkable calculations on the point. Talking as a dealer in the expense incurred by France during the war of 1870, he reckons that, assuming for the sake of example, that the six nations of the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente went to war, the cost of maintaining the armies alone would work out at no less than $5,400,000,000 a month, without taking into account the other expenses.

"And what would be their internal condition?" he asks. "The belligerent nations would be struck with general paralysis, and would see their very means of subsistence disappear. Suspension of work would be forced even on those who were not included in the general mobilization since whom would there be to work?" To whom would they sell their products? How could they be exchanged or transported? All the large works and factories where the division of labor is completed would have to be shut. Even agriculture would be impossible. "No more purchase or sales, either the economic or the financial death of labor, an abrupt stoppage of the heart's action in the national organism of all the nations at war, with profound reaction on all others—such would be the consequences of a general conflagration in the present conditions of European civilization."

Similar opinions are held by Paul Leroy-Beaulieu, member of the Institute, and one of France's leading economists. He thinks, however, that in such a crisis France would suffer less than the other great powers, since being self-supporting, she always has at her disposal an immense accumulation of agricultural products of the previous year whereupon she could draw for a long period. She would thus be in far better circumstances than Germany, for instance, which would find the greatest difficulty in obtaining imports, being cut off by the English fleet on the one hand and by Russia on the other.

"But," he adds, "it is after the war that the vanquished nations would have the hardest times, for many years would be necessary to repair the losses and heal the wounds."

Alfred Neymarck, vice-president of the Society of Political Economy, after pointing out the huge magnitude of commercial, industrial and financial expansion in credit and business generally among the six nations which would be engaged, asserts that the consequences of an abrupt cessation of all this activity through a general war would be incalculable in its vastness.

In his annual report as school medical officer for Cardiganshire, Dr. R. W. Rees stated that corsets are almost universal among infants and girls, and produce injurious effects by hampering the movements and development of the body and counteracting the beneficial effects of organized physical training. Corsets are not of ten worn by the best looking and country children, the report should be adopted.

The Great Phosphate and Mica Mines of The Progressive Mining Company Ltd.

Non-Personal Liabilities

Capitalized at $500,000. Divided into 500,000 shares of $1 each.
400,000 shares in the Treasury

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

If you wish to make your money work

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

The Company possesses 687 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

THIS PHOSPHATE AND MICA MINES

are paying enterprises right from the start of its operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

THE PLANT, MACHINERIES

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

Speaking at a reunion of Orange men at Clabby, Ireland, Mr. H. Lattimer referred to the indifferent attitude of the Orangemen in that district to their Church duties, and advised them, in that respect, to take a lesson from the book of their Catholic fellow countrymen.

The Rev. F. Hilary, rector of the parish, said Mr. Lattimer had touched a very sore spot with them as Protestants. It was, he said, woefully sad to see the small number of Orangemen who attended the Sunday services.

THE HOLY GRAIL AND ITS HISTORY

Much Doubt as to the Authenticity of Legends Surrounding Supposed Priceless Cup

An interesting account appeared in a Paris paper of the Holy Grail which is preserved in the Church of St. Lawrence at Genoa. It is a large green cup, presumably hexagonal which, according to popular belief, was used at the Last Supper and was requisitioned at the Crusades. But it seems to have a history far anterior to that great event and it is claimed for it that it was a present from the Queen of Sheba to King Solomon. At all events, it seems to have been in Genoa since 1101, when it was given by a knight who brought it from the Holy Land when he returned from the First Crusade. It formed part of the booty which fell into the hands of the Crusaders at the siege of Caesarea.

For a long time up to 1476 it was not allowed to be touched, not even to adorn it with precious stones which the faithful were desirous of offering. This rigour, was due to the fact that there was a fear among the citizens that should the cup be broken pilgrims would cease to visit Genoa.

The cup was at one time believed to have been cut from an enormous emerald. For a long time the vessel was kept in a steel box, and was taken out only once a year. Then it was lifted by silken cords, and placed by the Archbishop on the High Altar for veneration. After the fifteenth century, according to the chronicles of the day, many fetes were held in honor of the vessel, which attracted thousands of pilgrims, not only from Italy, but from other countries. La Condamine examined the cup, and he declared that it was of glass.

It was brought to Paris by Napoleon, who was persuaded of its intrinsic value. On being submitted to the Institute, La Condamine's view was upheld. But the verdict of the scientists was kept a profound secret. There were several reasons for this. It was thought that if the Genoese learned that it was only glass they would be less anxious to ransom it. By some means the secret seemed to be such, and in 1815 the Genoese got it back at pretty much their own price.

$25 FOR EVERY BABY

Australians Ridicule Commonwealth Maternity Allowance

Press and public in Australia also fun of the Commonwealth Maternity Allowance Act, which provides for the payment of $25 to every woman who gives birth to a child either in Australia or on board a ship proceeding from one port of the Commonwealth to another.

It has been calculated that if the $25 were claimed for every baby born, for example, in the State of South Australia in a year, it would absorb more than half the State land tax. Fortunately for Australia's financial position there seems to be too much independence among the citizens of the Commonwealth for full advantage to be taken of the Act. Very few applications have been made for the bounty during the short time it has been in force.

DISPENSING JUSTICE BY QUEER METHODS

The method of dispensing "justice" in the Ottoman Empire has resulted in a crop of stories being told, says a writer in the Yorkshire Weekly Post.

A good one relates to a poor Turkish slaver in Constantinople, who, being at work upon the roof of a house, lost his footing and fell into the narrow street upon a man. The pedestrian was killed, while the slaver escaped without material injury. A son of the deceased caused the slaver to be arrested. The cad listened attentively and, in the end, asked the slaver what he had to say in his defence.

"Dispenser of Justice," answered the accused, "it is even as this man says, but Allah forbid that I should be evil in my heart. I am a poor man, and know not how to make amends. The son of the man who had been killed, however, demanded that the slaver be punished. The cad meditated for a few moments and finally said: 'It shall be so.'"

Then to the slaver he said: "Thou shalt stand in the street where the father of this young man stood when thou didst fall on him." And to the accuser he added: "Thou shalt, if it please thee, go up on the roof and fall upon the culprit, even as he fell on thy father. Allah be praised!"

Why London Was Chosen

The proposal to hold the Turkish-Balkan peace negotiations in London appears to have emanated from the Porte, which, besides desiring that they should take place on some neutral ground, also wished to enjoy the advantages of Sir Edward Grey's advice.

The British Government agreed to the suggestion, and expressed gratification at the confidence shown by the belligerents. The Bulgarian Premier, M. Guechoff, was especially pleased at the choice of meeting place, and in the course of an interview said: "I spent my youth in England, and studied at an English University, and learned to love and admire the English people."

Sandwichman and Princess

John Inshaw, a sandwichman, recorded a vote of thanks to Princess Louise of Saxe-Coburg for speaking at a bazaar at Liverpool, the object of which was to raise $100,000 for the homeless of Waldores. During its sixteenth year of existence the League has provided nearly 5,000,000 meals for children, 200,000 dinners and dainties for invalids, 45,000 garments for the poor, 125,000 beds for the homeless, and 128,000 midnight meals for the unemployed.

Boom on the Clyde

The leading Scotch industries are enjoying the greatest boom for years. Clyde shipbuilders have over sixty million dollars worth of British Naval work on hand, whilst the mercantile tonnage under construction in the Clyde yards exceeds three-quarters of a million tons.

LOST OVER LONDON

Modern Phase of the Perils of a Great City—Airman Was Mixed

A French aviator, M. Manlio, who lost his way while flying from Sittingbourne to Hendon, was observed by thousands of Londoners as he circled above the city endeavoring to get his bearings. He had crossed the channel to Margate and was continuing his flight but found the atmosphere so thick with fog that he became confused and was directly over the city before he realized it. After circling two or three times over the Bank of England, he flew east till he struck the open country and alighted safely.

LUNACY IN LONDON
 Interesting details as to the number of lunatics in London and the cause of insanity are contained in the report of the Asylums Committee of the London County Council.
 In London's ten asylums according to the report, there were 20,419 lunatics.
 Of 3,000 patients admitted during the fiscal year 800 are classified as hereditary lunatics. Another 800 come under the category of "alcoholic hereditary," whilst 700 drank themselves insane. Privation and starvation made eighty-four mad.
 A table as to the occupation of patients shows that insanity is more prevalent amongst those who work with their hands than with those who use their brains. Of 1,700 women admitted 442 were domestic workers and 584 of no occupation, these latter including housewives. There were 166 in the "dress" industry. Professional occupations could be said to be brain workers, all the others being persons whose occupations were of a manual nature. With the men the facts were almost the same.

 to Invade Persia Mirza Polytiaeff, a good looking young Gossack woman of South Russia was frustrated in her plans to take a Gossack regiment into Persia.
 Having collected her men, all young Gossacks who knew how to shoot and fight—she wrote a letter to the local Ataman, or Gossack chief, for a pasport to leave the country, saying:
 "As a Gossack born and bred, I can no longer bear the disorder that reigns in Persia and therefore have raised a regiment of Gossacks to go and put down the anarchy there. I hope you will allow us to march as soon as possible."
 Her disappointment was intense when the Ataman refused her request, saying that there would be international complications if she invaded Persia. But he showed much sympathy with her true Gossack spirit.
 She continued drilling her men in hope of being allowed to go at a later date.
 When drilling she wears short skirts and a conical fur cap.
 She is a crack shot and can ride
 as well as any Gossack in the Czar's army, knowing also the trick of riding when lashed to the horse's girth—a good way of entering the enemy's lines unseen. She can ride head down, bareback or any other way which is not surprising, as she belongs to the best riders in the world. Her age is twenty-three and her religion Mohammedan-Tartar. All her life she has lived in a tent and thinks komiss (fermented donkey milk) the greatest delicacy in the world.

Disliked Insurance
 George William Whitaker, an undertaker, was summoned at Liverpool on two informations for obstructing and assaulting an inspector under the Insurance Act.
 The inspector, named Varnals went to Whitaker's premises to see the contribution cards of the workmen.
 Mr. Whitaker refused information and eventually pushed the inspector into a yard.
 The assault was denied, although it was not contended that Whitaker did not commit an offence under the Act. What he complained of was the manner in which the demand for the cards was made. He was annoyed at being called from his work for such a purpose. He admitted that he lost his temper. A fine of $2.50 and $8.50 costs in each case was imposed.

USED AS WALLPAPER
 Chinese of Newchang Have a Fancy for Old Daily Journals
 The Trade and Commerce Department at Ottawa has received interesting information from its Majesty's consul at Newchang concerning cheap printing paper in China. It seems that in the customs statistics of New-chang for last year there appears as a separate item under the heading of paper an importation of 37,606 cwt.
 of old newspapers, valued at $14,618.
 These old newspapers, which appear to be mostly British, are in extensive demand in the Newchang district for wall paper for native houses and cottages.
 The local Chinese newspapers have enormously increased their circulation during the year. This is doubtless the reason for greatly enhanced demand for printing paper, both of native and of foreign make of cheap quality.

TO CHANGE CALENDAR
 Prominent Canadians Think the Year
 Should Have Thirteen Months
 The Royal Society of Canada wants the calendar revised. A delegate waited upon Premier Borden and urged that he exercise his authority in Canada and exert his influence with the British Government to have the number of months in the year increased from twelve to thirteen, and that each month should consist of twenty-eight days. This, it is urged, would make them all the same, and would also result in each day of the week coming every year on the same day of the month.
 Premier Borden promised the delegate that their request would be received with attention of his government. The delegation consisted of Sir Sanford Fleming, Sir James Grant,
 Mr. R. J. Macdonald, Mr. R. O. Bouclaud and Mr. W. D. Levesque.

Turkish Doctors and Their Cures

Turkish physicians have a very peculiar method of adapting remedies to
 the cases with which they are called upon. A Turkish traveler relates the following of a physician of that country who was called to see a patient suffering from typhoid fever.
 The doctor, after considering the case hopeless, left prescribed for the patient, and took his leave. The next day, in passing, he furnished of a servant at the door. If his master was dead.
 "Dead!" was the reply, "no he is much better."
 The doctor hastened inside to obtain a solution of the miracle.
 "Why," said the patient, "I was consumed with thirst, and drank a full glass of the juice of pickled cabbage."
 "Wonderful!" quoth the doctor; and out came his tablets, upon which he made this inscription: "Cured of typhus fever, Mohammed Axa, an upholsterer, by drinking a full glass of pickled cabbage juice."
 Soon after, on being called to see another patient, a dealer in embroidery who was suffering from the same malady, the doctor forthwith prescribed "a full glass of pickled cabbage juice."
 On calling the next day to congratulate his patient on his recovery
 the doctor was astounded to be told that the man was dead. In his bewilderment at these phenomena, he came to this safe conclusion: "Although in cases of typhus fever pickled cabbage juice is an efficient remedy,
 it is not to be used unless the patient
 be by profession an upholsterer."

Teeth for Scholars
 On its being stated at Cambridge, Scotland, School Board that $100 had been granted for the medical treatment of poor children, the Rev. Gerald Stock raised the question of supplying the children with artificial teeth. The children who were unable to eat, he said, were unable to benefit of the grant. "I think there are very few school children so bereft of teeth that they are unable to masticate," Dr. M. B. Mortyn retorted that the grant was for the medical treatment of the children, and that the expense of the grant would only touch the fringe of the problem.

What They Deserve
 Parliament started a riot the other day at the production of a new play.
 Such things do not happen in Canada, but they are richly merited by some of the alleged plays that are thrust upon us.
A LUCKY WOMAN
 A New Jersey woman in an alienation-of-affections suit recently received $2,500 for the loss of her husband's love. And many of her sisters will probably consider her a lucky woman, more to be envied than pitied.

MACEDONIAN CUSTOMS
 No One Washes in Still Water and Rotten Pears a Delicacy
 The hospitality of the Macedonian household is extended to any stranger or traveller, according to Mrs.
 Herbert Vivian, who published an account of her journeyings through that country in a London paper. During a long tour of Macedonia, Mrs. Vivian only stayed in one hotel, being at other times more cordially received in one house or another.
 "I have a vivid recollection," she wrote, "of a visit to an Archdeacon of the Orthodox Church in a town thirty miles or so from Skopje. The little house was charming, with a smiling garden, but it was guarded like a fortress. High walls surrounded the place, and huge barred gates were closed every night with pomp and ceremony. The ground floor was used as a granary, and the living and sleeping rooms were approached by a ladder which led to a balcony. In this balcony was a trap door, and when one got safely through it was let down and bolted.
 "I was given a big room, with particularly no furniture save a wooden bench running the whole way round, and near the ceiling a shelf ornamented with bowls and cups. All day I wondered where I was going to sleep, but at night time the Archdeacon's sister appeared with long, long mattresses which she strewed on the benches, and by signs made me understand this was my bed. I felt very travel-stained and dirty, and finally made my hostess understand I wanted a wash. She returned bearing a curious old chased pewter ewer and basin and insisted on pouring the water on my hands whilst I held them out.
 No one in the Balkans will wash in still water, and it is a special attention when your hostess insists on acting as maid.

RECORD OF FINGER PRINTS
 First for Criminal Purposes Received at Ottawa From Dawson
 The first finger prints of any criminal from Dawson were received at the office of the Criminal Identification Bureau, Ottawa. There were nine of these finger prints, photographs and records of criminals in all, and these were, as stated, the first from Dawson, although others have been received from different of the Mounted Police Stations in the West. There are now over 8,100 finger prints at the bureau, the increase for some time having been at an average rate of 150 a week.

PRECIOUS ASHES
 Radium Burned in Grate by Accident and Mixed With Cinders
 A firm of Birmingham chemists undertook a delicate task—that of recovering from some ashes about $600 worth of radium. This substance is frequently used for the treatment of skin diseases by private practitioners, who hire the precious mineral. It is contained in what is known as an applicator.
 A doctor having removed from a petitioner's body the applicator and surgical dressings, inadvertently threw them both on to the bedroom fire. The doctor, much distressed hastened to direct that possession should be taken of all the ashes from the fireplace, and this was done at once. The cinders, contained in a cardboard box, weighed about two pounds and it was found by scientific investigation that they were radio-active. The method of recovering the radium is very slow as all the ashes have to be reduced to powder by slow ignition in oxygen, but eventually it is hoped to regain about half of the precious stuff.

LICENSED HAWKERS
 Street Vendors in London City Now
 Wear Badges
 London hawkers are now wearing on the left arm a metal oval-shaped badge and a number issued by the Commissioner of Police. Street vendors have increased so greatly in number of late in the most frequented thoroughfares in the City that it has become a serious problem of traffic.
 Altogether about 3,000 men and women sell in their names to be registered, but a very large number of the applicants did not succeed in making good their claims as they have to show a plausible title to three years' street trading before being allowed to do business at their favorite haunts—Ludgate Hill—the Strand and so on.

A BABY SAMSON
 Sheffield Child Not Yet Five Years Old Strong as a Man
 In every sense of the term the four and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Chester, of Sheffield, England, is somewhat of a handful to his proud parents. Master Chester is accustomed to take his exercise with 56 pound weights and the bending of nails. Before he was two and a half years old he astonished his mother by tearing with a 35 pound weight.
 When a babe of two years old he gave her a carcase that made her
 "see stars," and dislodged a tooth.
 The doctors are, of course, interested in him, and after a searching examination—aided by X-ray apparatus—they pronounced him to be a thoroughly normal child, though probably the largest of his age in England.
 Four feet in height, and weighing 112 pounds, he measures nearly forty inches round the chest, with proportionate sturdy limbs and remarkable muscular development. Naturally, something more than normal diet is needed to sustain this energetic and steadily-growing youngster. Save for a daily bowl of two of soup, he is practically a vegetarian, though very partial to fish. Milk, eggs, and bananas, however, seem to be his main stay. Of milk his daily consumption averages about three quarts, quite apart from a jar of cream, which he prefers slightly soured. Six or eight eggs, and a dozen and a half bananas, and, of course, plenty of bread and butter, complete his daily dietary.

English "Clogs" Higher
 New clogs are costing more in the English cotton districts owing to the advance in the prices of materials.
 The head of a clog-making firm in Bacup stated that leather which three or four years ago was 34 cents per pound had gone up to 42 or 44 cents, and that which used to be 44 cents had risen to 56 cents.
 Consequently it pays the cloggers better to make up old stuff by sock-second-hand uppers, and by selling them at a price considerably below that demanded for new goods. Customers show decided disinclination to pay the extra coppers which have to be put on to the price of new clogs owing to the great rise in the price of materials.
 In addition, there is the genera movement for the advance of wages demanded by the journeymen cloggers, five per cent, having lately been conceded by a big Bacup firm.

Do You Realize What This Means to You, Mr. Business Man?

A Bad Heart, Its Cause and Cure

Many, firmly convinced they are suffering from heart trouble, have often been told that their hearts are strong.

Sometimes you wake up at night, heart throbbing like a steam engine. Your breathing is short and irregular; pains shoot through the chest and abdomen, and cause horrible anxiety. Your trouble isn't with the heart at all. These sensations are the outcome of indigestion, which has caused gas to form on the stomach and press against the heart.

Just read what happened to Isaac McAllister, of Belle River, Ont.:

"Three months ago I was a weak, sickly man. My appetite was poor, food fermented in my stomach, I had sour risings and indigestion. At night I would often wake with gas in the stomach and heart palpitation. I consulted my doctor and used remedies that my friends advised. NOTHING HELPED.

"One day I received a sample of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and my cure commenced. To-day I have a vigorous appetite, strong heart action and no sign of indigestion. I feel younger and healthier than ever before."

Your druggist or storekeeper sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from The Cataract Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Fred Cassan 16 years old was placed on a farm to try and make a man of him. Fred however, preferred the bright lights of the city to endless vistas of stumps and woodchucks. He came to Peterborough, and raised a disturbance in the western part of the city. Fred was sent to the Shelter until his employer comes for him.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's
Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa
South

OWING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation.

The population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600,000. Salaries would amount to $550,000. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $63,000 for meat, $96,000 for potatoes, $5,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $45,700 for butter, $27,600 for eggs. All told the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for clothing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,428,350.

The fine new $40,000 plant of the Bishopric Walbridge Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A second industry to employ 200 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land while a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK of the number of stores to be built there.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters,

bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether separate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousand and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homelife now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

EDITORIAL NOTES

These "bullet-proof" automobiles in Mexico City must lessen the riders' fear of puncture.

It is an open secret that the City of Mexico has lost much of its popularity has a winter resort.

The country has settled down to the conviction that Mr. Rowell's campaign against Sir James Whitney was as fruitless as it was gentle.

Even in horse stealing New York is a victim of "system." Since Jan. 1 120 have been driven off harness wagon and feed bag.

That civilization is moving forward is indicated by reports from all parts of the country telling of the passing of that annual nuisance known as the comic valentine.

In a newspaper interview Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish says it is expensive to be rich. Our constitutional abhorrence of the use of impolite language makes it impossible for us to tell why the lady what it is to be poor.

For stealing five cents from a butcher shop, Joseph Hanthorn was sentenced to penitentiary by a Montreal magistrate, for seven years. Had he taken a quarter Hanthorn would probably have got life.

"Noblesse oblige" is evidently the motto of the queen of England, for she is said almost constantly to be seen with knitting needles in hand, making articles of comfort that she contributes to the London Needle Work Guild.

The chairman of Boston's new licensing board is opposed to the "perpendicular drink." He insists that saloons must provide tables and compel patrons to sit down before serving them. One disadvantage of this plan, however, is that when patrons are compelled to sit down and drink they find it impossible to get up.

A Massachusetts judge has ordered a cold bath for all tramps before they are brought into court. A hobo doesn't mind getting himself into hot water when arrested, but a cold bath is another story. It is likely to be the rock upon which the whole hobo movement will be wrecked.

the company, and will involve an expenditure of $16,000,000. This sum of money will not all be spent on new work, but at least ten millions of dollars of this amount will be utilized in completing works which were commenced last summer, including a portion of the new Lake Shore line and the extension from St. Johns to Farnham Junction, and the local Forsythe street branch at the east end of Montreal. The majority of the new work for which appropriations have been made is principally double tracking on various parts of the Eastern line, and this will involve the expenditure of nearly six millions of dollars. The main line from the Islington to Guelph Junction on the London sub-division will be double tracked for a distance of thirty miles which is necessitated by the increase of traffic and will prove a considerable relief to the congestion on this subdivision. It is contemplated to have the work finished by November. On this stretch there are a few small bridges to be built, but nothing of any great importance. The tenders have been called for but contracts have not yet been let. It is proposed to double track portions of the main line between Homford, which is the junction between the main line and the Toronto-Sudbury branch, and Port Arthur, covering a distance of 135 miles. The total distance between those two points is 553 miles. Last summer seventy-five miles of this line were double-tracked at the points which most facilitated operation of traffic. It is intended to eventually double track the whole of this long stretch and when completed it will be a great advantage to the haulage of grain after navigation on the great lakes is closed. The intention of the C.P.R. is to carry out the double tracking of this 135 miles at various points so as to facilitate operation of trains. The lightest work will be carried out first and the heavy work along the north shore of Lake Superior will be completed later on. Surveys are in progress and will be continued. The principal items of heavy work being due to change of alignment and grading revisions. Another important work to be commenced this year is the double tracking of a small stretch of fifteen miles between Agincourt and North Toronto. Apart from the work of erecting two steel viaducts over the Don Valley, the work on this line is by no means heavy. The other work to be finished this year includes the interprovincial and James Bay Railway extensions from Kippawa northward, grade revision on the Soo branch from Algoma to Sudbury and the Lake Shore line from Glen Tay on which work is well under way and which it is expected to be for traffic in December next.

It is officially announced that the forestry experts of the Canadian Pacific Railway are about to start a study of the forest areas between Lake Superior and Eastern terminals of the company. This work will be the first of its kind carried out in Eastern Canada, and will be watched with interest by many of the lumber and pulp companies, as up to this time no information of a definite character has been obtainable on this subject. Growth and increment data is to be gathered in the different timbered districts. The C.P.R. is seeking the co-operation of the Provincial Government, and also that of the Dominion Government in this work. Figures and facts of value in conserving our forests areas will be carefully gathered. As practically every industry in Eastern Canada is affected by the property of the lumber business, and this in turn depends upon the raw timber resources, any plans for the proper handling of forest areas, especially with a view to future production should prove of immense value.

IS BACK AT WORK

John McElroy's Heart Disease Cured By Dodd's Kidney Pills.

He Was Ill For a Year and on Work All Summer, But Found a Quick and Complete Cure.

Henton, Carleton Co., N.B., Feb. 21.—(Special)—After being laid up for an entire summer and feeling sure that he was to be another victim to heart disease, Mr. John McElroy, a well-known young man of this place, is a well man again. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

"I went to a doctor, who said I had palpitation," said Mr. McElroy to a reporter. "But his medicine did not seem to reach the spot. I suffered for over a year and all last summer I was not able to do a day's work. My sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I felt heavy and sleepy after meals, and I was always tired and nervous. I prepared freely with the least exertion. Reading what Dodd's Kidney Pills had done for others, I made up my mind to try them. Before I had finished my first box I felt different, and by the time the second was half gone I was working in the woods and doing good work."

Closed kidneys mean closed circulation. Closed circulation means heart trouble. Dodd's Kidney Pills promote good circulation and cure heart trouble.

THE CATHOLIC REGISTER

Pays Its Respects In Its Usual Way To Local Protestant Minister—Mr. Burnham Also Comes Under The Lash.

The following is taken from The Catholic Register, the official organ of the Roman Catholic Church in Ontario, which speaks for itself. Protestants not only of Peterborough, but elsewhere, will be interested in what the hierarchy thinks of some of our best known and most respected Protestant ministers. We may add that The Times is able to say that Mr. Burnham did not send the Catholic Register a copy of The Times.

"J. H. Burnham, M.P., has had a great meeting at Peterborough to save Canada from the Pope. He sent us a marked copy of The Times to show how well he did, and to show how us to mortal combat. He had Ne Temere Hinks with him, and our old friend Pogue, whom we were wont to rhyme with rogue, and so we missed him ever since from the scene. There was also a new light present, a master of mixed metaphors, muddled Scripture, and had grammar, named Riddford; and he certainly got rid of something that time. They declared that they were the only people who had a right to religious or patriotic opinions in Canada, and sang 'Rule Britannia' until the lady with the trident threw a fit. They do not like the Catholic Register either, and said so, which grieves us to the heart. Mr. Hinks is going to bring Mrs. McCann's pastor over from Ireland to raise more Ne Temere noise. Now that will be nice. He may save himself the trouble, however, for Riddford, Pogue and himself will do for all purposes of comedy, and 'J. H.' can always be depended on to be a very elephant in pantomime. It was sure a great show they put up at Peterborough on the 7th. 'Enoree' in other words 'some ore!'"

A NEW RELIGION IN OLD LONDON

Man of Mystery Claiming to Be Reincarnation of Ancient Egyptian King

A new religion, or rather a religion which includes several of the tenets of different creeds, New Thought, Theosophy and Buddhism, is attracting many followers in London, prominent among whom are the Countess of Warwick and Mrs. Cora Unguist Potter, the celebrated actress. The founder, or exponent, of this ethical principal is one Thurston, who claims to be the reincarnation of Sethi, the father of Rameses I, the first head of the greatest dynasty in the history of Egypt, the Nineteenth. Thurston claims to have devoted many years to the contemplation and study of Eastern mysteries, and is well fortified against the charge that he is a faker. However, about his claim may be that he is the reincarnation of the founder of the Rameses dynasty, there can be no doubt that he knows more about Egyptian history and the salient facts of Oriental religion than any of his inquirers. For several years he acted as the English tutor and coach of a number of Indian princes at Eton, and from them he may have gathered much lore. Also he travelled abroad, and it is said that he even made his way to Tibet, disguised.

Those who apply to Thurston to his early history are referred to the tomb and temple that he is the reincarnation of Sethi. As to his more recent history he does not speak. It is obvious that he is a man of education and it must be admitted that his plan is reasonable. This is not a matter of mere speculation, for the mummy of the ancient Egyptian has been preserved and may be studied by the curious. As far as a mummy can be a picture of a living man, the mummy of Sethi is the picture of Thurston.

Thurston's addition is to found a city on the Alexandria coast which will be the new city of the future. In his religion, to establish the city would require much money, and perhaps considerable diplomatic skill. Thurston's claims are, however, not only founded on the fact that he is a reincarnation of Sethi, but also on the fact that he is a reincarnation of the founder of the Rameses dynasty. This is a claim which is not only a claim of reincarnation, but also a claim of a living man, the mummy of Sethi is the picture of Thurston.

THE SALMON PACK

The pack of all kinds of salmon in British Columbia for the season of 1911 is said to be short of seven hundred and fifty thousand cases. The total pack of sockeyes on the Pacific coast was estimated at 1,000,000 cases, and of sockeyes at 600,000 cases.

THE OPPOSING ARMIES

Strength of Allied Balkan States Compared With the Turk

From the best obtainable figures which credit Turkey with an army of 500,000 men; Bulgaria with 225,000; Serbia with 175,000; Greece with 179,000 and Montenegro with 40,000, it will be seen that the troops at the command of the Coalition States outnumber those of Turkey. And the difference is intensified when matters are looked closer into. While Turkey has 500,000 available, it is doubtful if she could employ more than 200,000 owing to the impossibility of feeding and transporting them. It is possible too, that of these 200,000 at least 50,000 would be raw troops.

At the same time the Turkish army of today is a far better fighting machine than it was two or three years ago. Whatever faults have been committed since Abdul Hamid was deposed, that of neglecting the defences of the country has not been perpetuated, with the result that all branches of the service are in a state of efficiency to which they had for years been strangers.

But the Sick Man's foes combined make a formidable army. First comes Bulgaria, with a first line of at least 125,000 highly-trained men. In addition, there are large drafts available from the reserve, and an equally large army of militia.

Their equipment is quite as good as that of the Turk, and in several respects better. They have engineers, telegraph and signal service, transport and medical corps, and Red Cross ambulances. Bulgaria's sole inferiority to Turkey is in cavalry, the respective figures being:—Bulgaria 6,000; Turkey, 20,000.

Serbia has an excellent military constitution on paper. Like all modern armies, the Serbian is divided into three categories:—(1) The line, which is liable to be called to the colours on mobilization; (2) the reserve troops; (3) the territorial or militia.

The Serbians are armed with the Mauser rifle and have a quick-firing field gun. The marked weakness of the Serbian army is due to the poverty of the country and the consequently inadequate equipment and margin of stores necessary for a campaign of a serious nature.

The Greek troops are armed with the Mannlicher-Schönauer rifle, and 300 Schneider-Canet guns.

Montenegro has armed her army with the Russian "3 line" rifle of the 1893 pattern. She has a few old field guns.

The King's Pigeons

Just recently King George has constructed a magnificent new pigeon loft in place of the old one standing at Sandringham. King George's original loft was a cottage with an aviary attached to one of the lower rooms in which the birds could take air when not at liberty, but the new loft has been designed by Mr. J. Walter Jones, the Sandringham schoolmaster, who is the trainer of the Royal pigeons, and there is most excellent accommodation for the birds. The loft is divided into three parts: one part is set aside for stock birds—that is to say, the pigeons that are kept to breed the racers. The largest part of the loft is for the racing pigeons that have to fly in competitions; and the other portion is for the youngsters.

The new Royal loft is in the form of the letter "L," twenty-eight feet one way and twenty feet the other, while the centre of the "L" is filled in by an aviary twelve feet wide. There are thirty-six nest boxes in the old bird loft, and sixteen in the stock-bird loft, so that accommodation is provided in the new Royal pigeon loft for fifty-two pairs of racing pigeons. The interior of the new pigeon loft is seven feet from floor to ceiling, and the roof is flat and in order that when the birds arrive home from training and racing there may be no time wasted the entrance is fitted with an electrical appliance that notifies at once when the birds have entered.

There is no doubt that the association of King George with the sport of pigeon racing, like the association of the late King Edward, has done much to give an impetus to the sport. It is only further evidence of the interest the King takes in his subjects' pastimes, and it can be truly said there is no more honest pastime than pigeon racing, because it requires much study to breed and produce birds endowed with such a high degree of intelligence as racing pigeons. Not only must their intelligence be cultivated and improved, but also their physical properties must be brought to the best possible state of perfection.

A FIENDISH GOVERNOR

Terrible Tortures Ascribed to Ruler of Persian Province

Dreadful tales of fiendish cruelty are told of the Governor of Tabriz by Edward Granville Brown, professor of Arabic, Cambridge University, who desires the British government to interfere with a man whose sole delight is to torture and kill those of his subjects who profess an opposite political opinion to his own.

Shugand Dawla, governor of Tabriz, writes the professor, is a monster rather than a human being, "taking a cold-blooded delight in hanging, stabbing and even cutting men in two like sheep, if he believes them to be unsatisfied with his rule. It is a common occurrence," continues Professor Brown, "to see men lying in a dying condition in the streets of Tabriz with tongues cut out, eyes gouged from their sockets, and horse shoes nailed to their bare feet. Deaths through the plentiful application of the whip are common, and the professor asserts that the governor has been known to have the mouths of those he suspected of liberal principles, sewn up."

CO-OPERATIVE CREDIT POPULAR IN INDIA

At the conference of officers of co-operative credit societies held at Calcutta, the president was able to give a very satisfactory review of the progress in the establishment of these societies in different parts of India.

During the past six years the number of societies rose from 845 to 8177 and the number of members from 19,000 to 403,000, and this increase, although rapid, has been generally speaking of a sound and definite character, indicating that the co-operative movement has been able to command in a great degree the confidence of the agriculturists who, on a low computation, save 10 per cent. per annum on the sums they borrow from the societies, as compared with what they would incur in borrowing the same amount from the money lenders.

The direct financial advantage is not the only benefit ensuing from this co-operative system, for in one district alone the number of civil cases showed a decrease of 1100, and in others of things which the judicial authorities ascribed to the institution of the co-operative credit societies.

MAN WHO AIDED DARWIN

Always a Student of Nature, a Great Reader and Writer

When Darwin was making his researches which were afterwards given to the world in the "Origin of Species,"
 "The Descent of Man," and other epoch-making works, one of his chief assistants was Mr. W. B. Tegetmeier, who died in London at the age of 86.
 As a boy Tegetmeier used to buy wild birds and keep them in his father's house in St. James's, and he also adopted pigeon fancying. It was through a neighbor, Mr. Farrall, who was also a well-known writer on birds and fishes, that Mr. Tegetmeier made the acquaintance of Darwin, who at the time was in search of facts about variation in animals. Darwin gratefully accepted his help, and in his voluminous many acknowledgments of the assistance rendered by his fellow naturalist.

Mr. Tegetmeier was of service to Darwin in many different directions.
 For instance, he tabulated for him the "Racing Calendar," the births of racehorses during a period of twenty-one years, and also the births of greyhounds as recorded in the "Field" for twelve years.

On more than one occasion he suggested a method of research which Darwin adopted. For instance, he tried an experiment by which a bee was led to build a single cell, and found, as he suspected, that the "geometrical" instinct of the bee was a myth. The cell, in fact, was circular, and he read a paper on this discovery at the British Association meeting in 1868.

Mr. Tegetmeier was on the staff of the "Field" for about fifty years, and wrote more than 1,100 consecutive weekly leaders for the "Queen." He wrote many books on bird life.
 It was one of his few boasts that he was the oldest holder of a reading ticket at the British Museum. He took out his reading ticket in 1818, at the age of seventeen.

LONG RACE MEETS

Detrimental to Real Sport, Says President of Montreal Club

Mr. Montagu Allan, president of the Montreal Jockey Club, who is visiting Vancouver, came out with a vigorous interview condemning the length of the race meeting there. He said:

"This province is apparently understanding the work we are trying to do in the east, that is to improve the standard and tone of horse racing.
 Two weeks at a time is long enough for any meet. Out here I notice that the Minoru meeting takes away from that means that it soon degenerates into a mere gambling concern. Both the horses and legitimate public interest are played out long before half the Minoru race is over. I do not know what the authorities out here are thinking of to permit a 60 days meet. It simply means that a gambling crowd come in here from the United States and take away from the money they can secure. The race horses become played out and the better class of patrons refrain from going after two or three weeks. If a meeting lasts longer than two weeks it simply degenerates into a betting proposition and the 'wise ones' carry off the public's money."

AIRSHIPS FROM FRANCE

British Admiralty Places Order for Huge Dirigible Balloon

The British Admiralty ordered from the French Astra Company of Paris a dirigible of great size, of a type designed by Senor Leonardo Torres Quevedo, the Spanish engineer.

The authorities believe that the construction of small military dirigibles is a great mistake. The Germans realized that long ago, and their airships are already of very large dimensions, while their fresh orders are for still larger dirigibles. The French authorities have adopted the same point of view.

These new dirigibles are to have on the upper surface of their envelope, and towards their centre, a platform on which will be mounted a machine gun. This is intended to be a powerful weapon in dealing with aeroplanes and other dirigibles, and thus will be dispelled two of the greatest objections to the use of dirigibles in war, namely, that they cannot see above them, and that they are defenceless against attack from an aeroplane.

Link with Sir Walter Scott
 Miss Betty Veltch, who died at Jedburgh, Scotland, at the age of nearly ninety-five, was the youngest child of Mr. James Veltch, of Inch-bonny, Jedburgh, among whose close-est friends were Sir Walter Scott and Sir David Brewster. At the time of Sir Walter's death Miss Betty Veltch was almost fifteen years of age, and to the end of her life she had vivid remembrance of the occasions on which she saw Sir Walter Scott when he visited her father at Inchbonny.

Coal Search in Bute
 Following up the report by a Canadian mining engineer regarding probable coal seams in the island of Bute, definite coal-boring operations are being conducted on a line between As-crog and the old coal-workings at Am-brishing. So far, it is understood, the search has not yielded satisfactory results.

Against Bad Literature
 The vendors of poisonous print do not have it all their own way in the city of Dublin, where the activities of the local vigilance committee might well form a model for similar associations in other parts of the world.
 The various Catholic organizations of the city are lending their powerful aid to the movement, especially in the direction of the enrollment of members.

Remarkable Irish Story
 The Cork papers published reports of a very remarkable incident. When some workers were cutting down a tree beside a "blessed well" near Mallow an extraordinary manifestation, the reports state, was made. A worker tried forcibly to break away the trunk, which had been sawn half way through, when the tree, from the incision upwards, split in two, one half falling away, and the other for a considerable height upwards, remaining erect, and revealing promi-nently on the centre a well-defined cross.

TO ESCAPE APPENDICITIS

An Exercise Recommended by a Well-Known Physician

A simple way to prevent appendicitis was recently described by a well-known physician. Every night and morning, he advised, go on your knees, bend backward until you sit on your heels and, at the same time, bend the upper part of your body forward as far as possible. Do this six to ten times.

You may vary the exercise by standing with heels together and toes pointing straight forward, and then stooping into a sitting posture until the knees touch the chest. Do this also six or eight times slowly.

The effect is to stir up the intestine in the neighborhood of the vermi-form appendix, and to keep it free from the obstruction which is the primary cause of appendicitis.

BRAVERY REWARDED

Two Mitchell Boy Scouts to Receive Scrolls for Life-saving

Scrolls of honor of the Canadian Boy Scouts, signed by the Duke of Connaught as chief scout, were forwarded for presentation to Harry Coppin and Ira Hughey, of Mitchell.
 The former was one of a group of boys who went swimming in a pond some distance from their home, and had gone under four times before Coppin reached him. Ira Hughey rescued a little girl from drowning.

COMPARED WITH CANADA

Rev. Dr. Milligan Thinks Our Climate
 Severities Are Blessing in Disguise

Rev. Dr. Milligan, one of the best known Presbyterian ministers of Toronto is of opinion that Canada is not at a disadvantage in respect of climate as compared with New Zealand and Australia. After a three months' sojourn in New Zealand, he came to the conclusion that our climatic severities are a blessing in disguise. Native born New Zealanders do not show the same sturdy old age as their forefathers did who came from sterner climes.

"Everyone has heard of New Zealand as 'God's own country,'" says Dr.
 Milligan. "He seems to be an absentee there, especially on Sunday.
 At a small place near Auckland, at a rare meet, it was reported that $250,000 passed, brought the totalisator in one day."

Dr. Milligan has forebodings of trouble in the labor world of New Zealand. The trade combines are the shadow of a great rock in the way of the land for loafers, he says. When the Socialistic follies have played their part the political condition of boys in New Zealand can be ascertained better than now.

"As to public utilities," said Dr.
 Milligan, "the railways belong to the Government, but the little saw of them led me to the decision to travel by steamship. It would be a wise policy if New Zealand could put its railway interests in such hands as manage our big railways."

TRAINING GERMANS

In keeping with the German Government's idea of making the empire one vast training school for the development of the best there is in the youth of the country for national commercial success, regular business school courses are being gained in Germany army, so that the recruit during his term of military service will be fitting himself for the business life he will have to enter on quitting the colors.

The hundreds of thousands of children are not permitted to pass through the public schools and to drift through life as unskilled laborers.
 Each one, as far as the Government can order it, is turned out skilled in some occupation.

One of the most powerfully educative forces in the empire is the continuation school originally intended to maintain some kind of discipline over youths from 14 to 18 years of age prior to their enlistment in the army. Of late years these continuantion schools have been changed into vocational schools.

Twice every year great flaming posters call the youth of the land to obligatory attendance at the trade and commercial schools. These posters enumerate more than 100 trades or vocations and each youth is summoned to appear at the school devoted to his particular calling.

THIRTY YEARS OF WONDER

What Change in Comforts Electricity
 Has Wrought in Short Time

It seems almost incredible, yet it is true, that thirty years ago electricity was unheard of outside of scientific laboratories.

We had no telephones, no electric railways, no electric fans, no electric elevators, no vacuum cleaners, no electric lights, no trolley cars, no electric ranges, few electric motors.

We had to walk the city streets or ride in a horse car. The suburban resident sections of today were undreamed of and everyone tried to live as close to the business section as possible. Harks did a thriving business.

We could not call up anyone on the telephone. The mails and messenger boys did the work. The telegraph was in use but lines were few.

All the housework was done by hand, without the aid of electric stoves, the motor-driven appliances now in use.

In hot days we sweated, for the electric fan was undreamed of.

We read by flickering candles or oil lamps and there were no arc lamps to illuminate the streets after dark.

There were no electric door bells
 no buzzer communication from office to office, no electric flatirons, no electric chafing dishes, toasters, grills, etc.

Factories ran by steam or water power. Cities were covered with a pall of black smoke. Railroads could not run through tunnels without the gravest danger. Electric ventilating systems for large buildings were unheard of. Electric signal systems for railroads were not used and the trains ran a good deal on luck.

Such were the good old days we hear so much about. The folk who lived and worked then did not mis-these things inasmuch as they had never enjoyed them, but one of the greatest hardships which might be inflicted upon us to-day would be to deprive us of electricity. Without it we would be put to the greatest inconvenience.

NICKEL IN THE KITCHEN

The use of nickel for kitchen utensils is rapidly increasing. A pure hard metal, it is totally unaffected by food acids or alkalis, extreme heat or cold, and it cannot engender poisonous matter such as verdigris. When drawn out of one piece the utensils are seamless, and therefore practically indestructible. No expense is in-

A BALACLAVA STORY

Another of the rapidly-diminishing band of survivors of the Light Brigade charge at Balaklava passed away at Thornton Heath in the person of Henry Herbert, who, a few months ago, although he was seventy-eight, began to write an account of his adventures, which, however, he was unable to finish.

At the battle of Balaklava Herbert saw Captain Nolan gallop up to Lord Lucan, after which horses were mounted. According to Herbert's account,
 Lord Lucan came in front of the Light Brigade and said, "Keep your horses well in hand, men, and when you get amongst them skiver them well."

On the question whether the "Charge!" was sounded or not, Herbert's account was that the first order was "Walk," followed by "Trot."
 So galling became the fire that the brigade spontaneously broke into a gallop, and then into the "Charge," without it having been sounded by the trumpets. Other survivors, he claimed, bore him out in that particular.

He came out of the fray unscathed.
 Another man who got back safely was fogged with the "cat" for leaving his post in camp without leave to join in the charge.

For ten years Herbert was chairman of the Balaklava Committee. He was three times married, and had twenty-four children.

LOST IN LONDON

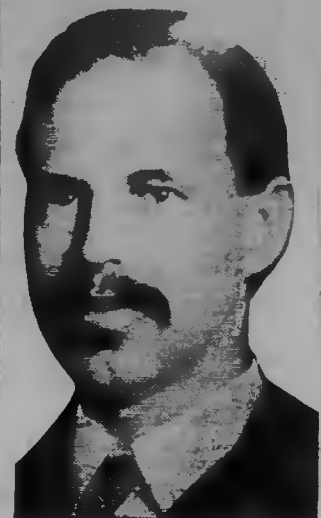

Little Chinese Girl Was a Stranger
 But Found Friends

A Chinese girl, aged about fifteen, wearing the national costume of blue overalls, black trousers, grey striped coat, and cloth-corded hat, was found wandering about in Kensington late at night and was admitted to the workhouse.

She was only three feet six inches in height, and her feet were bandaged according to the Chinese custom. She could not speak English, and was unable to indicate where her home was.

The girl had with her a case containing knives with which she performed some juggling tricks to the delight of the children inmates of the institution.

The police made inquiries, and it was established that her name was Wang Wang Winaug, and that she lived with her uncle, Ching Kwei, at Limhouse. She had been in England only about a month.

YOUNGEST MILKMAID

She Will Be Very Wealthy When She Grows Up.

England's youngest milkmaid, surprisingly enough, is a little aristocrat, who will be a very wealthy girl when she grows up. This little Miriam Rothschild, a daughter of the Hon.
 Charles Rothschild, and a granddaughter of Lord Rothschild, who, at the age of three, started milking the Jersey cows at the Home Farm, Lord
 Rothschild's place at Tring.

Evidently Miriam was a real milk-maid in some previous incarnation, for, practically from the start, she was able to milk with both hands and get good results. "In fact," says a friend, "and this is very remarkable, she had a better idea of milking in the correct way than some boys who start at a much later age."

Weak, Tired Folks Given New Vigor

STRENGTH RETURNS, HEALTH RENEWED, VITALITY OF YOUTH RE-CREATED

Exhaustion and Bodily Tiredness Every Day Being Treated Into Vigor and Ambition by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

From Chebogue Pt., N.S., comes the following from Mrs. W. A. Reynolds: "A year ago my health began to fail, I lost my appetite, became nervous and sleepless. My weight ran down, I became thin, hollow-cheeked, and black rings under my eyes. I really felt as if the charm of life had left me and when spring time arrived I was in the 'blues.' I read of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and got five boxes at once. "Within a month my appetite and color were good. I gained strength and felt like a new woman. My life and vigor returned, and my friends scarcely knew me. A medicine that will do this should be in every home."

Last night fully twelve hundred people must have assembled in the big Sunday School of the George St. Methodist church. People stood two deep on the two high shelves to the south side of the room. The entertainment was of a dramatic nature by local talent. Roars of laughter greeted the clever impersonations of those taking part. Rev. J. Couch is to be congratulated on the successful issue of last night's entertainment. The play was based upon the old time school.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"McFadden's Flats."

That dry, unctious fun that insinuates itself through the whole being of the hearer, and makes him glad from his epigrams to his marrow and from his caput to his pedal extremities, is the character of fun that permeates "McFadden's Flats," and starting at the rise of the curtain creates storms of laughter until the final word of the play is spoken. It is fun that, while of a brisk, lively and pungent flavor, is still clean and wholesome and agrees with the most fastidious taste. It is such fun that characterizes all the work of that peculiar genius, R. F. Outault and his collaborator, E. M. Townsend, of the New York Journal, and which has made them famous wherever the English language is spoken. In "McFadden's Flats" they have put some of their best work and the result is that it has proved a gold mine to the management. It has enjoyed the most flattering success wherever presented and is now touring the country with one of the best comedy organizations possible to select. In making up this company the wishes of the author had to be consulted and the result is that every character is in the hands of a humorist who can produce all the best ideas of the creator of them. For people with the blues a visit to the "Flats" is sure to result in a speedy cure. The play will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, Feb. 27th. The specialties and musical numbers introduced during the three acts will long be remembered as pleasing and entertaining. The scenery is said to be on the spectacular order and to be the handsomest ever seen in farce comedy.

Fun that is pure, music of the newest kind, settings, mountings and electrical innovations that dazzle, comedians and vaudeville acts of the highest grade, are some of the things that make the new "McFadden's Flats," the foremost of all farce comedy productions, which is the happy combination of wit that will be seen everywhere has been polished up to the minute and shines forth in a blaze of glory.

A WOMAN'S LIFE WORK

IS IN HER OWN HOME

Yesterday afternoon the large parlours of the Y.W.C.A. were crowded to full capacity with ladies who gathered to hear Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, Toronto, speak regarding the forming of a Woman's Council for Peterborough. Mrs. W. R. Morris occupied the chair and introduced the speaker. Mrs. Cummings is a clear speaker, with good enunciation and tersely cut sentences. Possibly the most emphatic point she made was that a woman's sphere and life work is in her home. She contended, however, that a Woman's Council extends an influence far beyond the four walls of her home. They recently inaugurated a Woman's Council in Sarina with great success. She advocated the formation of a Council in Peterborough.

The following provisional officers were elected, viz: President—Mrs. J. I. Davidson. 1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Dr. Scott. 2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Dunn. Cor.—Sec.—Miss Weir. Treasurer—Mrs. Duncan Walker. Sec'y—Miss McFae.

PRESENTATION TO MR. MAHONEY AT ORIENTAL

Last night some 30 employees of the Brinton Carpet Works gathered in the big parlours of the Oriental Hotel to wish good speed to a departing member of the staff. Mr. Joe Mahoney, possibly the oldest employee of the works, a loom fixer, is leaving to accept a similar position in Montreal. A merry evening, with music and some was spent. During an interval, Mr. W. Jackson, on behalf of the employees, presented a handsome set of jewelry to the departing guest. Mr. Mahoney replied in a brief speech, in which he regretted leaving Peterborough, but hoped some time to return here. The evening terminated with the usual patriotic expressions.

NEVADA DIVORCE MILL IS TO STOP

Reno, Nev., Feb. 20.—Nevada's divorce industry received a death blow in the State Senate in Carson City today, with the Barnes amendment, providing for one year's residence as a primary requirement to an application for legal separation, passed by a vote of twenty to one. The measure already had passed the Assembly. Gov. Odie announced that he will sign the bill.

In the last two years 1,281 suits for divorce have been filed in Nevada—a city of 12,000 population. There are probably 600 divorce agencies in the city now.

"MAY" NOT BE NEEDED HERE.
When asked whether the suffragettes of Canada would ever be likely to resort to any such means of propaganda, Mrs. Leathes said: "It is not necessary here. Canadian men are so different and many of them in public positions have shown that they are broad-minded enough to make public efforts to have the suffrage extended. Such methods were never necessary in the United States; they may never be necessary here."

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's
Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa
South

WING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation.

population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600. Salaries would amount to $559,800. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $63,000 for meat, $1,000 for potatoes, $5,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $65,700 for butter, $27,600 for eggs. All told the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for housing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,423,350.

The fine new $40,000 plant of the Bishopric Millboard Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A sound industry to employ 300 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land for a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK what the above means—practically a small city in itself right on the edge of Capital.

JUST THINK of the number of stores to be built there.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters, bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether separate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousand and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homestead now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

Lots at Ruskin Place are Now Selling at

EDITORIAL NOTES

Recent events in Japan showing the burden of militarism and the drag of public debt reveal also the folly of those fearing a Japanese peril.

Toronto is now going to chlorinate its sewage. This seems more reasonable than chlorinating the water after the sewage has got into it.

The French sardine fishermen that have limited their catches per vessel and that throw overboard the fish in excess, stand on the economic level of the oldtime Londoners that broke windows to give work to the glaziers.

Lewis is in advance of enlightened England in regard to admitting women to the legal profession, a bill for that purpose having recently passed both houses by a large majority, practically without discussion. Incidentally, the bill is hailed as a great victory for the women's cause.

We have been convinced that the world is growing better by the fact that this year the editor of this great family journal did not set the usual valentine picturing us as a highly colored idiot. But—pleasantly thought—let it may be that the vile words who has been sending it annually is dead at last.

Life degree of fashion this spring for men is that they should wear close-fitting coats, with accented pleats, light trousers and Dundreary whiskers. We can imagine what a sensation our popular member, Mr. J. H. Burnham, will create, when he first appears on the boulevard in this stunning rig.

A MODEL FOR MILLIONAIRES

The wedding of Helen Gould provides a moral for the millionaires of America. Instead of seeking to outlive others in the splendor of the nuptial ceremony, Miss Gould was married quietly and without ostentation, and the principal celebration was by the poor of New York, whom she has befriended for years. For these she provided a supper.

Miss Gould has given her life to philanthropy. She has been generous in her support of the Y. M. C. A. and kindred institutions, and has not been content merely to hire others to minister to humanity's needs and heart hunger. The invitations to her exclusive wedding—the number of guests were restricted to six—of which she gave in a number of her serene smile contained a well-earned reputation for kindly thoughtfulness.

A year ago Miss Gould who is now forty, said she was not aware of marriage, but had not married because she never had met the suitable man. Now that she has a worthy husband.

DANGER IN SPORT

There is nothing which irritates the ordinary manly boy so much as the suggestion that he should only play games that are not dangerous, says the Montreal Star. He hates the idea of being "mollycoddled," he loves to give and take hard knocks. He knows that it is good for him to do so, that pain will harden his character, that it will teach him self-restraint, that it will fit him for bitter experiences in the world when his playing days are over. But even if he did not know all this, the love of danger is implanted in him by a law which cannot be abolished by any amount of good advice.

But when we have said this, we must protest against introducing undue danger into sport. Sport is sport after all, because it is not the business of life, because it is something done for its own sake and out of the sheer joy of living. It has its own splendid place as we have endeavored to indicate, but a boy must be shown that it is after all only a secondary place and that he must preserve his strength and his talents for nobler risks. He must be taught that in doing so, he is not guilty of any cowardice but of a discretion which is the better part of valor, a sense of greater values to be waged when he is confronted with a man's tasks. It is the most pitiable waste when a boy is killed or maimed for life by the blow of a hockey stick.

We would not end a good game because of such an isolated instance, but we would like to see rules adopted which would make it as rare as possible. One of the chief obstacles in the way is the prevalence of professionalism. Professionals are paid to provide excitement, to do spectacular things, and the rules of the game are framed accordingly. They are gladiators paid to take risks, and their efforts do not come under the head of sport so clearly as those of the amateur who amuses the audience at a vaudeville show.

Headaches Over the Eyes Mean Frontal Cataract

APT TO GET INTO EARS, CAUSING DEAFNESS, OTITIS MEDIA, THE LUNGS AND END IN CONSUMPTION

You Can Cure Cataract in Any Stage by Breathing the Healing Balmic Fumes of Catarrhose, and Here is Proof.

Mr. Urie Beraut, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Sweetburg, Que., inherited cataract from his mother. The disease spread through his system till he was a physical wreck. "As a child," said Mr. Beraut, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages."

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost all desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Cataract was fairly eating me up. 'Every organ of my body seemed affected,' and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhose and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was wonderfully improved. 'Catarrhose pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it continually and took Ferrous Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered, and the doctor says so, and Catarrhose could work me.'"

"Everyone in town knows I was just about dead with cataract, and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrhose can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhose."

Two months' treatment, large size, price $1, and guaranteed. Small size, 50c. All reliable dealers or the Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont. Beware of dangerous substitutes and imitations for "Catarrhose."

Thirtieth Annual Report of the Standard Loan Company of Toronto.

The shareholders of the Standard Loan Company, Toronto, met for their thirtieth annual meeting on Wednesday, February 19th. The report submitted was excellent, the earnings amounting to over 30 per cent. on the paid up capital. Of this amount $90,000.00 was carried to reserve which now amounts to $350,000.00. The Company have outstanding $1,114,246.73 in 5 per cent. Debentures, one of the most popular forms of investment in the Dominion for large and small amounts. Standard Loan Debentures draw 5 per cent. interest, payable half yearly. These Debentures are secured by assets amounting to $2,803,303.36, considerably in excess of double the amount of the Debentures. These Debentures are more convenient, more secure, more reliable and less trouble to the investor than ordinary mortgages which require investigation and watchfulness both in placing and collecting, besides legal fees. Standard Loan Debentures cost nothing for fees and the owner receives his dividends once a year with the greatest regularity and on the date. The Standard Loan Company of Toronto are always glad to hear from the readers of the Peterborough Times, and will give full explanation on any point in connection with investment if you write to them.

KILLING CATTLE WITH AIR

Experiments With Pneumatic Poleaxe for Slaughtering Purposes

A poleaxe, two and a half inches long, more efficient in cattle slaughtering than its primitive antecedent, is occupying the attention of London butchers, since a demonstration of humane methods of killing conducted at the tallington abattoirs under the auspices of the Council of Justice to Animals.

The weapon employed was the council's "air-killer." In appearance it looks like a large air rocket; the rocket end is a chamber charged with compressed air, the stick an elongated valve terminating in a poleaxe only some two and a half inches long. On the pressure of a trigger the poleaxe is liberated against the head of the animal, the skull of which it penetrates without difficulty. The animal falls instantly, showing hardly a trace of the hole thus pierced.

The "air-killer" was used upon sheep, calves and bullocks, all of which were, with one exception, killed expeditiously. It was clear that the efficacy of the instrument depended upon the operator's knowledge of the vital spot in an animal's skull. In the hand of an expert there should be no failures, and the instrument costs but a trifle.

BACKWARD ALBANIANS

Like the Welsh in Britain and the Basques in Spain, the Albanians are a native stock. They speak the only original Balkan language. The Turk did not permit the Albanian tongue to be taught in schools. There is no literature, no agreement even as to how it shall be written. Of the few who can write, some use Greek letters, some the Roman. The Albanians themselves are nearly all Moslems but 400,000 Greeks, Serbs, Vlachs and Bulgarians in their land belong to the Greek Church. The famous seven highland clans of the north, known as the Mirdites, are Roman Catholic. Blood feuds, lack of roads and Turkish misgovernment, make travel in the interior unsafe. One-quarter of all the deaths in the country are violent, either in clan warfare or in clashes with Turks. Much of the country is as independent as Montenegro. The Turk never covered or taxed its rugged hills.

Of all factors in backward races the Albanians have perhaps the greatest possibilities. Haekel said that they have the best shaped heads in Europe and their natural ability is great.

TRACING MAN'S DESCENT

Scientists to See Which Race is Near the Ape

An attempt is to be made at the Imperial Research Laboratory at Munich to determine, by blood precipitation experiments, which of the races of men bears the closest relationship to the ape.

As the case now stands, there is general agreement among scientists that man and the ape are descended from a common ancestor; but as to whether the black, the white, the red, or the yellow man, the pygmy, the giant, or the medium-sized man, was the original human type there are strong differences of opinion. One body of theorists holds that the negro is a degenerated white type, while another insists that the white man is evolved from an ancient black type.

Servings of a Lifetime Stolen A cruel robbery of $215 was perpetrated at Carmarthen, Wales. The victims were Mr. James Hooper and his invalid sister, who have lived for many years in Davies Yard. A MAN OF TITLES

The Duke of Atholl is about the most titled nobleman in the United Kingdom. He possesses no less than thirteen titles and is heir to five other baronies. The Duke's principal seat is Blair Atholl, Scotland. In Gaelic the word Atholl means "plain of the pleasant land," and the word well describes the surrounding country. The family is an ancient one, and cherishes many old customs, chief of which is that whenever the Sovereign visits Blair Atholl, the Duke of Atholl must present to him on bended knee a white roe.

The Duke is head of a corps termed the Atholl Highlanders, which consists of 350 clansmen. It is a relic of feudal times, when bodyguards were common and the Duke of Atholl are privileged to maintain this corps at the present day. The present Duke served in the Scots Fusilier Guards, and attained the rank of captain. He is now Hon. Colonel of the Black Watch, and Lord Lieutenant of the County of Perth, having occupied the latter position since 1878. The Duke is one of the largest landowners in Great Britain, and lords it over 302,000 acres. There is no question as to the succession, for the Duke has a family of three sons and three daughters.

LADY WARWICK'S PETS

She Has a Great Fancy for All Kinds of Animals and Birds

Among the many things for which the Countess of Warwick is famous is her collection of pets at Warwick Castle. The countess has every opportunity to gratify her love for animals, as the estate has special advantages for the care essential to the different species. The birds have almost the freedom of a forest home. The Avon River, which separates just about the castle, surrounds a little island on which kingfishers and wild ducks mingle together.

Perhaps the best beloved of all her pets is the famous white peacock, which was presented to the late earl by Lord Beaconsfield some fifty years ago, before that having been the property of the author of "Lithair." It would thus seem to be quite an old bird, yet judged by peacock standards it is not yet middle aged, for a companion bird, also belonging to the aristocratic breed of white peacocks, which never mate with any but birds of their own feather, is established as being more than a century old, though by how much there are no authentic records to prove.

A very old family servant remembers it as having been a vigorous bird in his childhood, while his father, who died a very old man, remembered it as having been a vigorous bird in his childhood. It is still hale and hearty, though it is losing its feathers and generally beginning to look aged.

Lady Warwick's most constant companion is a fine collie, which is never spared save when at her heels. "Mother could never go about in disguise," says Lady Marjorie, the countess' daughter, "she would always be known by her dog."

Lady Marjorie is also fond of pets, and many pictures have been published showing her on the lawn with strange assortments of rabbits, lambs, terriers, collies and the favorite donkey. Lady Warwick is one of the best judges of a horse in England, and loves horses as only those who really know and understand them can.

AN ANCIENT DEPENDENCY

Mongolia has been administered after a fashion by China for about 600 years. Before that time, when the Russians had not yet set their feet firm on Asian soil, the name of Mongolia was one to be dreaded. Mongolia at times made their way as far east as Moscow and struck terror in the hearts of the Moscovites. The Seljuks, too, who overthrew the domination of the caliphate minions and gave to the rulers of Islam their greatest warriors were of Mongol blood. Thus the Turks are the cousins of the Mongols. There are countless Mongols scattered throughout the dominions of the czar and they engage in a sort of peddling business.

In Mongolia proper, the Chinese province, the chief occupation is cattle raising and it is estimated that there are close on 2,000,000 camels in the country and 500,000 oxen.

Mongolia has been administered for some time past by a superintendent, who has headquarters at Pekin. It is known that Russia has had its eye on the country for some time and that the inhabitants are not unmindful of the change of administration in Pekin.

A Tax on Cats.

Of the many German municipalities which have long threatened to levy a tax on cats, Munich is first to carry the threat into effect. The revenue of the city is not to be augmented by five marks annually upon each cat within the walls of the city. It is future poor puss must wear a collar with a metal chevron and number, similar to those worn by dogs, or the will fall a prey to specially-organized catcatchers. The new measure, it is stated, is in defence of slinging bird and in the interest of hygiene and the owner's nocturnal repose.

THE OLDEST SKULL

Antedates the Period of the Cave Men—Found in England

Portions of the oldest skull that has yet been discovered were laid before the Fellows of the Geological Society at London, by Charles Dawson and Dr. Arthur Smith Woodward, of the Natural History Museum at Kensington.

According to Dr. Woodward, whose deductions received the support of the society, the skull belongs to the "lower pleistocene period," which cannot be accurately computed in terms of years. It is the oldest example of the human skull that has come to light, and is far older than the skulls which are preserved in France, Germany and Belgium of the "cave men," which was the oldest type of man previously known.

The portions of the skull exhibited were unearthed from a dried-up pond in Sussex. "The discovery," said Dr. Woodward, "confirms in a striking manner the theories of science. Boyd Dawson discovered flint implements long ago, and described a race of men who existed before the known cave dwellers whom he called 'river driftmen.' There have been no relics of their skeletons heretofore found which would prove that such a race ever existed, but these remains establish the fact and bring us a considerable step nearer towards tracing the human beginnings."

"It is impossible to fix the date of the skull, but a dim conception of its antiquity may be gained when I state that the gravel in which it was embedded may have been carried there by a stream which is now the River Ouse, which has since cut for itself a channel eighty feet deep, a mile distant from the spot. In the gravel, too, were relics of an elephant, mastodon, and hippopotamus, besides flint implements anterior to those used by the cave dwellers."

NAVAL ENTHUSIASM

More Than Enough Australians Offering to Serve on Ships

No difficulty, except that brought about by the number of applicants in excess of the accommodation, was experienced by the Australian Naval authorities in their recruiting operations. It was found necessary to call a halt, as the cruiser Rhinoceros and the training depot were provided with their full complement of recruits. The naval officers were pleased that their predictions that Australians would take to the sea as readily as the young men of Great Britain were fulfilled.

For an examination of Naval College applicants there were 24 vacancies. Victoria alone, which was allotted 7 of them, produced 70 candidates and it was stated by the naval authorities that they could obtain in that State sufficient boys of excellent type to fill a college roll.

By direction of Captain Hope, of St. Mary's Isle, extensive excavations have been carried out at Castledykes.

UNIQUE HONORS

King Nicholas of Montenegro shares with an illustrious Englishman—the Duke of Devonshire—a distinction that has never fallen to the lot of any other foreigner—that of being made a field-marshal in the Russian army. The czar conferred this honor on the occasion of his jubilee and the assumption of the kingly dignity a few years ago.

The daughters of King Nicholas are famous for their beauty and marriage. His two eldest daughters, Princess Melita and Princess Stana, married Russian grand dukes, while his third daughter, Princess Helena, is queen of Italy. It is said that a visitor once commiserated with his majesty on the fact that his beautiful country seemed to have no exports. "Sir," replied the king, "you forget my daughters."

PLEA OF HYPNOTISM

Gray-Headed Man Influenced Girl and Told Her to Steal Documents

Noted at any rate in England, was the defence of hypnotic influence set up by Elsie McLaughlin, a typist of Harrow, Furness, who was tried for house-breaking, the girl was found in the front bedroom of a neighbor's house while the occupants were at the theatre. By way of explanation she told a strange story of meeting an old, gray-haired man, "who," she said, "asked me if I was a friend of those people I said I was. He came me the key, and told me to go to their side door, open it, and go upstairs. In the front bedroom he proceeded, 'you will find a top long drawer in a chest of drawers. In the drawer there are some papers. Bring them to me I did as directed.'"

The girl told the court that she had been under the spell of hypnotic influences since she was ten years old. She felt dizzy after the man spoke to her, and remembered nothing more until she was seized in the bedroom. Nevertheless, she was found guilty. In binding her over as a first offender the magistrate said it would have been bad for the morals of England if such a peculiar explanation of crime had been accepted by the jury.

USES APE'S STOMACH

Marvellous Operation Upon a Frenchman and Its Drastic Test

A man's stomach was removed by a French doctor and replaced with the stomach of an anthropoid ape, which, of course, an ape very close to a man in the rising scale of development.

So joyous was the recipient of the new stomach that at the first opportunity he became intoxicated. Actually the ape had never tasted liquor and the stomach he gave was so healthy that it did not suffer by being drenched in alcohol.

This remarkable operation and restoration of the part excised, the first of its kind, was performed by Dr. Rouleux, a famous surgeon in the hospital at Agon, 73 miles southeast of Bordeaux. The patient was a farmer, 27 years of age, whose stomach was worn out and worthless. With the most delicate skill and the nicest knowledge of anatomy the surgeon opened the patient's abdomen and tying the great arteries as the operation proceeded, took out the useless stomach. After twenty-five days of treatment the cure was complete. The young farmer left the hospital, and as if to test his new stomach, went on a spree.

HEADACHE POWDERS

Powerful Drugs Disguised Under Technical Names

A bulletin issued by the United Analyst of the Inland Revenue Department contains important warnings and recommendations in regard to the sale of headache powders. The report is the result of three hundred analyses, or two tests, of 150 samples of patent or proprietary medicines purchased throughout the Dominion as headache powders. It is the first test since 1905. In some of the patent medicines there is found to be acetanilide, and phenacetin is found in a number of samples, while in a few cases the chief ingredient was found to be aspirin, a drug not included in the patent medicine act. The analyst points out that the drugs used are known to the medical profession by other names than those by which they are known to the public.

"To employ a synonym of technical import only," says Mr. McGill, "as effectively to disguise the presence of the drug as the omission of the name altogether for most people, I would suggest that a departmental ruling be made so as to make compulsory the employment on the label of the commonly accepted names of drugs."

He also suggests that the name of the patent drug be prominently indicated, instead of being placed in a lot of reading matter, as is often done. In fifteen samples the schedule drug was found in excess without having any declaration on the label and without being stamped, thus coming under the penal sections of the act. Claims to curative powers, coupled with the words "sure," "certain," or "instantaneous," are declared by the analyst to be unwarranted and apt to lead to misbranding. This, he says, should be made punishable under the act. A final recommendation is in regard to the putting up of these preparations in the form of lozenges and mucosules. It is declared to be a dangerous innovation. "A drug as potent as phenacetin should not be disguised in lozenge form. It is sufficiently dangerous to warrant every precaution against excessive use."

Patrick Once More

A traveller who dropped into a North Ontario town vouches for the following: As the "Sudbury to the Sea" train was on its way west the other day, a certain judge came aboard, and finding all the seats occupied, finally sat down beside an Irishman who was seated just in front of the judge, who got into conversation with the Irishman and soon discovered that he had only been in Canada for about two years. His name was full of praise for Canada, and especially of Northern Ontario. The Irishman listened to the glowing description for some time, but finally became restive and remarked that Canada might be a pretty good place but could in no way compare with Ireland. To this the Irishman objected, and to strengthen his argument said: "Now Pat, you know very well that you would be in Ireland many and many a long year before you would ever have the privilege of sitting with a judge." Pat was fairly hoarse out for a minute, but with an Irish ready wit replied: "True for you, yer Honor; but sure now, yer Honor would be in Ireland many and many a long year before you'd be a judge."

Overlaid School Children
In his report on the medical inspection of school children in the Renfrewshire district of Scotland, Dr. Henry D. Robt. stated that the number of children who were really undernourished was a very small percentage. Cases of children being undernourished were most frequently met with among those that group the girls. A con-

TRANS-BALTIC MAILS BY AIR
 Germany Makes Such a Proposal to Denmark
 Germany has asked Denmark whether it is disposed to employ German airships in carrying the trans-Baltic mails, Denmark paying a small subsidy which will be devoted to building and maintaining an airship station at Aalborg, near Copenhagen. Germany contends that air mail service would be particularly advantageous in winter, when the ice often delays steamships. Denmark acknowledged the receipt of the proposal and expressed the greatest interest in the scheme, but as yet has made no decision.
THREW CHAIR AT M.P.P.
 Two as Colleagues in the Quebec House Who Lost His Temper
 A sensational incident occurred in the smoking den of the Parliament Buildings, when Donat Caron, the veteran member for Matane, buried a chair at the head of Leleux Roy, M.P.P. for Levis, the youngest representative in the Legislature. The quarrel arose about Roy jokingly passing his hand in the hair of Caron. Roy luckily evaded the chair and was not hurt.

USE VENISON STEAK.
 Dr. Grenfell Tells How to Reduce the Cost of Living
 There is still a chance that the high cost of living will be reduced. Dr. Grenfell told the members of the Canadian Club, Toronto, in speaking of the latent resources of Labrador, about how the reduction can be brought about by merely changing the dinner course from beefsteak to reindeer.
 At present too little attention is paid to the conservation of animal life in the northern country and reindeer are left to be exploited and diminished. The reindeer development is in its infancy, but despite this fact, the herd number 30,000, and with regular breeding it is likely that 20,000 fawns will be added this season.
 "Here is an opportunity for large investment of private capital, which would be a profitable money making proposition," said Dr. Grenfell. "The meat of the reindeer could be made to add much to the world's supply at a low cost, the animal's milk could be exported, and the skins could be made an important factor in the fur market. The skin could also be tanned, creating another industry, and used for the making of gloves. Three or four millions of deer could be maintained within the bounds of Labrador."
 He said the possibilities of fur trapping had only begun. He pointed to the fox farming in Prince Edward Island as a good example to follow, which would mean much profit to Labrador. He believed that in the future more attention would be paid to the commercial breeding of reindeer.

WHAT IS A LADY?
 Sometimes the Definition is Made Apparent in a Strange Way
 Some one has defined a "lady" as one who talked in a low tone, and thought in a high tone. There are other definitions, many of them, but most people travel through the world wondering just what is the difference between a "woman" and a "lady." Some think that perhaps money makes the difference, others consider that it is an accident of birth.
 It was on a crowded Vancouver streetcar at the rush hour. Working men were piling in, crowding and struggling for a place. Women were in the minority, and most of them were forced to stand. Near the back of the car, where the crowd was thickest, two women stood together. One was a tiny Japanese, no longer young, her arms encircling a huge bundle, her tired eyes half closed. Beside her was a "lady." Young and charming, dressed as for some smart social function, and carrying herself with the unconscious assurance which protects against unusual and unpleasant surroundings, she appeared oblivious of the heaving crowd or roughly elated men. At her side one rose to leave the car, leaving the tempting seat for whoever could snatch it from the others. About to sit down, the girl caught sight of the pathetic little figure. She hesitated, and a man attempted to slide past her into the seat. With one hand she held him back; the other was placed gently about the shoulders of the little Japanese, who was drawn protesting to the vacant seat—Vancouver Sun set.

ENDED LIFE IN ASYLUM
 Business Reverses Preyed on Mind of "Big Griffs," Causing Insanity
 Elias Griffs died from self injury in the asylum at Mimico, to which institution he had been committed from Kewora. He had for some time been afflicted by morbid fear that he was going to die, and his mind became unbalanced. "Big Griffs," Jr., was a character actor of some note. He had seen much of life, had been a sheriff in Texas and had traveled in all parts of the continent. The northwest attracted him, and out there he became quite a figure in the political circles. He and a Winnipeg friend took a big contract for ties for the Grand Trunk Pacific and had them already out for delivery, but the coming of spring early prevented getting them out of the woods and they lost heavily. It is probable this misfortune preyed upon his mind and led to insanity and suicide.
KILLING OFF THE WOLVES
 Algonquin Park Rangers Have Bagged Sixteen Animals in December
 Sixteen wolves were bagged in December by the rangers in Algonquin Park, according to T. W. Gibson, deputy minister of mines. The animals are being poisoned and at the present rate of progress their extermination will virtually be accomplished this winter. Numbers of deer were killed last year by the wolves, and more extensive protection of this game has been decided on. The poison is being supplied by the government, and the rangers are being allowed the usual provincial bounty on the head of every wolf.

THE SUPERIOR TURK
 Marshal von der Goltz, who was responsible for the reorganization of the Turkish army under Abdul Hamid gives this reason for his high fighting quality—that every Turk feels himself to be a member of a ruling race. Immensely superior to the Christian nationalities about him. This feeling of intense pride sustains him in battle. He comes of a hardy peasant stock, insured to privation and open-air life. He is usually familiar with the use of arms from childhood. All that he needs to assimilate when he joins the ranks is the more mechanical part of discipline.

THE KING'S GUNNER
 Old Soldier who Has Hoisted Windsor Castle Flag for 53 Years
 Gunner Samuel Parsons, aged eighty-eight, recently celebrated the fifty-third anniversary of his appointment as the King's Gunner at Windsor Castle. He lives in the Round Tower. He is a chief duty being to hoist the flag over the castle.
 He is still on the active list of the Army, and is probably the oldest soldier in England. He joined the Royal Regiment of Artillery in 1815, and went through the Crimean war. He remembers the time when the British flag was hoisted over the walls of Sebastopol.
 After reaching from the war he went to Windsor Castle as Regimental Gunner.

ABSINTHE DRINKING
 A Veritable Curse in France, the Government Will Make It Milder
 Absinthe is fast becoming the popular drink in France, and is displacing the light wines. Last year the sale of this liquid poison increased by a million gallons, and it is to be presumed will show a corresponding increase for a Government commission recently reported that "absinthe is the source of madness and crime; it causes epilepsy and consumption. It makes the husband a brute, the wife a martyr and the child a degenerate."
 The absinthe drinkers in France are sufficiently numerous to make it a dangerous political move for any Government to legislate on the matter of absinthe without considering their wishes. The manufacturers of the drink are a powerful corporation, and the Government itself profits by the sale of the liquor to the extent of $10,000,000 annually, while the municipalities receive about $5,000,000.
 The Government hopes, however, to lessen the evil effects of the absinthe habit by eliminating from the substance its chief poison. This has been discovered to be a vegetable substance named thuyon, and in future it is proposed that all absinthe shall be purified of this element.

CARE OF THE HANDS.
 During the cold weather the skin on the hands is liable to chaps and the finger nails are liable to become brittle and break off. Both give the hands a very neglected appearance, which with just a little care and time can be avoided.
 Before retiring for the night rub cold cream or a preparation of rose water and glycerine on the hands till it has been entirely absorbed, also after washing the hands rub on a bit of cold cream, not enough to make them oily but enough to soften the skin. This will prevent chapping.
"PURE" ACCIDENTS

110 Years Old
 A laborer named John Foley died in Kanturk Workhouse, Ireland, at the remarkable age of 110. He was a well-built, hardy man, who enjoyed his pipe to the last, and was up and about within a few days of his death.

 The death occurred at Brumland Park, Whitehaven, Aberdeenshire, of Mrs. Catherine Adams, widow of William Downie, a farmer, at the age of 100 years. Mrs. Downie had been bereaved for thirty years owing to an accident, but she retained her senses to the last.

Women's Ailments Caused by Neglect

Proper Treatment Will Quickly Bring Back Robust Health and Good Spirits.

Women are on the whole more sickly than men. One reason is the blood system is more complicated; another and more important reason is they put off measures of relief too long. At the beginning, constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of women's ailments. The blood becomes weakened and polluted—the nerves suffer and a run-down condition takes root. Because of their mildness of action as a system regulator, no medicine for women can compare with Dr. Soper's Kidney Pills. The kidneys quickly responded to the remedial action of Dr. Soper's Pills, and the result is as you would expect—pain in the back and side, shortness of breath, and had color appear—the functions of the body then operate naturally, congestions and pains are prevented and perfect health returns. Thousands of happy women say Dr. Soper's Pills are the greatest and best blood-purifier, and finest complexion renewer, the most certain regulating medicine known. Sold by all druggists and storekeepers five per box, five for $1.00 postpaid. The Cataract House Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Seats Dedicated at St. John's.
Yesterday, the handsome new carved oak seats, in the chancel of St. John's Church, through the good work of Mrs. Ruth and Mrs. Gould, assisted by generosity of the members, last week placed in position, were dedicated at the early communion service. The seats cost about $400. The ends of the seats and the screens are richly carved by an expert artist, each design being different. The prayer desk, given as a thank offering for Canon Davidson's ministry in Peterborough, and the altar, made by two angels in attitude of supplication of exquisite design. The effect of the whole work will greatly enrich the already handsome appearance of the chancel.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MAPES-JOHNSTON MINING CO., LTD.

Incorporated under Ontario Companies Act.

The Elk Lake fire didn't damage Mapes-Johnston camp—camp is seven miles from Elk Lake, but the opening of the ELK LAKE Branch of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad gives the Mapes-Johnston Mining Company's property an outlet for shipping ore heretofore lacking.

DEVELOPMENTS

The Mapes-Johnston has two shafts in good ore—No. 1—90 feet deep, with native silver showing in a big eight-inch vein all the way down the shaft—vein big and strong at bottom of shaft—a true fissure vein.

SILVER—9,000 Oz. Ore—2,200 Oz. Ore—SILVER

Real SILVER and SILVER ORE on the Mapes-Johnston—Not on adjacent or adjoining property—BUT ON the MAPES-JOHNSTON. Not 30 or 50 feet to drift to it, but on the surface—in both shafts—in several veins. Not 62-oz. ore, or 100-oz. ore, but 9000 oz. ore—assayed by real commercial assays—not assayed with the eye or by interested friends—no guesswork—real assays.

Shaft No. 2 is 75 feet from Shaft No. 1, and 65 feet deep—shaft No. 2 is sunk on junction of two immense veins—6-foot drift at 65-foot level shows over 9000 oz. of silver to the ton in 9-inch pay streak—2200 oz. of silver to ton in wall rock, each side of vein.

RICHEST SILVER ORE OF THE NORTH

comes from just such a vein junction as the Mapes-Johnston has where these big values were found.

Small Allotment of Treasury Shares

is offered for Public Subscription at 20 cents per share—par value $1.00 per share.

This is the first public offering, but no better offering at anything like the price could be made. The property was purchased, paid for and developed to present status by Mapes-Johnston syndicate, and private subscriptions were made at higher price than present offering.

$100 BUYS 500 SHARES—$500 BUYS 2,500 SHARES—OTHER AMOUNTS IN PROPORTION.

MORE TREASURY SHARES—$27,900—AFTER ALMOST 3-4 YEARS' WORK than when property was under option—Before property was paid for—Silver discovered—shafts sunk—20 veins treasured—property patented—9000-oz. Silver ore found and assayed—Mapes-Johnston Treasury had 300,000 shares.

Toronto, February 1st, 1913.

Note.—The MAPES-JOHNSTON property is paid for, patented and title thereto in the name of the Company. The funds for operating and developing the property were furnished by the Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and only 30,000 Treasury Shares were sold before Preston Limited, secured control of and an option on the balance to be sold. Before offering shares to the public, Preston Limited, had 55,000 shares donated to the Treasury by Messrs. Mapes & Johnston to carry out the emergency expenses of putting the property on an active operating basis. NOW

PRICE, TWO CENTS

EX-PRESIDENT MADERO SHOT WHILE ON WAY TO PRISON

Horrible Atrocity in Mexico City--Wife is Prostrated-- Circumstances Unknown Yet

Mexico City, Feb. 24.—(P. M.) I. Madero and Jose Pino S. are dead. In a midnight under- guard from the National Penitentiary they were killed. The circumstances attending the death of the deposed president and vice-president of the Republic are unknown, except as given in the official accounts, which do not conform in all cases. The only witnesses were those actually concerned in the killing. The Provisional President, Gen. Victoriano Huerta, says that the killing of the two men was incidental to a fight between their guard and a party attempting to liberate them. The Minister of Foreign Relations, Francisco De La Barra, adds that the prisoners attempted to escape. Neither makes a definite statement as to which side fired the fatal shots. It is not impossible that neither knows. An official investigation has been ordered to determine the responsibility and solemn promises have been made that the guilty will be punished. Senora Madero, the widow of the ex-president, received the first definite information of the death from the Spanish Minister, Senor Cologan. She already had heard reports that something unusual and serious had occurred, but friends had endeavored up to that time to prevent her from learning the whole truth. Soon afterwards, accompanied by her brother, and Mercedes Madero, a sister of Francisco, Senora Madero drove to the penitentiary, but was refused permission to see the body of her husband. Senora Suarez was also denied admittance to the mortuary, where physicians, in accordance with the law, were performing an autopsy.

PRESIDENT OF MEXICO WHO IS BESIEGED IN HIS CASTLE AND CELEBRATED GENERAL WHO WAS SLAIN ON ESCAPE FROM PRISON

GENERAL BERNARDO REYES

PRESIDENT FRANCISCO I. MADERO

Discovered in a plot to revolt and make Felix Diaz military dictator, by far the greater part of the regular Mexican army garrison in Mexico City withdrew, then released General Diaz and General Bernardo Reyes from prison, attacked the National Palace and other public buildings, and captured the arsenal in the suburbs. General Reyes was killed in the fighting at the Palace, in which two hundred fell, among them many women. President Madero and Ministers, with a strong detachment of loyal troops, have fortified themselves at the Palace.

WHITBY WINS

Last night the Brock street Rink as well as the Whitby team go up against the Petes. The line-up was as follows:

Peterborough	Whitby
Flowers	Goal.
Bond	Point.
Bears	Cover.
Halpin	Rover.
Hall	Centre.
Kennelly	R. Wing.
Ross	L. Wing.

At half time the score stood Petes 3, Whitby 2. When the final bell rang the result was Whitby 5, Petes 4.

MRS. PANKHURST IS IN JAIL ONCE AGAIN

Is Charged With Inciting the Blowing Up of the Lloyd George's Country House.
London, Feb. 24.—Formally charged with inciting the blowing up of the Lloyd George country house at Walton Heath and stirring up the other suffragette outrages, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the London militant suffragettes, was arrested by Scotland Yard men this afternoon, just as she was about to address another meeting in the London pavilion. A large crowd had gathered and Mrs. Pankhurst was ready to mount the platform, when the police told her she was under arrest and led her off toward Bow street. The captive leader of the militants was followed by a crowd of her women sympathizers and the whole party was surrounded by a howling, hooting mob, who jeered the women.

Another Prohibition Effort

The Times learns that it is the intention of a number of those who took an active part in the Local Option campaign, to endeavor to have the Canada Temperance Act submitted in both Peterborough City and County at an early date. This particular measure is perhaps better known as the Scott Act, once in force in both town and county here. It has undergone considerable change since it was in operation in Peterborough. The Canada Temperance Act was recently carried, after a fierce contest, in Manitoulin District, and is now in force in several counties. Peterborough's experience with this form of local prohibition was not at all satisfactory, owing to the difficulty of enforcing it.

ELECTION NOW WOULD MEAN A LIBERAL ANNIHILATION

Letters Pour in on Ottawa Opposition Members to This Effect--Vote on Thursday

Ottawa, Feb. 24.—It is understood that the vote on the second reading of the naval bill will be taken on Thursday of this week. This definite announcement does not look very much as if the Liberals intend to force an election. With the second reading out of the way the bill has run half its course and the third reading to face. It is understood that if the bill passes the House the Senate will not throw it out. There is still some talk of obstruction, but it is not taken seriously and is regarded largely in the nature of a bluff. A statement attributed to Hugh Guthrie at a meeting on Friday at Durham, has created considerable talk. Mr. Guthrie, it is said, stated: "The Opposition will oppose the passing of the naval bill and we can hold the fort until March 31st, when the Government funds will run out and they will be forced to agree in an election to secure further supply from the Parliament." Out of the Way for Estimates. That the Liberals could if they wished place the Government in an embarrassing position is undoubted. There have been practically no estimates passed yet and after March 31, the end of the fiscal year, more will be required. However, before March 31 the naval bill will undoubtedly be out of the way and with that measure passed the Opposition will have no excuse for forcing a contest. The large majority of the Liberals do not want an election and are not timid about saying so, and it is understood that the members are being overwhelmed with letters from prominent members of the party pointing out that it would mean annihilation to go to the country on such an issue. If the Liberals do attempt obstruction it can be said authoritatively that the Government will be prepared to meet the Opposition and the measure will be forced through the House.

PEACE NOW ASSURED

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 24.—Bulgaria today accepted the offer of mediation made by the representatives of the powers in the boundary dispute between Bulgaria and Roumania. The Sofia Government "agrees to leave the solution of the questions in dispute to the decision of the six great powers, provided Roumania also agrees."

THE CANADIAN DREADNAUGHTS

London, Feb. 24.—It now seems clear that the forthcoming naval estimates will provide for five large armoured ships of a combined battleship and cruiser type, mounting eight guns heavier than the 13.5 inch pattern. The Canadian ships when voted will almost certainly be among this class, which is intended to fulfil all the requirements of Imperial patrol in speed and strategical mobility.

THE WEATHER.

To-day—Northerly winds fair and decidedly cold.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH IS VERY OPPRESSIVE

Dr. Herrien, of Montreal, Defines the Ultimate Result of Roman Catholicism and Protestantism

Last night Rev. A. de L. Herrien, D.D., of L'Oratoire, Montreal, spoke to a large gathering in the Sunday school of Murray street Baptist church. Dr. Herrien discoursed on the subject of "Struggles of Those Who Leave the Roman Church." He gave several instances of what had been done in the Province of Quebec, among the French-Canadian through the aid of colporteurs, who in their earnest work, had converted hundreds to the true faith of Protestantism. The Doctor spoke to some length on the unparalleled struggles and physical sufferings which converts have suffered at the hands of the Romanists. These latter people have been and are incessantly trying their utmost to eliminate the Bible from the French homes. In conversation with Dr. Herrien, an ex-R.C., recently said: "I felt like a man shut up in a dungeon, but now I see the light." Dr. Herrien said he is often asked this question: "Why do you trouble the Roman Catholics?" His answer in each case was short, but to the point: "We want the truth." Finally the Doctor said: "I won't say that Catholics are not Christians, but I will say they do not know what religious liberty and peace is." As a verification of this statement, he spoke of the difference of the deathbed of a Roman Catholic and a Protestant. The former faces the agony of conscience of what Roman Catholicism is indebted upon the minds of every member of the belief—good and bad alike—that in purgatory. The Protestant Christian sees nothing but joyous happiness and everlasting peace and blissfulness. A great responsibility rests upon the Protestants of Quebec to save the French-Canadian from a life of constant fear, mistaken religious ideas and oppression.

CITY BOARDS MEET AND CONSIDER PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The Charity Board met last night in the City Committee room behind closed doors as usual, the press being excluded although the Board disposes the taxpayers' money. Manufacturers' Committee. Last night the Manufacturers' Committee met with the Mayor in the chair. The Power Committee. The revised contract signed by the Hydro-Electric Commission was read by the chairman, Ald. Johnston, which was too long for publication to-day. The new agreement covered "lost" power. The city shall co-operate with the Commission at all times for greater power. The new contract is based, in part, on the amount of power taken by the city. Should the city at any time, within 20 minutes, take an excess of power, the city must pay for it and the Commission must turn it sh. The contract only demands that the Commission only demands that 75 per cent of the power regularly supplied be paid for. The city pays 4 per cent upon the power supplied to the municipality. The agreement requires in force for 30 years from first delivery of power. The Commission is to act as trustees for their property. This latter is a new clause. The clause affecting possible differences between the Commission and the municipality being submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor was omitted. The committee decided that they had done all they could. It was moved by Ald. Butler that a by-law be prepared adopting the agreement as submitted. Carried.

BIG GATHERING OF MEN IN FAVOR OF TEMPERANCE

Special to The Times. Toronto, Feb. 24. Credentials for over seven hundred delegates to the annual convention of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance have been received at the headquarters. This morning's mails brought another big batch, and it is likely that considerably over a thousand delegates will be in attendance when the convention opens in Massey Hall on Wednesday. A great many of the delegates have already arrived in Toronto, and the Alliance office in the Confederation Life Building this morning presented a scene of activity. From Cochrane on the north, from Port Arthur on the west, and from the towns of the Ottawa Valley on the east, the delegates are gathering, and every section of the province will be represented when the convention gets down to business on Wednesday morning. The preliminary to the convention proper will be the Workers' Conference, which opens to-morrow morning in the Peacock Willard Hall. A feature of the convention, which will continue until Thursday, will be the roll call of counties, which will take place on Wednesday afternoon. The representatives of the county organization will respond as the name of his county is called, and will tell the convention how the temperance agitation is proceeding, and what results are being obtained. In this manner the delegates will be given a comprehensive view of the progress of local option throughout Ontario, and will be posted in the methods that have secured success or resulted in failure.

NEW SUBMARINE WILL OUTDO CRAFT OTHER NAVIES OWN

New York, Feb. 24. A London cable says: Naval developments of a remarkable nature are taking place under a cloak of great secrecy. "In the course of the next twelve months some astonishing details," says The Daily Express, "will become known regarding changes in warship types, but none will be more noteworthy than the development of the submarine. An entirely new type of underwater craft of considerable offensive power and capable of crossing the Atlantic at a high rate of speed is being built for the British Navy. These craft will carry guns, but in addition they will be able to fire eight torpedoes. "In the meantime there are plans before the Admiralty for a flotilla of above-water craft of a speed of 40 knots and carry several heavy quick firing guns specially constructed for use against aircraft."

specimen, is delivered at the creamery, it is conveyed by elevator to the second storey. Here it is poured into a twelve foot long vat containing 200 gallons. From this vat the milk passes through silver lined pipes to the clarifier on the first floor. Here a whirling disk somewhat like the propeller of an ocean liner's turbine, while the milk is being cleaned out impurities, pasteurize and make an equal distribution of cream. From this vat, the milk passes through similar pipes, to the bottling machine, which bottles 32 bottles at a time under strictly sanitary conditions. The whole interior of the Peterborough Creamery and Pure Milk department are remarkable for their cleanliness.

DIED IN A CHAIR.

Cousin of Late Mrs. John Kyllie Passes Away. Yesterday Mr. John Kyllie, the well known Hunter street shoe man, received word from Lindsay that Mr. Michael Brady, a prosperous farmer living near Lindsay, in Ops township passed suddenly away on Sunday. The deceased was apparently in the best of health, and on returning from church in the afternoon, sat down on a chair, and immediately expired. Mr. Brady was only about 35 years of age, and was unmarried. He paid a visit a few days ago and was in the best of health and spirits.

HOW PURE MILK IS HANDLED HERE

Yesterday, a Times representative having heard so much regarding the new sanitary supply for Peterborough's milk, visited the creamery on Aylmer street to get ocular demonstration of this new industry. The manager, Mr. Juby, extended every courtesy to our reporter. Possibly the most concise way to describe the handling of so generally used a commodity, by the "Pure Milk Co." is to describe the various methods employed in the creamery. As the milk, in rigidly clean covered cans, are delivered by farmers, whose places are under strict sanitary in-

LEAP YEAR ANNIVERSARY

ANNEX EVENT

A Year ago today was our Great Leap Year Annex Event

It was the biggest day in the Annex History up to that time. On that Wednesday we broke all existing Records. Probably if you were an Annex customer then you will remember the scores of rare bargains that were offered.

Now the Annex Business is always growing, and our policy is that each Wednesday must beat the record of the corresponding Wednesday in the previous year.

Early Wednesday Morning this Carnival of Bargains opens and a throng of eager women will at once fill the fourth floor and keep our sales people on the jump until closing time. Many will come often during the day, staying as long as possible each time, and those who cannot possibly come will

TRAGIC HISTORY OF MONARCHS

The King, Louis XVI., of France, was a man of noble character, but his reign was marked by the most tragic history of monarchs. He was a man of noble character, but his reign was marked by the most tragic history of monarchs. He was a man of noble character, but his reign was marked by the most tragic history of monarchs.

Audience of One

The King, Louis XVI., of France, was a man of noble character, but his reign was marked by the most tragic history of monarchs. He was a man of noble character, but his reign was marked by the most tragic history of monarchs. He was a man of noble character, but his reign was marked by the most tragic history of monarchs.

Eventually King Ludwig refused to associate with anybody except servants and stable lads, and Royal decrees were only issued through locked doors. He built himself magnificent residences in all directions. They were like fairy palaces, no expense being spared in order to secure the effects desired by the Royal lunatic.

It was really this extravagance in building that caused his downfall. He was continually demanding increases in the Civil List, and if Ministers declined to meet his wishes he ordered their arrest or dismissal. So in June, 1886, he was dethroned, and Prince Leopold was appointed Regent. Ludwig was taken to this castle of Berg, but shortly afterwards he and his physician were found drowned in the Starnberger See. It is assumed that the King jumped into the water, and that the physician died in attempting to save him.

Shooting at Passants

Ludwig was nominally succeeded by his brother Otto, but he, too, was also mad. Prince Leopold kept the Regency. King Otto's madness took the form of musical enthusiasm. Even now, in his castle prison at Pirch, he spends most of his time awakening the echoes with the music of Verdi's operas.

The first symptoms of King Otto's madness were visible during the Franco-German war, when he called out a squad of cavalry to charge straight at a stone wall, which he insisted was a body of the enemy's infantry. He has the utmost horror of soap and water, and will seldom have his hair or his nails cut.

He often refuses his food, imagining it to be poisoned, and in order to keep him from starvation his attendants have to hide his food in places where he is sure to find it. Imagining it has been put there for someone else, he will then devour it without any scruple. Most of his time is spent smoking cigarettes or walking about the grounds of the Castle. He is fond of eating grass, and an attendant has to restrain this appetite.

One of his pastimes is shooting at passing peasants from the Castle windows with a rifle, which his attendants carefully load with harmless bullets.

A TELEPATHIC CLOCK

Here is a strange yet absolutely true story, according to the Liverpool Post, in which a clock plays a mysterious part: It was a small timepiece which stood on a mantel-piece in a sitting room in a Liverpool builder's home. At 11.30 one morning the timepiece fell from the mantel-piece to the floor. When picked up it was found to be quite uninjured and still going, as if nothing unusual had happened. There seemed to be no reason why it should have fallen, but an hour later when the builder came home to his midday meal he remarked that at 11.30 he fell from the top of a building, but happily without sustaining any injury. His wife then described how the clock had fallen at the same time and the couple pondered in vain over the curious and utterly inexplicable coincidence.

Welsh Pauper With a Fortune

A remarkable discovery was made by officials at Llanelli Workhouse on the death of a woman pauper. In addition to a Post Office bankbook for $1,000 she had deposits in three local banking establishments. This is the third case of the kind that has come to the notice of the Llanelli Guardians recently.

BRIGAND AND DANDY

Triple Murderer Dressed Stylishly and Wore Scented Beard

Salomone, the most spectacular brigand of recent years, who has been sentenced at Aquila, Italy, to thirty years in prison, looks like an elegant nobleman. He is tall, thirty-seven years old, always well dressed; his hair is well manicured, and his heavy beard is carefully trimmed, brushed, and perfumed. He has written clever stories for newspapers, and has published some clever poetry.
He was tried and sentenced for one murder and for one attempted murder, but he confessed to having murdered three men, tried to kill another, and to having been guilty of many atrocities.

THE KAISER'S HABITS

When the Kaiser is away on his yacht he gets up at six, takes a cold bath, drinks a cup of coffee, and works till nine, when there is a general breakfast. Lunch is at one, and dinner, the chief meal of the day, at eight. The evening is passed with cards or conversation, and at 11.30 everyone retires. If there is a light in one of the cabins, it is in that of the Kaiser, who sometimes spends the midnight hour at his writing-table.

CROSSES TO MARK GRAVES OF BOERS

Money Voted by South Africa Recalls Deaths at Ceylon Detention Camp

An incident which should further cement the good feeling between England and South Africa is that the Union Government placed a sum of money at the disposal of the Ceylon Government for the erection of suitable crosses to mark the resting places of the Boers who died in captivity in the island.

In the "Happy Valley" of Ceylon, at Diyatalawa, the Boer prisoners from South Africa were detained. The spot is regarded as a sanatorium of the island, and its climate cannot be denied. Its air is remarkably fresh and most invigorating to those who come from the hot, damp atmosphere of Colombo. Diyatalawa is used as a recruiting station for the men of the East India Squadron, and is the rendezvous of the camp of exercise for the Volunteer Corps in Ceylon.

The camp is situated in a hollow.
When the Boers were there, they were housed in long wooden huts, with corrugated iron roofs and the camp was surrounded with barbed wire fences, and was lit by electricity.
When the majority of the prisoners signed the oath of allegiance and departed, the camp was for a time disused. Then the authorities thought it would be an excellent place for the annual camp of the Volunteers, and some five Volunteer Corps about 800 men—go to Diyatalawa for training.

The huts are of very respectable dimensions, and many men are accommodated in them. The system of sanitation has been improved year by year, but when the Boers were in detention entire broke out among them, and the troops guarding the camp, and carried off many victims, who were buried in the cemetery, a little distance away from the camp.
The English being on one side of God's acre and the Boers on the other.
The cemetery is alongside the Boer road which was built by the Boers who were paid wages for their labor. Much of their money, the Boers spent either at the native bazaars which soon sprang up, or after giving their parole, at Colombo. Most of them, however,
never strayed far away from the camp.
Many of them were expert carvers,
and earned a little money that way.

COLLIE DOG AS WOLF

Bounty of $15 Claimed From Government Under a Sworn Affidavit.

Coyotes have been palmed off on the Government as Ontario timber wolves by bounty snatchers, and various other crooked jobs have been put over in the same connection. The pelt of a collie dog was shipped in from the North country as a wolf skin, and accompanying it was an affidavit sworn before a notary public, stating that the maker had killed a wolf and claimed the $15 bounty. A most convincing illustration of the extent to which such claims had been put forward prior to the event of the new law, requiring the whole pelt to accompany an affidavit, instead of the ears merely, is given in statistics. For three years prior to investigation conducted by Inspector Greer, which resulted in 37 convictions, the Government paid out bounties, as follows:—In 1902, $16, $86; in 1903, $18,126; in 1910, $14,951;
since the new law came into operation, only $5,483 had been paid, and this includes a portion of the animals killed in 1910. Bounty fees have been reduced by one-half.

Bounty hunters formerly collected on the ears of coyotes killed in Ontario and Alberta, and in many cases double bounties were collected on single animals, notaries having neglected to cut off the ears, and second affidavits being sworn to before other notaries.

LONDON'S TALLEST SCOT

Nonagenarian Says Secret of Long evity is Two Meals a Day

Although Mr. Leslie Fraser Duncan is ninety-two, he is six feet six inches in height, and it is his boast that he is the tallest Scotsman in London. He attributes his good health and long life solely to the habit of taking only two meals a day. All his life he has never had more.

"I have not touched meat for seven years," he told an interviewer, "and I did not eat it until I was twenty-five, never smoked, except for a year, when I was a young man in Edinburgh, and I have rarely touched alcohol. For years my drinking has been confined to four glasses of champagne a year, one on my birthday, one on my wife's birthday, one on Christmas Day, and one on New Year's Day."

"Lord Strathcona was a boy at school with me, and he keeps working at his advanced age, a year older than myself, on two meals a day. Sir William Jenner, the famous doctor, was an advocate of this. He once said to me, 'If every man lived on two meals a day doctors would not be wanted.'"

After dabbling in law in Scotland,
Mr. Duncan went to London, and for a time worked as reporter. Then, with James Grant, of the "Morning Advertiser," he started the "Railway World," for that was the time of the railway boom, and in four months made $10,000 and his share of the profits. When this had gone other ventures followed. He retired twenty-five years ago with a comfortable fortune.

BRITISH MUSEUM GUIDE

Now on Permanent Footing and Visitors Appreciate Innovation

In a report of the British Museum reference is made to the great success attending the provision of an office guide to conduct parties round the Museum. After an experiment for months, the guide was placed on permanent footing.

It is estimated that no fewer than 9,000 persons have been guided in the last year. There is ample evidence, it is reported, to show that the public greatly appreciate the service thus given to them.

NORWEGIANS VISIT CANADIAN INDIANS

Trying to Establish How Far Was Their Common Origin

The Norwegian explorer, Christian Leaden and Harold Thilow, have returned to Christiania from an expedition to Northern Canada, which was undertaken with the object of collecting phonographic records of the folk songs of the various Indian tribes and comparing them with those obtained in earlier expeditions to the equi-max, with the view to establishing how far was their common origin.
The largest tribe visited was the Greys, who number over twenty thousand. Their chief, Montongik, was at first hostile, but after a few presents of tobacco and glass beads, after having been told that the explorers had been sent by the King of Norway to make his tribe famous, he became more amenable to the wishes of the explorers. They took back with them a most interesting collection of songs of Indian life and music. Leaden will go later to Greenland for further investigation and after that will take a long final exploration of northwest Canada, which will extend to three years. He will visit tribes that have never been in contact with the whites.

Sultan's Early Life

Perhaps the most remarkable fact concerning the Sultan of Turkey, Mahmed V., is that for thirty-three years, during the reign of Abdul Hamid, he was a prisoner of state, being permitted intercourse with a few servants and dependents only.
No one dared salute him and it was risking death to exchange a word with one of his servants. A few years before the long imprisonment ended a number of military cadets were sent into exile because one of them had given a light for his cigarette to a man sitting near them as a tram car.
The man, it turned out, was a member of the suite of the imprisoned heir apparent.

MAKING PATENT FUEL.

In the confinement a large amount of small coal is sent up, and although the miner is not paid for it, it is far from being worthless or useless, the coal-owner selling all the small made at the pits.

In Cardiff, Swansea, and Port Talbot there are works where small coal is converted into blocks called patent fuel. The method is by tipping the coal into a large bin, after which it is mixed with pitch, and all ground very fine. It is then conveyed into pneumatics, and superheated steam is passed through it, knives revolving on a shaft keeping it in motion while this is being done.

Afterwards, being then in a sticky condition, it is passed into a press,
and a tremendous pressure applied.
This turns the mass into hot, steaming blocks, which are then pushed off either on to endless travelling wires, which convey them into canal-boats or to a jetty, whence they are loaded into ships for conveyance abroad.

The different Governments use a great deal of it for naval purposes.
In the pit itself much of the small coal that is cut is thrown back with the rubbish, and only large coal is loaded and taken up.—G. F. Rundle, 6

"Grannie" and Her Pension

A familiar figure in Kirkcaldy, Scotland, passed away in Mrs. Skinner ("Grannie"), who was known to the whole burgh. She was a staunch Radical, and a political admirer of Mr. Gladstone, and, later, of Mr. Lloyd George. A good story is told of "Grannie" when she first went for her old age pension. She received her $1.25, but this did not come up to her expectations, and she said to the postmaster, "That's not nearly awe; I've ten years' arrears to get." It took the postmaster some time to get her convinced that the Government did not pay back debts.

Turkish Doctors and Their Cures

Turkish physicians have a very peculiar method of adapting remedies to
the cases with which they are called upon to deal. A Turkish doctor, relates the following of a physician of that country
who was called to see a patient suffering from typhus fever.

The doctor considered the case hopeless, but persuaded the patient, and his leave. The next day, in p.m., he inquired of a servant at the door if his master was dead.

"Dead," was the reply, "no he is
much better."

The doctor hastened inside to obtain a solution of the miracle.

"Why," said the patient, "I was consumed with thirst, and drank a full pail of the juice of pickled cabbage."
"Wonderful!" said the doctor, and out came a bottle, upon which he made this inscription: "Cure of typhus fever, by means of Acid of Vi-holsters, and Pickled Cabbage Juice."

Soon after, on being called to see another patient, he inquired of the servant if his master was better, and from the same remedy, the doctor forthwith prescribed "a pailful of pickled cabbage juice."

On calling the next day to congratulate his patient on his recovery,
the doctor was astounded to be told that the man was dead. In his bewildered state at these phenomena, he came to this safe conclusion: "Although in case of typhus fever pickled cabbage juice is an efficient remedy,
it is not to be used unless the patient
be by profession an upholsterer."
